Slytherin Challenge: Build a Playlist

The rules of this are simple... Build yourself a playlist.

You can either build one with a song from each decade, or you can write for a full decade of songs.

To collect a song, you can use the title, take a lyric out and use it as dialogue, use the theme of the song... it's up to you. Make sure you make a note of how you've used it.

- 10 Points per fic
- 20 point bonus for a playlist with a song from each decade
- 40 point bonus for a playlist of a full decade worth of songs.

(Songs can only be used in one playlist. You can repeat them for separate playlists if you'd like.)

History of Winter

Etymology

1. 'Winter' derives from the Proto-Germanic *wentruz, meaning winter.

- Prompt: Write about preparing for a cold day.

2. This in turn probably comes from the Proto-Indo-European 'wed', meaning "wet".

- Prompt: Write about something/someone getting drenched in water.

3. Alternatively, it may come from the Prot-Indo-European 'wind-', meaning "white".

- Prompt: Write about adding color to a purely white-painted room.

Ancient Beliefs:

4. In Japan it is said that when a woman dies from the cold she can become a yukionna, a type of snow entity with magic powers over the cold.

- Prompt: Write about losing something in order to gain something else.

5. The aurora borealis manifests itself in the Arctic and Antarctic areas. People have been inspired by this unique phenomenon ever since ancient times and during the Middle Ages, Christians believed the aurora borealis to be a sign from God. Native Americans regarded it as a dance of the spirits.

- Prompt: Write about an aweing while gazing into the night sky.

6. The yeti, also known as the abominable snowman, is a being which is associated with the eternal cold and snow of the Himalaya Mountains.

- Prompt: Write about something white and fluffy.
7. In Greek, Germanic, and Celtic traditions, there were a series of rituals of initiation through which youngsters had to prove that they were ready to start their adult lives. Youngsters used to become warriors during the winter ritual which implied animal sacrifice.
- Prompt: Write about someone undertaking an important task or ritual
8. In winter, trees lose their leaves and appear lifeless. Beholding this "death" of nature, man has associated winter with a kind of death which then allows nature to be reborn and regenerated even more beautifully than before.
- Prompt: Write about being reborn or having a new start
9. In Persian culture, the winter solstice is called Yaldā (meaning: birth) and it has been celebrated for thousands of years. It is referred to as the eve of the birth of Mithra, who symbolised light, goodness and strength on earth.
- Prompt: Write about a newborn
10. In Greek mythology, Hades kidnapped Persephone to be his wife. Zeus ordered Hades to return her to Demeter, the goddess of the Earth and her mother. However, Hades tricked Persephone into eating the food of the dead, so Zeus decreed that Persephone would spend six months with Demeter and six months with Hades. During the time her daughter is with Hades, Demeter became depressed and caused winter.
- Prompt: Write about someone having to choose between their partner and parent(al figure)
11. In Welsh mythology, Gwyn ap Nudd abducted a maiden named Creiddylad. On May Day, her lover, Gwythr ap Greidawl, fought Gwyn to win her back. The battle between them represented the contest between summer and winter.
- Prompt: Write about trying to win someone back.

The Season of Winter:

12. Winter is the coldest season of the year in polar and temperate zones.
- Prompt: Write about someone warming themselves up by unconventional means.
13. When it is winter in the Northern Hemisphere, it is summer in the Southern Hemisphere, and vice versa.
- Prompt: Write about a situation where someone thinks about the dissimilarity between them and someone else.
14. Migration is a common effect of winter upon animals, notably birds.
- Prompt: Write about someone seeking warmth
15. Hibernation is a state of reduced metabolic activity during the winter. Some animals "sleep" during winter and only come out when the warm weather returns
- Prompt: Write about keeping someone warm as their temperature drops.
16. Some fur-coated mammals grow a heavier coat during the winter; this improves the heat-retention qualities of the fur. The coat is then shed following the winter season to allow better cooling.
- Prompt: Write about a guy having grown out his beard; Alt: Write about a woman after a woman decides not to shave.
17. Humans are sensitive to cold, and can get hypothermia, snowblindness, norovirus, seasonal depression.
- Prompt: Write about a person getting rescued out of a harsh blizzard.

2. "You're telling my whole life with your words." Bonus
3. "Hey, you can't just touch another woman's tail without asking."
4. "I gotcha, I gotcha, I gotcha!"
5. "Huh? Somebody say my name?"
6. "(Name), are you okay? Did they hurt you? I will crush them!"

7. "Move those big weapon-y things! Flap those banners! Uh... keep doing whatever it is you're doing, guy I'm pointing at. Now do a different thing!"
8. "She must really trust me. I can't let her down."
9. "Aren't you the cutest little fella?"
10. "Spying, yes. That is the thing that we are doing."
11. "I will absolutely look after this sleeping, non-moving person."
12. "I mean, you grew up together. I can't compete with that."
13. "Is there something wrong with us?"
14. "How'd you find me?" // "You always come here when you're upset... also, I looked everywhere else." Bonus
15. "Now, what's troubling my bestie?" // "I'm not your bestie and I'm fine." // "Oh, I don't accept any of that."
16. "Why do you really want to keep her around? She's never been that nice to you."
17. "Now, come on. I'm busting you out."
18. "Or, you know, counterpoint, we don't go back at all."
19. "I'm gonna follow you because I don't see a lot of other options."
20. "Don't worry. I won't let anything happen to you."
21. "Are you also seeing two of me?" [gasp] "I have a twin."
22. "I'm here and there's nothing the two of us can't fix because that's what friends are for."
23. "Good morning world."
24. "She is my friend, and she will not hurt you if I ask her not to."
25. "Gosh. I am so sorry for popping in unannounced."
26. "I think (name)'s the only real friend I've ever had." Bonus
27. "Hang on. I get to stay here?"
28. "Are you trying to poison me? And if not, why are you being so nice?"
29. "So uh, they just let you have your own garden here?"
30. "Aren't you a prisoner? I'm a prisoner. Everyone's been so nice. How comes we're not, you know, in a prison? Is this garden a prison?" Bonus
31. "Okay, I have been considering, and I really appreciate the offer, but I only came here to help (name)."

Monopoly

In order to obtain a property, all you have to do is fulfill the prompt attached on the property.

Below are a list of transports that are used as your tokens. There's nothing significant about them, just for fun lol

Rules:

- 300 word min // no max
- Combining with other challenges is okay
- Any rating is fine, so warn for M stuff
- 1 Prompt Per Fic, and Prompts Cannot Be Reused.
- As I do have some angelic nature moments, I'll allow crossovers and other fandoms for applicable prompts (with hopes that HP is poking around there somewhere)

Points:

- 20 bonus points for obtaining 11 properties
- 40 bonus points for obtaining all 22 properties

Transport/Tokens: Optional Mention!

Matchmaking

Simply find two or more characters and create a pairing or a poly ship with them, add a prompt, and voila!

1. Characters can be repeated, but pairings/poly ships can't - All ships must be romantic
2. Poly ships can be broken down into pairings

Points

10 points for each match made

30 points for every ten matches made

At the end of this, I will use a random number generator to select two characters. Any pairings with those characters will receive an additional 5 points

Fortnightly Events

Time Capsule

Each time capsule has room for five objects inside of it. To put an object in your time capsule, you need to write a story using the object itself as an item prompt, or the prompt that goes with it. Specify which one while submitting. Each story can only be used for one object, and each object can only appear once per time capsule. That being said, you can place an object in multiple time capsules.

Points:

- 10 Points per fic
- 25 Points per completed Time Capsule.
