Krefeld June 2nd 2012

Greetings dear Bronies around the globe!

This is Stargaze, aka Nic, responsible for the writeup and submission to EqD.

At the bottom of the document you'll find links to videos and the picture gallery. I guess most are gone now ...

For those who read on, thanks!

Rainbow Jack mainly organized everything. His inability to leave town on his own made us go over there. In the end we were 25, not all of us Bronies even.

Due to jammed up traffic, the original idea of raiding shops for merchandise was dropped, since we lost too much time getting all together. So we went on to "Scotti's", local Billiard/Pool and Darts establishment. Right before we entered, Yasi and Sundance presented their surprise for the day: Rainbow-Muffins and Banana-Brownies!

Brownie-filled Bronies (...) played Billiard and Darts for two hours.

This was the point where hunger kicks in for some and others have to go home already.

Unable to decide on what to eat, we split up temporarily. Raiding a single restaurant with 20 people would cause severe waiting times anyway.

Some had ice cream, some pizza, but less than two hours later we met at the Theaterplatz. M99moron offered his (high quality) street-chalk which was pretty much devastated for the greater cause.

Roughly two hours later we had ponyfied the place with a giant Rainbow Dash stylized silhouette portrait, a freehand Scootaloo, a freehand Lucky Dreams (with visual help of the Blindbag Figure), a Lyra, Nightmare Moon's and Luna's Cutie Marks, a Slenderman (...) and a Derpy in Nightmare Night dressup!

We got a little stressed when a police car drove by, stopped, turned and left without a word.

Ponies are legit!

RD outlines: Stargaze

Scootaloo: RedFlames

Lyra outlines and details: Sundance

Lucky Dreams: Flutter Pie

Derpy: Yasi and Muuffiins

Cutie Marks: Nightmare Moon and Dovahkiin

Slenderman: I have no idea!

But everyone helped making this a success. No teamwork, no good.
And definitely no fun.

Thanks for reading, hope your meetups go as well or better, see ya next time and don't forget us on August 11th/12th, when Galacon takes place in Stuttgart, the first european Brony-Convention. 270.000$ for Bronycon documentary, so BUCK and we get visited too! C'mon please!
