Our industry recognized and bold Thought Leadership Development course is open for new affiliate partnerships. Please click this link to learn more about this online course. {FYI, it's a rough outline only, not the public sales page} Over the last 3 years, I worked to redefine what's required for professionals and experts to successfully transform into Thought Leaders by leveraging multimedia!

COURSE FORMAT: We created this course as an online video and 'evergreen' open enrollment course and can be started at any time. We also run group cohorts at 8 week increments for groups and teams. Break on Through, is a private innovation course for developing thought leadership by leveraging multimedia! We would like to partner with you for this bold new course, include your followers and have a big impact on what is possible for emerging leaders!

"Gone are the days of gaining a Phd. or first publishing a book... the thought leadership game has changed"

PARTNERS: We're offering you an opportunity to support this bold new course by sharing it with your community while benefiting with a great affiliate partnership. We reached out to you as a leader with a substantial following (lists, networks and active followers) that align with our program goals. Below is the revenue breakdown and how we can work with you on. Percentages are for gross sales of the course coming from your affiliate links/codes.

OUR COMMITMENT: We're proud to mention all our affiliate partners on related webinars, custom videos, and other outbound materials! All affiliate partners will be paid out in full, at the end of the course approximately 30-60 days after the start of this course to allow for any potential refunds. As an affiliate partner you will be supplied with the email swipe copy, tracking code, shareable links, and social media text + images for your shares. We're truly excited to invite you to participate with Break on Through and have invited you specifically due to the synergistic nature of your business community, and the overlapping alignment with this course. Our larger goal is to provide an excellent course, highly engaging content materials and inspiring new professionals into this thought leadership work! Thank you and contact us for questions.
