

Hello “Full Name”

I hope you are doing great! I was extremely surprised to have received your response so quickly after the interview. My interview went quite well and with your mail, I was sure that I still do have a chance to score a position on the team.

Thank you so much for inviting me to the second round of interviews.

Your quick response has saved a lot of my anxiety as you must be knowing all the second thoughts that come after an interview. I appreciate the time you have taken out for a quick evaluation and also for replying to me so quickly.

I just have one query that will the next round be a technical or an HR interview?

Looking forward to meeting you soon in the second round of interviews.

Regards
