Vision 2035

Graduates of Santa Clara Unified School District are resilient, future-ready, lifelong learners who think critically, solve problems collaboratively, and are prepared to thrive in a global society (SCUSD, santaclarausd.org).

SCUSD school libraries play a vital role in realizing this vision. The school libraries' mission, programs, along with the state and national standards align closely with the district's goals. The libraries help support each element of the system and graduate portraits.

How School Libraries Support the Graduate Portrait

 Global Citizen	The school library: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • supports balanced perspectives through resources and learning opportunities. • facilitates opportunities to experience diverse ideas. • represents all members and their place in a global learning community. • builds empathy and equity within the global learning community (AASL 77.)

 Critical Thinking Scholar	Through the school library, learners: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Follow ethical and legal guidelines for gathering and using information • Evaluate information for accuracy, validity, social and cultural context, and appropriateness for need. • Use valid information and reasoned conclusions to make ethical decisions in the creation of knowledge. • Responsibility, ethically and legally share new information with a global community. • Engage with information to extend personal learning (AASL 112).
 Collaborative Problem Solver	Through the school library, learners: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Identify collaborative opportunities. • Participate in personal, social, and intellectual networks. • Work productively with others to solve problems. • Actively participate with others in learning situations (AASL 84).
 Future-Ready Learner	Through the school library, learners: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Act on an information need. • Gather information appropriate to the task. • Exchange information resources within and beyond their learning community. • Select and organize information for a variety of audiences • Develop and satisfy personal curiosity. • Continually seek knowledge. • Construct new knowledge. • Develop through experience and reflection (AASL 94, 104).

Effective
Communicator

Through the school library, learners:

- Adapt, communicate, and exchange learning products with others.
- Exchange information resources within and beyond their learning community.
- Select and organize information for a variety of audiences.
- Responsibly, ethically and legally share new information with a global community (AASL 68, 93, 112).

Inclusive
Empathizer

The school library builds empathy and equity within the global learning community by

- Ensuring that all learning needs are met through access to information and ideas located in a diverse collection of sufficient size for the learner population and supported by reliable hardware and software.
- Enabling equitable access to learning opportunities, academic and social support, and other resources necessary for learners' success.
- Clearly and frequently articulating the school library's impact when communicating with administration, faculty, staff, learners, parents, and the community (AASL 77).
- Providing resources to help learners explore new experiences and emotions, cope with questions.

Equity Ambassador

Through the school library, learners:

- Contribute to a balanced perspective when participating in a learning community
- Adjust their awareness of the global learning community
- Exhibit empathy with and tolerance for diverse ideas
- Demonstrate empathy and equity in knowledge building within the global learning community (AASL 112).

California Department of Education School Library Mission Statement

School libraries help prepare students to live and learn in a world of information. The mission of school libraries is to ensure that students and staff are able to use ideas and information.

The libraries provide access to materials in all formats. They help increase students' interest in reading, viewing, and using information and ideas.

Research shows that a school library with the right staffing, funding, and a rich collection of books has a positive impact on students.

School districts need to provide library services for teachers and students (CDE, cde.ca.gov).

Library Program Mission Statement

Santa Clara Unified School District's library program is an integral part of reaching the Vision 2035 goal.

The library program's mission is to:

- Provide opportunities to explore and grow personal interests.
- Foster a lifelong love of reading and learning.
- Assist students to become critical thinkers and ethical users of information.

AASL Position Statement and Common Beliefs

Santa Clara Unified School District Libraries adopt the American Association of School Librarians' position statement and common beliefs, as the district's Vision 2035 and library mission statement share many of the same goals:

An effective school library plays a critical role in preparing learners for life in an information-rich society. As defined by AASL, school libraries are “dynamic learning environments that bridge the gap between access and opportunity for all K–12 learners.” Grounded in standards and best practice, school libraries are an integral component of the educational landscape. The school library provides access to a wide array of resources and an environment in which teaching and learning are the primary emphases. The school library provides a space and place for personalized learner success; learners are encouraged to explore questions of personal and academic relevance. Under the direction of the district Library Coordinator, school libraries are instrumental in fostering literacy and teaching inquiry skills to support lifelong learning” (AASL 54).

Common Beliefs

1. The school library is a unique and essential part of a learning community.
2. Qualified school librarians lead effective school libraries.
3. Learners should be prepared for college, career, and life.
4. Reading is the core of personal and academic competency.
5. Intellectual freedom is every learner's right.
6. Information technologies must be appropriately integrated and equitably available (AASL 11).

Library Bill of Rights

The American Library Association affirms that all libraries are forums for information and ideas, and that the following basic policies should guide their services.

I. Books and other library resources should be provided for the interest, information, and enlightenment of all people of the community the library serves. Materials should not be excluded because of the origin, background, or views of those contributing to their creation.

II. Libraries should provide materials and information presenting all points of view on current and historical issues. Materials should not be proscribed or removed because of partisan or doctrinal disapproval.

III. Libraries should challenge censorship in the fulfillment of their responsibility to provide information and enlightenment.

IV. Libraries should cooperate with all persons and groups concerned with resisting abridgment of free expression and free access to ideas.

V. A person's right to use a library should not be denied or abridged because of origin, age, background, or views.

VI. Libraries which make exhibit spaces and meeting rooms available to the public they serve should make such facilities available on an equitable basis, regardless of the beliefs or affiliations of individuals or groups requesting their use.

VII. All people, regardless of origin, age, background, or views, possess a right to privacy and confidentiality in their library use. Libraries should advocate for, educate about, and protect people's privacy, safeguarding all library use data, including personally identifiable information.

Adopted June 19, 1939, by the ALA Council; amended October 14, 1944; June 18, 1948; February 2, 1961; June 27, 1967; January 23, 1980; January 29, 2019. Inclusion of "age" reaffirmed January 23, 1996 (ALA, ala.org)

Standards

School Libraries & Student Achievement

School Librarians are Linked to Improved Standardized Reading Test Scores

Studies conducted over the past two decades, both in Colorado and nationwide, show that students in schools with endorsed librarians score better on standardized achievement tests in reading, compared with students in schools without endorsed librarians.

This increase in scores exists regardless of:

Student Poverty Level¹

In a Colorado study, the presence of school librarians positively impacted students' standardized reading scores even when controlling for student poverty (free and reduced-cost meal status).

Overall Staffing Losses²

In a national study, even if schools had overall staff declines between 2004 and 2008, students' standardized reading scores were better in schools that maintained or gained a librarian during this time period.

What other school library characteristics are associated with better test scores?

School Librarians Teaching Information Literacy Skills to Students³

Staffed by Endorsed Librarian¹

Collaborative Planning Between School Librarians & Teachers^{3,4}

Extended Library & Staff Hours³

More Student Visits⁵

School Librarians Providing In-Service Training to Teachers³

Flexible Scheduling³

Larger & Newer Collections^{3,4,5}

Higher Expenditures^{3,4,5}
