

This is a photo of my 3 dogs, Tim, Blizzard, and Ralph. Tim is the tan pug, Blizzard is the husky, and Ralph is the Baby black pug. I chose to give the pugs googly eyes because they both have big eyes. My steps to creating my art piece were first making an outline of my dogs. I then whole punched tiny pieces of paper and glued them to the right places on my dogs. Next I ripped up pieces of green paper for the grass and cut out strips of blue paper with funny scissors for the sky. I then added the sun and some toys because my dogs take all their toys outside. Finally I colored in any spaces where I couldn't get any paper with markers. While creating this project I discovered that my whole punch wasn't that good, so I whole punched paper then I had to pinch out every single whole punch that I made because it didn't go all the way through.
