Job wanted: Criminal Defense Attorney at the Judicial Council of California

- Good communication and listening skills
- Hardworking
- Reliable
- Focused

Paid Work Experience:

December 2022- April 2024

Cashier

I worked at Dunkin' Donuts for a year and a half as a cashier. I had to take orders and give them back what they ordered. From this job experience, I had to learn how to be patient with people and how to give them exactly what they wanted without making them wait too long. I had to work on public speaking and problem solving too. I can put these skills to work as a lawyer because I will work with and represent all types of people. Working as a cashier has conditioned me to different types of attitudes and people. That means that I have become patient with them and I take my time to solve any problems they might have.

Internships:

January 2025-July 2025

New Haven Police Department

I had an internship at the New Haven Police Department for six months. I worked in the office of Sgt. Anthony Campbell, the acting chief of police. I had to organize and file crime and witness reports. This internship taught me responsibility and organization. It also taught me how to meet deadlines. These skills will assist me in a law career because I will have to be very organized with the papers and files that I will have during my cases. Also, I will need to know how to store and keep up with all of the files that I will receive. Practicing meeting deadlines was helpful to me because I will definitely need to be prepared for my court dates and meetings, and if I am not prepared, it can affect the case.
