

Why is the Youth4Climate Summer Camp meaningful to you?

I have been blown away by the first session of this summer camp! My favorite parts have been connecting with passionate youth and getting to grow as a climate justice activist.
~Megan Phelps, rising 4th year at UC Davis

I'm so glad that I joined this camp, because it has helped me to gain leadership skills and I've been able to meet people who are passionate about making a positive difference in this world! I can't wait to learn more during the next session.
~ Izzy Lee, rising senior at the Baldwin School in PA

I have met amazing climate leaders in this camp who have taught me so much about leadership and activism! The guest speakers and engaging activities have really allowed me to grow not only as a climate change activist but as a person as well.
~ Tanvi Deshpande, rising junior at Evergreen Valley HS in San Jose

Joining the planning group and actually being a part of the camp has opened up my eyes to so many perspectives on world situations & has helped me develop more empathy for people. The camp is a great way to meet people from various paths of life, and is an amazing way to learn and advance in your education of important issues.
~ Alexa Castruita, rising junior at Hilltop High School in Chula Vista

This camp taught me about so many of the different aspects of climate change—including climate science, speaking to others about climate change without starting an argument, being inclusive and intersectional in the climate movement, and both individual and systemic solutions to climate change! I'm so excited for session 2 and to learn more about how to really become an activist. I loved meeting teens who are passionate about climate change from all over the US and I'm so happy to be a part of the new Y4C community! ~ Amber Crenna-Armstrong, rising first year at Boston University

I'm so happy I decided to join this camp; I have learned so much about climate change and have met other teen activists who want to change the world. Each week, we watch interesting videos, complete climate-related challenges, and have tons of fun. I can't wait for Session 2 and I highly recommend signing up for this amazing camp to educate yourself about important issues and make a positive impact on the world.

~ Clare Collins, rising sophomore at Episcopal Academy in PA

This camp has taught me not only about climate change but also about myself as a climate activist! It is so amazing to be surrounded by passionate activists and to be in this community the camp has created. I can't wait for session 2 and to meet new people. This camp is extremely empowering and has shown me how to be the best climate activist I can be!

-Kate Vedder, rising senior at Point Loma High School
