

FINANCIAL LITERACY10, 11, 12

Prerequisite – None

ES6386 – 1/2 unit

Virtual (online)

This course is a comprehensive study of personal financial literacy designed for all students, and is aligned to the national standards for personal financial literacy. Students learn how to make informed financial decisions related to budgeting, banking, credit, insurance, taxes and career exploration. An integral component of the financial literacy curriculum is the application of decision-making skills that enable students to become more responsible consumers for lifetime success.

*This course does not meet NCAA eligibility requirements and is not repeatable for credit