Leaders Meetings:

- September 24, 2023
- December 8, 2023
- March 19, 2024
- May 21, 2024

Elementary Webinar Series:

Session #1

Belonging and Establishing a Flourishing Math Community

Launch your school year reflecting on your vision for your mathematics teaching and classroom community. We will explore what it looks like, sounds like, and feels like for you & your students to flourish in math and belong.

September 14, 2023

4:00-5:30 pm

Session #2

Releasing the Responsibility: From Teacher-Led to Student-Led Math Discourse to build Conceptual Fraction Knowledge

Rich mathematical discourse emerges within a classroom when students have an opportunity to discover, invent, and creatively think about mathematics. Using Cognitively Guided Instruction (CGI), Number Talks, and various fraction models, we will discuss how to utilize equal sharing problems to provide a context to explore the gradual release of responsibility to the students. Our focus will be on developing conceptual understanding of key fractional relationships while building on students' natural abilities.

October 12, 2023

4:00-5:30 pm

Session #3

Shifting our Focus to Foster Mathematical Flourishing

How do we unlock students' full potential to succeed in our rapidly changing workplace? Will focusing instruction on memorizing mathematical procedures prepare students for the future? Through hands-on experiences, participants will grapple with the important connections between conceptual understanding and procedural fluency needed for students to flourish in mathematics and thrive in a 21st-century workplace.

November 16, 2023

4:00-5:30 pm

Session #4

The Daily Habit of Subitizing: From 1 to Fractions

Come explore why a daily habit of subitizing supports the brain, the teacher, and the math talk. Understand how subitizing connects to core mathematics and is important for students in all grades.

December 14, 2023

4:00-5:30 pm

Middle Grades Webinar Series:

Session #1

Desmos Activities

Desmos activities are free, engaging, and digital interactive tools used to enhance students' learning. During our time together, you will experience Desmos activities as a student, learn how to best utilize the teacher dashboard, as well as find and explore how to use Desmos studio to pique student interest and build a deep conceptual understanding of math concepts in the middle school math courses. Through the use of the conversation toolkit, participants will discover how to successfully facilitate lessons that they can begin using tomorrow.

September 27, 2023

4:00-5:30 pm

Session #2

Building Thinking Classrooms

This session will focus on practices based on the book, Building Thinking Classrooms in Mathematics, Grades K-12: 14 Teaching Practices for Enhancing Learning, authored by Peter Liljedahl of more than a decade of research, experimentation, and collaboration with over 400 K-12 teachers. These practices will offer ways to stimulate independent thinking and to consider reorganizing some classroom approaches. Participants will look at reimagining how classroom work is organized, how tasks are assigned, and how students learn and work together which will promote discussion, peer review, and high order thinking.

November 29, 2023

4:00-5:30 pm

High School Webinar Series:

Discourse in the High School Classroom

These sessions, designed for high school teachers, will focus on discourse moves that can be used in the high school mathematics classroom. Teachers and teacher leaders will be provided with resources and information to help them to increase engagement in the standards for mathematical practices with their students, help students develop positive mathematics identities, and address inequities in classroom participation to help improve mathematics achievement in all students.

September 12, 2023

3:30-5:00 pm

October 10, 2023

3:30-5:00 pm

Installation Year Information

The Science team will work with science teachers and science leads from across the state to write and publish new support documents to assist with the 2023 K-12 Science standards. These will be written for each standard and underlying objectives and will include supports such as: clarifications statements, classroom assessment examples, details on the SEPs, boundary statements, vertical coherence, and academic language.

The science team will also be developing online PD modules to support the installation of the 2023 K-12 Science standards through Canvas.

A 2023 K-12 Science Standards Timeline shows a general view of the year for when resources will be created and then published.

The new K-12 Science standards will be implemented during the 2024-2025 school year.

Webinar Series:

World History Webinar Series: Busting Myths, Engaging Inquiry, and Building Teacher Toolboxes!

The series will be offered in five 2-hour virtual sessions on topics and aspects in World History in which teachers may have little to no background. Each session will feature a unique presentation on a topic or area of world study. Save the dates on your calendar NOW, register to attend, and prepare to enhance your existing instructional plans, resources, content knowledge, and pedagogy for teaching topics in World History. Each session will take place from 4:00 pm to 6:00 pm.

How to Use EPF Course Resources Webinar Series:

October 25, 2023

Join the 2023-2024 "Spotlight on EPF Webinar Series" to help enhance your teaching of the Economics and Personal Finance (EPF) course. The webinars will offer an opportunity for teachers to interact with educators who will share instructional strategies and how they utilize vetted teaching materials to make EPF lessons engaging and meaningful for students. The webinar presenters will guide you through various lessons and activities using resources that align with the North Carolina Standards for Economics and Personal Finance.

The first session on October 25, 2023, from 4:00 pm-5:30 pm, will showcase teachers from Guilford County Schools who teach the EPF course, along with an EPF Specialist in Guilford County Schools. Additionally, there will be a leader from the nonprofit NextGen Personal Finance who will provide examples of their no-cost, standards-aligned personal finance materials that have been featured at EPF summer professional developments. Don't miss out on this opportunity to get instructional tools and strategies that you can add to your collection!
