CAPTION 1 - DIC

I can't believe I'm saying this..

But real-estate investing is the worst business you can get into..

And it's not for the reason you think

The reason that 99% of people fail in this business is because they don't invest in themselves

Yes, it might sound cliché, but "knowledge is power."

And in the real-estate business, when you have the right knowledge, it doesn't matter if the conditions are in your favor or not.

A market boom or a deep recession, it's irrelevant.

Because the truth is, these are factors that are OUT of your control.

That's why having the knowledge and knowing how to adapt in any situation is vital.

And by looking at the things you can control, the confidence in the decisions you take will sky-rocket.

However to attain that confidence, you need to not only know the right things..

But also understand how to apply that knowledge.

Which is why if you want to invest in yourself and are looking to take control of your own financial destiny..

Out-reach

Hi X,

I've been thinking about a great way to maximize your influence with your 29k followers and boost your appointment bookings.

Given the trust you've built with your audience, I believe captions can be a powerful tool to generate more leads. I've prepared a 'soft sell' style caption (attached below) designed to help you get more calls without coming across too salesy.

Would you be open to testing it out and maybe seeing what results it yields you?

CAPTION 1 - This caption is the same as the first but just uses an analogy to highlight the importance of knowledge.

Even after generating a 6 figure property business portfolio, I would argue investing in a real-estate business shouldn't be your priority.

I know it sounds a bit ironic (considering my whole page is about real-estate investing)

But investing in this thing can pay you a 1000X return more than any investment on the planet.

And that's yourself and your knowledge.

Why

Think of knowledge as like a shield.

A shield that protects you from the wrong decisions.

So whether the market is a boom or a deep recession, it's irrelevant.

Because being adaptable and leading with what you know is the key if you want to become successful in this business.

By focusing on the things you CAN control and less on the things you can't.

As like a shield (name) you might not determine where the bullets land, but overall you have full control over how you defend yourself.

Because the truth is, there are a few things you have control over and that is what you know and how you implement that knowledge.

So..

If you are someone who is looking to invest in yourself and are looking to generate long-term generational wealth with real-estate..
