Dear [Hiring Manager],

I’m writing you to submit my application for the [Name of Position] role at [Name of Company] and I’d like to share 3 reasons why I believe I'm the ideal candidate:

1. I specialize in [Specified function in your job] with an emphasis on [Highlight an element of your character that makes you standout] positively impacting an organizations culture from within.
   For [x]+ years, I've developed my skills mastering the art [your job function]. From cross functional collaboration to identify the right needs for [Enter stakeholder’s title], to helping them [Identify a success metric]. My process includes [Detail your process for success step by step] and showing how that aligns with the long-term goals of [Enter Company’s name].

2. I'm experienced in creating effective and unique [Job Function] strategies – that have worked.

   I understand the importance of experimentation within [Enter Job Function] and what part [Enter specialization/skill/Scenario] plays in that. [Enter Product/Job Function/Connection to Customers] be an incredibly emotional experience and creating methods that resonates with the desired client outcomes can have huge dividends that results in [Enter relevant success metric]. My most recently examples include [Enter relevant activity or project]. [Enter additional relevant project or experience]. Both have proven to be effective strategies for [Job Function] as well as brand advocacy.

3. I have a unique understanding of how your product impacts your customers from my experience in the [Insert relevant subject matter you’re interested in] space.

   I'm someone who has direct experience [using your product or being a part of this industry] and how it impacts [Enter company’s name] relationship with its user. I use

I strongly believe my work experience, ambition, and dedication will add tremendous value to the [Enter Company’s name] team. I look forward to securing a time when we can further discuss my proven abilities and strategies on helping [Enter Company name] meet its hiring needs.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]