Topic description:

A movie rating website with updated ratings and reviews for the newest and most popular movies. There will be a main page with different links to other pages/areas of the site that will take you to a list of new movies from the past 5 years. And a page that will show off ratings and reviews of said movies with option to display the ratings from ascending or descending order. As well as a profile to display your favorite movies and a watchlist tab that you can add or remove movies from.
