MAIN TEXT

Title of the article should be compact, clear, and informative, preferably not more than 15 words (Times New Roman 11)

The title should be written in a concise but informative manner describing the content of the research. Avoid abbreviations or formulas.

ABSTRACT (Times New Roman 10)

Abstract written in English. Abstract appears after the Title in the manuscript. Abstract must be solid consisting of an introduction and objectives, research methods, results, and conclusions. Abstract must be written in one paragraph. Libraries are not allowed to be written in the abstract section. Writing abbreviations should be avoided. Abstract consists of 150-200 words followed by keywords. Abstract is written with justify.

Keywords: Keyword 1; Keyword 2; Keyword 3 (Times New Roman 10)

Keywords or keywords follow the abstract. Avoid using keywords or keywords that are too general and contain several meanings. Keywords or keywords will be used for indexing purposes. Keywords must consist of a maximum of 5 words or phrases arranged in alphabetical order. Writing left alignment and between keywords with each other separated by a semicolon (;).

INTRODUCTION (Times New Roman 10)

This section describes: (i) the general background of the research (concise and clear), (ii) a review of the results of previous research that is relevant and up to date, (iii) clearly provides a statement of novelty (gap analysis) which contains the urgency and novelty of the research, as well as the objectives of the study. The introduction is written without numbering and / or pointers. The introduction is written in 750-1000 words.

MATERIALS AND METHODS (Times New Roman 10)

This section should state the time and place for conducting the research. All materials and methods used such as chemicals for analysis, treatment and experimental design must be clearly and concisely stated. The use of methods should be based on previous research. Materials and methods should be written in 400 - 600 words. Subsection heading might be applied if there are many sections appeared.

The unit of measurement used must follow international standards. Equations are written in Times New Roman or Symbol fonts. If there are several equations, give each equation a number in sequence and place it on the far right, namely (1), (2), and so on. The use of signs is allowed to make equations more concise. Italic fonts are used for variables, bold for vectors. Example:

$$\alpha + \beta = \chi \quad (1)$$

RESULTS AND DISCUSSION (Times New Roman 10)
In this section the results and discussion must be written in one section. Both must be written in a continuous manner starting from the main results to supporting results and completed with discussion.
Results and discussion should be written between 2500 - 3000 words. It can be grouped in several sub-section heading.
Example (Section heading)
Example 1 (Sub-section heading)
Example 2 (Sub-section heading)

All figures and tables should be active and editable by editor. Table and Figure must mention on text. Format and example on below:

CONCLUSION (Times New Roman 12)

In this section, conclusions must be written clearly and concisely referring to the research results to answer the research objectives or hypotheses, and not repeat the discussion. Conclusions are written critically, logically and honestly based on existing facts, and be careful if there are generalizations. This section is written in paragraph form, not using numbering or bullets. Results and discussion should be written between 40-80 words.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS (Times New Roman 12)

This section is used if needed. This section is provided for authors to express their gratitude to either the party who funded the research, facilities, or suggestions; also for a statement if the article is part of a thesis / dissertation.

AUTHORS CONTRIBUTIONS (Times New Roman 10)

Authors are required to add details of each author's contribution to the research and preparation of the manuscript. Authorship should be limited to those who have contributed significantly to the research work or preparing the manuscript. Author's initials should be used to indicate their names.

For example:

AD and SF considered and planned the experiment. G carried out the isolation and pathogenicity test of B. thuringiensis. DM rearing and identification of S. frugiperda. DFHA and ZS collected data on bioassay and also performed analysis data. SF and GP interpreting the data. SF prepared the manuscript. The authors provided responses and comments on the research flow, data analysis, and interpretation as well as the shape of the manuscript. All the authors have read and approved the final manuscript.

CONFLICT OF INTEREST (Times New Roman 10)

Declare conflicts of interest or state "The authors declare no conflict of interest."

REFERENCES (Times New Roman 10)

All libraries used should be noted in this section. The use of bibliography writing style follows the style of the American Psychological Association (APA) and is arranged in alphabetical order (check at: https://apastyle.apa.org/style-grammar-guidelines/references/examples). Manuscripts must use a minimum of 25 references and 80% come from journals. The majority of the literature used consists of primary literature (published in the last 5 years). Unpublished data and personal communications are not allowed to be cited. Between one library and the next one separated by one space. It is mandatory to include the doi of cited references, if available.
