

Period 6 1 thesis two text

If a group divides into four corners, no one wants to be in a corner by themselves.

1 According to "Herd Behavior" and "The Party,"

the way groups of people act can make people question themselves.

what the majority of people do, drastically impacts the individual's decision making.

people want to fit in.

2 To begin The short story "The Party" shows the way groups of people act can make people question themselves

3 In "The Party" a girl isn't invited to a party that all her friends are going to. Everyone is talking about the party and getting popularity from going to the party. Not being invited makes the narrator doubt herself and she starts wondering.

4 evidence from the party

" Why hadn't she invited me? My feet were too big? No, Maybe, my face was broken out? Who would want someone with acne at her party? Why did she invite every person in my group except me."(Munoz Ryan 2)

5 The narrator wonders if it is because of her big feet or acne that she's not invited to the party? she notices that every one in her friend group except her.

5 Because every person in the narrator's friend group is invited, she starts doubt herself, even worrying about her basic appearance. The group all doing one thing that the narrator isn't doing makes her doubt herself.

2 Also The article "Herd Behavior" shows the way groups of people act can make people question themselves.

3 In the article "Herd Behavior" it explains when a large group of people are doing the same thing it tends to make people want to follow the same action.

4 evidence from herd behavior

"Human herd behavior can be observed at large-scale demonstrations, riots, strikes, religious gatherings, sports events, and outbreaks of mob violence. When herd behavior sets in, and individual persons judgment and opinion-forming process shut as he or she automatically follows the group's movement and behavior"(Common Lit 1)

5 in herd behavior when others are in big groups and everyone else is going with the same thing, other people will follow and not go with their gut.

5 A lot of people choosing something can make an individual question themselves and follow the crowd despite what they think.

Conclusion

In short, everyone can benefit from taking a risk in themselves without feeling doubt or worry that they will get made fun of for not following people. People could check in with themselves before saying yes to something. And people should think about their behavior with all the people they see. Hopefully, more people will understand what herd behavior is and be more independent.
