

Christian-dominated Regions & Hostility on Jewish Life

https://docs.google.com/document/d/1ZpNOUnKfKkRAMDOohze_3K8VGfV4VBIItI6dGnkIm4fo/edit

Main Chapters > INDEX

> obsolete lx

Sub-Chapters

- > USA (> Part 1 > Part 2)
- > CA GB IR SA AU NZ + Scandinavia
- > F + B + NL + FL
- > I + E + P + Latino-America
- > Germany (> Teil 1 > Teil 2 > DDR)
- > Austria + Suisse
- > Eastern-Europe + Hellas + Cyprus
- > Russia + Ukraine

Related Chapters > Global War on Israel > East Asian Regions
> Afro-Islamic Regions > Genocide Calumnia
> ICJ-Travesty > UNRWA & UNIFIL > Gaza Aid + Hamas War
> 2÷1sfake > Mamdani/NY > Trump's Gaza Plan
> Intifada Washington DC > Sydney-Intifada > Iran's War
> US÷Iran÷MoU

2026

Ibrahim, Raymond / 'Nearly 400,000,000 Christians Worldwide Face Persecution or Violence': Extremist Persecution of Christians, March 2026 - Boko Haram still seeks to impose strict sharia law across Nigeria and routinely targets Christians. — Morning Star News, April 2, 2026, Nigeria... "Only Muslims are the real living human beings; all non-Muslims are corpses ... whoever is not a Muslim is equivalent to a dead body." — Musa Baluku, leader of the ADF, International Christian Concern, March 13, 2026, Democratic Republic of Congo. - On March 26, police in Lahore's Sadhoki Kahna Nau area, tortured to death 42-year-old Christian Iftikhar Masih while in custody. Police arrested Iftikhar on fabricated kidnapping charges, demanded a 200,000 Pakistani rupee ($720) bribe for his release, and later claimed he committed suicide by hanging. — Morning Star News, April 7, 2026, Pakistan. + "'Abraham,' a member of the Coptic community... said the main goal of these kidnappings 'is to reduce the Christian population and promote Islam by pretending that the woman chose Islam on her own free will.... They end up as Muslim wives by force.' He is not aware of any prosecutions against the kidnappers. 'Authorities are complicit, because they often do very little or nothing.'" — International Christian Concern, March 18, 2026, Egypt. + On March 25, Pakistan's Federal Constitutional Court ruled that 13-year-old Christian girl Maria Shahbaz must remain with the Muslim man who abducted and forcibly converted her. Despite her parent's testimony, the court Maria was of "mature age," accepted her conversion to Islam as genuine, and ruled that her marriage is valid under Islamic law. Maria's father, Shahbaz Masih, told the court she was only 12 or 13 when taken and presented documents to prove her age. The judges rejected the documents, claiming her appearance suggested she was older. The court stated that in Islam, conversion requires only a declaration of faith. — International Christian Concern, April 6, 2026, Pakistan. + "Nearly 400 million Christians worldwide face persecution or violence..." — Archbishop Ettore Balestrero, Permanent Observer of the Holy See to the United Nations, March 3, 2026. + "Msgr. Balestrero also warned that persecution does not always take the overt and bloody form of murder, attacks, or physical violence. There are also 'more subtle and often silent forms of persecution,' such as gradual marginalization or exclusion from social and professional life, 'even in traditionally Christian countries.... through which legal norms and administrative practices restrict or, in effect, nullify the legally recognized rights of the predominantly Christian population, even in some parts of Europe....' The oppression of Christians does not stem solely from violent mobs or extremist groups, but also from institutional mechanisms that undermine, in practice, the very rights that are officially declared protected." — GI 05.07.26

Bassov, Ivan / Mizrahi Civilization - Paul Krivaczek's book Yiddish Civilization: The Rise and Fall of a Forgotten Nation, invites readers to rethink the place of Jewish history in Europe, and argues that Yiddish civilization should be recognized as one of the civilizations that helped shape Europe. His striking assertion that "the Yiddish people must be counted among the founder nations of Europe" challenges the familiar perception of Jews as perpetual outsiders to European history. - ToI blog 04.07.26

Bassov, Ivan / Mizrahi Civilization - Paul Krivaczek's book Yiddish Civilization: The Rise and Fall of a Forgotten Nation, invites readers to rethink the place of Jewish history in Europe, and argues that Yiddish civilization should be recognized as one of the civilizations that helped shape Europe. His striking assertion that "the Yiddish people must be counted among the founder nations of Europe" challenges the familiar perception of Jews as perpetual outsiders to European history. - ToI blog 04.07.26

Shtrauchler, Nissan / The year that could change Europe—and prove decisive for Israel - Spain, Italy and France, three of the most influential countries in Europe, will enter election campaigns over the coming year that could significantly alter the continent's political landscape. - Each has its own urgent domestic matters, including the economy, immigration, corruption and crises of confidence. Still, the electoral drama directly touches Israel's standing with the European Union, its main trading partner... Various election campaigns across the continent have already shown that an obsessive campaign against Israel provides quite limited electoral benefits. - Israel could find itself facing three relatively comfortable governments. However, the path there, in the months before the elections, will not be simple, and could include pressures, statements and perhaps also sanctions, which will come precisely from governments that are not enemies. - jns 03.07.26

Phillips, Melanie / The fateful question for Diaspora Jews - Anti-Zionism, wherever and whenever it appears, is an attack on Judaism itself. - Israelis fight to live because they passionately love what they are. They aren't conditional Jews or Jews with trembling knees or confused Jews with hyphenated identities. - They are Jews who are made whole and complete by the land of Israel. They triumphantly reaffirm every single day what Judaism is: the faith and culture of a people created through a sacred covenant in their own land. - Oct. 7 and its aftermath forged the Israeli spirit anew in iron. Oct. 7 and its aftermath left Diaspora Jews terrified and uncertain about what they are. The Israelis are fighting for the life of the Jewish people. Can Diaspora Jews say the same? - jns 02.07.26

Heller, Mathilda / 'Behind closed doors': 70+ NGO staffers allege antisemitism, lack of accountability in new report - Former Human Rights Watch editor Danielle Haas tells the 'Post' that major NGOs have legitimized antisemitism and anti-Israel narratives, urging greater accountability across the human rights sector. - "As people committed to human rights and humanitarianism, we felt what's going on in these organizations is incredibly dangerous," (due to) the lack of accountability in NGOs, the pervasiveness of antisemitism, and the way in which the media venerates human rights groups as infallible beacons of morality. - EiGHT, a privately funded, politically independent, non-profit initiative based in Geneva, was founded by professionals with direct experience across major international NGOs, who, after the October 7 massacre, "found the reaction of organizations to be very troubling." - Haas was not surprised by the rise in antisemitism after October 7. - "I had this on my radar for years... And that's perhaps why I didn't take too much time in speaking out, because it felt to me that October 7 was more like a starting gun, that they were ready to go. People were no longer afraid to say overtly what they had tiptoed around before... The reality is there has never been meaningful scrutiny of these organizations. There has never even been a meaningful journalistic investigation into the sector. And so how can human rights or humanitarian organizations say that there is no problem with their methodology or antisemitism or internal cultures if they don't set up inquiries into it?... The minute you give an organization, an industry, a person the freedom to operate exactly as they want to do, is the minute you invite corruption." - jp 02.07.26

> EiGHT / It is Clear What is Happening, and Action Needs it Now - Insiders Speak: NGO Antisemitism, Failed Accountability and their Impact on Social Cohesion 2026 (> pdf)

Bard, Mitchell / The Doha deal: How Qatar purchased academic prestige - Neetu Arnold, a research fellow with the National Association of Scholars, noted that universities with campuses there demand "nothing of Qatar beyond its money: the nation can preserve its illiberal quasi-absolute monarchy and traditional Islamic mores and still escape criticism." - The terms Qatar demands are clear: Accept the money, follow our laws, protect our narratives and trust us when we say that academic freedom is being respected. American universities have been accepting those terms for nearly three decades, producing graduates, intellectual property and institutional prestige that serve Qatari interests while insulating Qatari leaders from the accountability their conduct warrants. - jns 01.07.26

Shtrauchler, Nissan / The year that could change Europe – and prove decisive for Israel - Internal crises and shifting public sentiment across three major European powers threaten to alter the EU's diplomatic stance toward Jerusalem. - ILH 28.06.26

Gomes, Jules / Strasbourg Court Axes Defamation Case Targeting Top Expert on the MB Florence Bergeaud-Blackler - on the case of El Feki and SEMMOM-activities - Lawsuit sought to silence scholar exposing Islamist infiltration in French universities - MEF 25.06.26

Toameh, Khaled A / Turkey: Hamas's Safe Haven and the West's Dangerous Blind Spot - As the Trump Administration seeks to stabilize the Gaza Strip through its "Board of Peace" initiative, one participant stands out as particularly ill-suited for the role of mediator: Turkey. + According to Israeli authorities, Hamas's so-called "West Bank Headquarters" operates from Turkey, where it recruits terrorists, transfers weapons and money, and directs attacks against Israel. + These are not the actions of a neutral mediator. They are the actions of a patron. + More troubling are reports that Hamas has exploited Turkey's financial system to facilitate massive transfers of money. According to Israeli military and intelligence officials, Hamas operatives in Turkey managed a secret money-exchange network that transferred hundreds of millions of dollars from Iran to Hamas leaders. + At a time when the United States and its allies are attempting to curb Iranian influence throughout the ME, Turkey has become a critical conduit for Iran's support of Hamas + Meanwhile, Turkey's rhetoric toward Israel has grown increasingly extreme. + Turkish IM Mustafa Ciftci recently declared that Jerusalem would one day again come under Turkish rule. "Just as in the past, those places will again be ours," he said. "They will again, God willing, come under our rule and authority." + Turkey's outspoken intentions... are what make the notion that Turkey can help disarm Hamas is so cringeworthy. Expecting Erdogan's government to pressure Hamas into surrendering its weapons is like expecting Iran to dismantle Hezbollah. + Turkey's leaders have spent years defending Hamas, legitimizing Hamas, funding Hamas-related activities, and providing Hamas with diplomatic and political cover. Why would anyone seriously believe that they will now help dismantle the very organization they have nurtured? + The U.S. can no longer afford to ignore Turkey's unreliability. + Washington needs to seriously reassess its policy toward Turkey and stop viewing Erdogan's government as a neutral actor capable of advancing peace. A regime that openly embraces Hamas, hosts its operatives, tolerates its financial networks, and echoes its rhetoric is not being an honest broker. + Turkey seems increasingly to be not part of the solution, but part of the problem. - GI 25.06.26

Neumann, Daniel / Das Kopftuch und die Freiheit - Die radikalen Kräfte in der muslimischen Community bestimmen zunehmend den Kurs. Wenn dies ohne Gegenwehr von den moderaten Kräften hingenommen wird, ist irgendwann der Kipppunkt erreicht - ja 24.06.26

Medad, Yisrael / Europe condemns settlements, but ignores Zionism's deeper roots - Zionism is the belief that the Jewish people's religion and culture, its national soul, cannot be complete without a national territory and is some 4,000 years old. - jp 23.06.26

Mellinger, Barry / The Guardian's Post-Judaism - A newspaper that cannot cover the Judaism that endures, that cannot acknowledge the faith that fills schools and builds communities and gives Jewish grandchildren to Jewish grandparents, has made its choice. It has chosen a Judaism constructed for its own comfort. Not the Judaism that lives. A Judaism on a leash. And in doing so, it has told us something important, not about Judaism, but about itself. - ToI blog 23.06.26

Meotti, Giulio / Without Israel, a Europe of Fools Would Be Disarmed - While Israeli culture is treated like contaminated goods, its weapons are courted without shame + When Macron accused the Germans of promoting a "third-party industry at the expense of European sovereignty" for buying an Israeli missile defence system instead of the one France is developing with Italy, German officials simply shrugged. + Israel is such a military power that it sells more arms to European NATO states than France itself—which is in Europe and in NATO. Israel is the third-largest supplier to European NATO armies. + Boycotting the culture of the Middle East's only democracy—its liberal, pluralistic, hyper-critical and pacifist culture—is easy. Doing without its weapons is harder. - Israel has faced drones from Hamas, Hezbollah, Iran, the Houthis, and other Iran-backed actors. It has seen the skies over Tel Aviv become crowded and dangerous. When European governments ask how to defend airports, bases, cities, and troops, it is hardly surprising that Israeli solutions are so appealing. Since October 7, 2023, Israel has been fighting on seven fronts simultaneously against a network equipped with Russian S-300 air defense systems, Chinese ballistic missiles, and Iranian drone technology. Israel cannot afford the luxury of weakness. Can Europe? - MEF 19.06.26

Tawil, Bassam / Die Zwei-Staaten-Illusion: Europa im Kampf gegen Israel an vorderster Front - Fast drei Jahre nach dem von der Hamas angeführten Massaker vom 7. Oktober 2023 glauben viele westliche Regierungen und Diplomaten immer noch naiv, dass die Schaffung eines palästinensischen Staates dem Nahen Osten Frieden bringen werde. - aud 19.06.26 (> 2:1sfake)

Dudley, Michaela / Video beweist Anschlagpläne der Hamas für Europa - Ein sichergestelltes Bekennervideo enthüllt die Pläne einer europäischen Hamas-Zelle. Zum Jahrestag des 7. Oktobers sollten jüdische Einrichtungen in Europa von einer Terrorwelle getroffen werden. - mw 19.06.26 (> ja 16.06.)

Cohen, Asher / Chamberlainization in the age of Iran - Europe is welcoming the agreement with Iran before the regime's compliance with its commitments has even been tested, and continues to speak of "both sides" even when facing Hezbollah. The West is once again falling for the same dangerous illusion of imaginary peace, while Israel must prepare for a world in which it relies mainly on itself. - ILH 18.06.26 jp / Israel's FM cuts ties with EU foreign policy chief after latter's apartheid remarks - The statements were made during Kallas' recent trip to Mexico. Kallas responded to Sa'ar via X, reaffirming the EU's commitment to Israel as well as its commitment to the two-state solution. - 18.06.26

Ellis, Robert / How Long Can Europe Keep Silent on Turkey's Authoritarian Turn? - With brutal suppression of protesters and purges of public servants, Erdoğan has removed all effective opposition to his rule - The question arises about whether Turkey's commitment to NATO's founding principles of democracy, individual liberty, and the rule of law remains sincere or real. + "Our dream of a European Turkey has turned into a nightmare." (Marietje Schaake, Dutch liberal) + Hakan Fidan, Turkey's foreign minister, has expressed interest in Turkey being included in Europe's security architecture. - After years of flirtation with Russia, or at least seeking advantage of playing the West and Russia off against each other, Turkey is quietly realigning its foreign policy more solidly towards Europe. Against this backdrop, Deutsche Welle's correspondent Julia Hahn raises the issue of why Europe remains silent on Turkey's opposition crisis. - Perhaps European officials at the NATO summit in Ankara can throw light on this and discuss how Turkey's membership in NATO and its growing partnership with Europe are compatible with the values NATO and most European states uphold. - MEF 17.06.26

Kajjo, Sirwan / Turkey's Expansionist Ambitions Should Not Be Ignored - Expanding influence has emboldened Erdoğan's government and vision of a ME where Islamist movements dominate - Turkey has long expressed ambitions tied to territories that were once part of the Ottoman Empire, but even more so under Erdoğan's Justice and Development Party. + Islamists often use rhetoric as a precursor to concrete actions against their opponents. - Turkey's hostile rhetoric is not mere posturing. If recent history involving Iran, Hezbollah, Hamas, and other malign actors has shown anything, it is that the West should not dismiss such rhetoric. Islamists often use rhetoric as a precursor to concrete actions against their opponents. - Erdoğan and his allies at times may have projected power or engaged in regional adventurism to divert attention from domestic political and economic challenges. That is no longer the case. The Turkish government has consolidated its authoritarian rule and appears largely unconstrained by political opposition. Therefore, Washington and Jerusalem should view Ankara's increasingly aggressive rhetoric as an expression of an ever-growing expansionist strategy. - MEF 15.06.26

Tawil, Bassam / The Two-State Fantasy: Europe on Board for Israel's Destruction - It would seem as if Europe has enough troubles of its own that they appear committed to not solving. Chief among these are a self-inflicted energy crisis, increasing repression of free speech and a ballooning hijrah - a migration in the cause of Allah to anchor Islam across Europe's Judeo-Christian culture. - Conferences produce photographs, declarations, and communiqués. They do not produce peace. France and other Western countries are free to continue promoting the two-state solution. Before doing so, however, they should answer a few basic questions: Who will govern the Palestinian state? How will Hamas be prevented from taking over and attacking Israel "time and again until it is annihilated," as it has vowed to do? How will Iran be prevented from again turning the Gaza Strip into a forward operating base against Israel? What guarantees will be provided that October 7 will not be repeated from the West Bank hills overlooking Israel's major population centers? Until these questions are answered, conferences such as the one in Paris do not advance peace. Instead, they promote, as their sponsors undoubtedly know, merely a destabilizing illusion. - GI 15.06.26

Khatiri, Shay / Journalists should start calling Iran an empire - Due to ignorance or misplaced sympathy, American media rarely turn the tables on the Islamic Republic, holding it to the same standards they hold great powers, like the U.S. and Russia... in the American media. Journalists have forgotten that the Islamic Republic not only invaded Iran 47 years ago, but also subsequently invaded many other countries. The U.S. media's blind spot on this point is all the more puzzling given the American intelligentsia's anti-imperialism creed... first, let us explore the Islamic Republic's expanding empire... Whether due to ignorance or misplaced sympathy, American journalists and intellectuals rarely turn the tables on Iran, holding it to the same standards they hold great powers such as the United States and Russia. They dismiss revealing statements made in Persian as domestic propaganda. They instead give priority to carefully crafted English statements designed to deceive foreigners. In short, they are reporting on Iran's conduct without investigating the ideas behind it. By doing so, they poorly serve their audience, the U.S. and the nations of the ME, including Iranians themselves. Only the imperial regime in Tehran wins. - jns 14.06.26

ja / Armin Laschet wirft EU-Außenbeauftragter Kallas Antisemitismus vor - Die EU-Außenbeauftragte hatte Israel mit Apartheids-Südafrika verglichen. Jetzt fordert der Vorsitzende des Auswärtigen Ausschusses im Bundestag ihren Rücktritt - ja 14.06.26

> US÷Iran÷MoU 06/26 - whose submission?

Kondri, Raghu / Iran: The Onion Structure of Power - Why the West Misreads Iran's Resilience: The Onion Structure of Power - The central mistake of Western policy has been the tendency to focus on actors rather than structures. Presidents change. Generals rise and fall. Policies shift. Protests emerge. Negotiations begin and end. Yet the underlying architecture remains. For decades, Western strategy has oscillated between two illusions: normalization or collapse. Neither assumption adequately explains the reality of Iran. The Islamic Republic is not simply a government. It is a layered system of survival. An onion structure of power. Until policymakers understand that architecture, they will continue to misunderstand the resilience of the regime itself. - Before strategy comes structure. Before solutions comes anatomy. - (> video 6:26 min) - ToI blog 12.06.26

Deutsch, Meir / Who's next? Thoughts from the global 'target du jour' - Sooner or later, the Europeans will come for you as well. And when they do, there may be no one left to raise a voice in your defense... Ninety years ago, Europe's Jews acquiesced to the Nuremberg Laws and convinced themselves that these decrees were a passing storm they could weather. Only a few saw what was coming and urged people to join them in fleeing before the flames engulfed the continent, before it was too late. Today's Europe is the same. The sanctions are no different than the Nuremberg decrees; then, as now, they use financial restrictions to achieve devastating political goals that have catastrophic consequences for the Jewish people. - Will we learn from history—or be doomed to repeat it? - jns 12.06.26

Mansour, Hussein A / What Iran Wants in Lebanon, and Why It Cannot Be Allowed to Get It - Iran demands that any agreement on the Strait of Hormuz and the nuclear program include a cessation of Israeli operations against Hezbollah - MEF 12.06.26

Stock, Christian / Irritierende Fragen - Zur Leisetreterei der EU, wenn es um den autoritären türkischen Präsidenten Erdoğan geht - Die EU und auch das deutsche Auswärtige Amt reagieren inzwischen kaum noch darauf, wenn die türkische Regierung rechtsstaatliche Grundsätze mit Füßen tritt. Der türkische Präsident nutzt die internationalen Krisen geschickt, um ungestört die Opposition im eigenen Land zu drangsalieren. - jw 11.06.26 (> Osmano-Fascism)

Meotti, Giulio / Multicultural Life Is Not Beautiful - European Jews Are abandoning multiculturalism - which doesn't include them — for Israel - Although Jews make up less than 0.8% of the French population, half of the military and police deployed in the streets are guarding Jewish schools and synagogues. + Jews are no longer hated as a race, but rather as "Zionists," guilty of existing as a state after daring to survive the attempt at total annihilation of October 7, 2023. + Antisemitism has discovered that hating the Jewish state is much more chic, profitable, and socially acceptable than hating the individual Jew. + Antisemitism has discovered that hating the Jewish state is much more chic, profitable, and socially acceptable than hating the individual Jew. - "If it weren't for the Mossad, I'd be dead," revealed Volker Beck this week. He is not Jewish but a former Green Party leader, Bundestag member, and key pro-Israel figure in Germany. Iran tried to assassinate him, and he ended up under protection thanks to Israeli intelligence tips to Berlin: "For every activity of mine, six to ten security personnel have to be mobilized." - MEF 10.06.26

Heller, Mathilda / 'Antisemitism in medicine is a patient care crisis.' says AJMA CEO Eveline Shekman - and warns that rising antisemitism in US healthcare is creating a patient care crisis, affecting doctors, nurses, and medical students. - jp 09.06.26

@ Greyman-Kennard, Danielle / Over 100 UNRWA staff referred to US State Department over Hamas ties, Oct. 7 massacre - UNRWA school principals, teachers, security personnel, attendants, psychosocial counselors, and medical professionals were among those referred. - jp 09.06.26

@ aud / UNRWA: Neuer Bericht identifiziert 101 weitere Hamas-Angehörige Ein neuer Untersuchungsbericht des Generalinspektors der amerikanischen Entwicklungsbehörde USAID hat 101 weitere Mitarbeiter des UNO-Palästinenserhilfswerks UNRWA identifiziert, die am Massaker vom 7. Oktober 2023 teilgenommen haben sollen und der Hamas zugerechnet werden. - 09.06.26

Ari, Maccabi Lev / When Kings and PM's Admit They Failed Their Jews - Jewish children in Toronto, London, Paris and Amsterdam now learn behind armed security in democracies once hailed as models of pluralism. History shows Jewish communities often see dangers before surrounding societies do. This moment is remarkable because the very leaders who once reassured the public are now confirming the warnings were justified... Mark Carney says Canada is failing its Jews. Anthony Albanese offers profound sorrow. The Dutch King says his country failed again. Those admissions matter. But they are not revelations. Jewish communities lived this reality long before their leaders acknowledged it. We saw the danger. We sounded the alarm. The admissions simply confirmed what we had been saying all along: Their failure was real. - ToI 08.06.26

Sander, Sarah Maria / Der Hass trägt heute Palästinaflaggen - Wie der kulturelle Boykott Israels die Ausgrenzung von Juden normalisiert - Der Hass auf Israel sitzt bei manchen inzwischen so tief, dass sie gar nicht mehr merken, wann sie selbst zu Antisemiten werden. Sie nennen es Gerechtigkeit. Sie nennen es Kampf für die Freiheit. Sie nennen es Menschlichkeit. Aber was sie praktizieren, ist Ausschluss und Isolation. - So beginnt es. Nicht sofort mit dem Satz: Wir müssen sie alle töten. Sondern viel früher. Mit Sätzen wie: Kauft nicht bei ihnen. Sprecht nicht mit ihnen. Ladet sie nicht ein. Drückt sie nicht. Hört ihnen nicht zu. Gebt ihnen keine Bühne. Zeigt ihnen, dass sie nicht dazugehören... hat es die Welt irgendwie geschafft, Israel zum Täter zu erklären. Israelis zu Mördern. Juden zu Verdächtigen. Aus Opfern wurden Angeklagte. Aus Selbstverteidigung wurde Verbrechen. Aus jüdischer Sichtbarkeit wurde Provokation. Das ist die eigentliche Schande unserer Zeit: eine fatale Täter-Opfer-Umkehr, die antisemitisch motivierte Mordlust als Widerstand verkündet, während jüdische Selbstverteidigung unter Verdacht gerät. - Man fragt sich so oft: Wie konnte das damals geschehen? Warum haben so viele geschwiegen? Warum haben sie weggesehen? Warum haben sie mitgemacht? Aber es geschieht wieder vor unseren Augen. Menschen werden erneut ausgeschlossen, isoliert, entwürdigt. Wieder sucht man nach Vorwänden, um Judenhass auszuleben. Und die meisten bemerken es nicht einmal. - ja 07.06.26 (> BDS)

Youb, Amine / Europe Condemns Israel While Arms Makers Buy Billions in Israeli Weapons - European armed forces are in the midst of a generational modernization push, and Israeli defense technology sits at the center of what they need most urgently - MEF 07.06.26

Millière, Guy / Is Saving Europe Still Possible? - In Germany, the Jews account for less than 0.2 percent of the total population, yet suffer a disproportionate number of anti-religious attacks – also on an upward trend: from 1,824 antisemitic attacks recorded in 2024 to 2,267 in 2025 - The same pattern can be seen across all of Western Europe. For years, virtually all antisemitic acts — as in the UK — have been perpetrated by radicalized Muslims. Again, most Western European politicians condemn "antisemitism" but without mentioning who the perpetrators are. Hatred of Israel and Jews, doctrinally imposed by the Qur'an and the hadith, is deeply entrenched within Muslim communities in Western Europe, and accommodated by much of non-Muslim society there. Every current Western European leader, just like Starmer, has stated — in varying terms — that the war in Iran is "not their war." Lately in Western Europe, political parties with platforms like that of the right-of-center Reform UK are gaining ground. Several appear poised to win elections. They see -- and say aloud -- that in Europe, Western civilization could die. They are calling for national renewal. The governments of some Central European countries -- Poland, Hungary, the Czech Republic, Slovakia -- have adopted a firm stance against immigration -- for which the European Union thoroughly excoriated them. Hungary experienced being occupied by the Ottoman Empire for nearly 200 years. Former PM Viktor Orbán -- who just lost an election -- did not want to see another Islamic occupation. Central Europe still has one of the world's lowest Muslim populations (roughly between 0.1% and 1% of the total population). Jews living there face virtually no violent antisemitic attacks. Central Europe, however, is also seeing declining birthrates. In the Czech Republic, it fell to 1.28 children per woman. In Hungary, it now stands at 1.31; in Poland, the figure is 1.1. - Is saving Europe still possible? If the political parties that are seeking to preserve Western civilization prevail, probably yes -- but time is just about up.- GI 07.06.26

Wenick, Steve / Jews Against Jews - Opposition to Jews by Jews is an old story. Jewish history is filled with examples of Jews who turned against their own people, often with consequences far graver than they imagined. Today, that resistance often comes wrapped in Jewish-sounding names such as J Street, Jewish Voice for Peace, IfNotNow, and B'Tselem, organizations that spend far more time criticizing the Jewish state than defending it, because Israel's worldview stands in stark contrast to their "woke" ideology. They frequently invoke the concept of Tikkun Olam, a term they have detached from its traditional Jewish meaning and recast into a vague universalism. In doing so, they attempt to sanitize Judaism of its particularistic foundations and transform it into a feel-good creed designed to win the approval of those who neither understand nor respect its heritage. They seek acceptance from people who dislike them not only because they are Jews, but because they are Jews unwilling to stand unapologetically for their own identity. Toning down or hiding one's identity out of a desire to appease others never brings acceptance, only derision. - Jewish history is replete with examples of those who traded identity for acceptance and conviction for comfort. According to Jewish tradition, only a minority of the Israelite slaves in Egypt chose to follow Moses into the unknown and pursue freedom in the Promised Land. The majority preferred the perceived security of what they knew. In the end, they gained neither security nor freedom and they and their Jewish offspring passed into obscurity. The lesson remains relevant today. People who surrender their heritage leave their descendants not a legacy of faith, identity, and continuity, but a path that ends in assimilation, anonymity, and ultimately oblivion. - ToI blog 05.06.26 jp / Behind the smiles and the sanctions: The hidden truth about Israeli-European relations - Amid headlines of EU-Israel tension, Prof. Sharon Pardo reveals that trade, arms, and cooperation quietly persist, even as EU statements grow harsher. - 04.06.26

Toameh, Khaled Abu / What Happens When Jihadists Smell Weakness - Across the ME, jihadist organizations are constantly searching for signs of weakness among their enemies. They interpret restraint differently from the way Western policymakers do. What many Western leaders describe as diplomacy, patience, or de-escalation is frequently interpreted by Islamists as surrender, fear, or exhaustion. This misunderstanding has repeatedly produced disastrous results... Western policymakers, especially Americans, tend to seek quick solutions and rapid successes. Defeating radical Islamist movements requires strategic patience, consistency, and a willingness to sustain pressure. Groups such as Hamas, Hezbollah, and their patrons in Iran view conflict not in terms of election cycles or news cycles, but in terms of generations. A united American-Israeli front creates deterrence. Public disputes create opportunities. Weakness, hesitation, and public divisions send exactly the wrong message to Hamas, Hezbollah, and Iran. Every appearance of indecision only encourages further aggression, and convinces terrorist leaders that persistence will eventually bring victory. Discord puts smiles on the faces of those who still openly dream of destroying Israel and expanding Iran's influence throughout the ME. The latest Iranian and Hamas statements are not merely propaganda. They are a warning. The question is whether decision-makers in Washington are listening. - GI 04.06.26

Osman, Rawan / Der Mythos Barghouti: Heiligsprechung einer Dynastie der Gewalt - Anders als im Fall von Nelson Mandela ist Marwan Barghoutis Familie keine Dynastie der Befreiungsbewegung, sondern ein Paradebeispiel dafür, wie die Manipulation westlicher Schuldgefühle aufbereitet und als Heldentum verkauft werden kann. - aud 02.06.26 (engl. vs. > Osman 31.05.)

Stein, Amichai / Israels komplexes Verhältnis zur EU - Während die EU nach wie vor Israels größter Handelspartner ist, wird die öffentliche Meinung gegenüber dem jüdischen Staat in Europa zunehmend negativer. - mw 01.06.26

Sinkinson, James / Five greatest hoaxes Palestinian supporters mistakenly believe - Lies, innuendo and misinformation occur daily these days in reporting on Israel. - Hoax #1: The humanitarian crisis and civilian suffering in Gaza. + Hoax #2: Palestinians live under Israeli occupation. + Hoax #3: U.S. foreign policy and military aid are biased against the Palestinians. + Hoax #4: The Palestinian cause aligns with progressive identity-based values. + Hoax #5: The Palestinian goal is to form an independent state alongside Israel. - American support for the Palestinians is a hoax—a product of both traditional and social media. They parrot the narrative of Israel's enemies—the lie depicting the Palestinians as an innocent people fighting to free their indigenous land from colonialist Jews. Although this fictional narrative appeals to many uninformed progressives, it has no factual basis. - jns 31.05.26

Caschetta, A.J / Academia's Iran Lobby - The joint U.S.-Israel attacks against Iran in 2025 and 2026 have exposed some of the most egregious pro-Iran academics to the general public - It is worth noting that many academics deny that there is even a reason to fear an Iranian nuclear program. + Nader Hashemi, who once speculated that Israel's Mossad was behind Hadi Matar's attempted assassination of novelist Salman Rushdie, is always ready to blame Israel and the U.S. for Iran's problems. + The Islamic Republic provides ideological sustenance to its academic lobby. Without its actual "resistance," the academic pretend "resistance" would have no role models. - What drives the members of Academia's Iran lobby is equal parts hatred of Israel and U.S. foreign policy. Throw in a measure of Netanyahu and Trump Derangement Syndrome, and the combination becomes an academic Iran lobby that the regime couldn't purchase even if it was selling millions of barrels of oil every day. - Most members of academia's Iran lobby don't really care about Iran or the Iranian people. Their main concern is the Islamic Republic's status as the leading state sponsor of terrorism, especially terrorism targeting Israel. If the Islamic Republic falls, Hamas, Hezbollah and the Houthis will likely follow. The Islamic Republic provides ideological sustenance to its academic lobby. Without its actual "resistance," the academic pretend "resistance" would have no role models. - MEF 29.05.26

Tobin, Jonathan S / Liberal Judaism is doomed if it won't fight anti-Zionism - Reform Rabbi Ammiel Hirsch is challenging his movement to stop ordaining anti-Zionist clergy. Yet his colleagues don't want to make hard choices about leftist antisemitism. - the good news is that it is still possible for Jews to reach across denominational or partisan lines to work together. As Hirsch points out, the rabbis who were prepared to stand up against Mamdani found they had more in common with those who shared that stand from other movements than they did with those with similar backgrounds who were neutral or supportive of an open anti-Zionist. That's the example that other liberal Jews must take to heart if they are to adequately respond to the current crisis. The Palestinian Arab murderers, rapists and kidnappers of Oct. 7 didn't care about the political opinions of their Israeli victims. Liberals who think this has nothing to do with them are blind to the threats facing every Jew today, including them. - Those who think staying in sync with their allies on the left is more important than fighting antisemitism are harming their own futures as much as they are encouraging those who seek the genocide of the Jews of Israel. Hirsch's fierce commitment to Jewish peoplehood should make him a hero to all Jews, regardless of whether they agree with him on how to practice Judaism or politics in America. If more liberals don't heed his warnings, the cost of their abandonment of principle and their people will be felt by everyone in the Jewish world. - jsn 28.05.26 (> Neuer 26.05.)

Manheim, Moshe / When Words Become Moral Certainties - Every society is vulnerable to linguistic manipulation, especially during periods of fear, instability, and ideological polarization. Healthy societies should not fear moral language. But they should fear the moment language becomes so ideologically fixed that contested interpretations are no longer experienced as arguments, but as moral certainties. The feathers, once scattered, are not easily retrieved. - ToI blog 27.05.26

Keinon, Herb / Non-Jewish people need to use their voices to combat antisemitism - In the face of antisemitic screeds being spread by both the Left and the Right, too often the loudest voices of censure are coming from Jews. - jp 27.05.26

Claman, Brian / Is Another Holocaust Around the Corner? - When I wrote Taken. Numbered. Survived., available on Amazon, I was not only documenting my mother's survival through Auschwitz and forced labour. I was trying to understand something far more disturbing: how ordinary people fail to recognize danger while they are still living inside ordinary life. My mother, Mary Katz Claman, survived the destruction of Hungarian Jewry in 1944. She survived Auschwitz. She survived forced labour. She survived the collapse of an entire civilization that many Jews believed, until very late, could not possibly disappear. - That history no longer feels distant to many Jews today. - History does not repeat itself exactly. But history does show that civilized societies can deteriorate faster than many people believe possible. - The Holocaust was not inevitable. - It became possible because too many warning signs were dismissed, rationalized, minimized, or ignored until the danger was already overwhelming. That is why the question matters. Not because another Holocaust is certain. - But because history teaches the catastrophic cost of waiting too long to take hatred seriously. - ToI blog 27.05.26

Neuer, Batsheva / Are we asking the wrong questions about antisemitism? - One idea is to assess how anti-Zionism operates in contemporary political life: what burdens it places on Jews and Israelis, and whether it denies Jews forms of collective identity and security granted to others. - Anti-Zionism has never been a single doctrine with a single source. It has emerged from different religious, ideological and political traditions, some of which were not rooted in hostility toward Jews. - One important strand of Jewish opposition to Zionism was theological and eschatological. Certain ultra-Orthodox groups, most notably Satmar Chassidism, rejected Zionism because they believed that the Jewish return to Zion must await messianic redemption. From this perspective, Zionism was not merely politically mistaken but religiously improper: an attempt to force redemption before its divinely-appointed time. Other forms of Jewish anti-Zionism were grounded in liberal, civic or universalist arguments. - Terms such as "anti-Zionist," "Zionist," "pro-Israel" and "pro-peace" are not merely descriptive. They often function as claims to legitimacy. - The debate over anti-Zionism and antisemitism will not be resolved by asking endlessly when one "becomes" the other. That formulation too often assumes that antisemitism must announce itself in crude hatred before it can be recognized—it rarely does. Antisemitism, like other forms of discrimination, adapts to the language of the age. - For policymakers, the more useful question is not whether anti-Zionism is antisemitic in the abstract. It is whether, in practice, anti-Zionism targets Jews or Israelis, excludes Jews or Israelis, treats Jewish or Israeli institutions as proxies for the State of Israel, or denies Jews collective legitimacy. The same principle should apply to groups that claim Zionist or pro-Israel credentials: what matters is not only the label they adopt, but the consequences of the policies they advance. In both cases, self-description is not sufficient. The task is to evaluate ideas, movements, and organizations by their practical effects on Jewish security, Jewish equality, and Israel's legitimacy as the nation-state of the Jewish people. - jns 26.05.26 (> Walzer 2019 > History Reviews Theories)

Vavra, Lisa / Zwischen Krieg und wachsender Unsicherheit: Warum weiterhin Juden nach Israel auswandern - Wie es zu dem scheinbaren Paradoxon kommt, dass Juden Israel ausgerechnet während eines Kriegs als sicheren Ort ansehen, an dem sie ohne Angst leben können. - mw 23.05.26

Baker, Alan / Settler violence': The latest fabricated buzz phrase for singling out Israel - Using this phrase against Israel is no less absurd than labeling sport-hooliganism and violence at mass demonstrations in the West as officially sponsored, government-sanctioned violence. - jns 22.05.26

Pardo, Sharon / 'We have no Israel to escape to': Germany and Europe's crisis of confidence. The surge of nationalism and hatred is stoking fears that liberal democracy may not be as secure as many people once believed. It's a fear Jews know well - A German academic said it quietly at a faculty gathering in Frankfurt last week. The conversation had turned to Alternative for Germany (AfD) and to what might happen if the party entered government. Someone mentioned leaving the country. Someone else nodded. Then came the sentence that ended the conversation: "Jews have Israel. We have nowhere to go." The comparison ... was also revealing. It did not mean Germany is returning to the 1930s, or that the AfD can be equated with the Nazis. It pointed to something more immediate: a loss of confidence, in Germany and across parts of Europe, that liberal democracy is as secure as many people once believed. For Jews, that fear has a history. - Europe learned through catastrophe that democratic erosion usually does not arrive all at once. It advances through polarization, exhausted institutions, and the slow loss of trust. That is why the Frankfurt remark matters. Its importance lies less in its historical accuracy than in what it revealed about the return of political doubt in societies that thought they had moved beyond it. - Germany has long been Europe's most important example of democratic recovery. If Germans themselves begin to doubt the durability of that recovery, the consequences will not remain German. Jews have reason to take that doubt seriously. So should Europe. - ToI blog 22.05.26

Phillips, Melanie / A dangerous dividing line - Diaspora Jews cannot properly be defended if they do not or fail to comprehend the monstrosity of the scapegoating and demonization of Israel. - jns 21.05.26

Sterk, Sabine / The Lie That Followed the Massacre - When Truth Becomes Optional: Israel, October 7, and the Collapse of Moral Clarity - The deeper issue is not Israel versus Palestinians. It is whether truth still holds authority in a world driven by narrative, identity, and viral emotion. - Because if a massacre of this scale, this brutality, and this level of documentation can be questioned, minimized, or denied, then the phrase "Never Again" has lost its meaning. And if truth becomes optional, then justice becomes impossible. Israel is not just fighting a military battle. It is fighting a battle over reality itself. And that is a far more dangerous war. - ToI 21.05.26

Bartelse, Gabrielle / The Loss of Home - On civilisational fatigue, multicultural universalism, and the disappearance of cultural loyalty in the Netherlands - The loss of home is therefore ultimately not geographical, but spiritual. A society ceases to feel like home when its history is remembered only as guilt, its culture regarded merely as a structure of power, and its institutions no longer possess the courage to defend the civilisation that produced them. - Perhaps that is the deepest uncertainty haunting the contemporary Netherlands: not that it has changed, but that it no longer knows why it should preserve itself at all. - ToI blog 21.05.26

Williams, Robert / Is Europe Ending Up as One Big No-Go Zone? - In late March, the European Conservatives and Reformists Group, a center-right political group in the European Parliament, published a report about no-go zones in Europe about no-go zones in Europe titled "Immigration, Islamisation, and the Rise of Parallel Societies: Focus on urban areas of Islamist entrenchment and state withdrawal," authored by New Direction - Foundation for European Conservatism - For many years, the existence of no-go zones in European cities was publicly denied by the ruling elites and their spokespersons in the mainstream media. If anyone raised the issue, as US President Donald Trump did in December 2015, when he spoke of no-go zones in London and Paris, ... they were mocked and denigrated for it (here and here). Meanwhile, the problem exponentiated. According to the report: "There are now an estimated 900 to 1,000 areas across Europe that exhibit the key characteristics of no-go zones. This includes major urban suburbs as well as districts in medium-sized or smaller cities, reflecting a broad and growing territorial trend." Given the enormity of the problem, the authors of the report had to limit their focus to "seven EU countries where no-go zones are most reported: France, Germany, Italy, Spain, Belgium, Sweden, and the Netherlands." - The report concludes: "Europe now stands at a crossroads. An increasing segment of the European population is now rejecting the values, symbols, and collective identity of their country of citizenship, giving rise to a new class of nationals who feel no allegiance to the nation-state and do not recognize themselves in its cultural roots and project." The real question is whether this shift -- perpetrated by European leaders who seem solely self-interested in wooing votes, can be reversed -- or whether European citizens are looking at a future of inevitable submission to Islam. At present, unfortunately, the second path appears more likely. - GI 20.05.26

Thaidigsmann, Michael / Drahtzieher gefasst? - In den USA sitzt der Iraker Mohammad al-Saadi in Haft, der hinter der jüngsten Terrorserie gegen jüdische Ziele in Europa stecken soll - ja 20.05.26

Mansharof, Yossi / Iran's terror reach exposes Europe's dangerous weakness - The arrest of a senior Iranian operative shows that Tehran directed nearly 20 attacks on European and US soil in just three months. Despite the direct threat to synagogues and Jewish institutions, major European capitals still refuse to designate the Revolutionary Guards as a terrorist organization. While Washington is working to deal with the head of the snake, France and Spain are choosing a line of panicked appeasement. - ILH 19.05.26

Greyman-Kennard, Danielle / Europol intercepts tens-of-thousands of incidents tied to IRGC-related terrorist content - The IRGC, designated a terrorist group by the EU in February, had created an online presence to spread propaganda, recruit supporters, and raise funds. - jp 19.05.26

Meotti, Giulio / Hat der Westen seinen Überlebenswillen verloren? - Im gegenwärtigen Niedergang des Westens unterscheiden sich die USA und Europa zwar noch immer voneinander, doch nur in einem Punkt: Sie haben unterschiedliche Wege eingeschlagen, die zum selben Ziel führen. - aud 18.05.26

Haug, Nils A / Denouncing Israel - Today's ubiquitous antisemitism generally supports toward all Jews a barely-concealed death wish, perhaps borne of envy at their success, whatever their affiliation or position on the Jewish "identity spectrum." - Perhaps many progressives in NYC are hoping that Mamdani will help them to advance their social programs, while many Islamists may be hoping that the progressives will help them to advance their Islamist programs. - "We are not guests in our own story.... We have carried these words through expulsions and ghettos, through inquisitions and pogroms, through the cattle car and the crematorium, through the lecture hall and the algorithm will carry them still. And we will not whisper." — Moshe David, CEO of The Roar of Judah Foundation, JNS, April 21, 2026. - GI 17.05.26

Schreiber, Constantin + Michael Wolffsohn / (Keine) Zukunft für jüdische Diaspora & für Israel (!) - Der Historiker und Publizist zeichnet im Gespräch ein verheerendes Bild vom aktuellen Antisemitismus. Es handle sich mittlerweile um einen globalen, antisemitischen Tsunami, der die Existenz jüdischen Lebens weltweit bedrohe, wie vielleicht noch nie zuvor in der Geschichte. Für die jüdische Diaspora im Westen sieht Wolffsohn gar keine Zukunft mehr. Aber auch die Existenz Israels stehe auf dem Spiel: nicht allein wegen äußerer, globaler Feinde, sondern auch wegen der Bedrohungen aus dem Inneren.(> video 20:08 min) - 14.05.26

Osman, Rawan / The Strange Coalition Defending Tehran - It is revealing that some of the loudest voices claiming the mantle of human rights are, in practice, shielding one of the world's most repressive regimes... The same activists who describe themselves as defenders of Palestinian rights, women's liberation, and democratic values have mobilized against confronting a regime that systematically suppresses all three. Wars often clarify political realities that peacetime rhetoric can obscure. The current confrontation with the Islamic Republic is producing precisely such clarity. It is revealing that some of the loudest voices claiming the mantle of human rights are, in practice, shielding one of the world's most repressive regimes. And it is exposing the uncomfortable truth that the language of justice and liberation can, at times, become a tool for protecting the very forces that deny those principles to millions. In that sense, the conflict with Tehran is not only a geopolitical struggle. It is also a moment of moral illumination, one that is making increasingly clear who truly stands with freedom, and who stands in the way of it. - JFCA 12.05.26

John, Gerald + Jan Michael Marchart / 41% der jungen Muslime sehen islamische Gebote über den Gesetzen stehen - Für die Verteidigung des Glaubens sterben und andere fundamentalistische Auswüchse: Eine neue Studie zeigt, dass muslimische Jugendliche häufiger antidemokratische, abwertende und gewalttätige Haltungen vertreten - Ein Drittel der Muslime sagt auch, in den vergangenen drei bis fünf Jahren religiöser geworden zu sein, während das Gegenteil nur für 16% dieser Glaubensrichtung zutrifft. Überdies werde ihre Identität viel stärker von der Religion definiert als bei den Christen, sagt Studienleiter Kenan Güngör. Ob regelmäßiges Beten, Speisen- und Fastengebote oder der Besuch des Gotteshauses: Die Jugendlichen islamischen Glaubens erreichen überall Höchstwerte. - Überdies glauben 43% der muslimischen Jugendlichen, dass an den Problemen der islamischen Welt der Westen schuld sei. 53% wollen jede Muslimin in der Öffentlichkeit mit einem Kopftuch sehen, gleich 65% sagen: "Die islamischen Vorschriften gelten für alle Bereiche des Alltags und sind streng einzuhalten. Entscheiden sollen Männer - dst 12.05.26

Toameh, Khaled Abu / Erdogan's Turkey: The NATO Member That Sponsors Terrorism - The continued Western reliance on Turkey and Qatar as intermediaries has simply strengthened Hamas and protracted the instability in the Middle East. - How can the West keep regarding Turkey and Qatar as credible allies while they insist on supporting terrorist groups committed to conquering not just Israel but also other UN member states, such as with Turkey's designs on Cyprus and Greece? - Qatar, meanwhile, continues to try to undermine the United States by donating, over decades, many billions of dollars to influence education from K-12 through graduate schools throughout America. Cornell Univ. has received $10 billion over the years; Carnegie Mellon "just under $2 billion"; Texas A&M University "over $1 billion" (which gave Qatar full ownership of more than 500 research projects in fields such as nuclear science, artificial intelligence, biotech, robotics and weapons development); and Georgetown University $971 million. Why do Qatar and Turkey continue embracing Hamas while demanding the trust of the US and the West? Why does the West keep accepting this duplicity? The Trump administration faces a crucial test. If Washington is genuinely serious about dismantling the infrastructure of Hamas and confronting the Iranian regime, it cannot continue overlooking Turkey's commitment to doing the exact opposite: safeguarding and supporting Hamas. - A NATO member state, Turkey, is facilitating the activities of an Iranian-backed terrorist group responsible for the mass murder of civilians, including many Americans. - By allowing Hamas and other terrorist groups to operate freely on its soil, Turkey is undermining the very security architecture that NATO was created to defend. - GI 11.05.26

Thaidigsmann, Michael / EU beschließt Sanktionen gegen Israel - Die EU hat eine politische Einigung für Strafmaßnahmen gegen israelische Siedler erzielt - ja 11.05.26

Nirenstein, Fiamma / Where are the voices defending Europe's Jews? - The continent that vowed to become "different" after the Shoah is once again allowing antisemitism to spread openly across public life, culture and politics. What kind of Europe is this, in which parts of the Left systematically promote the false narrative that Israel is a colonialist and genocidal state, projecting onto the Jewish people the very crimes and prejudices Europe itself once produced? - Europe celebrated itself this week and reaffirmed its desire to grow stronger. But nothing weakens it more profoundly than the return of this shameful antisemitism. - jns 09.05.26

Markl, Florian + Heiko Heinisch / »Die Gesellschaft an den Islam gewöhnen« - Mena-Watch-Talk über die Muslimbruderschaft, hybriden Konflikt und den politischen Islam in Europa. - Über ein langfristiges Transformationsprojekt + Die Muslimbruderschaft als hybrider Akteur + 5 Konfliktphasen + Schulen als Konfliktfeld + Das Kopftuch als politisches Symbol + Destabilisierung und die Frage der Gewalt (Schwächung staatlicher Institutionen) + Langfristige Gefahr (> video 1:01:31) - mw 09.05.26

> Heinisch, Heiko + Nina Scholz + Gustav F. Gustenau / Politischer Islam - eine hybride Bedrohung Europas. Der "Civilization Jihad" der Muslimbruderschaft. Nomos, Baden-Baden 2026 (> pdf)
> AK Polis > Rez. Schnelle > Theulé > Pfahl-Traugherber

Amichai, Avner / Europe's 'Global Alliance' Is Not Peace, It Is Dispossession by Another Name - Post-October 7, pushing a Palestinian state onto the strategic highlands of Judea and Samaria - again: the cradle of Jewish civilization, where our kings ruled, prophets spoke, and our identity was forged -- is not a peace plan. It is an invitation to slaughter. The hills overlooking Tel Aviv would become launchpads for the PLO, Hamas, Iran, and other genocidal actors. Yet Europe demands Israeli concessions while ignoring Palestinian rejectionism, pay-for-slay policies, and its totally explicit goal of destroying the Jewish state. - Regavim has a clear message for European governments and their Global Alliance: Stop funding the theft of our homeland. Stop financing classrooms that teach Jewish murder is heroic. Stop arming a terror army preparing the next October 7. Stop pretending that more than 3,000 years of Jewish history can be erased by EU euros and diplomatic declarations. And stop blocking the return of Jews to the land that has always been theirs. - It is hard to ignore the cruel irony that once again Europe's Jews, who have lived there for generations, are once again fleeing in growing numbers, driven out by surging antisemitism that European governments and the EU have chosen not to seriously confront. People are being murdered, synagogues are attacked, streets are not safe, and Jewish schools need guards. Even so, it is clear that the worst is still to come. - The very same political actors who cannot or will not protect their Jews now seem to be working aggressively to prevent them from finding security in their ancestral homeland, in Judea and Samaria. Europe exports its "Jewish problem" while demanding that Israel surrender the one place where those Jews could truly return home. This is a haunting echo of former British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's other great historic disaster, the notorious 1939 British White Paper, which bypassed earlier international commitments to the Jews in then-Palestine, as it was called for all its citizens before Israeli independence in 1948, in favor of having an Arab-majority nation within 10 years with supposed "protection" for the Jewish minority. One can imagine how that would have worked out. - Regavim has a clear message for European governments and their Global Alliance: Stop funding the theft of our homeland. Stop financing classrooms that teach Jewish murder is heroic. Stop arming a terror army preparing the next October 7. Stop pretending that more than 3,000 years of Jewish history can be erased by EU euros and diplomatic declarations. And stop blocking the return of Jews to the land that has always been theirs. The Land of Israel belongs to the People of Israel. Regavim and other organizations will keep exposing every illegal outpost, every euro, and every lie. We will not be robbed again. - GI 08.05.26

Phillips, Melanie / The anti-Zionist contagion - Diaspora Jewish leaders should get up off their knees and start fighting it. - Over the past few days, antisemitism has exploded as an issue in Britain. It was a reaction to two things. Last week, two Jews were stabbed in separate attacks in the streets of London's largely Jewish area of Golders Green. This week, the insurgent Green Party very publicly sank into a sewer of Jew-hatred during the run-up to Britain's local government elections. Dozens of Green Party candidates, whose supposed environmental concerns have given way to a hard-left, anti-Israel agenda, were revealed over the past few days as having a record of blood-curdling Jew-hatred. - Meanwhile, Britain and Europe are rapidly losing their historic cultural identity to Islamization. And that's not all. It's now clear that the threat to the West from communism didn't collapse along with the Soviet Union in 1989. Communism merely shifted its strategy to wage a culture war that has colonized the Western intelligentsia by anti-West hatred, and to use the Palestinian cause as a Trojan Horse to destroy the West's moral compass altogether. In the 1960s, the Palestinian terrorist leader Yasser Arafat cooked up a fictitious Palestinian identity with the Soviet Union. In 1975, the KGB orchestrated the U.N. declaration that Zionism was racism. In the 1980s, as the scholar Izbabella Tabarovsky has documented, the Soviet Union promoted the "genocide" libel against Israel. Fighting the menace of Islamist and communist-backed anti-Zionism is hardly being assisted by Diaspora Jews protesting that attacking them is unjustified because they have nothing to do with Israel. This merely reinforces the impression that Israel is too awful to be identified with. Diaspora Jews should be loudly declaring instead that Palestinian identity is a fabrication created to destroy Israel and steal the Jews' own history in their ancestral homeland. They should be saying that Israel always acts in accordance with international law. They should be calling out Muslim antisemitism as a scourge going way beyond Islamist extremists. They don't do so, either through fear or because too many themselves believe the lies or support the poisonous ideologies that underwrite them. Anti-Zionism is a weapon of mass destruction—not just against Israel and the Jews but against the West. It's high time that Diaspora Jewish leaders acknowledged this and started fighting it robustly in public. They would gain many allies if they got up off their knees and did so. - jns 07.05.26

Meotti, Giulio / Old Europe Is Burning and Media Keep Telling Us That Everything Is Fine - Dozens of churches are destroyed by fire every year, while other places of worship enjoy an inexplicable immunity + The elites in Paris and Brussels, barricaded in their intellectual salons, prefer not to see, but the citizen smells the acrid odor of a planned dissolution. + A society works when those who arrive accept that they must conform to the existing pact and not demand to overturn it. - A civilization dies not only through external conquest, but when it stops loving itself. One must hope so, or all that will be left is to pack our bags, as English Jews are doing at this very moment. That is why I am proud of these people who protest. Because they want to protect themselves and their families. They are the "common man" to whom I dedicated the last chapter of my new book, "Titanic Europe". - Because only those who dare to name reality can still hope to save it. Peripheral Europe is not dead yet. And it warms the heart to see it rebel against a predetermined fate. Whether it can still save Europe remains to be seen. MEF 07.05.26

Horowitz, David / We're not in the 1930s... yet Diaspora Jews the world over face a rising tide not 'merely' of Israel-hatred but, increasingly, of Jew-hatred. And where social media incitement, misrepresentation, religious indoctrination and miseducation lead the public, politicians are quick to follow - ToI 06.05.26 aud / Experte: Iran wird Juden in Europa noch lange bedrohen - Derzeit gilt im Iran-Krieg zwar der Waffenstillstand. Doch unter Juden in Europa wächst die Angst vor pro-iranischen Anschlüssen. Etliche gab es bereits. Dahinter steht ein Konzept Teherans, meint ein Terrorismusexperte. - 06.05.26

Haug, Nils A / Islam's Turbocharged Takeover of Europe - Discord between Western allies -- ostensibly due to contrasting views towards Islam and Israel -- has recently escalated to a new height. Its core most likely consists of a deep-seated envy that a handful of scruffy, hunted people managed to transform a land of sand dunes, deserts and malarial swamps into a gleaming superpower -- all while defending themselves against unrelenting neighboring countries trying to snuff them out. Such an achievement must, of course, be punished. + Meanwhile, Iran and its jihadist proxies appear innocent of the Western "infidel" concepts of just wars, international laws, human rights or the Geneva conventions. They are mainly directed, it seems, by medieval Sharia law. + "Leadership in times of crisis," it has been said, "is not measured by the absence of risk, but by the willingness to accept it." In avoiding risk, the cowardly leaders of Western Europe -- those sell-outs to an increasingly antagonistic extremist Muslim electorate upon whom they are increasingly dependent for political office -- are a disgrace to their nations. They are also a great disappointment to those who believe in the preservation of history's finest civilization -- one with freedom, democracy, human rights, and an embedded Judeo-Christian moral foundation. + These leaders seemingly reject any obligation to oppose attempts to destroy their nations' traditional way of life. In the tradition of British PM Neville Chamberlain, who in 1938 imagined that he had a peace deal with Hitler, they have taken on a greater risk: that of appeasement. + European nations, it appears, have succumbed to Islamization. Their rapidly changing demographics reveal it; their failure to adequately protect their small Jewish communities against vociferous hate reveal it; their compromise on basic individual freedoms in their own countries reveal it, and their refusals to support the US, their erstwhile protector, reveal it. + Islamic extremists must feel immensely emboldened in their imperialist endeavors to colonize Europe. + Welcome to the new Europe. Its antagonists are inside the gate -- without firing a single shot. - GI 06.05.26

Canlorbe, Grégoire + Joël Rubinfeld / 'Israel, the Dreyfus of Nations': Interview – Part 1 - We have been living through a kind of endless "Dreyfus trial," but with one major difference: the state has replaced the person. In the past, Dreyfus stood on trial; today, the Jewish state has taken his place. + The "prosecutors" in this permanent trial are UN agencies, "rapporteurs," Amnesty International, Human Rights Watch, Oxfam, the Human Rights League -- which, ironically, was founded in 1901 in the wake of the Dreyfus Affair. There is also a whole ecosystem of organizations claiming to speak in the name of human rights, along with their relays in the newsrooms, in academia, in activist and cultural circles, and on the street. + When I see these so-called "pro-Palestinian" demonstrators, it seems as if many of them could not care less about the Palestinians. If they were truly pro-Palestinian, they would first call for the eradication of Hamas, which is the poison and the nightmare first of all of the Palestinian people. The poison, unfortunately, was widely embraced by Hamas's absolute majority (56%) in the last Palestinian legislative elections in 2006. + This fever in the streets weighs on political leaders. The great problem is that many of them think in purely arithmetical terms. They tend to hold a simplistic, and therefore racist, view of communities: "Jews" equals "Israel," and "Muslims" equals "Palestine." Once they do the math, skewed conclusions follow. + The votes are what make the situation almost irreversible. It has been called "Islam's Rule of Numbers": when you are in the minority, you keep relatively inconspicuous, but the larger one's percentage of the population becomes, the more assertive one gets. - GI 05.05.26

Shtrauchler, Nissan / How Europe's classrooms are being turned into factories of antisemitism - From Ireland to Norway, new textbooks describe Auschwitz as a "camp for prisoners of war," the Gaza war as "genocide," and Jews as enemies of Jesus – and educators are doing little to stop it. - ILH 04.05.26

Eytan, Freddy / Europe-Israel: a deep or temporary crisis? - The Jewish people have been linked to Europe since time immemorial, since the empires of Athens and Rome. They lived in Europe even before the Inquisition and the expulsion from Spain. This historical link, and our geographical presence in the Mediterranean basin, can never be erased. We share democratic and Judeo-Christian values with Europe. These values are deeply rooted in our shared history and are strong enough to overcome the obstacles and condemnations of extremists. In democracies, there is a peaceful transfer of power, and therefore we should cultivate good relations with all political actors on the right, in the center, and on the left. - ILH 03.05.26

Cooper, Abraham + Daniel Schuster / Großbritannien verliert die Kontrolle – und Europas Juden zahlen den Preis - London steht im Zentrum einer antisemitischen Terrorwelle. Europa tut noch immer so, als sei der Judenhass nicht sein Problem. - mw 01.05.26

Phillips, Melanie / The Palestinian laundromat - Shockingly, the West has framed antisemitism and anti-Zionism as conscience itself. - In America and Britain, political violence and attacks on Jews are becoming normalized and even justified. Many have commented on the fact that Cole Tomas Allen, the 31-year-old shooter from California who allegedly set out to kill U.S. President Donald Trump and administration officials at the White House correspondents' dinner last Saturday evening, parroted the same demonization of opponents and calls for violence against Trump and his supporters that incessantly emanate from the Democratic Party. In videoed street interviews in NY after the attack by Allen, young Americans said they definitely thought political violence was justified as "resistance" or protest because government systems were themselves violent or failing the people. One said that while he felt that Trump wasn't bad enough to be killed, Israel's Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu was... Western conscience has thus been enlisted in the service of evil. Small wonder that Jews and all decent people feel as if they're now inhabiting a looking-glass world where truth and lies, right and wrong, victim and aggressor have all been reversed. With the Western mind already spinning crazily from the onslaught on truth and core biblical values, the Palestine cause has delivered a definitive blow to its moral compass. Diaspora Jews won't be safe—and nor will anyone else—unless the West disentangles itself from this morass and returns to the core values of the civilization that it has so tragically tossed aside. - jns 30.04.26

Starr, Michael / Quarter of Americans, almost half of US youth, support Hamas over Israel, Harvard Harris poll finds - A new Harvard poll shows 74% of Americans support Israel, but nearly half of the youth polled back Hamas. Generational divides emerge in views on the Middle East conflict. - jp 29.04.26

Meotti, Giulio / Anti-Israel Barbarians Will Destroy Europe from Within - Barbarism that does not come from the desert, but from our own comfortable living room - Iran sends to the gallows the first woman guilty of having demonstrated against the Islamic regime, Bitá Hemmati. Meanwhile, in the soft underbelly of Berlin, in that Alexanderplatz which was the stage for Hitlerian parades, DDR marches and today tourist selfies, an incredible pantomime has taken place. Anti-Western and anti-Israel hatred becomes a macabre staging. It is an imported tribal rite, a butchers' recital disguised as artistic performance, celebrated in the heart of the nation that, more than any other, should know what a gallows and a sack on the head mean. Four idiots in white tracksuits and Palestinian keffiyehs, tied up like salamis, sacks on their heads, dangle from a makeshift gallows. Arab music at full volume, children in the audience watching open-mouthed, fanatics with green-red-black flags shouting "Solidarity with Palestine" while mimicking the hanging. One holds a woman on a leash like a dog. - And the German police? The police observe, film, take notes and then go home. Official reason: "There was no real violence." One shouts into the microphone: "There is only one state, Palestine 48." - Europe is not dying of old age, but of cowardice. - The gallows of Alexanderplatz is therefore the terminal symptom. It is the proof that Europe has lost its survival instinct. That it prefers to be "inclusive" to the point of death rather than "intolerant"—yes, intolerant—toward those who hate it. And while our intellectuals sign appeals for a "cease-fire" (always only from one side), the barbarians laugh, film, and upload their symbolic victory to TikTok. The barbarism is in the heart of Europe, it is inside us, in the cowardly refusal to call things by their name, it is in the suicidal multiculturalism that turns hospitality into surrender, tolerance into masochism, respect for differences into an abdication of reason. But the noose, once lowered, will not distinguish between designated victims and silent accomplices. - MEF 24.04.26

Sassmannshausen, Felix / Planloses Krisenmanagement - Die EU kann sich nicht auf gemeinsame Positionen zum Iran-Krieg einigen - Iranische Oppositionelle dringen im Europäischen Parlament auf ein entschlossenes Vorgehen gegen das iranische Regime. Die EU ist aber vor allem bemüht, nicht in den Iran-Krieg hineingezogen zu werden und dessen wirtschaftliche Auswirkungen (vermeintlich) abzumildern. - jw 23.04.26

Fox, Andrew / Iran's Islamic republic: The regime that hangs protesters is now a Gen Z mascot - Despite mass executions and repression, Iran is gaining sympathy in parts of the West - driven by propaganda, distorted narratives, and a generation primed to misread power - jp 23.04.26

Tawil, Bassam / Europe's Two-State Delusion: Repeating Failure, Ignoring Facts - The "two-state solution," as currently envisioned by EU leaders, is not a path to peace. It is a recipe for more violence. Creating a Palestinian state would not resolve the conflict. On the contrary, it would intensify it, embolden terrorists, and increase the likelihood of future wars. Why, though, should the Europeans give that a thought? They are not even near the region, so would not suffer any of the disastrous consequences -- not just to the Israelis but also to the abysmally governed Palestinians. The Europeans, it seems, just like telling everyone else what to do. - GI 23.04.26 (> 2:1sfake)

Haug, Nils A / Europe's Jew-Hate with a Vengeance - Many in the West who sympathize with Islamic terrorists were, within hours, trying to justify Hamas's atrocities by blaming Israel. The allegations against Israel were that it was denying supposed rights of an invented Palestinian people that "does not exist," as admitted by senior PLO official Zoheir Mohsen in 1977 in the Dutch daily newspaper Trouw. They nevertheless repeat spurious claims to the Jews' ancestral land, on which Jews have lived continuously for nearly 4,000 years, explicitly named "Judea," and to the failure by Israel to implement what -- according to the Palestinians themselves -- would be a "two-state solution" dedicated to taking whatever land they can get and using it as a base from which to conquer the rest. - There is invariably a grim consequence to constant vilification of minorities; the current slandering of Jews is no exception. + Israel may stand pretty much alone against the haters of this world. Depending on the political climate at the time, it can be expected that international leaders will remain absent, even silent, for the most part when Israel's enemies once again attack it - as they surely will. As historic events reveal, Israel and Jewry at large cannot fully rely for protection on the West. + "Many things will be forgiven," observed Israel's Prime Minister Golda Meir in 1973. "but one thing will not--weakness. The moment we are marked as weak--it is over." -- Israel may stand pretty much alone against the haters of this world. Depending on the political climate at the time, it can be expected that international leaders will remain absent, even silent, for the most part when Israel's enemies once again attack it - as they surely will. As historic events reveal, Israel and Jewry at large cannot fully rely for protection on the West. - "What have you done to us, you freedom-loving peoples, you guardians of justice, defenders of the high principles of democracy and of the brotherhood of man?" asked Ben-Gurion in 1944, against the West's apathy and silence during the Holocaust. - "What have you allowed to be perpetrated against a defenceless people while you stood aside and let it bleed to death, without offering help or succour, without calling on the fiends to stop, in the language of retribution which alone they would understand?" - Did not the Hebrew prophet Isaiah predict such an outcome 2,700 years ago? No weapon forged against you will prevail, and you will refute every tongue that accuses you. This is the heritage of the servants of the Lord, and this is their vindication from me, declares the Lord. - Isaiah's prophecy has proven true and trustworthy for nearly three millennia. Israel and the Jewish people thrive - and will continue to thrive. - GI 22.04.26 (German vs. > mw 27.04.)

@ Shoval, Lilach / Israel reveals Iran's secret Unit 4000 - A terror cell in Azerbaijan was foiled after plotting to attack the Israeli Embassy and synagogues in the country using explosive drones, while in Crete, Cyprus and other destinations across Europe, the Revolutionary Guards were planning attacks on senior Israeli officials and additional infrastructure. The story of Unit 4000 and its worldwide terrorist operations is now coming to light. - ILH 20.04.26

@ Bob, Yonah J / Mossad, Shin Bet, IDF announce joint bust of global Iranian terror network, including in Azerbaijan - Top Iranian leaders of the network from Unit 4000 of the IRGC Intelligence were killed during the recent Israeli-US war against Iran. - jp 20.04.26

Nirenstein, Fiamma / Europe's moral inversion on Israel - The language used against the Jewish state recasts its defensive war as aggression while ignoring the forces that perpetuate suffering. - Take a war of survival, and call it "genocide." Observe a third-world population trapped in conflict, subjugated by a clique of terrorists that extorts it while stealing its food, and describe the resulting hardship as a famine engineered by Israel. Civilians die in a war while terror leaders hide in tunnels, and the blame is placed squarely on the Jewish state. This is the terrible panorama confronting Israel today, not only on the battlefield but also in the court of global opinion. Across much of Europe, moral reasoning appears to have been inverted. The terminology once reserved for the most egregious crimes in history is now deployed casually, stripped of its meaning and weaponized against a democracy defending itself against organizations openly dedicated to its destruction. The result is not merely a misreading of events but a systematic distortion that rewards propaganda while punishing reality. Israel did not choose this war. It is a war forced upon it by terrorist organizations that embed themselves within civilian populations, weaponize humanitarian suffering and exploit the very moral standards that Western democracies strive to uphold. Hamas and its allies have long perfected this cynical strategy: to transform the inevitable human cost of conflict into a public relations instrument aimed at delegitimizing Israel's right to self-defense. - Israel is condemned not for violating democratic norms but for attempting to uphold them under conditions few other democracies have ever faced. It warns civilians, opens humanitarian corridors, and continues to operate under judicial and media scrutiny, even as it defends itself against enemies that reject any legal or moral constraints. None of this denies the suffering endured by civilians in conflict zones. Their plight is real and tragic. But compassion must not be manipulated into a tool for political warfare. To attribute famine or deliberate cruelty to Israel without acknowledging the role of terrorist organizations is not only inaccurate; it ultimately prolongs the suffering of the very populations whose welfare is invoked. Europe must decide whether it seeks truth or merely affirmation of ideological predispositions. Honest analysis requires acknowledging both the complexity of war and the responsibility of those who initiate and perpetuate it... Until moral clarity is restored, the terrible panorama will persist: a world in which language is inverted, responsibility is obscured, and Israel is judged not by facts, but by a narrative crafted to deny its legitimacy. - jns 20.04.26

Williams, Robert / Why Does the European Commission Support the Muslim Brotherhood? - "European institutions demonstrate a continued record of engagement with and support for MB-related organizations. The most visible examples occur in the form of direct funding." — Paul Stott and Tommaso Virgili, in the report "The MB in Europe," October 2021. + According to a report published by the ECR Group in December 2025, "Unmasking the MB. Brotherhood, Islamophobia and the EU," written by Tommaso Virgili and Florence Bergeaud-Blackler, the European Commission is still funding MB-linked organizations that "exploit EU funding and institutions to advance their agenda." + A bit hard for the EU, therefore, to feign ignorance. + "They [these MB organizations] get funding and legitimacy that other totalitarian groups would never dream of getting.... these organizations play a clever game of dominoes, leveraging legitimacy in one member state to gain credibility in another or at the European level, then using that to charm more grant-making bodies. This creates a vicious cycle of ever-growing legitimacy and funding from multiple sources..." — Charlie Wiemers, Swedish Member of EU Parliament, in "Unmasking the MB." + "If an organization claims to uphold European values, authorities take it at face value. Denying funding for failing to align with those values requires ironclad evidence, but monitoring isn't built to scrutinize content. A few missteps are brushed off as one-offs, and any official who dares push back risks accusations of racism or 'Islamophobia'—a chilling effect that will prevent most officials from acting unless they are extraordinarily principled and courageous." — Charlie Wiemers... - GI 17.04.26

Küntzel, Matthias / Der unvollendete Krieg - Kapitulation vor dem Totenkult - Gegen ein Regime wie das im Iran, angetrieben von Märtyrertum und Totenkult, lässt sich ein Krieg nicht gewinnen, wenn er seitens der USA ohne umfassenden Plan und Strategie geführt wird. Dass der Iran mit der Blockade der Straße von Hormuz die Weltwirtschaft derart in Geiselschaft nimmt, lässt sich die Bundesregierung allerdings passiver gefallen, als sie es müsste. - jw 16.04.26

- @ Tobin, Jonathan S / Neutrality in the fight against genocidal terror isn't moral - Pres. Trump should have ignored Pope Leo's comments, and non-Catholics should respect the papacy's symbolism. But treating Iran as morally equivalent to Israel or America is still wrong. jns 14.04.26
- @ Frick, Daniel / Der Papst und die Frage des Kriege - Der Papst verteufelt mit seinen Worten die legitimen Verteidigungsbemühungen Israels und der USA. Das ist auch theologisch fragwürdig. Ein Kommentar - IN 15.04.26

Meotti, Giulio / Will All of Europe Soon Be a No-Go Wasteland? - That "No-Go zones" exist in Europe is by now an open secret; the number grows daily - "How can we avoid secession? Because that is what is happening: secession." - There are up to a thousand "no-go zones" across Europe and thousands of other "sensitive neighborhoods." + They are places where a woman can be openly harassed during the day, insulted for what she wants to wear. + Swedish ambulance staff want gas masks and bulletproof vests to protect themselves from the escalation of attacks, "similar to equipment used by those working in war zones." - The situation is such that, as Eric Delbecque, former director of the Institut national des hautes études de la sécurité, explains in L'Express, "the state has not even put itself in a position to regain control of these neighborhoods and once started it can take up to ten years." - many European governments seem to have concluded that it is too late to prevent an Islamized Europe and that all that can be done is to cushion its effects in the short term and hope that the destruction is limited to those no-go zones, preferably not theirs. - MEF 14.04.26

- @ Rosenman, Shmuel / Between Auschwitz and reality, memory takes on new meaning - We are committed to amplifying their stories not only on Holocaust Remembrance Day, but also in everyday life, in those moments when the world grows confused, weary or forgetful. We need perspective. - ILH 14.04.26
- @ Bartov, Shira Li / How an oath by Buchenwald survivors is being used to fuel anti-Israel protests - As the pro-Palestinian group 'Kufiyas in Buchenwald' is blocked from demonstrating outside the notorious Nazi concentration camp ahead of Yom Hashoah, a debate about the site's history resurfaces - ToI 14.04.26
- @ Fishman, Joel / The propaganda war against Israel - At present, we live with the direct legacy of the Nazi past of the Palestinian Arabs and their sympathizers in the form of a massive antisemitic campaign, particularly following the Hamas attacks of Oct. 7, 2023. - jns 14.04.26

@ Cooper, Abraham + Daniel Schuster / Jom HaShoah: Versagt Europa erneut? - An Israel's Holocaustgedenktage 2026 ist die Dämonisierung des Landes in weiten Teilen von Kultur, Politik und sogar in den moralisch bankrotten Hallen der UN-Diplomatie salonfähig geworden. - mw 14.04.26

@ Flatow, Stephen M / When 'pro-Israel' stops meaning defense weakening systems to stop missiles from falling down on Israel does not restrain conflict. It invites it. - jns 14.04.26

Tobin, Jonathan S / Unlike Israel, many of America's NATO allies aren't really allies - Europe's moral abdication in the fight against the Islamist terror regime is proving a surprising truth. Right now, Washington and Jerusalem both have only one reliable ally: each other. — NATO may yet be revived at some point in the future. Even now, it still serves some use, if only to help ensure that Russia's troublemaking can be contained. But the stark truth of 2026 is that it has largely become a vestige of the past that has outlived much of its usefulness. At the same time, the idea that Washington's affection for Israel is a hindrance to the pursuit of U.S. national interests or makes it difficult for it to make friends in the Middle East has been conclusively exploded by recent events. It is the alliance with Israel that is the one irreplaceable asset for American foreign policy and security needs in the region. And one is hard-pressed to think of another such reliable ally elsewhere with both the military assets—and the willingness to use them in a difficult fight—and common values of democracy. It's high time that American pundits and politicians, whether seduced by antisemitic tropes and arguments or wallowing in hatred for Trump, stop speaking of Israel as an American problem and start acknowledging this reality. - jns 06.04.26

@ Stub, Zev / 2025 toll of Diaspora Jews killed in antisemitic attacks was highest in three decades - TAU study finds shift in types of anti-Jewish events, with violence becoming the norm; Australia, Canada see highest yearly numbers of antisemitic incidents ever - ToI 13.04.26

@ Heller, Mathilda / Israel reports 1,000 antisemitic incidents worldwide, 20 killed in past year - During the reporting period, over 300 incidents were recorded in the U.S., and over 130 incidents each in the UK and France. - jp 13.04.26

@ haG / Rekordwerte bei antisemitischer Gewalt im Jahr 2025 - Im Schatten des Gaza-Krieges kam es 2025 im Westen zu einem sprunghaften Anstieg schwerer Gewalttaten gegen Juden. Dies geht aus dem heute von der Universität Tel Aviv veröffentlichten Jahresbericht zum weltweiten Antisemitismus hervor. Der Bericht basiert auf Daten von Dutzenden Strafverfolgungsbehörden weltweit, spezialisierten Kommissionen, jüdischen Gemeinden, Medienberichten sowie Interviews und Feldforschungen der Wissenschaftler. Er enthält zudem umfassende Studien zu Ursachen, Merkmalen und Trends. Herausgeber des Berichts sind das Zentrum für das Studium des zeitgenössischen europäischen Judentums und das Irwin Cotler Institut für Demokratie, Menschenrechte und Gerechtigkeit. - Im Jahr 2025 wurden 20 Juden bei vier verschiedenen Angriffen ermordet. Dies ist die höchste Zahl antisemitischer Opfer seit über drei Jahrzehnten. In vielen Ländern stieg die Zahl der Juden, die körperlicher Gewalt wie Schlägen oder Steinwürfen zum Opfer fielen, im Vergleich zu 2024. Die Daten zur Gesamtzahl der Vorfälle in den verschiedenen Ländern sind komplexer... - Prof. Irwin Cotler, ehemaliger Justizminister Kanadas, sagte: „Wir erleben nicht nur einen beispiellosen weltweiten Anstieg antisemitischer Vorfälle seit Beginn der Erhebungen in den 1970er Jahren, sondern – und das ist noch besorgniserregender – einen beispiellosen Anstieg von Hassverbrechen gegen Juden. So sind beispielsweise kanadische Juden, die 1 % der Bevölkerung des Landes ausmachen, Ziel von 72 % der gemeldeten Hassverbrechen und 25-mal häufiger betroffen als Angehörige anderer Minderheitengruppen.“ - Dr. Yonker, dessen umfassender Artikel über den grassierenden Antisemitismus in der konservativen Bewegung der USA im Bericht enthalten ist, merkte an: „Das Eindringen unverhohlener Antisemitismus, einschließlich der Bewunderung für Hitler und der Holocaustleugnung, in den Mainstream der Rep. Partei ist Anlass zu existenzieller Besorgnis. Soziale Medien erschweren den Kampf gegen dieses Phänomen erheblich und machen ihn womöglich unmöglich. Derzeit ist in den USA eine enorme und gefährliche antiisraelische Stimmung zu beobachten, und der Antisemitismus blüht wie seit dem Zweiten Weltkrieg nicht mehr.“ - Der Bericht enthält außerdem ein Interview mit einem der führenden Holocaust-Forscher Prof. Christopher Browning, sowie eine Analyse des Antisemitismus in westlichen Gesundheitssystemen. (> pdf) - haG 13.04.26 (> Brandes 13.04. > Starr 13.04.)

Setton, Keren / France, Spain's anti-Israel bias push Israel-Europe relations to new heights - Relations with Europe began deteriorating when the current Israeli government, led by PM Benjamin Netanyahu, was sworn in as Israel's most far-right coalition ever. - jp 13.04.26

jc / Echoing Iran's ceasefire line, Europe undermines Israel and Lebanon - By pressing Jerusalem to halt its campaign against Hezbollah, the UK and EU risk reinforcing the very instability they claim to oppose - 10.04.26

Phillips, Melanie / The West's fifth column - Iran has destabilized the entire region by using proxy armies to impose its murderous brand of Islam throughout the world. - What became apparent after the Hamas-led atrocities in southern Israel on Oct. 7, 2023, and is now blindingly clear is that the axis of evil in the world—China, Russia, Iran and North Korea (known as CRINK)—has an invaluable army of fellow travelers in the Western intelligentsia and political class. As professor Gwythian Prins, a former adviser to Britain's defense ministry, observed this week, the war against Iran is a world war against the most evil enemy the West has faced since the Nazis. The linchpin of CRINK is the Islamic Republic of Iran, which is being equipped by Russia with increasingly precise weapons of war. - Prins hailed the brilliance of not only the military and intelligence operation by Israel and America, but the psychological war deployed to great effect by Trump in his widely derided rhetoric. At the same time, Prins observed, Iran has been winning the propaganda war. Some apparently authoritative voices have been implying, he said, that it might be a good thing if the Americans and Israelis stopped cutting the head off the Iranian snake. In other words, the West has a fifth column providing tacit support to the enemy. Many Americans may not realize it, but defanging the Iranian regime and ending an evil world order is America's own cause. We must hold our breath that Trump does not allow himself to be knocked off course. - jns 10.04.26

Bar, Neta + Schachar Kleiman / Europe presses Israel for Lebanon ceasefire despite US support - Britain, Italy and France pledged to pressure Israel, even as Washington told Lebanon's president the country would remain outside the Iran ceasefire deal. - ILH 09.04.26

haG / „Der Kampf gegen Antiziganismus ist eine europäische Aufgabe“ - Anlässlich des Welt-Roma-Tages am 8. April 2026 kritisiert der Zentralrat Deutscher Sinti und Roma die mangelnden Bemühungen europäischer Staaten, einem anwachsenden Antiziganismus mit Aufklärung und Wissensvermittlung im Bildungssystem zu begegnen. Mit 10 bis 12 Millionen Menschen sind Sinti und Roma die größte autochthone Minderheit Europas. Viele europäische Staaten haben sich durch völkerrechtliche Abkommen zu ihrem Schutz und ihrer gesellschaftlichen Gleichstellung verpflichtet. Dennoch erfahren Roma in ihren Heimatländern Antiziganismus, der sich oftmals in apartheid-ähnlichen Lebensumständen und Gewalt zeigt. Antiziganistische Feindbilder und Klischees sind tief in der europäischen Geschichte verwurzelt... in Deutschland haben antiziganistische Übergriffe seit 2023 um 40 Prozent zugenommen. Bei einem Brandanschlag durch Rechtsextremisten wurden 2024 zwei kleine Kinder und ihre Eltern in Solingen ermordet. Auch in Südosteuropa kommt es immer wieder zu gewaltsamen Angriffen auf Romasiedlungen, fast überall in Europa gibt es antiziganistische Übergriffe. - 08.04.26

Shalom, Zaki / Israel learned the lesson Europe forgot - As Europe shrugs off the Iranian threat, the old fantasy that aggression can be contained without confrontation is proving dangerous once again. - ILH 07.04.26

Koteich, Nadim / Why is the West pretending Iran is winning the war against Israel, the US? - Despite Iran's military collapse, Western analysts continue to push a false narrative of victory. The facts don't align with the rhetoric surrounding the conflict... That is not a war Iran is winning. Saying otherwise is not sophistication. It is not moral complexity. It is a political project dressed in the language of seriousness, executed by people who know exactly what they are doing and are counting on the rest of us not to notice. - jp 07.04.26

@ mw / Ist der Krieg gegen das iranische Regime illegal? - Viele erklären den Iran-Krieg für völkerrechtswidrig. Aber es gibt sehr wohl auch andere Stimmen, die dieser Position widersprechen. - 07.04.26

@ Polzin, Monika / Wie mit dem Völkerrecht Israel delegitimiert wird - Der Angriff auf den Iran sei eindeutig völkerrechtswidrig, sagen zahlreiche Experten. Sie machen es sich zu einfach. Denn es spricht viel dafür, dass Israel ein Recht auf präventive Selbstverteidigung hat - ja 27.03.26

Touboul, Gilles / Concept of symmetry and basic anti-American - a 3step-analysis: Step 1 is the foundation of a structural societal fact (European anti-Americanism) - Step 2 is a strategic activation: The Iranian narrative manipulation - It would be an analytical error to underestimate the sophistication of Iranian communication in Europe. - Step 3 is camouflage: The occultation of military and strategic reality - The three steps coexist, but they are not equivalent. Iranian narrative manipulation would operate without structural anti-Americanism. The latter is the founder's support. The question is therefore not 'Is it manipulation or anti-Americanism?'—it's a poorly asked question. The right question is, why is the European terrain, and French in particular, so sustainably fertile for this manipulation? - The answer: because European anti-Americanism needs a concrete American anti-model to exist. Iran at war with Washington is, for this cultural substratum, a narrative boon—not a reality we are trying to understand. - ToI blog 06.04.26

@ Tobin, Jonathan S / Unlike Israel, many of America's NATO allies aren't really allies - Europe's moral abdication in the fight against the Islamist terror regime is proving a surprising truth. Right now, Washington and Jerusalem both have only one reliable ally: each other. - jns 06.04.26

@ Haug, Nils A / Mit Freunden wie diesen – Die USA und ihre falschen Verbündeten - Einige von Amerikas Freunden, die sich als westliche Verbündete ausgeben, haben letztendlich ihr wahres Gesicht gezeigt. Bedauerlicherweise haben sie sich, ohne jedes Schamgefühl, als nichts anderes als Schmarotzer erwiesen. - aud 06.04.26

Ayoub, Amine / The Spanish Sabotage: How NATO's Weakest Link Endangers the War Effort - Madrid has transitioned from a passive free-rider to an active obstructionist - This is not merely a tactical disagreement; it is a textbook manifestation of "lawful Islamism" and the erosion of Western resolve. + Furthermore, by complicating the mission to reopen the Strait of Hormuz, Spain is directly contributing to the global energy shock. - The Spanish sabotage is a case study in the danger of allowing domestic extremism to dictate international security. When a NATO member chooses to facilitate the survival of the Iranian regime by weaponizing its geography against its allies, the alliance must react. The "habit of consultation" that has defined NATO since 1949 is broken. For the mission to deny Iran nuclear weapons to succeed, the West must recognize its weakest links and forge new partnerships with those who demonstrate a genuine commitment to victory. The cost of Madrid's betrayal is a grave that the Iranian regime is currently digging for the entire West; Sánchez is merely making sure the US has a harder time stopping them. - MEF 05.04.26

Meotti, Giulio / Christians, Mark My Words: After the Jews, Islamists will come for you - Only a fool, an ignoramus, or a useful idiot could suppose that the current wave of hatred against Israel and the West will stop with the Jews - MEF 04.04.26

Haug, Nils A / With Friends Like These: America and Its Fake Allies - While basking in the protection offered by America's military capability so they can fund their bulging, barely-functioning welfare programs, and taking advantage of America's powerful economy with preferential tariffs in their favor, when asked for support, these putative allies run for cover. + While Iran's terror is aimed at large swaths of the West, it is Israel, as the homeland of the Jewish people, that is Iran's first target for elimination. It seems that, in the eyes of Europe's elite and the EU, the Holocaust... has become passé, if not a liability. In 2001, long before the Gaza War, France's ambassador to the UK, Daniel Bernard, already called Israel a "shitty little country" -- and "polite society defended him." + [For] nearly five decades, relatively little, if any, condemnation was heard coming from the UK, France and Spain about Iran's despotic and murderous activities across a wide array of geographical arenas. Then, when the US made a small request -- the use of a base to remedy this global horror -- the UK turned it down. + There is, in fact, no more loyal friend to Western interests than Israel -- a tiny nation fighting to preserve civilization for all of Europe and the free world while in the crosshairs of Iran's terror activities. Yet, when Israel comes under missile barrages from Iran and its proxies, Macron never offers to send assistance of any kind, even if only defensive, nor did the UK, Spain, Germany, or any other European nation -- nor Canada. No one did, except the U.S. + [T]he UK, France, and Germany -- reveal their antipathy towards anything that might applaud or validate Israel's existence, perhaps out of envy over Israel's incredible economic and military success. + Western Europe and Canada's elitist leaders appear unable in any way to acknowledge that "those Jews" -- supposedly those upstart "oppressor-colonialist racists" who have lived on their land for "only" 4,000 years when in fact it was the Europeans themselves who colonized large parts of the planet -- might be showing them up. + Netanyahu, called by Andrew Roberts "The Churchill of the Middle East," has endured unimaginable opposition from all quarters in a seven-front war. His villainization began long before the war. + Trump and Netanyahu are evidently obstacles to a "brave new world" wherein the brotherhood of man, humanitarianism, climate change, globalism, diversity, equity, central planning, and all sorts of other fanciful Marxian ideologies reign supreme. + The problem is not just what has overtaken Europe, but the entrenched fecklessness of its leaders. - GI 04.04.26

Gomes, Jules / No-Go Zones Increase Prospect of Civil War, Experts Warn - Report credits MEF founder Daniel Pipes for 'No-Go Zones' label - "No-go zones are highly correlated to Islam," the study titled No-Go Zones: Immigration, Islamisation, and the Rise of Parallel Societies finds. It warns that such zones are the result of Muslim demographic concentration, "rigid" Islamist ideologies, and an insular retreat from civic norms. - "These zones are not merely spatial anomalies but spatial-material manifestations of socio-religious disintegration in contexts of high migration from Muslim-majority regions," the study published by New Direction—Foundation for European Conservatism in March concludes. - It finds that 63% of jihadi terrorists who attacked Europe between 2010 and 2025 had a "verified link" to a no-go zone and notes that these areas, with high rates of youth unemployment, "offer fertile ground for Salafist propaganda, which presents an alternative and valorizing identity." - The indicators classify localities such as Saint-Denis/Aubervilliers and La Castellane (Marseille) in France, Molenbeek in Belgium, and Malmö and Rosengård in Sweden as "critical" no-go zones. Neukölln in Berlin, Raval in Barcelona, Borgerhout in Antwerp, Aurora in Turin, and Angered in Gothenburg are classified as "severe" no-go zones. Rome's Termini Station, within walking distance from the Vatican, is classified as a "high-risk" zone. - Muslims are "markedly overrepresented" in no-go zones with an average of 29%, the study finds. European countries "with the highest national concentrations of Muslim populations also appear to be those with the highest density of no-go zones." But countries with lower Muslim populations, like Hungary or the Czech Republic, exhibit few to no comparable zones. - The Islamized zones (parallel societies with Islamic Law) have become crucibles of collusion with left-wing parties, the study finds. Leftist blocs exploit the Islamized zones as electoral votebanks while jettisoning their original values of secularism, universalism, feminism, and LGBTQ rights in favor of an Islamic agenda, particularly on the Israeli-Palestinian conflict and support for fighting "Islamophobia" and the hijab. - In 2016, three parliamentarians raised the question of no-go zones in the EU parliament, citing Daniel Pipes, who was vilified by the Southern Poverty Law Center in 2015 for discussing the issue. The lawmakers asked if the EU Commission was aware of the existence of no-go zones in Europe, "where general laws do not apply, and other areas in which women are in practice unable to move about freely." Officials evaded the question by declaring the issue was "outside the scope of competences of the Commission." - - "In essence, this problem is not new, and everyone with a working brain cell and some decency has seen the writing on the wall. Now we have to live with the consequences, and I will never forgive those in power who let this happen," said Ekeroth, who has written for FWI. - "How encouraging," responded Daniel Pipes, "that an institution such as New Directions, the think tank of mainstream conservatives in the EU Parliament, has taken up the sensitive issue of Muslim no-go zones. Perhaps, one day, this will lead to changes in policy." - MEF 02.04.26

Ayoub, Amine / End of Multilateralism: Iran War Exposed NATO's Irrelevance - The events of February and March 2026 laid bare the hollow core of the post-World War II order - When the Islamic Republic escalated to direct strikes, Israel acted as any sovereign, self-respecting nation must: it struck decisively to neutralize an immediate, existential danger. + Instead of projecting deterrence, NATO offers endless debates in Brussels about legal niceties while individual members prioritize domestic politics over collective survival. + Designed to halt Soviet armor on the plains of Europe, NATO has proven itself utterly unprepared for the asymmetric, ideological, and proxy-driven warfare of the 21st century. - We are witnessing the final unraveling of the post-World War II security architecture. The United Nations long ago degenerated into a theater for autocratic grandstanding and anti-Western diatribes. The Atlantic alliance now risks becoming a debating club for retired generals and diplomats more concerned with achieving consensus than achieving victory... If Western civilization is to survive the rising tide of radical aggression, it will not be secured by another European summit communiqué. It will endure solely because nations like Israel demonstrated the unflinching courage to act when necessary, backed by the only ally that still comprehends the indispensable grammar of hard power. - MEF 02.04.26

Sherman, Shimon / Weak and inadequate: Europe's response to the Iran war - The significance of the ballistic threat is exacerbated by the capability gaps within Europe's missile defense architecture. - jns 01.04.25

Nirman, Adi / The last thing the world needs is Western 'activists' - Crises in Cuba, Lebanon, and Iran have dominated headlines worldwide. On the surface, the three countries seem to have little in common - but they are connected by one increasingly obvious pattern: Western activists who capitalize on these countries' crises - You'd think, not much. They are different countries, shaped by different histories, cultures, and political realities. But they are connected by one increasingly obvious pattern: Western activists who capitalize on these countries' crises under the pretense of "solidarity" and "support", while in practice, they care very little about the people's suffering. - The message couldn't be clearer: human rights matter only when they can be weaponized against the West or against Israel. Narcissism dressed up as politics: Those calls for freedom are worth amplifying only when they serve a "popular" ideological script. - If activists truly cared about the people, they would listen to Cubans chanting "Libertad!" (freedom in Spanish), to Lebanese citizens resisting Hezbollah and Iranian intervention, and to Iranians risking their lives against the ayatollah regime. They would stop treating these societies as props in a Western moral drama. Real solidarity is caring about people even when their reality complicates your politics. To make sure critical thinking protects you from being led like sheep, from being brainwashed. And most importantly: to learn to distinguish the performers - those who lend their support to whoever earns them applause, or who champion a cause simply because they were told it's the right one - from those who actually fight to change realities so far removed from the comfort of the West. - ILH 01.04.26

Friedman, Shuki / Willful blindness: The existential stakes of the Iranian threat - While skeptics dismiss the declarations of Iran's leaders as mere demagoguery for domestic consumption, history teaches that ideological adversaries mean exactly what they say... Even as Hitler explicitly declared his intentions in Mein Kampf, segments of the elite interpreted it as political demagoguery rather than a military blueprint - a misconception that was finally and tragically shattered on Kristallnacht. Even before October 7, 2023, the entire Israeli leadership failed to listen to Yahya Sinwar, who openly declared his intentions, preferring instead to view him as a rational actor. The bitter lesson learned from the 1930s, and again from October 7, is that the conception of "the enemy is deterred and seeks stability" is a recipe for disaster. When a messianic regime builds a clock that counts down your days, arms armies at your borders, and strives for doomsday weapons, the perception that this is an "inflated" threat is a gamble on millions of lives. Reality demands a recognition of the threat as it is, and a determined stance against the head of the octopus in Tehran. - jp 30.03.26

Canlorbe, Grégoire + Pierre Rehov / The War on Civilization: 'Israel Cannot Outsource Its Survival - A Conversation: "The Palestinian people does not exist. The creation of a Palestinian state is only a means for continuing our struggle against the state of Israel for our Arab unity. In reality, today there is no difference between Jordanians, Palestinians, Syrians and Lebanese. Only for political and tactical reasons do we speak today about the existence of a Palestinian people, since Arab national interests demand that we posit the existence of a distinct Palestinian people to oppose Zionism." (Zoheir Mohsen, late PLO senior official, Trouw, March 31, 1977) + Hamas did not attack military targets to "end an occupation." It attacked families to affirm an old doctrine: the Jew is not an opponent; the Jew is a problem to be erased. + If you want to understand October 7, forget the comforting story of "desperation turning violent." Pogroms are not born from desperation; they are born from permission - social, religious, political permission to commit the unthinkable and feel righteous doing it. +

In the Battle of Jenin, there was never any "confusion in the fog of war." The story that part of a hospital had been destroyed was a total fabrication. It revealed something essential: a good story has priority over reality. + The genius of the system is psychological. Once the image circulates, correction becomes irrelevant. The emotional verdict has already been delivered. + In modern warfare, the camera is no longer documenting the battle. It is part of the battlefield. The objective is not only to accuse Israel. It is to morally disarm the West. If you can persuade democratic societies that defending themselves equals murdering children, you have already won half the war. + They hate Israel for what it is: an infidel state – and in their midst. If Israel were a Christian state, the same problem would exist. Just look at the genocide in Nigeria – with more than 52,000 Christians killed in just 14 years – in a free society, which is a visible rejection of the Islamic totalitarian dream. + The Palestinian project is not a "two-state solution" or "a better border." The project is a world where religious and political absolutism rules, where minorities submit or vanish, where women are controlled, where dissent is crushed. Israel is the laboratory target. If the West rewards October 7 with political gains, it teaches a lesson to every violent movement on earth: massacre pays. So yes — Israel is defending itself, and in doing so, it is also defending the principle that civilization cannot survive if it negotiates with barbarity as if it were a partner who is misunderstood. + "In March 1978 I secretly brought Arafat to Bucharest for final instructions on how to behave in Washington. "You simply have to keep on pretending that you'll break with terrorism and that you'll recognize Israel -- over, and over, and over..." (Ion Mihai Pacepa, a lieutenant general in the Socialist Republic of Romania's Securitate, the secret police, who defected to the West in 1978, Wall Street Journal, September 22, 2003) - If a deal buys time for the "wrong" side, it is not a deal — it is an extension of the threat. + The point is that Israel cannot outsource its survival, and the U.S. cannot pretend that totalitarian jihadism can be "managed" indefinitely. Either you dismantle the infrastructure of terror, or it regrows.... Israel's enemies... are imposing a war on civilization. + Peace that is built on amnesia is not peace; it is a pause before the next war. + The West will not be defeated by lack of power. It will be defeated — if it is defeated — by the refusal to oppose danger when they see it. - GI 29.03.26

Frank, Stefan / Hamas-Terroristen auch in Deutschland und Europa aktiv - Wegen Zugehörigkeit zu einer Hamas-Auslandszelle verurteilt das Berliner Kammergericht vier Männer im Alter zwischen 36 und 58 Jahren zu Haftstrafen zwischen viereinhalb und sechs Jahren. - 28.03.26

Haller, Roman / Ist das wirklich nicht unser Krieg? - Ein atomar bewaffneter Iran wäre nicht nur ein Albtraum für Israel, sondern auch eine reale Bedrohung für Europa - ja 27.03.26

Mobasheri, Michael / Das Regime-Gespens und der Westen - Migration ist ein schwieriges und vielschichtiges Thema. Dennoch ist die Diskussion darüber unerlässlich, um die Zukunft des Irans und seiner Exilgemeinschaft zu verstehen... Terroranschläge des Regimes, wie das Mykonos-Attentat in Berlin oder der Anschlag auf die AMIA in Buenos Aires, begleiten die Diaspora seit Jahrzehnten. Die mafiösen Netzwerke der Revolutionswächter im Ausland bleiben eine ernsthafte Bedrohung für Oppositionelle sowie für israelische- & jüdische Einrichtungen –ebenso für die innere Sicherheit der EU-Länder. Bisher wurde dieses Thema in deutschen Medien kaum aufgegriffen. Eine Ausnahme bildet der Journalist Harald Martenstein, der die Sorgen der iranischen Freiheitsbewegung reflektiert anspricht - (es ist) Terroranschläge des Regimes, wie das Mykonos-Attentat in Berlin oder der Anschlag auf die AMIA in Buenos Aires, begleiten die Diaspora seit Jahrzehnten. Die mafiösen Netzwerke der Revolutionswächter im Ausland bleiben eine ernsthafte Bedrohung für Oppositionelle sowie für israelische- & jüdische Einrichtungen –ebenso für die innere Sicherheit der EU-Länder. - haG 27.03.26

Akunis, Ofir / Chants of death should alarm everyone, everywhere - No civilized society should tolerate crowds celebrating terror in its streets. - The chants heard in Lower Manhattan earlier this month were not just a harmless protest. They were an endorsement of terror and paralleled the same hateful ideology that has driven the Iranian regime for nearly half a century. It is the ideology that we courageously defied when striking Iran. The world must stop being alarmed by those who are fighting the threat. It instead needs to be alarmed by those who are defending its violent, terroristic ideologies. - jns 26.03.26

Meotti, Giulio / It Is Not Europe's War Even When Iran Hangs Europeans - Until Europeans grasp that weakness is not a virtue but a slow suicide, they will continue to take blows while responding with useless diplomatic notes - Until we understand that weakness is not a virtue but a slow suicide, we Europeans will continue to take blows while responding with useless diplomatic notes that no one reads or takes seriously. - The German DM, B. Pistorius, was explicit: "This is not our war, we did not start it. What does Donald Trump expect a handful or two of EU frigates in the Strait of Hormuz to be able to do that the powerful U.S. Navy cannot?" ... Better to leave everything to the American Navy, as if defending Europe's interests were a subscription service. But it is not Europe's war even when Tehran hangs one of Europe's citizens before the world? - At dawn in Tehran, the death sentence of a Swedish citizen was carried out. A noose, a body swinging, "Allahu Akbar," end of story. - We are a bunch of cowards who have lost the sense of sovereignty and reciprocity. We are a civilization that has lost its sense of tragedy and reality. We prefer comforting narratives: "human rights," "multilateralism," "the international community," where we show up unarmed, with bouquets of flowers and press releases. Nietzsche had foreseen the last man, the one who "blinks and says: 'We have invented happiness.'" That's what Europeans have become: we blink before the gallows and tweet our indignation. But history grants no extensions to peoples who have forgotten they are alive and must defend themselves - MEF 26.03.26

Al-Tamimi, Aymenn Jawad / Harakat Ashab al-Yamin al-Islamiya and Claimed Attacks on Jewish Targets in Europe - From Telegram to European streets: The expansion of Iran-aligned narratives - One of the wider consequences of the U.S. and Israeli war against Iran has been a rise in reported attacks on perceived 'Zionist' and 'American' targets in Europe. These attacks- spanning from Greece to Britain- have been claimed on social media by a group called Harakat Ashab al-Yamin al-Islamiya ('Islamic Movement of the People of the Right'). The concept of 'Ashab al-Yamin' is ultimately derived from the Qur'an and refers to the believers who will go to Paradise... - MEF 25.03.26

Pardo, Sharon / Shelf by shelf, Europe is forgetting the Jewish world - When a bookseller highlights one work, places it beside others or decides not to stock it at all, the store quietly steers the intellectual journey of its visitors... Wars of memory are ... waged through scholarship, storytelling and the institutions that carry these stories to readers. Among those institutions, bookstores occupy a quiet but consequential position. The arrangement of their shelves may seem mundane. It is not. When a tragedy as vast as the Holocaust fades from prominent view on the very continent where it occurred, the loss is not a publishing oversight. It is a deeper erosion of the landscape of memory. And in that quiet contest over historical awareness, the Jewish world appears to be losing ground. - jns 24.03.26

Gal, Shay / Iran has shown Europe its Turkish future - War with Turkey is not assumed. It is planned for, and failure to plan makes it more likely and more destructive... Europe's posture is untenable. The shift is underway. Defence cooperation with Ankara is being re-evaluated. Unconditional projects are no longer a partnership. They are capability transfer to a future adversary. - Turkey is converging on a trajectory Europe recognises, yet refuses to internalise. Turkey is hardening its bases, dispersing its launchers, expanding its reach and drone swarms, while Europe keeps its grids exposed, its ports soft and its air defence patchy. One side is preparing for a missile age. The other draft communiqués. Turkey does not operate within NATO. It operates through it. NATO is not a constraint. It is an access structure. The blind spot is deliberate. Turkish alignment with EU foreign policy positions stands at just 4%, according to the European Commission's Türkiye Report. Sanctions on Russia are not followed. A standing threat of war against an EU member persists. Europe funds, arms, and embeds a state that retains overt coercion against one of its own. The response is structural and already underway: a southern and south-eastern missile defence architecture built around Turkey-origin scenarios, with stockpiles, shelters, redundancy, rapid repair, port protection, and integrated command replacing what will not survive... The Gulf is already paying. Europe is next if it hesitates. Time remains. Action does not follow. The most dangerous threat is not the one most feared, but the one still called a partner, already inside the system - ILH 24.03.26

Shtrauchler, Nissan / 'It has never been worse': Iran revenge campaign across Europe - A leading European terrorism researcher details the IRGC's three-pronged strategy targeting Jewish and Israeli sites across Europe - and warns that intelligence agencies must go on the offensive now. - ILH 24.03.26

Bareli, Avi / Europe fails to recognize its existential interest - American isolationists and Europe's appeasers, as if they have learned nothing and forgotten nothing, have turned the term "regime change" into a slur. In its place, the simpler and more accurate term should be used: "liberation." - ILH 23.03.26

Perez-Shakdam, Catherine / Iran's Terror Network Is Global - and the Free World Must Say So - For years, the Islamic Republic of Iran was treated as though it were a regional problem: dangerous, repressive, disruptive, but somehow containable. That illusion no longer survives contact with reality. - Iran is not merely a troublesome power in the Middle East. It is the organizing force behind a global network of terror, coercion, and destabilization. Through the IRGC and its proxies - Hezbollah, Hamas, Palestinian Islamic Jihad, and the Houthis - the regime has exported violence far beyond its borders. It has done so not sporadically, but systematically. Chaos is not an unintended consequence of Iranian policy. It is one of its methods. The evidence is now overwhelming. In 2025, the UK Parliament's Intelligence and Security Committee described Iran as posing a "wide-ranging, persistent and sophisticated threat" to British national security. That was not diplomatic hyperbole. It reflected a threat picture that included assassination plots, espionage, cyber operations, intimidation, and the targeting of individuals and communities on British soil. Britain, the United States, France and other allies later issued a joint condemnation of attempts by Iranian intelligence services to kill, kidnap and harass people in Europe and North America. This is not the language reserved for a distant nuisance. It is the language of a hostile state actor... The West has been far too slow to say this plainly. For years, governments preferred to speak in fragments: a shipping issue here, a militia problem there, a cyber concern elsewhere, a security matter for Jewish communities, a consular problem involving detainees. But Iran's strategy is integrated. The response must be as well. The free world cannot afford to go on mistaking pattern for coincidence. Iran has built a global apparatus of fear and destabilization. It uses it deliberately. The least the democratic world can do is call it by its proper name. - ToI blog 22.03.26

Mercier, Elisa / »Früher konnte man frei zur Synagoge gehen, heute stehen dort Poller« - Innerhalb weniger Tage wurden mehrere Synagogen und jüdische Einrichtungen in Europa und den USA angegriffen. Wie reagieren jüdische Gemeinden in Deutschland darauf? Sacha Stawski, Mitglied der Jüdischen Gemeinde Frankfurt am Main, bewertet im Gespräch die Angriffe und erklärt, was nötig ist, um jüdisches Leben besser zu schützen. - mw 22.03.26

Gomez, Jose Lev Alvarez / Iran Hit the Dollar. South Pars Paid. - The West keeps pretending this war against the Ayatollah's regime is only about centrifuges, missiles, and enrichment levels. Iran's most consequential challenge to the U.S. was not only nuclear or ballistic. It was monetary. - Empires do not stand on force alone. They rest on three pillars: military power, ideological legitimacy, and currency dominance. Armies deter. Ideas justify. Currency rules. Once a rival starts pressing the currency pillar, the conflict is no longer merely regional. It becomes a challenge to imperial architecture. Iran's move to shift more energy trade toward the yuan was not symbolic defiance. It was pressure on the dollar order that underwrites American power. That is why the Israeli strike on South Pars matters. Too many analysts treated it as just another wartime attack on infrastructure; but it was more than that. South Pars is the core of Iran's gas system. Hitting it was not just a battlefield act. It was a strike on an economic nerve center. - Iran was retaliating across several axes at once: against Israel directly, against Gulf energy infrastructure regionally, and against the wider Western architecture of stability Washington still claims it can preserve without paying real strategic costs. Tehran was signaling that if its arteries are hit, it can send shock through the whole system. That is the real lesson. In this phase of the conflict, the Iranian threat is not only nuclear. It is financial. It is the prospect of a regional energy order less tied to the dollar, more exposed to Chinese reach, and increasingly shaped by coercion, disruption, and war. Washington can keep lying to itself. It can say this is only about Israel. It can say this is only about nonproliferation. It can say this is only another Middle Eastern flare-up. But when South Pars gets hit and Ras Laffan takes fire, the truth gets harder to hide. This war is not only about who gets the bomb. It is about who gets to price power. - ToI blog 21.03.26

Lieberman, Jonathan / It's the oil prices, stupid: The West's principles collapse when prices rise - The Strait of Hormuz is not just another geopolitical flashpoint. It is the artery through which roughly a fifth of the world's oil supply flows. - jp 21.03.26

Schuster, Jacques / Die Heuchelei der Israel-Kritiker - Zweierlei Mas im Umgang mit der israelischen Bodenoffensive im Libanon. „Völkerrechtswidrig“ schimpfen die einen, ein Verstoß gegen die UN-Resolution 1701, wettern die anderen. Eben darin entlarvt sich die Verlogenheit. Resolution 1701, die 2006 vom Sicherheitsrat der U.N. verabschiedet wurde, sieht den Rückzug israelischer Truppen aus dem Libanon vor. Im Gegenzug sollte die Hisbollah entwaffnet werden. Zwar zogen die Israelis ab, die schiitische Terrororganisation aber behielt ihre Waffen und baute ihre Arsenale über Jahre aus. Den Verstoß nahmen westliche Politiker gleichgültig hin. Heute wird Israel täglich von rund 150 Raketen der Hisbollah angegriffen. Auch darüber spricht kaum jemand. Erst seitdem Israel sich anschickt, in einer neuen Bodenoffensive bis zum Litani-Fluss vorzustoßen, um seinerseits die Resolution umzusetzen, also die Hisbollah zu entwaffnen, sind die Staaten empört. Spanien zieht seinen Botschafter ab, Frankreich drängt Jerusalem zur Mäßigung. Beide hätten den Konflikt entschärfen können, wenn sie die Hisbollah entwaffnet hätten. Sie taten es nicht – wie es auch die übrige Welt unterließ. Die internationale Gemeinschaft im Allgemeinen, Europas Regierungen im Besonderen haben ein gehöriges Maß an Mitschuld für den Konflikt. Doch statt Selbstkritik zu üben, gefallen sich Israels Kritiker in ihrer Heuchelei. Auch wegen dieser Doppelmoral ist der Zionismus entstanden. - w 21.03.26

Samsonov, Gil / The direct line from Chamberlain to Khamenei - EU's surrender to radical Islam is a direct continuation of its defeatism in the face of Hitler in the 1930s. Against the feebleness of London and Paris, Netanyahu and Trump stand out as the lone voices who sounded the alarm. Without a modern Churchill to awaken the continent, Europe's second decline now looks more certain than ever. - ILH 21.03.26

Pardo, Sharon / This Is the Death of the Western Liberal Order - on the story of Daria Boyarskaya, revealing almost everything about the condition of the Western liberal order in the spring of 2026: a Russian national who today serves as a senior adviser at the Organisation for Security and Co-operation in Europe (OSCE) - The OSCE was built on the assumption that all participants accept, at some basic level, the legitimacy of shared norms. The promise of minority protection was built on the assumption that European societies had made a permanent moral reckoning with their past. Both assumptions are now under severe pressure. And in both cases, the institutions have responded identically: by expressing confidence in their own adequacy while the ground shifts beneath them. - The fox has been given the organizational chart, invited into every meeting, and trusted to take the minutes. And in the streets outside, the oldest hatred in European history is building again, met by the same working groups, the same drafted statements, and the same structural inaction. That is not a system under pressure from the outside. That is a system that has forgotten, from the inside, why it was built. That is where we are. And it should frighten us all. - ToI blog 21.03.26

Eydar, Dror / Where there are no men - With Europe increasingly resembling Don Quixote and Iran collapsing, Benjamin Netanyahu has embraced the role of a modern-day Churchill opposite

Donald Trump, today's Roosevelt, in a historic partnership that will echo for many years to come. - ILH 19.03.26

Pectold, Tammy G / The West's most expensive cognitive bias - Fifty years of evidence, zero accountability. Behavioral science helps explain why Western leaders keep falling for Iran's oldest trick - On February 28, the U.S. and Israel struck Iran. Khamenei killed and soon replaced. Oil markets in crisis, Iranian missiles targeting NATO facilities, and yet European leaders are saying, "This is not our war." We are watching this and asking, how does this end? To me, a better question is: how did we get here in the first place? - The Western liberal worldview holds that diplomacy is transformative and that the use of force is a failure of imagination. This is not a policy position; it is a comforting delusion that has hardened into an identity. When Iran contradicts that identity, the Western liberal mind does not admit it was wrong. It rewrites Iran, even as the Iranian people scream for help and rise against their own regime. "They don't mean it. The moderates are rising. This time will be different." That is not analysis. It's a self-deceptive wish dressed up as nuance. From the day the Ayatollahs took power in 1979, they swore to destroy the U.S. and Israel. Iran's parliament passed legislation mandating Israel's destruction. Iranian military commanders called this "an achievable goal" and painted "Death to America" and "Death to Israel" on their ballistic missiles. In 2023, Khamenei invoked taqiyya, the theological permission to deceive an adversary to achieve religious goals, to explain why they signed the nuclear deal. He said it was a tactic, and that Iran never intended to honor the agreement. He told the world he had been lying... Most Western leaders have been falling for this stunt, and the cost of their delusional stand can be measured in lost lives. Let's not fool ourselves. In Israel, we fell for the same thing, and we paid for it, on October 7. What should the international community do? A few Western leaders have seen through the pattern. But I am left wondering whether others, or their successors, will ever wake up. And whether they will ever acknowledge the lives lost due to their delusion — Iranian, Israeli, and every victim of terrorism financed by this regime. - Now let me close the way I would with a friend who has fallen into this trap, whether in a relationship, a negotiation, or any other context where the hard truth has been staring them in the face, and they still refuse to see it. - ToI blog 19.03.26

Green, Dominic / Melanie Phillips's new guide to our antagonists and how to fight them fair and square - This punchy and practical handbook to battling Jew-hate is more than timely - if you are not angry by now, then you are not paying attention. If you were paying attention before October 7, you had probably read Melanie Phillips' 2006 book Londonistan and got very angry indeed. - If you are still catching up, you may have read last year's The Builder's Stone, which argues that Jews are integral to Western civilisation. Phillips' latest, Fighting the Hate, is punchy and polemical, but it's also a practical guide to the dilemmas in which Western Jews find themselves. - "How do you cope when a civilisation is collapsing around your ears?" is the question raised by October 7 and its degenerate aftermath. A "liberal-Muslim axis" has "conducted a concerted and spectacularly successful attempt to manipulate Western public opinion – through an unstoppable and overwhelming torrent of lies and distortions". - Phillips advises Jews to learn Krav Maga, and develop the psychological and rhetorical equivalent, "a system of fighting back that draws upon your personal armoury of mouth and brain". The bullies want you to respond emotionally, so learn your facts and stay calm. They expect you to counter with an accusation of "antisemitism", and perhaps appeals to censorship, so don't do that either. - Phillips is right to be angry, right that Jews need to get their facts straight, and quite possibly right that the arguments in Fighting the Hate are a stopgap, because it is time to pack the suitcase once again. - There are moments when Phillips' moral disgust gets the better of her. But if you are not angry, then you are not paying attention. Phillips told us so two decades ago. She was right then. She's even more right now. - jc 19.03.26 > Phillips, Melanie / Fighting the Hate: A Handbook for Jews Under Siege. Wickend & Son, London 2026

Phillips, Melanie / Wimps and warriors - The war with Iran is clarifying who is for civilization against barbarism—and who is not. - Defeating Iran will transform the whole world for the better and lead to new alliances that support rather than menace civilization. If America doesn't see this through, however, and the butchers of Tehran survive to fight another day, the United States will be catastrophically weakened, and the axis of evil comprising Russia, China and North Korea will accordingly be immeasurably strengthened. In other words, Trump is playing double or quits—and the hearts of the rest of us are in our mouths. In America, the war is sorting out the wimps from the warriors, realists from the fantasists and people of integrity from the morally depraved. But for Britain and Europe, the war is increasingly demonstrating that they are simply over. - jns 19.03.26

Bardaji, Rafael / The Sinking of Europe - As war accelerates around Iran, Europe answers with delay, doubt, and strategic paralysis - Europe is not only strategically unarmed. It is morally disoriented. + The problem is that Europe has lost its understanding of war altogether. + Timidity dressed as virtue, and irresponsibility disguised as prudence - Henry Kissinger once asked who to call if one wanted to speak to Europe. He also observed that when the United States presses a button, a missile is launched; when Europe does, a communiqué is issued. Nothing has changed. - Except that now Europe is issuing those communiqués while openly defying the very power that guarantees its security, fuels its economy, and sustains its technological base. And in the world that is coming, communiqués do not deter. They do not protect. And they do not sustain civilizations - MEF 19.03.26

Milstein, Adam / Nazi Germany and the Iranian Mullahs, similar dangers, same isolationist excuses - The arguments used today to oppose confronting Iran echo the same isolationist logic that once delayed action against Hitler. - jp 18.03.26

Shaffer, Bar / Europe refuses to send warships to Hormuz despite Trump's demands - US allies are drawing hard lines against military involvement in the Iran conflict, exposing a deepening rift within the Western alliance. - ILH 16.03.26

Bozkurt, Abdullah / Italian Crackdowns Expose European threat from Turkish gangs that thrived under Erdoğan - When Turkish Networks Move Money, Weapons, People and Narcotics Across Borders, They Export Not Only Violence but Also the Institutional Weaknesses and Culture of Impunity - On May 22, 2024, Italian prosecutors and police, working with cross-border partners, moved against a Turkish criminal organization operating from Italy and across Europe. + Italian investigation repeatedly point to the same enabling conditions: impunity for officials, weak safeguards, and politicized institutions in Turkey, where entrepreneurs of violence can build careers, accumulate resources and cultivate protection. + Turkish criminality in Europe can no longer be viewed solely as a migration or border issue. It increasingly represents a governance-export problem, one in which institutional decay at home translates into organized-crime capability abroad. - MEF 15.03.26

Rodan-Benzaquen, Simone / Iran's war across Europe – complacency must finally end - The diplomatic leverage that once gave the Islamic Republic reason to calibrate – to keep its plots below the threshold of open confrontation – no longer applies - jc 13.03.26

Meotti, Giulio / Why Europeans Dread Standing Up to the Mullahs - Europe's reluctance on Iran reflects more than diplomacy - It reflects vulnerability - Europe appears devoid of the will to exist as a geopolitical actor. + European governments are reluctant to support the American-and Israeli-led attacks against Iran: because they fear the conflict could spill into their streets. + Let them not cloak their refusal to take part in this historic moment with appeals to international law, diplomacy, prudence, and peace. - Exactly twenty years ago, Rushdie asked the European Union to suspend relations with Iran. Europe instead reacted like a rabbit dazzled by the headlights of this new Islamic extremism. - Nothing has changed. Let them not cloak their refusal to take part in this historic moment with appeals to "international law," "diplomacy," "prudence," and "peace." It is nothing but this: fear disguised as noble words. This is not about Iran. It is about us, Europeans. And the fact that we are old, terrified, increasingly useless and increasingly submissive. - MEF 13.03.26

Rodan-Benzaquen, Simone / Iran's war across Europe – complacency must finally end - The diplomatic leverage that once gave the Islamic Republic reason to calibrate – to keep its plots below the threshold of open confrontation – no longer applies - jc 13.03.26

Heller, Mathilda / Who are Ashab Al Yamim? New Shi'ite terror group claims synagogue attacks across Europe - The group seemingly did not exist before this week and, unusually, does not have its own Telegram or social media channels. Usually, such groups create channels straight away. - jp 13.03.26

Abramowicz, Jacques / Iran: Der Verrat des Westens - Die Islamische Republik ist angeschlagen, doch ihre Unterstützer im Westen sind nach wie vor aktiv - Die Koordination der Proteste gegen den Krieg ist auch das Ergebnis jahrzehntelanger Infiltration. Organisationen wie der National Iranian American Council (NIAC) und das Quincy Institute fungieren dabei als »Soft Power«-Arm der Islamischen Republik im Westen. - Viele sog. Experten sind die »nützlichen Idioten« des 21. Jahrhunderts, ignorieren die eschatologische Realität des Vilayat-e Faqih, also den Glauben, dass das schiitische Regime Chaos auslöst, um den verborgenen Imam herbeizurufen. Für besagte Experten sind die Iraner dagegen Spielfiguren in einem geopolitischen Spiel, in dem es um eine vermeintliche »Stabilität« geht, die auf den Gräbern von mehr als 30.000 Demonstranten errichtet wurde. Damit priorisieren sie das Überleben eines Staates, der in Wirklichkeit dem Weltuntergangskult folgt. - ja 13.03.26

Rosenoer, Jonathan / Rage Against The Antizionists! - World Jewry is besieged by a campaign of Islamist antisemitism designed to bolster the islamists' "dream of a world without Jews." Tactically, as with the Soviets before them, the Islamists draw support from postmodern Western intellectuals and cultural Marxists susceptible to their propaganda and psychological manipulation. To them, the Islamists package raw antisemitism as principled antizionism to gain legitimacy, dodge accusations of bigotry, and subvert the West from within. Coming with unprecedented scale and scope, the new wave of antisemitism clothed as antizionism is both fearsome and daunting. But this ominous assault was anticipated some 3,000 years ago in a similarly hostile socio-political environment with the same locus: Iran. The Tanakh sends a message to the Jews from across millennia to not despair, and instead to rally, unite, and act defiantly to overcome the threat... The rabbinical decision to include the Book of Esther in the biblical canon came during the century when Christianity started to become truly antisemitic in a theological sense. The rabbis chose it to show how Jews must muster all their ingenuity to avoid destruction, especially when they occupy a position of relative social and political vulnerability. -

As for the pocket Jews, the time has come to "unmask their imposture." Action is needed to expose their unhinged ideological apparatus and fortify Jewish resolve and resilience. Doing so will dispel the self-doubt nurtured among Jews by their relentless falsehoods and provide us and our children with the tools to counter them. On this there is no benefit in having thick skin. We are obliged to fight back and rage against their dreck. - ToI blog 10.03.26

Rehov, Pierre / UN and EU Condemn the Strike, Not the Regime: Double Standards, Selective Outrage - Whether Europe and the UN will reinterpret this moment as a correction of what needs to be done to a destabilizing presence, or whether they persist in framing malignancy primarily as a procedural violation, remains uncertain. What is already visible is that the reflex of "caution" — so immediate, so uniform, so instinctive — has exposed the enduring tension between legal niceties and the urgent need to act. - European governments are probably now recalibrating policies shaped by decades of appeasing Iran. The UN faces renewed scrutiny over the consistency of its posture toward authoritarian regimes versus democratic states. The decapitation of Iran's theocratic leadership is not merely a regional episode; it is a stress test for multilateral institutions that have often confused procedural language with strategic seriousness. Whether Europe and the UN will reinterpret this moment as a correction of what needs to be done to a destabilizing presence, or whether they persist in framing malignancy primarily as a procedural violation, remains uncertain. What is already visible is that the reflex of "caution" — so immediate, so uniform, so instinctive — has exposed the enduring tension between legal niceties and the urgent need to act. - GI 10.03.26

Fauzi, Adil / If you are Muslim and mourning Khamenei, here is what his regime did to your country - If you are Afghan, Syrian, Lebanese, Iraqi, Moroccan, Palestinian, Yemeni, Algerian, Gulf state's citizen or simply Muslim...: This is the axis of resistance whose Supreme Leader they now canonize. Not because he defended Islam — he butchered Muslims from Kabul to Sana'a. Not because he liberated Palestine — he never tried. But because he pointed missiles at Israel, and in the Arab world, that single gesture absolves every sin, erases every atrocity, and converts a Shia heretic into a Sunni saint overnight. - ToI blog 08.03.26

Golan, Assaf / The Atlantis of our time: Europe is sinking into an Islamic ocean - it is entirely clear why Europe today does not support the forces of freedom but rather the murderous Iranian terrorist regime. This support stems from the simple fact that the leading forces on the continent, in effect the only living spiritual forces there, are Islamic. - The establishment of the union, which was perceived as a kind of end of days promise, in fact represented the final dismantling of the national sentiments of the continent's countries. Decisions about the future were handed over to gray bureaucrats who embraced the most extreme liberal worldview. This new bureaucratic regime seated in Brussels was alien to any form of national vitality and in hindsight effectively fulfilled the German intention of eliminating all nation states on the continent. It is also interesting to note that even today the central economic power of the union is reunified Germany, which is responsible for most of the gross domestic product of this technical and largely unnecessary body... Another expression of the continent's collapse was its complete detachment from its Christian history. This was not active heresy but rather a quiet decline of faith, reflected in turning away from childbirth and reproduction. - Against this background it becomes clear why most Western European states opened their gates to radical Islamist elements whose central aspiration is to transform all of Europe into a Muslim region, just as happened in Spain in the past. - These elements entered a national and cultural vacuum and exploited the situation, intensifying the corruption of the continent to the point of absurdity. We now see LGBT organizations demonstrating in support of Hamas and Iran, states where such people are thrown from rooftops and executed by various methods. - Those who helped create this reality were the wealthy Gulf states which, together with Saudi Arabia, effectively bought the continent with oil profits. This purchase occurred without resistance, to the point that even important national symbols passed into private Islamic hands. - ILH 06.03.26

Kapusnak, Jan / Das Geld hinter dem Überleben der Hamas - Die Hamas überlebte den Krieg, indem sie in den Untergrund ging — in Tunnel — gestützt auf eine über Jahrzehnte aufgebaute soziale Infrastruktur aus Moscheen, Wohltätigkeitsorganisationen und Lagern, die Dienstleistungen mit Patronage und Ideologie im Stil der Muslimbruderschaft verband. Ihre Widerstandsfähigkeit beruht auf der Verschmelzung dieses zivilen Netzwerks mit ihrem bewaffneten Flügel. - aud 04.03.26

Rosenberg, Ella / Zwischen Zypern und Brüssel: Europas gescheiterte Iran-Politik - Zypern wurde lange Zeit als schwacher und komplexer Faktor für die europäische Sicherheit angesehen, doch der vor kurzem verübte iranische Angriff auf das Land markiert einen Wendepunkt, der es den Mitgliedstaaten der Europäischen Union (EU) nicht mehr erlaubt, die Politik der Ignoranz fortzusetzen, die das letzte Jahrzehnt geprägt hat. - aud 02.03.26

Allied Attack against Iran 02/2026 > Iran Campaigns

Meotti, Giulio / The primary cause of the West's crisis is demography - When Zohran Mamdani defeated Andrew Cuomo, there were more Muslims than Italian-Americans in New York - MEF 27.02.26

Millière, Guy / The ME: A stack of fake narratives, an attempted fake 'Palestinian State' and the real threat to the West - Europeans, by allowing the oldest hatred to resurface, based on a fabricated Palestinian history, and by currying favor with a growing Muslim population marked by a seeming desire to Islamize their new European home, appear to be embarking on a very dark path. - Anti-Semitic hatred led entire populations in Europe to crimes so huge that they are still unable to confront them. If they can instead cast Jews today as Nazis, it lets them believe what they did to the Jews was not so terrible, after all. "The more the West tries to erase the Jews," wrote the journalist Melanie Phillips last month, "the clearer its suicide note becomes for the erasure of its own civilization." - For Westerners, Jew-hate, sadly, is just a distraction, a means of denial to keep them from seeing the real threat to their existence: the hijrah, Muslim migration to the West to make it Islamic. - gI 27.02.26

Hirsch, Maurice / Das katastrophale Vermächtnis von Mahmoud Abbas - Während er stets Mässigung und Pragmatismus vortäuschte, lehnte er den Frieden konsequent ab. - Wenn der PA-Vorsitzende aus dem Rampenlicht verschwindet, hinterlässt er nichts als ein Vermächtnis aus Tod und Zerstörung. Nach dem Tod von Yasser Arafat und der Terrorwelle, die die PLO und die PA im September 2000 auslösten, pries der Westen Abbas als „Moderaten“, der die PA reformieren und dem Terror ein Ende setzen könnte. - Der krasse Selbst- betrug? - aud 27.02.26

Ayoub, Amine / The Balkan Firewall: Why Iran's post-war pivot to Europe threatens the EU - Europe can no longer afford to treat the W-Balkans merely as a stalled enlargement project - The "Western Balkans Route" has become the primary artery for Iranian-backed operatives and radicalized actors seeking to infiltrate the continent. - In the first half of 2025 alone, Serbian arms exports to Israel surged to tens of millions of euros, culminating in massive bilateral defense agreements. + European capitals must abandon their diplomatic hesitations and actively support the security firewall that Israel, Serbia, and Albania are attempting to build. - Brussels must move beyond temporary border checks and adopt a proactive, intelligence-led framework. This requires conditioning future financial aid to Balkan states on the strict expulsion of IRGC front organizations. Furthermore, European capitals must abandon their diplomatic hesitations and actively support the security firewall that Israel, Serbia, and Albania are attempting to build. - If Europe fails to dismantle Tehran's Balkan gateway, the next great security crisis won't arrive via a smuggler's boat across the Mediterranean. It will drive straight across a European land border, armed with Schengen access and an ideology purpose-built to destroy the West from within - MEF 26.02.26

Salmassi, Maral / Germany can no longer blame only the far Right for antisemitism - but it still sees antisemitism as a far-right relic; the events after the October 7 massacre exposed a far more complex and uncomfortable reality. - For many of us who grew up under Islamist regimes - Iranians, Jews from Muslim-majority countries, Kurds, and Arab reformers - the Western progressive treatment of Islamism as a misunderstood or emancipatory force is bewildering. We know what happens when such ideologies gain power. We have seen minorities erased, dissent criminalized, and women reduced to symbols of obedience. To watch these forces reframed in Europe as partners in liberation is not merely intellectually frustrating: It is existentially disorienting. This shared experience - between ME minorities and Israelis - is part of why ZERA was founded. It is not an abstract policy debate: It is lived history confronting Western naivety. - jp 24.02.26

Laghari, Mansour / Anti-Zionism is the new language of an old hatred - Hatred survives by adapting. It learns the language of each generation. It finds new justifications. It makes itself sound moral, even righteous. - Antisemitism has done this for over two thousand years. Today, it often calls itself anti-Zionism. Many who embrace anti-Zionism insist they oppose only Israel, not Jews. They present their position as political, ethical, even humanitarian. But when examined honestly, anti-Zionism does not merely criticize policies. It denies something far more fundamental: the right of the Jewish people to exist as a sovereign nation in their ancestral homeland. - No other people on Earth are asked to justify their right to exist as a nation. Only the Jews. That fact alone should force serious reflection. - Zionism did not emerge in a vacuum. It emerged from necessity. For nearly two millennia, Jews lived as minorities everywhere. They were expelled from England in 1290, from Spain in 1492, and subjected to waves of pogroms across Europe and the ME. Even in societies where Jews contributed deeply to culture, science, and commerce, they were never fully secure. - The Holocaust was not an anomaly. It was the most extreme expression of a long pattern. Six million Jews were murdered while the world debated whether to accept Jewish refugees. Many countries refused them entry. Jews learned a painful lesson: survival without sovereignty was never guaranteed. - Zionism was the answer to that lesson. It was not a movement of conquest. It was a movement of return. Jerusalem had been the center of Jewish identity for over 3,000 years. Jewish presence in the land never disappeared, even after the Roman Empire attempted to erase Jewish identity by force. When Israel declared independence in 1948, it did so under international legal recognition through the UN. Within hours, five neighboring Arab armies invaded, openly declaring their intention to destroy the new state. - Supporting the Jewish people's right to exist in their homeland does not contradict justice. It affirms it. Justice cannot be selective. It cannot grant rights to every people except one. Anti-Zionism, when stripped of its language and examined in its practical meaning, calls for the dismantling of the only Jewish state on Earth. It calls for the removal of Jewish sovereignty. History has taught us to recognize what happens when Jewish sovereignty disappears. The world has seen the consequences before. We should not pretend not to recognize them now. - ToI blog 20.02.26

Phillips, Melanie / Fight! Fight! Fight! Jewish victimization should not be dismissed as unbeatable. It must be fought harder and better. - As I explain in my new book Fighting the Hate: A Handbook for Jews Under Siege, to be published next month by Wicked Son, Jews must go on the offensive and take the fight to the enemy. Jewish history teaches that the ancient Israelites did precisely this—fighting and defeating their enemies with a clear-sighted understanding that anything short of doing so decisively would lead to the extinction of their people. Israel today similarly fights its enemies on the battlefield of kinetic war. Diaspora Jews must fight their own enemies with equivalent tenacity and courage on the battlefield of the mind. - jns 19.02.20

Goodrich, Nigel / The Muslim Brotherhood is a stealth threat to European societies - As European institutions confront rising concerns over extremism, critics argue that the MB's networks pose an ideological and strategic challenge to democratic values. + How the MB's "Entryism" is deployed in Europe - and why threat is not abstract; it's a clear danger to Europe's soul. - jp 16.02.26

Tobin, Jonathan S / The greatest threat to the West is immigration, not Moscow - Europeans were relieved by U.S. Secretary of State Marco Rubio's Munich speech, as it reaffirmed the Atlantic alliance. But were they really listening to what he was saying? - Above all, Rubio made it clear that their faith in multilateralism and the U.N. is not only letting them down. An unwillingness to acknowledge that the world body has been a dismal failure—not to mention a destructive force that is enabling antisemitism—is a far more crucial difference between Trump and the Europeans than the president's critics understand. - the policies stated by Rubio in his Munich speech are not just correct, but inextricably linked to any effort to roll back the tide of Jew-hatred, and the support for Jewish genocide and Israel's destruction that has gained so much support on the political left. If they are serious about supporting Israel's continued existence, then they should stop sniping at Trump and obsessing about Russia, and get behind the administration's efforts to wake up the Europeans to what is really threatening the West. - jns 16.02.26

> Xtra Genocide Calumnia

@ aud / NGO Monitor: «Genozid-Vorwurf gegen Israel war lange geplant» - «Nichtregierungsorganisationen, die anti-israelisch eingestellt sind, haben über 20 Jahre auf eine Gelegenheit gewartet, Israel mit Begriffen wie ‚Völkermord‘ zu brandmarken. Der Gaza-Krieg hat ihnen schließlich diese Gelegenheit gegeben», so Dr. Gerald Steinberg, Gründer und Präsident von NGO Monitor, am Sonntag - 16.02.26

@ Perets, Shir / NGOs waited decades to brand Israel with 'genocide' label, watchdog head tells 'Post' - "This entire industry requires careful, independent investigation. The lack of oversight has allowed a political agenda to override humanitarian claims," Steinberg said. - jp 15.02.26

Tobin, Jonathan S / It's time to tell the truth about Muslim antisemitism - It's time to stop worrying about accusations of Islamophobia when discussing Muslim antisemitism... most of what is labeled Islamophobia is just truth-telling about how conspiracy theories and hate speech about Jews have become normative in the Islamic community - Andrew Bostom, author of A Modern Qur'anic Kampf Against the Jews, a translation with commentary of a highly influential text written by Muhammad Sayyid Tantawi, the late head of Al-Azhar Univ. in Cairo, widely considered the "Muslim Vatican," which illustrates that Jew-hatred is baked deep into both Islamic culture and traditional religious thought. On the polling done by the ADL, including some results that were apparently considered so shocking that the group didn't publish them, has demonstrated just how pervasive antisemitic attitudes are among Muslims around the world and in the U.S. The notion that Muslim Jew-hatred is merely the product of resentment of the state of Israel or concern for the Palestinians is utterly false, says Bostom. His translation of Tantawi's screed illustrates that the vilest forms of hate directed at Jews is part of mainstream Muslim thought. What is most shocking about Tantawi's antisemitic book is not just the way he shows how antisemitism is mainstream in Muslim thought or the way he mixes traditional anti-Jewish tropes with modern conspiracy theories about Jews (such as The Protocols of the Elders of Zion). It's the fact that Tantawi was considered a moderate Muslim and not as extreme as many other Islamic religious figures. - A big part of the problem, however, is the failure of the West, including Jewish groups and leaders who prioritize the idea of interfaith dialogue above defending their communities against hate, to directly call out Muslim antisemitism. Bostom says, Christians and Jews must find the courage to tell Muslims, "We won't accept you at interfaith dialogue meetings if you're going to preach this way. Just stop it. We're aware of it. Stop it. It's ugly. Don't do it." (> video 1:02:07h) - jns 12.02.26 (> Bostom 2005 > idem 2008 > idem 05/2011 > idem - mw 18.11.23)

Mobasher, Michael / Das Mullah-Regime und seine europäischen Verbündeten - Zuerst ist es sinnvoll, den Begriff „Orientalismus“ zu erklären, um ein besseres Verständnis des Westlichen und insbesondere der Landschaft des „deutschen Orientalismus“ zu vermitteln: In der westlichen Hemisphäre und insbesondere in Deutschland bezieht sich dieser Begriff auf die Darstellung östlicher, mittel- und nahöstlicher Gesellschaften durch die Mehrheit der westlichen Akademiker, Journalisten und Publizisten, die oft durch Stereotypen und Spekulationen gekennzeichnet ist und die wahre Natur der Transformationen Nah- und Mittelöstlicher Kulturen und Gesellschaften bagatellisieren und zum Schweigen bringen, während sie Vorstellungen von Unvollständigkeit, Minderwertigkeit und Exotik betonen. - Kein Wort über die Import/Exportgeschäfte bzw. die Kooperation mit Nordkorea - haG 11.02.26

Lefkovits, Etgar / Israeli FM: Iran's ballistic missiles endanger Europe - The Islamic regime destabilizes the Middle East and seeks to spread its terrorism to other continents, including Latin America, says Gideon Sa'ar. - jns 08.02.26

Gomes, Jules / It's a Miracle: Italian Court Connects the Dots Between Islamist Ideology, Hamas Violence - Genoa judge orders Nine Suspects Jailed Before Trial to Prevent Further Crime - Legislators across Europe need to take heed, study the court order, and draw the necessary conclusions. - The December 26 court order issued by Judge Silvia Carpanini described Hamas as a branch of the MB, "committed to creating an Islamic state in Palestine according to Sharia law," while "rejecting any peaceful solution" and "declaring jihad as the only way to liberation." Because of their ideological commitments, coupled with the likelihood that the arrestees would continue to engage in criminal acts, the judge ruled that "only detention ... can constitute a real impediment to the continuation of the criminal conduct." The judge did the world a favor by debunking the myth of the Palestinian movement being rooted in humanitarian concerns—and not anti-Israelism and antisemitism—in such a well-documented and authoritative ruling, Sandell told FWI. The court's judgement is "further validated by the complete silence from the same Palestinian movement in the face of the brutal massacres of civilian Iranians by the Islamic Republic," he said. - Meanwhile, Carpanini also linked the MB with Hamas, warning that the MB has as its goal the overthrow of governments in Muslim countries that do not apply Sharia, as well as expanding Islam globally "as a totalitarian system" by means of violent jihad. - In the case of Israel, the MB created a network of financing and logistics to support military operations against the State of Israel, to achieve the original goals of the association, which is the creation of an Islamic state in Palestine. - MEF 05.02.26

Laurin, Stefan / Dem iranischen Regime den Stecker ziehen - Der Bundestag diskutiert Maßnahmen gegen Teheran - Nach Jahren vorsichtiger Annäherung an die Islamische Republik und lediglich ritualisierter Kritik an ihr hat die EU die iranischen Revolutionsgarden auf ihre Terrorliste gesetzt. Die Bundesregierung feiert das als Signal der Entschlossenheit – das Regime wertet es als Eskalation. Deutschland könnte jedoch deutlich mehr unternehmen, um die Proteste im Iran zu unterstützen. - jw 05.02.26

Maimon, Dov / Could it be that Jews now feel safer in illiberal democracies? - Such regimes may restrict certain civil liberties or even display authoritarian tendencies, but they guarantee something many Jews lack elsewhere: basic physical security. - The historical equation—liberalism equals Jewish security—no longer holds universally. Conditions that once made liberal democracies hospitable to Jews have eroded, eaten away by mass migration without integration, identity politics that reframe Jews as privileged rather than vulnerable and a moral relativism that obviates the very idea of protecting minorities. Israel's outreach to illiberal actors should not be read as moral blindness, but as strategic realism. Jews have learned throughout history to read power structures as they are, not as they are supposed to be. If the paradigm has shifted, Jewish political thinking must shift with it. - The uncomfortable question is no longer whether liberal democracy is morally superior. It is whether it is still capable of protecting Jews. And today, in too many places, the answer is no. - jns 03.02.26

Ruderman, Jay / That's not activism. It's intimidation. - Today's protests increasingly embrace rhetoric that targets communities rather than engaging them – and they are doing little for their cause - Cities across the US stand at a crossroads. They can recommit to activism that actually creates change or drift further into a space where intimidation masquerades as advocacy. The choice will be defined not just by protesters in the streets, but by how our leaders – and all of us – respond. - ToI blog 03.02.26

Wagenheim, Mike / UN survey finds almost 80% of European teachers have witnessed student Jew-hatred - "In most countries, the only space where teachers receive any training, support or guidance on teaching about antisemitism is in history education, and in particular through Holocaust education," UNESCO told - jns 02.02.26

ja / Die EU hat die Elite-Einheit des Mullah-Regimes auf die Terrorliste gesetzt. - Israel bietet Hilfe bei Verfolgung von Revolutionsgarden an - Über die Listung der Revolutionsgarden als Terrororganisation wurde in der EU seit Jahren diskutiert - intensiv unter anderem nach dem iranischen Großangriff auf Israel im April 2024. Erst am Donnerstag konnte der dafür erforderliche Konsens hergestellt werden. Davor hatte insbesondere noch Frankreich blockiert und begründete seine Ablehnung unter anderem mit bereits bestehenden EU-Sanktionen, die in der Praxis einen ähnlichen Effekt wie die Einstufung als Terrororganisation hätten. Zu diesem Ergebnis kam 2024 auch ein Vergleich der beiden Maßnahmen durch die wissenschaftlichen Dienste des Bundestags. - 30.01.26 (> Sela-Eitam 29.01. > ja 29.01. > Osterer 30.01.)

Phillips, Melanie / The emergence of Holocaust erasure - The world hasn't learned the key point—that it was a uniquely monstrous crime aimed specifically at the extermination of the Jewish people. (An) morally degraded equation puts the genocide of the Jews on the same level as Israel's attempt to prevent another genocide of the Jews. Worse, Gaza is being used to wipe out the particularity to the Jews of the Final Solution. Underlying all this erasure is the unmistakable, if incredible, belief that the Jews have no right to their claim of victimhood—because their tormentors view the memory of the Holocaust as a moral bludgeon that the Jews wield to gain special privileges, such as avoiding "legitimate criticism" over the "crimes" of Israel. - Accepting that the Jews are the world's greatest and most enduring historic victims gets in the way of the only permitted narratives. Palestinianism erases the Jews from their own history in their ancestral homeland. Universalism erases them from their history as victims in Europe. Anti-Zionism, which separates the Jewish people from the land that's central to their ancient faith, erases Judaism altogether. Erasing Jewish victimization is part of a global agenda by such people to erase the Jews—from their mind, from their conscience and from their world. They won't succeed... The more the West tries to erase the Jews, the clearer its suicide note becomes for the erasure of its own civilization. - jns 29.01.26

Shlaifer, Daria / The great Palestinian victory - The Holocaust effectively destroyed self-love for many Europeans. Turning Jews into Nazis has become the ultimate way to stop feeling like monsters... - in the struggle against the Jewish state accused of Nazism and post-colonialism, the Westerner gains a second chance and a path to atonement for the sins of his fathers and mothers. - Powerful forces are working to entrench this narrative. Along the way, it offers a response to Western collective trauma and creates a reality in which Gaza and other terror enclaves, such as Jenin and Ramallah, are granted immunity from defeat in war, because they are portrayed as victims of so-called Zionist Nazism... (Now) it is vital to remember that Hamas is another arm of the Palestinian movement, and woe to us if we confuse ourselves into thinking that defeating Hamas is a strategic victory. It is only tactical. Even if Hamas lays down its weapons and is completely destroyed as an organization and as a governing regime, the Palestinian movement will continue its terrorist campaign aimed at dispossessing Jews of their homeland, and Jews who resist will continue to be accused of Nazism. - Only when we understand that even in the battle over consciousness there is no separating Hamas from the Palestinian movement, and when we present to the world its origins and its true face, murderous and imperialistic, can we begin to dismantle the narrative that casts the Zionist as the modern incarnation of the Nazi. - jp 29.01.26 (> Nirenstein 29.01. > Shapiro 29.01.)

Stub, Zev / 20 Jews murdered, 815 severe antisemitic attacks took place worldwide in 2025 - Diaspora Ministry also records 124 million antisemitic posts on X and over 4,000 anti-Israel demonstrations during the year - ToI 28.01.26

Greyman-Kennard, Danielle / It isn't just antisemitism: What is really behind the rise of anti-Israel sentiment in Europe? - It's rise in anti-Israel sentiment linked to politics, history, and diplomacy, not antisemitism or Muslim migration, says Tel Aviv University report. - Assessing that neither antisemitism nor migration is behind the wave of anti-Israel sentiments, the researchers assessed that there are six common factors in the P-8 that may have determined its political alignment... the researchers assessed that there are six key conditions that contributed to the political climate in P-8 nations since October 7, 2023. These conditions include left-oriented coalition governments; the minimal role of antisemitism and Holocaust remembrance in political discourse; national narratives receptive to identification with the Palestinian cause; pre-existence of deep-seated anti-Israel views; the meager international and national implications of diplomatic decisions regarding the Middle East; and the modest scopes of pro-Israel public diplomacy. - Further recommendations - jp 27.01.26

Eytan, Freddy / Qatar buys European values - Qatar has ambitions in all areas of society and spheres of life. Without any financial difficulties or legal or commercial constraints, it is investing in Europe in the energy transition, healthcare, aerospace, and culture. - ILH 25.01.26

> Iran's Lethal Mission

@ Zaken, Danny / US prepares 'kill list' of Iran protest killers with Israeli support - Intelligence obtained in part from Israel points to mass executions of protesters and medical teams. Wounded demonstrators were abducted from hospitals while others were shot at hospital gates. A special department has been established in the US to identify and locate those involved. - ILH 25.01.26

@ Laznik, Jacob + Miriam Sela-Eitam / Iran may have slaughtered 30,000 protesters in 48-hour intense crackdown - If the estimates are true, the only comparable massacre in history databases would be the murder of 33,000 Jews in the Babyn Yar massacre during the Holocaust outside of Kyiv in 1941. - jp 25.01.26

@ Habibinia, Omid / Iran security forces shoved wounded protesters into body bags, executed live patients in hospitals - In a shocking revelation, the Iran Human Rights Documentation Center has reported the case of a young, wounded protester who survived by pretending to be dead inside a body bag. - jp 25.01.26

@ Gambrell, Jon / Scale of Iran's bloody crackdown comes into focus even as internet is out - Footage shows Basij forces opening fire on peaceful protesters, as state officials appear on public television to threaten anti-regime 'terrorists' to stay home - ToI 24.01.26

@ Assadohali, Shabnam / The World Turns Away from Iran - The numbers are staggering. Forty three thousand dead. Ten thousand blinded. Three hundred fifty thousand wounded. Tens of thousands of men, women, and children crushed under bullets, boots, and blunt instruments. Executed. Tortured. Burned. Mutilated. This is not an abstraction. This is reality. Every number is a human life ripped apart by the Islamic Republic occupying Iran—a regime that rules not by law, not by justice, but through fear, terror, and the hunger for absolute control. The killers are known: Fatemiyoun, Zeinabiyoun, Khatibul Hezbollah, Hezbollah, Hashd al-Shaabi, the Houthis, and the rest of the proxies of the terrorist Islamic republic occupying Iran. Terrorist proxies, armed, trained, and unleashed to carry out the regime's bloody orders. And the enablers? Jimmy Carter and his Western allies, who in 1979 rolled out the red carpet for Rouhollah Khomeini—the terrorist, pedophile, antisemitic cleric who stole trillions from his nation, gutted its institutions, and left its people to rot under tyranny. And the shamelessness continues. E. Macron asks Trump to "think" about "good plans" for Iran. As if decades of murder, theft, and oppression were not enough. As if the world has not already watched the destruction of a nation while pretending to care. They speak of influence, strategy, control—but never of justice. Never of the blood-stained streets. Never of the mothers screaming over the bodies of their children. France, the UK, Germany, Canada, Italy, Spain and their allies cloak themselves in diplomacy while tens of thousands lie dead, thousands more blinded, hundreds of thousands maimed. They profit from fear. They excuse murder. They negotiate over lives like they are bargaining chips... - ToI blog 24.01.26

@ mw / Iran: Repression der Proteste forderte 16.500 Tote und 330.000 Verletzte - Einem Bericht iranischer Ärzte zufolge meiden viele verwundete Demonstranten aus Angst vor Inhaftierung die Krankenhäuser, während verletzte Patienten von Sicherheitskräften aus Operationssälen verschleppt wurden. - 20.01.26

Spiro, James / Europa nimmt das Problem der Muslimbruderschaft nicht ernst genug - Im Gegensatz zu Europa, wo die Bedrohung immer noch ignoriert zu werden scheint, haben die USA drei nahöstliche Zweige der Muslimbruderschaft als ausländische terroristische Organisation eingestuft. - mw 24.01.26

Pomerantz, Sherwin / The circus that is Davos - Trump's speech there was problematic in many ways, but nobody pushed back and as long as nothing goes wrong, we may all be OK. But what if something does? - What should frighten everyone is that as long as this is all talk and the only result of the talk is that people get frustrated and plan what they see as retaliatory action, the world may get through all of this, somehow or other. However, if someone makes a mistake, if someone takes an action that is violent or results in death and destruction, a real World War III could easily be ignited that would release all the pent-up frustration and result in mutual devastation. It would just take one spark to create worldwide chaos. - No doubt Putin in Russia and Xi in China are watching all of this with glee. They could not have asked for a better result than to have NATO self-implode and the Americans be perceived as weak and fragmented. - Davos is certainly a circus this week — but scary rather than simply entertaining. - ToI blog 22.01.26 (> Jäger 20.01. > Fahrenbach 22.01. > fake-project BoP > Buskila 23.01. > Freund 23.01.)

Frank, Stefan / Israelboykottbewegung: »Iss nicht bei Juden« - Die BDS-Bewegung hat ein neues Ziel: vermehrt werden weltweit Restaurants ins Visier genommen, sobald sich auch nur die kleinste Verbindung zum jüdischen Staat nachweisen lässt. - mw 21.01.26

Meotti, Giulio / London: How You Can Conquer a Country With Demography - Public Religious Expression, Immigration, and Identity Debates Are Colliding in the U.K.'s Capital - The Brent Central Mosque was once a church. In the 1970s, with "demographic change" and the growth of the Muslim population, the church was purchased and converted into a mosque. The Wembley Central Mosque in Brent was also a church. - The growing number of Muslim officials elected in cities such as London, Birmingham, and Bradford - where mosques and Islamic centers increasingly shape the urban landscape-reveals a radical change of civilization... Within 40 years, whites will be a minority in England. And by the end of the century, one Englishman in five will be Muslim. The self-extinction of native Western peoples is unprecedented outside of wars, famines, or plagues. Yet it is happening at such a pace that "analysts" are now fixing a precise date for their disappearance. - The Christmas lights shining on Leicester Square looked like relics in an open-air museum. - MEF 20.01.26

Dunoff, Sophie / The stress of campus life is taking a profound toll on our children - Simply being Jewish on campus can be a source of constant, underlying anxiety – it should not be that way - jc 19.01.26

Dreyfus, Nicole / Einladung, Empörung, Ausladung - Dass der Iran am Weltwirtschaftsforum in Davos zunächst willkommen war und kurz darauf wieder ausgeladen wurde, ist ein Lehrstück darüber, wie Menschenrechte erst dann zählen, wenn sie zum Reputationsrisiko werden - ja 19.01.26

Ben-Basat, David / The West demands standards from Israel that it does not demand from any other country. It preaches morality while having destroyed cities in Iraq and Afghanistan. It speaks of pro-portionality, yet lost it long ago. And it is willing to sell its values for gas contracts, investments, and massive donations. - Ultimately, this is not only an attack on Israel. It is a profound moral failure of the West itself. A society that allows foreign money to corrupt its institutions, silence free criticism, and enable a new form of antisemitism to flourish forfeits its right to preach morality to others. A society willing to remain silent in the face of funded terrorism and murderous ideology has no moral compass. When they finally realize they are losing their countries to radical Islamists, they may wake up, but it will likely be too late. - jp 17.01.26

Kahn, Jeffrey / The biggest threat to Israel is mass cognitive warfare - The war against Israel is being fought not only with rockets and resolutions, but synapse by synapse - inside the minds of the next generation. - Hamas is an Islamist extremist organization whose ideology and governance are openly hostile to homosexuality. This is not a matter of narrative framing or political interpretation. It is an observable reality. Yet across Western capitals and elite campuses, many activists who define themselves as champions of LGBTQ rights have aligned themselves publicly with Hamas - often with absolute moral certainty. - This is not merely hypocrisy. It is evidence of a mass cognitive failure in which emotional reward has displaced reality testing. When people can no longer process an obvious contradiction that directly threatens their own identity and safety, the issue moves beyond political disagreement. It is clear evidence of mind control when the cognitive and emotional processing have been dominated or hijacked. - On Dopamine as a strategic vulnerability + The delivery systems + Why Israel is uniquely vulnerable + Defending Israel requires defending the sanctity of the mind. - If neurotransmitters can be weaponized to detach a generation from obvious realities - such as the fact that Hamas would brutalize the very protesters who celebrate it - then no democracy is safe from this method. Israel is not the end target. It is the proving ground. The war against Israel is being fought not only with rockets and resolutions, but synapse by synapse - inside the minds of the next generation. If we do not adapt to that battlefield, the joke will remain on us. - jp 17.01.26

Ovens, Carsten / Wie Europas Parlamentarier über Israel denken - Der Blick europäischer Politiker auf Israel hat sich gewandelt, wie die jüngste ELNET-Befragung von europäischen Politikern zeigt - ja 16.01.26

Williams, Robert / The Secret Hamas-NGO Relationship - "The evidence confirms that NGOs in Gaza do not operate independently or neutrally," NGO Monitor found. "Rather, they are embedded in an institutionalized framework of coercion, intimidation, and surveillance that serves Hamas' terror objectives.... NGOs - both local and international, including ones operating under the auspices of UN projects - are not permitted to provide services or operate projects in Gaza without Hamas' approval." - On an everyday basis, NGOs need permission from Hamas to do their work in Gaza. + Hamas also inserted "guarantors" - local Gazans approved by Hamas, or themselves Hamas members or affiliates - into high positions in the respective NGOs to serve as points of contact between Hamas and the NGOs. Hamas required its "guarantors" to be placed at the highest administrative levels of the NGO, such as director, deputy director, or board chair. + The Norwegian Refugee Council (NRC), for instance, an Oslo-based NGO operating in Gaza, among other places, chose to simply ignore concerns from a Gazan that his floor was collapsing because of a terror tunnel being built underneath. + The mainstream media has largely refused to acknowledge that, as reported in a recent study by the Meir Amit Intelligence and Terrorism Information Center, 60% of the "journalists" killed during the fighting in Gaza were Hamas or Palestinian Islamic Jihad operatives or affiliates. - GI 11.01.26

Tobin, Jonathan S + Judea Pearl / Drop your illusions: The Muslim world wants to eradicate Israel - According to Pearl, denial that Jews are the indigenous people of the land of Israel isn't just wrong, but rooted in the myths of settler-colonialism theory. And it is enabling what he calls "Zionophobia" and an atmosphere of hate against all Jews who will not betray their own people. Denying Jewish history is the short path to erasing Jewish rights. He says that Jews, such as those who advocate against Israel or voted for a rabid anti-Zionist like NYC Mayor Zohran Mamdani, seek to gain acceptance in society at a time of great animosity toward the Jewish people. What American Jews need is leadership that is strong enough to ostracize that sector. (> video 53:31 min) - jns 15.01.26

Hyde, Samuel / Iranian feminists understood the revolution better than Europe's intellectuals - While Foucault praised Iran's 1979 revolution as spiritual, Iranian women warned it would mean coercion, veiling, and the erasure of their rights. - Today, as Iranians flood the streets in defiance of a regime that has for decades enforced gender apartheid, the absence of support among Western feminist movements is striking. - There is no sustained appetite for solidarity with Iranian women confronting totalitarian clerics. The conclusion is difficult to avoid. The principles these movements claim to uphold are not universal commitments but conditional postures, activated selectively and suspended when they collide with a preferred political narrative. - What remains is not feminism as a commitment to women's rights, but feminism as alignment. And it is precisely this substitution of principle for affiliation that the Iranian feminists of the late 1970s warned against. - jp 14.01.26

Israel, Chavi / People Love Dead Jews - I know this title may be startling. It may even seem a bit extreme. But I don't think it is. - And I think there is some real truth to this, so let me explain. Before I get to that, it would be wrong not to say that this article is very much based on Dara Horn's book, People Love Dead Jews. - Her argument is simple and confronting: the world is far more comfortable with dead Jews than with living ones. - She explains how Jewish suffering, especially the Holocaust, is widely memorialised, curated, and even sentimentalised, while actual Jewish people, Jewish life, Jewish continuity, and Jewish self-defence are ignored, misunderstood, or resented. - It is up to the Australian government to set the tone for the rest of the country. It is up to the Australian government to protect all Australian citizens. - People love dead Jews because it avoids the core of the problem. The root. It sits comfortably with people because they can mourn Jews once they are gone, while Israel defending itself against a terror regime is labelled unethical or even genocidal. - This world has become twisted. We need to start calling out the truth, and we need to do it fast. Because if we don't, and it already feels dangerously late, Jewish lives will continue to be lost. Anti-Zionism is antisemitism (99% of the time). - That does not mean you cannot criticise Israel, of course you can, just like any other country. But if you say "I'm sorry for the Jewish community" without recognising the direct connection between rising antisemitism and attitudes toward Israel, then I hate to say it - you are part of the problem. - ToI blog 12.01.26 > Horn, Dara / People Love Dead Jews: Reports from a Haunted Present. WW Norton, NY 2021 (> Schwerdt 12/2021 > Lenhard 2/2023 > Tobin 02/2024 > Friedman 5/2025 > Neumann 21.12.25) > Sydney Attac on Jews 2025)

Gomes, Jules / New Year's Unrest Stokes Anger over Unchecked Immigration into Europe from Muslim Countries - Hungary and Poland Avoid Unrest, Demonstrating the Value of Protected Borders - Leaders in Belgium, France, and Italy are dealing with the aftermath of New Year's holiday riots that resulted in torched cars, vandalized properties, beleaguered police and terrorized locals and tourists. News outlets have largely refrained from identifying the people responsible for the unrest, but politicians and commentators are attributing the violence to decades worth of unchecked immigration from Muslim-majority countries. In response to the violence, some commentators have taken to social media to call for the repatriation of immigrants. — "What we witnessed on New Year's Eve — mobs attacking police and emergency workers, and cities forced into a posture of siege—should end the indulgent habit of treating public order as optional," C. Perez-Shakdam, told Focus on Western Islamism (FWI), (and) warned that government officials need to do a better job of enforcing the law. - "Islamists, like all ideologues, thrive in such fog: they do not create every riot, but they are always ready to exploit the breakdown—recruiting, intimidating, and setting neighbor against neighbor while respectable people search for sociological alibis," she said, adding that "a society that will not enforce justice invites the next, worse night of lawlessness." - MEF 09.01.26

Berkovits, Balázs / Why antizionism is spreading – and why it endangers Jews everywhere - Pseudo-critical theories have reimagined Jews as white oppressors. It's time for an organized anti-antizionism movement - The consequences of this antisemitism can be seen most clearly in the denial or relativization of the atrocities of October 7 and in the casual acceptance – or celebration – of violence against Jews worldwide. - The trend is alarming, and it will not reverse quickly. Pushing back requires two parallel efforts: First, a systematic intellectual challenge to the pseudo-critical theories that give antisemitic antizionism its cultural legitimacy. And second, a coordinated social and political response – the formation of an organized counter-movement of anti-antizionism, equipped with a coherent intellectual and strategic framework. Ultimately, the task is not merely to rebut antizionism's false claims but to reclaim the space of critical thinking itself – without surrendering the terms of debate to ideological distortion, while restoring it to its empirical and ethical foundations. - ToI blog 08.01.26

Klein, Zvika / Are we watching the collapse of Western Europe in real time? - The terrorists don't need to show up again. The inhibition is already installed, running quietly in the background like software that updates itself. - Eleven years is a long time to spend managing fear instead of defeating it. The people who were killed at Charlie Hebdo and Hypercacher were casualties in a war over whether free societies can remain free... We can build memorials, light candles, and recite speeches about unity. Or we can recognize these murders for what they were: the opening salvo in the collapse of Western Europe. This is an enemy strategy that has proven far more effective than we are willing to acknowledge, that continues working every single day, and that depends entirely on our willingness to continue accommodating it. We can decide to stop letting it work. But the time is running out. And Europe as we knew it is already gone. The question is whether the rest of the West follows. - jp 08.01.26

@ Hall-Burns, Isabelle / When definitions disappear, violence fills the gap - Zohran's removal of the IHRA definition of antisemitism concerns far more people than just Jews, as it encourages all types of hatred. This is not a symbolic gesture; it is not a semantic debate. These changes structurally weaken the system meant to protect people from hatred and set a dangerous national precedent. Definitions such as the IHRA,... matter because of their anchorage in the enforcement of laws and what counts as antisemitism. When a government removes a widely accepted framework for identifying hatred without replacing it with a clear, enforceable alternative, it creates unsustainability and instability. Law enforcement, universities, and Civil rights bodies are left unclear about what qualifies as hate and what does not. That vacuum discretion replaces standards, and individual discretion has historically not favored any minority... Protections are not abstract; they are deterrents. Definitions that enable effective deterrence. When you weaken definitions or deterrence, you embolden those who are willing to test the limits. When you blur the line between hatred and politics, you guarantee that individuals will cross it. This is not about shielding Israel from criticism; it's about whether Jewish safety is treated as a conditional subject to political fashion, ideological opinions or convenience. Removing definitions does not reduce harm; it redistributes it away from the institutions to the bodies of those it's meant to protect. Once that line is crossed, no other minority's protection is secured.

History is very clear about who pays the price of prejudice and hate first. - ToI blog 07.01.26
@ Rachlin, Kevin / Here we go again: Why are we still fighting about antisemitism

definitions? - At this time of high anxiety about Jewish safety, it's time to stop squabbling over words and take genuine action against threats - There are better ways to fight antisemitism. Fund security for vulnerable institutions. Empower and train law enforcement and other officials to prevent and respond to hate crimes against Jews and all targets of hate. Support education on antisemitism and bias. Enforce civil rights laws against actual discrimination and harassment. Organizations should look to concrete measures like the Antisemitism Response and Prevention Act, which expands and funds material action and infrastructure for sustained efforts to prevent, investigate, and punish antisemitic acts — without the constitutional landmines. Antisemitism is a serious danger to Jews and to the social fabric, and we're not going to defeat it with definitions or by arguing over them. - ToI blog 05.01.26

Weinberg, David M / Tis the season to flog Israel - Bash Israel but ignore Islamic assaults on Christians across the region. - The Western media annually devotes considerable Christmas ink, and many Christian NGOs dedicate their Christmas appeals, to propagating the lie that Christians are under assault by Israelis. And worse still, that Jews are crucifying Christians smack in the heart of Bethlehem, (and) it ignores the radical Islamic assault on Christians across Asia, Africa, and the Middle East, often with government encouragement and support. The international media does its best every Christmas season to demonize Israel. For example, Ben White of Middle East Monitor published a filthy piece entitled "Bethlehem Bantustan: Have Yourself an Apartheid Christmas." - None of this has given any pause to anti-Israel churches in North America and Europe who continue their merry Yuletide way of divesting from Israel and otherwise campaigning against it. ('Tis the season to bash Israel, tralalalala tralalala ...) - They have almost nothing to say, ever, about imprisoned pastors in Iran, Islamic acid-attacks on pastors in Uganda, fire-bombings of churches in Gaza, or the mass expulsion of Christians from Syria. I guess their silence can be explained by the fact that those Christians weren't assaulted by Jews. ILH 04.01.26

Hoffman, Gil / The year for Qatar to be quelled - Every Jewish and pro-Israel organization around the world should be preparing now for such a campaign to start the moment the final hostage is in Israel's hands - On just Qatari-controlled outlets like Al Jazeera, Doha News, and Middle East Eye. Unfortunately, it is also one of the most dominant voices on the American Right, Tucker Carlson, who announced at the Doha Forum that he would get a home in Qatar. Next, are the universities... As for Hollywood, there has been an influx of Qatari-backed films spreading anti-Israel and antisemitic propaganda. The same Qatari education minister mentioned before, Lolwah Alkhater, is vice chair of Media City Qatar, which is wooing directors to film in Qatar. The Doha Film Institute gives grants to projects that promote the government's agenda. Both the Israeli and the American administrations are grossly infected by Qatari influence and money. Netanyahu's advisers are being investigated for Qatargate, and his son Yair was caught meeting with a member of the Qatari royal family at a sensitive time. Trump's son-in-law Jared Kushner has business ties with the Qataris that certainly cloud his judgment. And European governments that have become more anti-Israel also have upped their financial connections with Doha. This must be the year when such connections become socially unacceptable and even shameful. The terrorists involved in planning and carrying out the Oct. 7 massacre and kidnapping Gvili and 250 other Israelis have paid a price, as have their Iranian sponsors and their allies in Lebanon, Syria, and Yemen. It is long overdue for Qatar to be quelled as well. - jp 03.01.26

Rafizadeh, Majid / Iran's Exponentiating Missile Threat: Will the U.S. and EU Just Sit and Watch? - As oil exports remain Tehran's primary source of revenue, the enforcement of existing sanctions—particularly on Chinese purchases of Iranian oil — have to become far more serious. Without sustained pressure on this revenue stream, Iran will continue to finance missile production, proxy warfare, and repression at home. EU governments must move beyond rhetorical concern and align their policies accordingly. Fragmented enforcement only creates loopholes that Iran exploits with remarkable efficiency. - The West must have a serious discussion—in close consultation with Israel, the United Arab Emirates and Morocco — about deterrence beyond sanctions. If Iran continues to expand its ballistic missile production and openly threatens other nations, policymakers must ask whether the same logic that justified action against nuclear infrastructure also applies to missile production capabilities. This is not a call for reckless escalation, but rather for credible consequences that convince Tehran its current stance carries unacceptable costs. Iran uses its weapons directly, transfers them to militias, or leverages them to coerce and intimidate other nations. Increased sanctions, unified pressure, and a clear willingness to keep all options -- especially a military one -- on the table are not acts of aggression. They are measures of responsibility in the face of a growing and irrefutable threat. - GI 03.01.26

Nekrutman, David / Global hate isn't packing Jewish suitcases - For many potential immigrants, the choice isn't between 'Israel or the Diaspora' — it's between 'Zionism or my mother' - The Jewish world is in suspended animation. Diaspora Jews are trapped in a "Golden Cage" — a place where the politics are turning sour and the streets are growing colder, but where the comforts and the family ties remain too thick to break. The gates to Israel are wider than ever. But until we address the staggering cost of living and the psychological weight of leaving the "village" behind, the 31,000 who arrive will remain a drop in an ocean of 8 million. In 2026, aliyah is no longer about escaping an enemy; it is about choosing a destiny. The question is no longer "Can we get in?" but "Can we afford to stay?" - ToI blog 02.01.26

Ayoub, Amine / The 'Zombie' Caliphate - How The MB Survived Crackdowns By Going Corporate - In Washington and Arab capitals, a comforting narrative has taken hold: The Muslim Brotherhood is finished. We are told that the Sisi regime in Egypt has crushed them, that Jordan has shuttered their offices, and that the "Islamist Winter" is finally over. The recent executive order by President Trump to review the group for terror designation is seen as the final nail in the coffin. But if you look away from the empty political offices and follow the money, you will find a terrifying reality. The MB hasn't gone bankrupt; it has simply gone corporate. While Western intelligence agencies applaud the closure of dusty headquarters in Amman, they are ignoring the €27 million mega-complexes rising in France, the €4 million real estate fortresses in Berlin, and the terror-linked holding companies trading openly on the Istanbul Stock Exchange. The Brotherhood has transformed from a mass movement into a transnational financial conglomerate — a "Zombie Caliphate" that is legally bulletproof and wealthier than ever. - On The Egyptian "Catch-and-Release" + Turkey: The NATO Safe Haven for Terror Finance + Europe: The "Concrete" Fortress - The MB has executed a strategic pivot to Europe, replacing "liquid" assets (cash) with "fixed" assets (real estate) protected by Western property laws. In Germany, the UK-based Europe Trust purchased a massive property in Berlin's Wedding district for €4 million. This isn't just a building; it is a command center for the Deutsche Muslimische Gemeinschaft (DMG), insulated from German intelligence by British corporate deeds. In France, the situation is even more brazen. The Al-Noor Center in Mulhouse — a massive complex featuring a mosque, school, and swimming pool — was built at a cost of €27 million. Intelligence links it to Qatar Charity's "Ghaith Initiative," which has poured over €120 million into 140 such projects across Europe. These are not community centers; they are forward operating bases for a parallel society, subsidized by Doha and protected by European property rights. - The West is fighting a 21st-century financial empire with 20th-century police tactics. We raid homes in Vienna while they move crypto in Istanbul. We seize crumbling offices in Jordan while they buy prime real estate in Berlin. The MB is not dead. It is alive, well, and trading on the Istanbul Stock Exchange. Until the US and its allies target the enablers — the Turkish banks clearing Trend GYO transactions, the Qatari transfers to Mulhouse, and the shell companies in London — we are merely cutting the grass while the roots grow deeper - MEF 01.01.26

2025

Gochin, Grant Arthur / Europe's Suicide \(Part 4\) - Self-Inflicted Wound – Lobotomy, Replacement, and Collapse: this final part analyzes the economic and demographic suicide of a continent that chose to purge its own intellectual engine. - My dedication to these facts is forged in the ashes of the 150 relatives I have identified through Yad Vashem — the small fraction of my family whose names were not completely erased by their European neighbors. Their slaughter is the reason truth and Zionism are my only legacies. I carry the weight of those unknowable names to ensure that the factory settings of European hate are never again mistaken for moral progress. - Zionism is survival for Jews. It is the first time in thousands of years we have been able to defend ourselves. We do not seek the approval of those who plundered our homes and murdered our children; we seek the strength of our own sovereignty. My legacy is to ensure that the next generation of Jews may rely ... rather on the ironclad reality of a Jewish state that can, and will, defend its own. Israel will thrive; Europe is over. Yet, this observation is not one of vindication but of reasoned concern: Reflection on these evidence-based patterns could guide better decisions, fostering a more inclusive and prosperous future for all. - ToI blog 30.12.25 (> Parts 1-4 together)

@ Eydar, Dror / A culture of lies - The false propaganda claims that "Jesus was Palestinian" is gaining traction around the world. Jesus was a Jew who lived in Judea and the Land of Israel. The name "Palestine" was imposed on this land by Emperor Hadrian roughly a century later, for the same reason antisemites continue to use it today. - ILH 30.12.25

@ Boyden, Michael / Jesus was Palestinian - No one should be surprised by the billboard in Times Square during Christmas week paid for by the American-Arab Discrimination Committee claiming that "Jesus is Palestinian". After all, it is only weeks since the Pope unveiled the Vatican's annual nativity scene featuring baby Jesus in a crib swaddled in a Palestinian keffiyeh symbolizing resistance against Israel. - But let us return to the billboard. If Jesus, who was a Jew, is a Palestinian, then presumably all Jews are Palestinians! That must be particularly true of all Israelis. Indeed, the Christmas carol proclaims: "Noel, Noel, born is the King of Israel". And if that were not sufficient evidence, then it should be noted that Jews living in Israel at the time of the British mandate were designated as Palestinians. The attempt by the so-called "Palestinians" of today to appropriate the term and even claim that Jesus was one of them is, of course, both a travesty and historically inaccurate. Last year, the PA's Advisor on Religious Affairs, Mahmoud Al-Habbash, declared: "For thousands of years, Jerusalem was a Palestinian, Arab, and Canaanite city, and it is an Islamic Christian city. We do not recognize any religious right of theirs (i.e., the Jews). Even the Al-Buraq Wall that they claim is the Western Wall is an Islamic waqf. All the claims and lies with which they [the Jews] are attempting to invent an alleged right for themselves will not change the Arab, Islamic, and Palestinian identity of the holy city of Jerusalem". Having denied the historical Jewish connection with Israel, Palestinian apologists now argue that Jesus was one of them! If Jesus was a Jew, then how could that be? - ToI 29.12.25

Halpern, Micah / Europe is drifting away from Israel, toward Iran's worldview - As demographics and politics shift, Europe and the US are quietly rethinking their alliances, and Israel is paying the price.- Europe has become a branch, an extension, of Islam – and it has a name. Today, there is a phenomenon that is referred to as European Islam. Islam has begun to cover Europe. While it is true that several EU countries are trying to fight this new phenomenon, trying to hold on to their long-held ways. They seem to be losing the battle. Europe is more and more rapidly, and more and more evidently, shifting away from alliances with the US and, even more so, with Israel. Because their population is shifting toward Islam. - When the population shifts, so too will a country's attitude toward Israel. While most European nations do not conduct their census based on religious affiliation, these are common knowledge, guestimates for significant European cities: metropolitan area of Paris is estimated to be around 10–15% Muslim, with higher concentrations in certain suburbs. London is estimated to be around 12–15% Muslim, with much higher percentages in the areas of Tower Hamlets and Newham. Birmingham ~20–22% + Manchester ~ 15–16% + Brussels ~ 20–25% + Marseille ~ 25–30% + Rotterdam ~ 20–25% + Amsterdam ~15–25% + The Hague & Utrecht have around a 13–15% + Berlin is around 9–12% + Cologne ~10–12% + Vienna ~10–12% + Copenhagen ~ 10%. Stockholm & Malmö each ~ 15–20% Muslims. - Israel and the US must find much more effective ways to change the tide and bring Western and Israeli contributions to the forefront of every student and every citizen, not just in the US but also in Europe. - jp 29.12.25

Ayoub, Amine / The euro in the collection box: How Western 'charity' bought Hamas's rockets - The brilliance of the Islamist funding machine lies in its ability to exploit the open borders and open banking systems of the free world. - Yet, the ideology that powers this machine – the ideology that says murdering Jews is a form of "resistance" worthy of charitable support – is alive and well on American college campuses and in American nonprofits. We see the same rhetoric, the same flags, and likely, the same money flows, hiding behind the shield of civil liberties to fund the destruction of the Jewish state. The arrest of Hannoun is a victory, but it is a drop in the ocean. - jp 28.12.25 (> Jaffa 28.12.)

Schwaeber-Issan, Cookie / Instead of tackling antisemitism, cities worldwide are placing Jews under house arrest - Rather than clamping down on blatant persecution of Jews, in the towns where they live and at the places they frequent, Jews are being told to avoid gathering because it's too dangerous. - It's not just the Jews and other potential groups who will be told to stay home, feeling as if they are under house arrest. It will be the authorities who will be forced to confront their own cowardice, acknowledging that they, too, are under a type of house arrest, no longer free to act as the leaders they were elected to be. As the saying goes: what starts with the Jews doesn't end with the Jews. This type of ethnic and religious intolerance has a domino effect, keeping everyone who refuses to fight against it under a perpetual lockdown, of one kind or another. - jp 27.12.25

Legesse, Shmuel / Zionism didn't start in Europe, and Ethiopian Jews can prove it - For more than 2,500 years, Ethiopian Jewish leaders preserved Jewish law, ritual, and identity in one of the most isolated Jewish communities on Earth. - The Jewish return to Zion was not invented by power. It was sustained by powerlessness. Antisemitism thrives on the idea that Jews are temporary guests in history. Anti-Zionism repackages this idea with better vocabulary. Ethiopian Jewish leaders dismantle it entirely. They are living proof that Jewish attachment to Jerusalem is neither racial nor recent, neither colonial nor cosmetic. - If anti-Zionism claims moral seriousness, it should answer one simple question: What do you do with Jews who never stopped believing they belonged in Jerusalem? So far, silence has been the loudest response. - jp 27.12.25

Rakhamilova, Zina / Christmas markets are now terror targets - Christians must come to terms with a difficult reality: they too are targets. The belief that terrorism is someone else's problem, confined to Jews, Israelis, or distant conflict zones, has been shattered. Churches, Christmas markets, concerts, and holiday celebrations now sit squarely in the crosshairs of violent Islamist extremism. - ILH 25.12.25

Orr, Tim / Trump's broken promise: From 'America First' to 'America Only - and antisemitism' - (which) offers the deceptive solace of an explanation that seems illuminating while lacking honesty. It elucidates the reasons for the failure of withdrawal without conceding that withdrawal is neither practical nor advantageous. In doing so, it protects the ideology from having to look at itself, even if it means lying. When looked at closely, the rise in antisemitism among some right-wing groups is not an unusual or backward step. It's a sign. Trump didn't bring nationalism; he showed how weak it is. The movement is running out of ideas as "America First" turns into "America Only." - Jews are the symbol of those limits, not because they have unusual power, but because their history shows how things can be contradictory. In this sense, antisemitism isn't just hatred of Jews. It is animosity towards unresolved modernity, directed at those who, by virtue of history, refuse to vanish. - ToI blog 25.12.25

Gomez, Jose Lev A / From Jesus to Real Genocide: Palestinian Reckoning - The Christian presence in Palestinian society — once ancient, visible, and integral—should never need an obituary. Yet today, it does. - In recent years, repeated incidents across Palestinian Authority-controlled areas have revealed a troubling pattern: Christian symbols vandalized, churches threatened, religious minorities intimidated—not by foreign occupiers, not by invading armies, but by fellow Palestinians shaped by a growing culture of Islamist intolerance. - One such incident occurred recently in Jenin, where a Christmas tree was set on fire and desecrated in public view. The episode was quickly dismissed by local officials as vandalism, an aberration, or youthful provocation. But its symbolism was unmistakable—and familiar to Palestinian Christians who have watched their space in society steadily shrink. - Palestinian Christianity did not wither because Jews governed it but because Christians were abandoned—politically inconvenient, numerically weak, and ideologically expendable. Nevertheless, the West prefers fairy tales: oppressed Palestinians, evil Israelis, clean moral binaries. Nevertheless, reality is uglier. The disappearance of Palestinian Christians is among the clearest indictments of Islamist radicalization within Palestinian society—and of the international community's refusal to confront it. Beyond dispute, one of the oldest continuous Christian communities on earth is being reduced to heritage tourism... amid hymns, candlelight, and comfortable illusions, it is worth remembering that the strongest empirical protector of Christian life in the Holy Land is not slogans, ideology, or international advocacy—but the State of Israel. - ToI blog 24.12.25

Bozkurt, Abdullah / EU Confronts a New Menace: Turkish Gangs Born from Ankara's Institutional Breakdown - Ankara's Hollowed-Out Institutions Are Driving Transnational Mafia Warfare on European Soil - The systematic dismantling of Turkey's law enforcement agencies, intelligence services and judiciary over the past decade — carried out through mass purges, the appointment of partisan loyalists with no regard for merit and widespread corruption reaching the highest levels of political power under President Recep Tayyip Erdogan and his far-right Nationalist Movement Party (MHP) allies — together with poor management of the faltering economy has created the perfect environment for a new generation of mafia networks to grow. These state-enabled criminal structures now pose a growing security threat far beyond Turkey's borders. - Spanish police, already accustomed to dealing with British, Russian, Balkan and North African criminal organizations, now find themselves confronting something new: transnational Turkish gangs that operate like armed paramilitary factions. - The earliest and most notorious of the new generation is the Barış Boyun Group, which formed in Istanbul's Beyoğlu-Kasımpaşa district. - Although many of the leaders have fled abroad, they continue to direct their operations from overseas, with several killings in Europe and in neighboring Georgia already attributed to these networks. - European law enforcement agencies now face the challenge of confronting highly mobile, heavily armed and digitally coordinated Turkish gangs shaped by a decade of institutional decay in their home country. These groups not only represent a new criminal threat but also are a symptom of how the breakdown of state capacity in Turkey has produced security externalities across Europe. - MEF 24.12.25

Gal, Shay / Europe's energy dependence moves to Turkey, Israel offers a way out - Europe has not only failed to free itself from Russian gas; it has transferred leverage to a state that openly uses energy as a political instrument. Turkey now positions itself as a hub capable of blending, relabeling, and reselling gas, while extracting strategic concessions in return. - ILH 22.12.25

Medad, Yisrael / Sacrificing the Jews will not save Western civilization - The massacres, the pogroms and the terror, are focused on Israel's eradication: to be achieved by crushing Jews and the Jewish spirit. - jp 21.12.25

Gomes, Jules / ISIS Condemnation of Christmas Threatens Celebrations in Europe - Islamists Seek to Push Western Christians into Dhimmitude, Scholar Warns - "Europe simply welcomed millions of people who were Muslim, who were not highly educated, and who bought into terrorist ideology and are willing to commit terrorist acts and have a culture that is incompatible with Christianity," Daniel Di Martino, an immigration fellow at the Manhattan Institute, lamented. "And some of them actually hate Christianity, and that's why they target Christmas markets." - "...closing such markets for security reasons only emboldens Islamic supremacist jihadists—that's a 'win' for them," - MEF 19.12.25 (> Seligman 19.12. > ja 20.12.)

Frick, Daniel / Cybersicherheit - „Digitale Souveränität für Europa“ – nicht ohne Israel - Angesichts der (übermächtigen) Großmächte USA und China suchen Deutschland und Europa nach einem Weg, sich im digitalen Raum zu behaupten. Vorerst geschieht dies unter Rückgriff auf israelische Hilfe, wie ein Beispiel zeigt. - IN 19.12.25

Thaidigsmann, Michael (mht) / IS droht mit Anschlägen auf Synagogen und Kirchen im Newsletter »Al-Naba«, den die Terrortruppe jede Woche in den sozialen Netzwerken verbreitet. Den muslimischen Flüchtlingen rufe man zu: »Ist es nicht an der Zeit, (...) den göttlichen Befehlen zu folgen, die Juden und Christen zu bekämpfen, die in eurer Mitte auf jeder Straße sind, mit euren Atemzügen und ihren Atemzügen sich vermischend und euer Feuer und ihr Feuer einander sehend? Ihre Synagogen und Kirchen liegen vor euch. Also eilt, ergreift die Initiative und nutzt die Gelegenheit, denn noch ist Feiertagszeit, und der Markt des Paradieses ist geöffnet.« - In Belgien wurden im März 2016 zwei schwere dschihadistische Terrorattacken verübt, bei denen insgesamt 33 Menschen starben und 300 verletzt wurden. Bereits im Mai 2014 stürmte ein islamistischer Terrorist das Jüdische Museum in Brüssel und ermordete vier Menschen. - ja 19.12.25

Asa-El, Amotz / An open letter to Australian PM Albanese, after Bondi Beach shooting - Now, as you stare at 15 bodies in your own living room, it's not too late for you to change course, and tell your people six words: Australia is at war, with jihadism - Listen well, Anthony: that's how it started in Europe. Antisemites marched in the streets, synagogues were torched, and Jews were shamed, boycotted, and accused. The accusations were absurd, but the free world refused to fight for its values - not politically, certainly not militarily, not even rhetorically. - It all happened in broad daylight, but the free world did nothing - not because it agreed with the antisemites, but because it refused to believe it had an enemy, an enemy that would settle for nothing less than war, the war over the free world's life. Freedom's enemies knew this, and that calculation is what made them use the Jews as their Armageddon warm-up act. Targeting the Jews, they knew, would keep the free world sedated while its enemies consolidated their power and prepared for the real war, the apocalypse they were determined to unleash. That is jihadism's current ploy. That is how you became its hostage, and your country its stage. And that is the enemy you must now help unmask, target, and defeat. - There are, of course, many differences between what happened in my grandparents' Europe and what happened between your Australia and our war. The biggest difference is that this time the Jews are fighting back. That is why the mobs you faced were not out to change any Israeli policy, as your actions implied, but to deny us Israelis' right to fight. On the battlefield, they told themselves, Israel defeats us, but with Australians like you, we might defeat them from the rear. Now, as you stare at 15 bodies in your own living room, it's not too late for you to change course, and tell your people six words - Australia is at war, with jihadism - and the rest of civilization another six words: we are all in this together. In between these statements, you can say two words to us Israelis, especially to those of us who have spent a lifetime fighting for peace: forgive me. - jp 19.12.25 - (> Xtra / Sydney Terror on Jews)

Puder, Joseph / Muslim Brotherhood saturating Europe - For too many naive, ultra-liberal European elitists who have clung to the belief that Muslim minorities would assimilate and integrate into their cultural and social fabric, a colossal surprise awaits them. They have ignored the undisguised MB motto that clearly states: "Allah is our objective, the Prophet is our leader, the Koran is our constitution, Jihad is our way, dying is our highest hope." - The size of the Muslim population in Europe has, in recent years, risen to 46 million in large measure due to Europe's liberal elitists (i.e., former German Chancellor Angela Merkel) policies. Muslim women in Europe have a total fertility rate (TFR) of about 2.6 children per woman, compared to 1.6 for non-Muslims. Europe's overall TFR is 1.5, well below replacement. The European non-Muslim population is in steep decline, while significant growth is coming from the Muslim sectors, particularly in Austria, Belgium, Denmark, France, Germany, the Netherlands, Norway and Sweden. As a result of this growth, it will be only a matter of time before Islamic law becomes a reality in the EU and in the UK. - The MB rejects European values such as pluralism, tolerance, secularism, democratic civil society and individual rights. Gilles Kepel, the French political scientist and Arabist, has noted that the Islamic mission goes far beyond protecting Muslims in Europe; it promotes the Islamization of European society. - The leftist elites are wedded to multiculturalism and do not seem to want to protect their heritage by combating the Islamist menace. They are being aided by the media and academia. If drastic measures are taken against the Islamist invasion, Europe is clearly doomed. - jns 18.12.25 (German vs. > IH 19.12.)

Teboul, Eran M + Edmund Fitton-Brown / Europe is sleepwalking into the MBs long game - The late Yusuf al-Qaradawi, one of the leading intellectuals of the MB, said this in Doha, Qatar, in 2007: "Islam will conquer Europe without resorting to the sword or fighting. The conquest will be through da'wah and ideology". - True believers in his book, "have to spread Islam to the best of their ability, multiply their numbers". This prophecy was a calculated evaluation of the structure of European countries. Qaradawi understood their vulnerabilities and how they can be exploited. The MB's long-term strategy exploits democracy itself, and Europe is still refusing to confront the threat... Austria is the only European country to ban the Brotherhood, and this has not led to any catastrophic breach in community relations. It is Muslims who suffer most from Islamist bullying, which usurps their voices and stifles their freedoms. - jp 18.12.25

Rubin, Michael / After Australia, Will Jewish People in Europe Be Next? - Australia Is the Canary in the Coal Mine, but the Real Explosion May Soon Come in Ireland, Norway, and Turkey, whose governments follow Albanese and Wong's cynical strategy of throwing Jewish people under the bus to appease militant constituencies. - Ireland may be 10,000 miles away from Australia, but

Dublin's leadership repeats the actions of Canberra's and yet appears dumbfounded as Ireland becomes the antisemitism capital of Europe. - MEF 18.12.25

@ Eilon, Dov / Abbas, der 7. Oktober – und die unbequeme Wahrheit über die PA - s. Aussagen stellen das Bild der PA als „moderater Partner“ erneut infrage. - IH 18.12.25

@ jns / Report: Abbas called Oct. 7 'the greatest day in Palestinian history' - The P.A. leader allegedly praised the Hamas-led massacre on the morning of the attack. - 18.12.25

Eytan, Freddy / The impotence of the West in the face of Islamist antisemitism - The waves of antisemitism and acts of terror cannot be eradicated without an international strategy. What's needed is concrete action through draconian laws, including freezing bank accounts and cracking down on incitement to hatred of Jews in the streets and mosques. - ILH 17.12.25

Rehov, Pierre / The 'Multicultural' Terrorist Threat Inside Europe: The Exported War No One Wants to Name - What would a serious policy look like? 1st, full exposure and the expansion of existing terror designations: not just banning Hamas as an abstract entity, but shutting down its front groups, closing its "charities" and prosecuting those who fund or glorify its violence. 2nd, conditioning all funding for Palestinian NGOs on clear, independently verified rejection of terrorism and incitement. No more American or European funding, period, for organizations that celebrate terrorist "martyrs" and teach children to hate Jews, Christians, or any other racial or religious group. 3rd, Europe must finally confront the indoctrination dimension. This means holding universities accountable for campus groups that praise terrorism under academic cover, enforcing existing laws against incitement, and protecting Jewish and pro-Israel students with the same zeal shown for every other minority. It also means recognizing the obvious: When demonstrators chant "globalize the intifada," they are not calling for peace, they are calling for the expansion of a global jihadist war. - Europeans must abandon the illusion that the "Palestinian cause" is a harmless protest disconnected from terrorism. Hamas itself, backed by Qatar, Turkey and Iran, has explained over and over that Europe is part of their battlefield. The only question is whether European leaders will listen to their own police and intelligence services, and Israel's Mossad, or whether they will continue pretending that a war raging against them has no name and does not exist. - GI 17.12.25 (German vs. > aud 18.12. > Rehov / Pogroms - video 2024 1:27h)

Blech, Benjamin / Why should we care what Mark Ruffalo thinks about Marwan Barghouti? It's not just that celebrities calling for the release of a convicted terrorist are wrong; it's that they risk drowning out real expertise, real voices and real victims - The world is witnessing a remarkable and disquieting shift: celebrities once content to peddle fashion trends or lifestyle choices are increasingly dipping their toes, or rather diving headfirst, into the murky waters of geopolitics. The recent open letter, signed by over 200 high-profile cultural figures, urging the release of Marwan Barghouti from Israeli prison, is not just a political statement: it is a testament to the astounding ego and misplaced confidence of those who believe that cinematic fame equates to geopolitical insight. - At stake is more than a man's freedom — it is the integrity of reason, responsibility, and the very purpose of influence... in the end, influence is not about how many follow you on social media or how loudly your statement is retweeted — it is about whether your words help build understanding or merely build illusions. This latest plea for the release of Marwan Barghouti by hundreds of celebrities, many with no direct stake or expertise in the conflict, feels less like moral clarity than moral entitlement. - Let us be clear: acting on a screen does not give you the authority to act in the world. And our world deserves better than the kind of make-believe that confuses celebrity with conscience. - ToI blog 14.12.25

> Sydney Massacre on Jewish Life 12-14-25

@ Dudley, Michaela / Der Song Contest, Israel und die antiisraelische Stimmungsmache - Nemo gibt ESC-Pokal zurück – ein Akt, der vorgibt, moralisch zu sein, in Wahrheit aber die Opfer der Hamas ignoriert und die einseitige, antiisraelische Stimmung im europäischen Kulturraum offenlegt. - mw 13.12.

@ Arémi, Jasmin / Wenn es beim Song Contest nicht um Musik, sondern um Hochmut geht - Die Forderung nach einem Ausschluss Israels aus dem Eurovision Song Contest löst kein einziges Problem im Osten, sagt aber viel über die europäische Lust am moralischen Hochmut aus. - mw 13.12.25

@ Collins, Liat / Playing the dangerous boycott game - From the UN to Eurovision to Guinness, global arenas are turning against Israel, revealing a deeper campaign to delegitimize the Jewish state... - One thing is clear from the UN plenum, the Eurovision stage, and Guinness World Records: Israel is constantly being judged by a different standard. It's a win for antisemitism and hatred, and a massive loss for the world. - jp 12.12.25

Schindler, Hans-Jakob / Hamas is a terror threat to Europe - it's high time to act - We need to disrupt more effectively its financial structures, both those across the continent as well as those located in the territory of our NATO ally Turkey - jc 10.12.25

Simons, Alan / Have Christians and Jews lost their humanity? - Today, hate and intolerance, coupled with the splenetic, small-minded antisemite bigots of this world, are initiated by global demagogues of the far-left, extreme right and various Islamist groups. They are not interested in helping to broaden and deepen the spiritual life of humanity. - Collectively, their sole aim is to incite hate, intolerance and antisemitism through all sectors of society through blatant lies, misinformation and propaganda. - These racists - let's call them for what they are - profess to be utterly convinced that their knowledge of the Middle East and of Jewish history is boundless. Coupled with their convoluted conspiracy theories, they are unshakable in their hatred not just of Israel, but of all Jews. The Jew-haters continue to plod their way around the globe and have more than ever consolidated their objectives and strategy, recruiting journalists and social media to their cause. They have made successful inroads that must be recognized. Throughout the years ahead, we must continue to hold these harebrained miscreants accountable for their virulent Judeophobia and bigotry. Any slight passivity from us will be perceived as a sign of weakness, thus helping their cause further. - It is universally recognized that without peace and security, there can be no meaningful development within a region. Progress in conflict prevention, resolution and management is a prerequisite for Canadian Jews as much as it is in other areas of the world. Yet, in Canada, as Jews, we have preached to our own choir so much so that we have forgotten how to communicate with our Christian neighbors, and they, as a whole, do not know how to communicate with Jews. - To quote Dietrich Bonhoeffer, "Silence in the face of evil is itself evil ... Not to speak is to speak. Not to act is to act" - ToI blog 09.12.25

Bulshtein, Ariel / 'Europe is lost': Muslim Brotherhood infiltration strategy - Europe is funding, some- times unknow- ingly from taxpayer coffers, organizations linked to the Muslim Brotherhood, and these organi- zations are advancing a subversive ideology aimed at changing the continent's face from within. - ILH 08.12.25

Sadek, Hossam / Muslimbruderschaft plant weltweit Gründung alternativer Organisationen - MB- Vertreter haben kürzlich Konferenzen abgehalten, wie nach der Entscheidung der USA, wichtige Zweige der Gruppe als terroristische Organisationen einzustufen, vorgegangen werden soll. - mw 07.12.25

Bozkurt, Abdullah / A Secret Turkish Embassy Unit in the Hague orchestrates intelligence operations across Europe. The revelation exposes yet another layer of Ankara's increasingly aggressive campaign of transnational tepression - the covert operations intensified after the appointment of ambassador Fatma Ceren Yazgan, an intelligence operative with a long career at the MIT + Turkish diplomatic missions have been repurposed into forward operating bases for aggressive surveillance and intelligence-gathering activities targeting critics abroad. - this raises urgent questions for Dutch authorities and other European governments about the extent of Turkey's intelligence activities on their soil. - As Ankara deepens its practice of using diplo- matic missions as extensions of its security and intelligence apparatus, European states may find themselves forced to respond more decisively through expulsions, sanctions or legal action to safeguard their sovereignty and protect the exiles who sought refuge within their borders. - MEF 06.12.25

Rafizadeh, Majid / Iran's Regime Is on Its Knees — Why for God's Sake Revive It? - The EU is reportedly preparing to sit down with Iran to negotiate on its nuclear program -- again + this inter- national charm offen- sive may appear to be a constructive effort toward dialogue, but a dryer analysis suggests that such negotia- tions risk handing a monumental victory to a vicious regime that is vulnerable and weak -- and rabidly opportunistic. By offering Iran another platform for legitimacy, the EU and the UN are shoring up a monumentally brutal regime at a time when, for the West's own good, it should be applying pressure, not extending a hand. + By granting legitimacy to a regime that represses its own citizens, the EU and UN disgrace themselves as well as betraying those Iranians fighting for basic human rights. + The efforts by the EU and the IAEA to resume talks with Iran are misguided and, frankly, dangerous. Iran's regime apparently does not see a need for reforming or have the slightest intention of doing so. - There is an imperative to consider the voices of the Iranian people, who have risked their lives, again and again, for justice and freedom. Tens of thousands of Iranian citizens have taken to the streets to oppose the Iranian regime over the years despite severe consequences, yet negotiations with Tehran often occur without the slightest interest in their plight. - GI 06.12.25

jp / Trump policy doc. says Europe risks 'civilizational erasure', aims to avoid Mideast 'forever wars' - The document rarely mentions Israel, and mentions that one of the US administration's main goals in the Middle East is avoiding "forever wars." - Washington wants Europe to take over the majority of NATO's conventional defense capabilities, from intelligence to missiles, a tight deadline that struck some European officials as unrealistic. - 06.12.25 (> Kogan 06.12. > Frantzman 06.12.)

Lefkovits, Etgar / „Der Antisemitismus in Europa wird noch radikalere Formen annehmen“ - „Die Büchse der Pandora des Antisemitismus wurde geöffnet“, erklärte Hanna Veiler, Präsidentin der Europ. Union jüdischer Studenten, gegenüber JNS im Vorfeld einer Konferenz zum Thema akademischer Antisemitismus im Europäischen Parlament. - IH 05.12.25

Starr, Michael / Iran, Qatar, other foreign actors backing anti-Israel demonstrations, LA Israeli con- sulate says - The Israeli LA consulate warned that authorities need to pay attention to aggressive and violent protests before another Washington shooting occurs. - jp 05.12.25

Klein, Zvika / Europe once expelled Jewish musicians, now it hunts the only Jewish state - European broadcasters boycotting Israel's Eurovision Song Contest participation frame it as moral courage, but the instinct mirrors patterns that shaped early Nazi-era exclusions of Jewish culture. - Europe does not need to go back there. It is still not too late for broadcasters in Madrid, Dublin, Ljubljana and Hilversum to realize that boycotting Jewish participation in a song contest is not moral courage. It is moral amnesia. - jp 05.12.25

Behre, Silja + Ephraim Kishon / »Wie Israel sich die Sympathien der Welt verscherzte« - Kishon wiedergelesen: ein ebenso entschiedener wie hellsichtiger Kritiker der Nahost-Politik der UN. In seiner Uno-Satire von 1956 greift er die Erfahrung auf, dass die militärische Selbstverteidigung des Judenstaats nur zum Preis seiner weltweiten Ächtung zu haben war. Angriff auf Israel, aus allen Richtungen und an allen Fronten: Das war die literarische Szenerie für diese Satire aus... 1956, als Israel im Zuge der Suez-Krise zum ersten Mal als Militärmacht im Kalten Krieg wahrgenommen wurde... Um gegen die von dem ägyptischen Präsidenten Gamal Abd al-Nasser im Sommer 1956 vollzogene Nationalisierung des Suez-Kanals vorzugehen, hatten Großbritannien, Frankreich und Israel ein gemeinsames Vorgehen besprochen. Der Plan Nassers hätte Israel nicht nur von der wichtigen Handelsroute abgeschnitten, es ging dem jungen Staat auch um die Wiederherstellung der Sicherheit an seiner Grenze zu dem von Ägypten kontrollierten Gaza-Streifen, von dem aus die Fedajin – von Ägypten ausgebildete und bewaffnete palästinensische Kämpfer – immer wieder terroristische Angriffe auf die grenznahen Ortschaften verübt hatten. Dem Erstangriff Israels auf Ägypten... folgten die abgesprochenen britischen und französischen Angriffe. Doch unter den Drohungen der.. SU und dem Druck der USA, ... zogen sich Frankreich und Großbritannien zurück. Militärisch überlegen, zog Israel dennoch eine Lehre aus Suez: nicht auf die Hilfe anderer hoffen, sondern sich selbst verteidigen können. Angriff auf Israel, aus allen Richtungen und an allen Fronten: Das war die literarische Szenerie für eine Satire von Ephraim Kishon aus dem Herbst 1956, als Israel im Zuge der Suez-Krise zum ersten Mal als Militärmacht im Kalten Krieg wahrgenommen wurde. Zur Erinnerung: Um gegen die von dem ägyptischen Präsidenten al-Nasser im Sommer 1956 vollzogene Nationalisierung des Suez-Kanals vorzugehen, hatten GB, Frankreich und Israel ein gemeinsames Vorgehen besprochen. Der Plan Nassers hätte Israel nicht nur von der wichtigen Handelsroute abgeschnitten, es ging dem jungen Staat auch um die Wiederherstellung der Sicherheit an seiner Grenze zu dem von Ägypten kontrollierten Gaza-Streifen, von dem aus die Fedajin – von Ägypten ausgebildete und bewaffnete palästinensische Kämpfer – immer wieder terroristische Angriffe auf die grenznahen Ortschaften verübt hatten. Militärisch überlegen, zog Israel dennoch eine Lehre aus Suez: nicht auf die Hilfe anderer hoffen, sondern sich selbst verteidigen können. - jw 04.12.25

@ Isaac, David / Akten aus Gaza enthüllen den Einfluss der Hamas auf NGOs in Gaza - NGOs in Gaza sind Teil eines „institutionalisierten Zwangssystems“, das den Zielen der Terrororganisation dient, so ein neuer Bericht von NGO Monitor. - IH 04.12.25

@ Starr, Michael / Hamas infiltrated, manipulated aid NGOs, captured Gaza documents reveal - "NGOs in Gaza do not operate independently or neutrally," NGO Monitor said. "They are embedded in an institutionalized framework of coercion, intimidation, and surveillance that serves Hamas' terror." - "Governments and international organizations are planning to provide billions of dollars for the rebuilding of Gaza and will partner with numerous NGOs to reconstruct infrastructure, provide municipal services like utilities and education, and probably distribute cash payments- We now know which NGOs and their local affiliates have been propping up the Hamas terror regime." - jp 03.12.25

Witte, Leticia / Jüdische Organisationen prangern »Geißel« Antisemitismus an - Im Fokus steht dieses Mal Australien. Es ist Gastgeber einer Konferenz der internationalen jüdischen Initiative »J7«. Sie stellt Zahlen zu Judenhass auf dem Kontinent vor - und spricht von historischen Höchstständen - ja 02.12.25

Zilberman, Yoel / There is only one way to protect Jews against antisemitism - Jewish communities often find themselves on the front lines alone, without a coordinated Jewish defense system and without any rapid, professional response. A new approach is needed, one that creates a permanent global structure capable of providing a safety net and an immediate response in an emergency. - ILH 01.12.25

Rosove, John L / The Altruistic Personality Revisited - Review on an older book - The Altruistic Personality: Rescuers of Jews in Nazi Europe – What Led Ordinary Men and Women to Risk Their Lives on Behalf of Others? by Samuel P. and Pearl M. Oliner with an Introduction by Rabbi Harold Schulweis. The Free Press, NY 1988 > pdf - ToI blog 30.11.25 (> Oliner 1989 > Keneally 1988 > Varese + Yaish 1988 - 33 p. > Finolf 2009 > Giebel 1987 > Schwam 2021)

Akunis, Ofir / Der Westen steht vor einer Entscheidung: Demokratie oder Scharia - Mit einer Verzehnfachung der Zahl der Muslime in weniger als einem halben Jahrhundert befindet sich sogar die USA auf einem gefährlichen Weg. - IH 30.11.25

Finkelman, Eliezer / What Do Antizionists Want? - Do antizionists oppose genocide? - Do they make that charge against any other country or organization? + Do they make that charge against the enemies of Israel? + Do antizionists oppose ethnoreligious states? + Do antizionists ever make that charge against other ethno- religious democracies, such as India? Do they ever make that charge against ethnoreligious non-democracies, such as the many Islamic republics? + Do antizionists oppose white settler colonial states? + Do antizionists also oppose real, classical white settler colonial states, such as New Zealand, Australia, Canada, the United States of America, and those Central and South American states which fit that description neatly? + Do anti- zionists oppose ethnoreligious states? They always repeat the charge against Israel that it is a unique example of an ethnoreligious state, unworthy of the name democracy. Do antizionists ever make that charge against other ethnoreligious democracies, such as India? Do they ever make that charge against ethnoreligious non- democracies, such as the many Islamic republics? - Testing the charges raised by antizionists with Occam's Razor, you see that antizionists generally do not apply their charges to any other situations on earth. The charges do not determine the antizionists' commitments. Only one feature unites all these charges: Israel. Antizionists trumpet these charges, not because they believe in the charges, but because they want to destroy Israel, a real country where more than 7 million Jews, and more than 2 million non-Jews, currently live. - ToI blog 30.11.25

Hanson, Jim / Does the U.S. Need Extreme Vetting? - Yes, and the MEF Knows How - Dangerous people with radical beliefs are being allowed to enter the United States. Sometimes they enter illegally, but in some cases we have invited them in, as is the case with the Afghan man who shot two National Guardsmen in Washington, D.C. MEF endorsed the idea of Smoking Out Islamists via Extreme Vetting when it was proposed by President Trump in his first term. Our founder Daniel Pipes said then. - "I shall argue these are doable tasks and the executive order provides the basis to achieve them. At the same time, they are expensive and time- consuming, demanding great skill. Keeping out Islamists can be done but not easily." The piece laid out a comprehensive approach to identifying and excluding Islamists from entry. It seems that policy needs a fresh look now. MEF Chief Strategist Jim Hanson discussed how this applies to the shooting in our capital and the President's announcement of major reviews of immigration and asylum policies in an appearance on FOX News. - MEF 29.11.25

Hirsch, Maurice / The PA plan to steal hundreds of millions in foreign aid - If the international community is genuine in its desire to provide aid to Palestinians and not to further line the corrupt PA officials' pockets, it should reconsider the manner in which the aid is provided. - the Israeli government should step in and, using the provisions of already existing laws, prevent the PA's further infraction of Israeli sovereignty. Additional donations should only be given subject to the removal of any PA influence over the hospital and the replacement of the NGO management team. Both Israel and the international donor community should reject leaving the situation unaddressed. - jns 28.11.25 (German vs. > IH 27.11.)

Choudhury, Salah Uddin Shoaib / Qatar's Campus Conquest: Importing MB Policies in a War for the Future of the West - Qatar's massive global influence operation represents one of the most serious ideological threats facing the democratic world today. Through its ideological loyalty to the MB and strategic funding in the West, Qatar is reshaping Western educational institutions, influencing political discourse, and fostering hostile attitudes toward democratic values and Western allies, especially Israel. - Unless democracies take decisive action -- through transparency laws, foreign-funding oversight, campus reform, and ideological vigilance -- Qatar's anti-democratic ideological offensive will continue hollowing out the foundations of free societies throughout the world. - GI 28.11.25

Kara, Ayoub / Why the Muslim Brotherhood is a threat to Israel and Europe - The question is no longer whether the organization is dangerous. The question is whether free societies will find the courage to defend themselves - For years, policymakers in Israel and across Europe have tried to separate the MB's political facade from its extremist foundation. They hoped that engaging with the Brotherhood's "moderate" vocabulary could foster stability, integrate Muslim communities and serve as a firewall against violent radicalism. But events unfolding in Europe—supported by multiple intelligence reports from France, Belgium and the European Parliament—now expose this strategy as dangerously misguided. The MB is not an alternative to extremism. It is the ideological engine that drives it. On Nov. 23, more than 70 European and international experts gathered in front of the ICC in The Hague to deliver a unified message: that the MB represents a global threat to peace and security. Their warning was grounded not in speculation but in hard intelligence and the experience of European cities that have faced waves of radicalization, antisemitism and terror. For Israel and Europe alike, the danger is not theoretical; it is urgent and evolving. To understand the threat, one must first understand the MB's worldview... - The MB thrives in the gaps. Unless Europe and Israel coordinate policy —sharing intelligence, restricting funding channels, monitoring front organizations and treating the movement as an ideological security threat—the Brotherhood will continue to exploit democratic systems to undermine them. The question is no longer whether the MB is dangerous. It is whether free societies will find the courage to defend themselves. - jns 27.11.25 (German vs. > aud 01.12.)

Phillips, Melanie / The Islamists' Trojan horse - The twin causes of Palestinianism and human rights have destroyed the West's moral compass. - The "progressive" world is defined by its unchallengeable adherence to two causes: Palestinianism and international human-rights law. The two are symbiotically linked. "Progressives" believe that these stand for conscience, morality and the betterment of the human race. In fact, both of them have destroyed the West's moral compass altogether. They are the principal drivers of the tsunami of Israel demonization and Jew-baiting that's engulfed the Jewish world since the Hamas-led atrocities in Israel on Oct. 7, 2023. This infernal axis is perfectly encapsulated in the person of NY's mayor-elect, Zohran Mamdani... Palestinianism is the Trojan horse for the Islamization of the West. Mamdani is motivated, above all, by his passion for the Palestinian cause and his hatred of Israel. It's clear from his transition team—a nightmarish collection of Israel-haters, nihilists and ultra-leftists—that he intends to drive a wedge down the middle of the Jewish community by using anti-Zionist Jews as human shields to protect him from charges of anti-semitism as he pursues his vendetta against Israel. NY Jews who denounce Israel will receive protection and favors; Jews who are assumed to support Israel will be thrown to the wolves. And it will all be done in the language of human rights, justice and international law. - jns 27.11.25 (German vs. > IH 28.11.)

Tobin, Jonathan S / Does it matter that they're lying about Israel? - The blood libels against Israel keep being repeated, even as evidence that the charges of genocide and starvation were untrue continues to pile up. - A curious thing happened last week in Israel. More than 100 military officers from 20 countries attended an international conference hosted by the Israel Defense Forces. Among them were representatives from countries that had falsely accused the Jewish state of committing war crimes, deliberate starvation or even genocide in Gaza during the war with Hamas that followed the Palestinian terrorist attacks on Israel on Oct. 7, 2023. - as we saw with last week's conference in Israel, the vast distance between left-wing or right-wing antisemitic canards rooted in Hamas propaganda and the truth is sometimes very easy to discern. - As infuriating as it can be to have to witness the way blood libels about "genocide" have become commonplace, those falsehoods aren't strong enough to demolish the reality of Israel. The nation is not perfect, nor are all of its people. But the Jewish state survived the horrors of Oct. 7 and then went on to defeat its Iranian, Hezbollah and Hamas foes, and did so while still preserving its standards and humanity. Those of us who care about it and the truth know who is lying and who is not... - jns 27.11.25 (German vs.> IH 27.11.)

mw / Hamas nutzt Wohltätigkeitsorganisationen zur Finanzierung von Kämpfen - über die Organisation Qawafel Al-Khair Spendengelder zur Unterstützung ihres militärischen Flügel weitergeleitet. - 26.11.25

Shuster, Aaron / Western Ambivalence on a Palestinian 'Right of Return' Encourages Intransigence - Washington's Mixed Signals About Core Issues Encourage Islamist Groups to Expand Their Influence and Test Boundaries - Clear policy signals deter aggression. Ambiguity invites it. Islamist movements interpret uncertainty as opportunity. Each time the United States sends mixed messages—whether on refugees, recognition, or engagement with rejectionist actors—it strengthens those who seek conflict. The United States should adopt a consistent approach that identifies Islamist maximalism as the central obstacle to peace and delegitimizes any policy proposal designed to erase Israel, whether via demographic manipulation or terrorism. - MEF 26.11.25

haG / „Das Sterben der Demokratie“ - Buchvorstellung - Weltweit gewinnen Rechtspopulisten massiv an Unterstützung und gefährden die liberale Demokratie. Einer der international renommiertesten Extremismus-Experten, und der vielfach ausgezeichnete Journalist und Dokumentarfilmer haben sich unter anderem in Ungarn, Frankreich, den Niederlanden, Italien und den USA umgesehen. Ihre augenöffnende Recherche (Rowohlt Berlin) zeigt wie unter einem Brennglas, welcher Gefahr Deutschland gegenübersteht. Präsentation und Gespräch - Moderation: Shahrzad Eden Osterer (BR) - haG 26.11.25 > Neumann, Peter R + Richard C Schneider / Das Sterben der Demokratie. Der Plan der Rechtspopulisten in Europa und den USA. Rowohlt 2025

Eichner, Itamar / Akademischer Boykott in Europa nimmt zu - Rund 1.000 gemeldete Fälle und eine wachsende strategische Gefahr für Israels Hochschulen. - IH 25.11.25

mw / Zeitung von Abbas' PA lehnt Frieden mit Israel ab - Eine aktuelle Untersuchung kommt zu dem Schluss, dass die offizielle Zeitung der PA antisemitische Inhalte verbreitet und den Zionismus verteufelt. - 25.11.25

jp / 'Boom, Boom Tel Aviv,' songs calling for killing of Jews, Israelis on Spotify, Amazon, Apple Music, and YouTube, which host multiple songs calling for the killing of Jews and Israelis, like punk rap duo Bob Vylan's chants "death, death to the IDF" etc. - 24.11.25

v. d. Osten-Sacken, Thomas / »Europa hat aus den Fehlern in Syrien nichts gelernt« - warum die Debatten über eine Rückkehr syrischer Flüchtlinge an der Realität vorbeigehen. Die Krisen im Sudan und in Mali zeigten, dass der Westen aus seinen Fehlern in Syrien nichts gelernt hat. (> video 32 min) - mw 23.11.25

Gurfinkiel, Michel / A French General Warns of War Spreading to Europe - The Russian-Iranian Cooperation Dates Back to the Late Soviet Era and the Yeltsin Period - MEF 21.11.25

Tobin, Jonathan S + Donna Robinson Divine / Feelings replaced thinking as antisemitism surges - Divine points out that a study of the history of the conflict quickly reveals that the goal of the Palestinian movement isn't about statehood; it's the principle of not sharing any part of the land with the Jews... Redefining terms is also important to the cause of delegitimizing Israel. Divine points out that by changing the meaning of the word genocide—coined in the aftermath of the Holocaust to mean an attempt to wipe out an entire people—to merely meaning “depriving them of agency,” the pro-Palestinians have smeared the Jewish state as guilty of genocide. Though she also notes that if the Palestinians have lost the ability to determine their own future, it's because of their own decisions. - Just as sinister is the way Palestinians employed “extreme violence” and rape on Oct. 7, 2023, only to see their supporters deny that these crimes ever happened, despite abundant video and forensic evidence for them provided by the perpetrators. Most importantly, it is how the Palestinians and their supporters have worked to nullify Israeli victims, both to make the terrorists appear as if their atrocities are justified and to depict the Jews as deserving of being murdered, raped or kidnapped. Divine also notes that the willingness of opponents of Israel to censure the Jewish state's actions when they are no different from those of other countries leads to the inevitable conclusion that antisemitism is the explanation for these double standards. - jns 20.11.25

Radomski, Daniel Y / UN's Broken Chair: How Geneva became ground zero for global antisemitism - The fight against antisemitism will not be won through appeasement or compromise but by directly confronting the institutions that lend it credibility and the totalitarian partners who sustain them. - The Broken Chair still stands at the entrance to the Palais des Nations (Palace of Nations), its missing leg reflecting the moral imbalance of the system behind it, as Jews are again forced to hide their identities out of fear. What starts in Geneva does not end there. It spreads, it corrupts, and it kills. The fight against antisemitism will not be won through appeasement or compromise but by directly confronting the institutions that lend it credibility and the totalitarian partners who sustain them. That is where the struggle must be fought and where it must be won. - jp 19.11.25

Perets, Shir + Y J. Bob / Mossad unveils network of Hamas terror infrastructure across Europe - According to the Mossad, coordinated raids in Austria and Germany resulted in arrests and the seizure of weapons and explosives intended for use “on command.” - jp 19.11.25 (German vs. > aud. 20.11.)

Canlorbe, Grégoire + Alain Desthèxe / 'What Radical Islam Would Seemingly Like to Extend to the West': A Conversation - There exists, in a part of Islam, a fierce hostility towards the West. When Muslims become the majority in a society, it undergoes profound transformation. Other citizens — Christians, secularists, or others — then become, in a way, second-class tolerated citizens, dhimmis. - What the terrorists did to Israel on October 7, 2023, is just part of what radical Islam would seemingly like to extend to the West. They do not have the means to do so at the moment, but if they had, I am convinced they would act accordingly. In this regard, we are extremely naïve to think that this will not happen. For Europe, this prospect remains distant, but demographic upheavals could accelerate the threat. - GI 18.11.25 (German vs. > aud 25.11.)

Miller, Nathaniel / Diyanet's Terror Conference Needs Strong Western Response - In the wake of an Istanbul conference in support of “jihad” against Israel, attended by terror supporters and officials of various European and North American Islamist organizations, the German government urged the Turkish diaspora to cut ties with the Turkish government's Diyanet organization. Given the Diyanet's significant influence in the United States, will the U.S. federal government also take action? For over ten years, the Diyanet (also known as the Directorate of Religious Affairs) has been Turkish President Recep Tayyip Erdoğan's soft power tool of choice. Originally employed by secularist Kemal Mustafa Atatürk to manage the country's religious affairs, the current Islamist regime now uses the institution to spread Erdoğan's ruling AK party's brand of Islamism and to establish spheres of influence overseas. - In 2006, Erdoğan transformed the Diyanet by sharply increasing its funding and rewriting its strategy. The Diyanet now controls educational, religious, and cultural institutions in 145 countries and boasts a mammoth $3 billion budget that dwarfs the finances of other Turkish government ministries. The Diyanet uses its large presence in the West to advance carefully coordinated pro-regime rhetoric and hardline religious teachings in line with Islamist movements, including the Muslim Brotherhood and Jamaat-e-Islami. - MEF 18.11.25 aud / Europol: Verbindungen zu einer mit der Hisbollah verknüpften NGO - Auf Anfrage des Forschungsinstituts NGO Monitor bestätigte Europol, die Strafverfolgungsbehörde der EU mit Sitz in Den Haag, welche die Mitgliedstaaten bei der Bekämpfung von internationaler, schwerer und organisierter Kriminalität sowie Terrorismus unterstützt, dass man «in Kontakt» mit der Hind Rajab Foundation (HRF) steht. Ihr Vorsitzender Dyab Abou Jahjah unterhält umfangreiche Verbindungen zu Hisbollah-«Kämpfern». Laut der New York Times erklärte Jahjah, er habe sich «dem Widerstand der Hisbollah gegen Israel angeschlossen» und eine «militärische Ausbildung erhalten, worauf ich immer noch sehr stolz bin». Der «militärische Flügel» der Hisbollah wird von der EU, zu der auch Europol gehört, als terroristische Organisation eingestuft. - 18.11.25

Nathanson, Elad / Israel-Diaspora Partnership: A Strategic Imperative - The events of October 7 and the global surge in antisemitism since have reshaped the relationship between Israel and world Jewry. While the connection has always been emotional, historic, and identity-based, it must now become strategic, structured, and future-oriented. Drawing from two decades of leadership in Israel's security system – including crisis management, community resilience, and strategic decision-making – and my recent work with Jewish communities in the U.S., this article argues that we are at a critical crossroads. To secure our collective future, Israel and the Jewish Diaspora must build deeper partnerships, shared leadership networks, and a unified framework of values and resilience. This article outlines the current challenges, the strategic necessity of a shared Jewish ecosystem, and six practical steps that can begin now. - ToI blog 18.11.25

Freedman, Rosa / 'Zionist free' universities – we knew this day would come - Protestors are no longer demanding a free Palestine, but a UK free of Israelis and Jews; I'm not surprised - This week in Camden Town, London, campaigners declared a "Zio Free Zone" by hanging posters around the venue hosting a Bob Vylan gig. Last week, masked men spent the early hours of the morning doing similar on a far larger scale around Villa Park, Birmingham, hanging "Zios Not Welcome" signs in the windows of shops or restaurants. "Zio," of course, is a not-so-coded word for Israelis and/or Jews. The masks have been ripped off: they are no longer asking for a free Palestine, but rather a UK – and probably a world – free of Israelis and Jews... At their demonstrations, they chant: "Khaybar, Khaybar, ya yahud! Jaish Muhammad soufa ya'oud!" I know enough Arabic to know the warning. At the seventh-century Battle of Khaybar, a Jewish community was besieged by Muhammad's army. Today's protestors are saying: "Oh Jews! The army of Muhammad will return!" - ToI blog 16.11.25

Melamed, Karmel + Grant Arthur Gochin / Tehran's Thirst: Regime's Final Exam - History is unambiguous: antisemitism signals civilizational decline. Medieval Spain expelled its Jews and stagnated for centuries; Weimar Germany embraced the poison and collapsed within a decade. Today it festers in campus tents and faculty lounges—not moral clarity, but decay. Societies cycle; the West slides toward the trough, mistaking misguided, illiterate, uninformed, and miseducated rage for progress. - Iran, paradoxically, nears ascent—if the regime fractures. Its human capital rivals any nation's. Antisemitism is the canary in the coal mine. Where it sings, decline follows. Where reason silences it, ascent begins. Iran's youth have chosen the second path. The West's campuses have chosen the first. The water clock ticks for both—but only one side is building arks. - The late Shah governed a fractious society with vision and progress. Farah Diba embodied that era—museums, universities, women's rights, cultural renaissance. The mullahs murdered that future and let the rivers run dry to feed their war machine deliberately. When a free, open, independent Iran rises from theocracy's ashes, its people will taste the liberation, progress, and innovation that privileged Western students—blinded by ideology—cannot fathom, having never paid tyranny's price. - ToI blog 16.11.25

Lappin, Yaakov / 'Expelling an ambassador is nothing to the Iranians' - Observers in Israel warn that Tehran is continuing to target Jews and Israelis around the world... "In light of the intensity with which Iran operates, as can be seen in the espionage affairs of Israeli citizens who are exposed in Israel time and again, it seems that despite the Israeli success, the Iranian determination and the intensive activity on the part of Iran's intelligence and espionage mechanisms, do not allow Israel the possibility of stopping for a moment from the monitoring and thwarting efforts against Iranian subversion." He called on countries to punish Iran with more severe measures for its subversion of their territory as part of its goal of harming Israeli and Jewish interests around the world. It is important to note, he added, that just as Iran's Supreme Leader Ayatollah Ali Khamenei has determined that this is a war of determination, the Western world, led by the United States, must demonstrate determination in the fight against the Iranian regime. - 15.11.25 (German vs. > mw 15.11.)

Klein, Zvika / The year Jews stopped believing in a safe West - Diaspora communities in the West rethink their safety in the wake of rising antisemitism and political shifts. - "Our grandparents in Europe asked, 'Will it really get worse?' and lived to regret the answer. Today, we must ask, 'What if it gets worse?' and live accordingly." Once again, the packed suitcases, whether literal or metaphorical, play a part in shaping that future. - jp 14.11.25

Dudley, Michaela / Wieso niemand über die afrikanischen Opfer der Hamas spricht - Der Terror der Hamas vom 7. Oktober 2023 in Israel forderte Opfer unterschiedlichster Herkunft und Hautfarbe, was die These vom Kampf gegen die »weißen Kolonialisten« fundamental widerlegt. - mw 14.11.25

Nirenstein, Fiamma / Europe's moral collapse and the return of antisemitism - A fusion of woke ideology and Islamist activism has hollowed out Europe's moral compass—and Jews are paying the price. - History's warning is stern: delegitimization precedes dispossession. Europe's leaders, intellectuals and citizens must decide whether they will heed that warning—or allow another chapter of moral decline to unfold. The test is ...is whether Jews in Europe can walk in safety, send their children to school without fear, and participate fully in civic life. If Europe wishes to reclaim its moral claim, it must begin by defending those most vulnerable within its borders. - We, the Jewish people, must now focus on ourselves—on our resilience, the victory we have achieved and the enduring fact that we are still here. With the United States standing as the lone bastion of moral clarity, Israel must continue to serve as a solid pillar of Western civilization—anchored in democracy, freedom, identity and the strength to prevail, particularly in what is a just war of defense. - jns 13.11.25 (German vs. > IH 14.11.)

Hasidim, Matan + Makor Rishon / Douglas Murray has spent 20 years warning Europe about Islam – now he says Israel is the answer - The British conservative intellectual warns the West is surrendering to Islamism, and believes Israeli society offers a model for Western civilization's survival. The British conservative intellectual warns the West is surrendering to Islamism, and believes Israeli society offers a model for Western civilization's survival. - ILH 12.11.25

jns / Top Hamas terrorist: Oct. 7 'proved that Israel would not survive' - Since Oct. 7, "the image of Jihad ['holy war'] has begun to shine once again," Osama Hamdan said. - Senior Hamas official Osama Hamdan on Monday urged supporters of the Palestinian cause to wage jihad "wherever and however" they can to bring about Israel's destruction. Speaking with SamaQuds, a YouTube channel that serves as a Hamas propaganda outlet, the Lebanon-based terrorist said the Oct. 7, 2023, cross-border massacre "proved that Israel would not survive." - 12.11.25

@ Nirman, Adi / 'A terrorist in a suit': Syrian leader's evasive answers spark backlash - Al-Sharara's responses to Fox anchor about his al-Qaida past draw social media criticism following his meeting with President Trump. - ILH 12.11.25

@ Wosicki, Pesach / Trump's ME blind spots: Wishful thinking on jihadists, Muslim Brotherhood - Until Washington recognizes that ideology, not economics, drives the Middle East, its diplomacy will remain blind to the forces shaping the region. - jp 12.11.25

@ Keinon, Herb / From pariah to partner: What the Trump-Sharara meeting means for Israel - President Trump meets with Syrian President Sharaa, signaling a shift in regional dynamics and Israel's strategic concerns over the Golan Heights. - jp 12.11.25

@ Mardin, Amed / al-Sharara's recognition as statesman shows Western policy's shortsightedness - Political Islam is not a sudden flare-up of religious fanaticism, but a powerful instrument that has evolved over centuries. - jp 12.11.25

Gardner, Charles / Die Heuchelei der Linken - Daily Mail enthüllt „beschämendes Schweigen“ pro-palästinensischer Aktivisten. Mit diesem Titel hob David Patrikarakos die schrecklichen Gräueltaten islamistischer Gruppen im Sudan und in Nigeria hervor, bei denen weit mehr Menschen brutal massakriert wurden als im jüngsten Gaza-Konflikt angeblich ums Leben gekommen sind. über das Schicksal der Opfer, die überwiegend Christen sind, schweigt die progressive Linke. - IH 11.11.25 (engl. orig. > IT 11.11.)

Rubin, Michael / Is the United Nations Antisemitic? Here's Proof - Where Are the U.N. Officials Who Argue They Cannot Be Part of an Organization That Increasingly Fuels Blood Libel and One of the World's Oldest Hatreds? - MEF 11.11.25

jp / 'Genocide' term creator's family says letters support probe request into use of Lemkin - Rabbi Marvin Hier joined several rabbinic leaders in arguing that using the "Lemkin" name to accuse Israel of genocide misrepresents the history and moral intent behind Lemkin's work. - 11.11.25

Nirenstein, Fiamma / Francesca Albanese's campaign against Zionism - The U.N. special rapporteur's claim that the Zionist movement is "the problem" because it created Israel collapses decades of history into a dishonest narrative. - We have seen how propaganda can prepare hearts and bureaucracies for moral crimes. We should resist any language that normalizes such processes under the guise of moral clarity... Disagreement with Israeli policy is legitimate; calling for accountability is necessary. But there is a vast difference between critique and a project of erasure. Albanese's narrative crosses that line. It seeks not to reform or to negotiate, but to expunge. - If we care about truth, about memory, about the fragile ethics that prevent history from repeating its worst chapters, we must call this out plainly. Intellectual responsibility demands more than slogans; it demands fidelity to facts, to context and to the full complexity of human events. Anything less is a funeral for culture—and we cannot afford another one. - jns 11.11.25 (German vs. > aud 11.11.)

Better, Leo Feierberg / Anti-Israel activism in soccer fandoms leads to antisemitism, study reveals - According to the researcher, both antisemitism shown by supporters, as well as one-sided pro-Palestinian activism, create an environment that leads to toxicity on and off the field. - Kascian's analysis proves that both flagrant antisemitism shown by supporters, as well as one-sided pro-Palestinian activism from national federations create an environment that leads to toxicity on and off the field. This, he warns, undermines the sport's very purpose: to unite people rather than divide them - jp 11.11.25

Danzig, Micha / Die Linguistik hinter „vom Fluss bis zum Meer“ (gemeint scheint die Semantik)- Es ist das älteste Lied der Region: Beschuldige die Juden und fordere ihre Vertreibung. - IH 10.11.25

Sherman, Shimon / Europe's quiet dependence on Israeli drone technology - The problems Israel has been forced to solve—detecting low-flying drones in crowded airspace, distinguishing friendly from hostile platforms, and closing the kill chain quickly—are now confronting European governments. - jns 10.11.25 (German vs. > IH 11.11.)

50 ys. UN contra Israel

@ Kapusnak, Jan / 50 Jahre nach «Zionismus = Rassismus» - «Die UN strich einen Satz – aber nicht die Lüge» - Im Jahr 1991, während des Golfkriegs, wurden israelische Städte von Raketenangriffen aus Saddam Husseins Irak getroffen. In Krankenhäusern in Tel Aviv und Haifa suchten jüdische und arabische Ärzte, Krankenschwestern und Patienten gemeinsam in abgedichteten Räumen Schutz, während die Sirenen heulten. Dieselben Szenen wiederholten sich in der Knesset, wo arabische und jüdische Parlamentsabgeordnete ihre Arbeit unter derselben Bedrohung fortsetzten. Diese Momente spiegelten das komplexe Zusammenleben wider, das Israel seit seiner Gründung prägt – eine Realität, die scharf im Kontrast stand zu der dämonisierenden Anschuldigung, die von den UN fast ununterbrochen bekräftigt wurde: dass Israel ein rassistisches Regime sei. - mw 13.11.25

@ Wiesel, Elie / Zionismus und Rassismus - Die berühmte UN-Resolution, die den Zionismus als Form des Rassismus verkündet, ist schockierend und empörend. - Heute sind Elie Wiesels Worte nach wie vor so eindringlich und prophetisch wie eh und je. In s. Essay... warnte er, dass die Resolution nicht nur ein politischer Schachzug war, sondern eine Fortsetzung des ältesten Hasses der Geschichte: der Versuch, das jüdische Volk zu isolieren und ihm sein Recht auf Würde, Identität und Nationalität zu verweigern. Seine Verteidigung des Zionismus als menschliche, moralische und spirituelle Bewegung ist sowohl eine Zurechtweisung des Zynismus der UNO als auch ein Appell an das Gewissen jeder Generation - Exz. aus Elie Wiesels „A Jew Today“ (S. 33–35) - IH 10.11.25

@ Kapusnak, Jan / Fünfzig Jahre nach »Zionismus = Rassismus«: Die Resolution, die nie wirklich starb- am 10. November 1975, stimmte die GV der Vereinten Nationen dafür, den Zionismus als Rassismus zu denunzieren. - mw 10.11.25

@ IN / „Zionismus ist Rassismus“-Resolution - Eine diplomatische Breitseite - Vor 50 Jahren konterkarierte die UN-GV den Auftrag, den sich ihre Gründer gegeben hatte. - Der Blick in die Geschichte zeigt, dass Israel nicht erst in der Gegenwart mit diplomatischen Angriffen zu kämpfen hat. Das mag die Hoffnung nähren, dass der jüdische Staat auch die aktuellen Widrigkeiten übersteht. Eine Sache hat sich freilich verändert: Damals standen westliche Regierungen noch an der Seite Israels, auch wenn sie die Minderheit darstellten. Heute bricht auch dieser Rückhalt weg - 10.11.25

@ Herzog, Isaac / The truth about Zionism - As my father, Chaim Herzog, famously declared 50 years ago, Zionism is not racism. It is the national liberation movement of the Jewish people. - Fifty years ago today, on Nov. 10, 1975, my father, Chaim Herzog, then Israel's ambassador to the United Nations and later the country's sixth president, stood before the U.N. General Assembly to respond to the infamous resolution declaring that "Zionism is a form of racism." - In front of a hostile hall, he affirmed: "Zionism is nothing more— and nothing less—than the Jewish people's sense of origin and destination in the land linked eternally with its name." - He declared that it was not Zionism or the State of Israel that stood on trial that day, but the United Nations itself. And in one of the most stirring and enduring moments in the history of that body, he tore his copy of the resolution in two, right there at the podium. - He had felt, he later told me, that he was speaking not only as Israel's ambassador, but on behalf of the past and future generations of a persecuted and maligned people. The resolution, as he saw it, was not just another U.N. political maneuver... Zionism is not racism. It is the national liberation movement of the Jewish people; a return to an indigenous homeland after millennia of persecution. In its redress of a historical injustice, in its desire to restore dignity to a people, it is an expression of the same universal yearnings for equality, freedom, and dignity that have animated all struggles for justice. - That is the true moral framework of our story. And while the past two years have tested it in ways we could not have imagined, what has emerged from the pain and heartbreak of this time has also reaffirmed it: the extraordinary resilience, solidarity, and mutual responsibility that define us. These are the same moral energies that rebuilt a people from ashes. They are what have enabled us to respond with courage, dignity and purpose to the catastrophe of Oct. 7, and they are what continue to animate our national life today. As Jews and Israelis, we will survive the current onslaught of hate. We will prevail against those who still seek to divide and demoralize us. Through faith in our shared mission, in the moral gravity of our calling, and in the justice of our path. - jns 09.11.25

Rehov, Pierre / The Mirage of 'Humanitarian Reconstruction': Billions for Gaza — But Who Will Prevent the Next Jihad? - From Naivety to Accountability - Reconstructing buildings is not the same as reconstructing what people might be planning. Pouring concrete over corruption will not create peace. The West has already watched Iraq and Afghanistan burn billions in the name of "nation-building." Gaza must not become the third chapter of that book. - If donors truly care about Gaza's civilians, money must move at the speed of verification — not politics. Anything less ensures that Western taxpayers will end up financing the next jihad, once again, under the comforting banner of "humanitarian aid." Israeli PM Benjamin Netanyahu has made it clear that his position will not waver: no reconstruction of Gaza can begin until Hamas and all terrorist factions have been completely disarmed — under Israel's direct security supervision. This principle, rooted in hard experience rather than in well-intended diplomacy, stands in open contrast with the U.S. administration, which continues to push for a "political process" aimed at reviving a desired "peace framework" partially disconnected from the region's. Washington may view reconstruction as a path to normalization, but for Israel — the country whose citizens were massacred and whose borders remain under threat — security comes before expediency, and survival before consent. - GI 09.11.25 (German vs. > aud 12.11. > video 1:27h)

> XTRA / Mamdani - CAIR-Project (Nov. 2025)

Toameh, Khaled Abu / Why Gaza Does Not Need 'Peacekeepers' and 'Monitors' - Hamas is not the only terror group that opposes the presence of international forces in the Gaza Strip. On October 8, two other terror groups, Palestinian Islamic Jihad and the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine, also rejected the idea of any "foreign guardianship" over the Gaza Strip. "We are ready to benefit from Arab and international participation in the fields of reconstruction, recovery and development support," the two groups said in a joint statement with Hamas. Turkey clearly considers Hamas a legitimate and acceptable actor in any future administration of the Gaza Strip. The minister would like to see Hamas patch up its differences with its rivals in the Palestinian Authority and agree on a joint government to manage the affairs of the Palestinians in the Gaza Strip. This position is shared by Egypt, which recently hosted a meeting of Palestinian factions, including the PA and Hamas, to discuss the formation of a "technocratic committee" to administer the Gaza Strip... any international force that enters the Gaza Strip will have to act as an anti-terrorism force, not as a peacekeeping or monitoring force. Its No. 1 mission should be to crack down on all terror groups, confiscate their weapons, destroy their military infrastructure, and prevent the smuggling of weapons from Egypt into the Gaza Strip. Members of the proposed force should have a clear and strong mandate to open fire at any terrorist roaming the streets of the Gaza Strip. It is equally unrealistic, unfortunately, to think that soldiers of any outside force - especially Arab and Muslim troops -- would risk being shot at by trying to stop any military reconstruction in Gaza by Hamas or other terrorist groups. This bad bet was made unmistakably clear by the presence of UNIFIL in Lebanon, where it took about a minute for the UNIFIL forces to support the terrorists, not confront them. Hamas and other Palestinian terror groups -- as well as deeply fundamentalist Muslim countries, such as Turkey, Qatar and Egypt -- will simply use any international force as cover to avoid being targeted by Israel and to maintain control of the Gaza Strip. - GI 09.11.25

Kaufman, Rona / Antizionism is Not Antisemitism - The predictable antizionist mantra claims "anti-zionism is not antisemitism." The mantra is right: antizionism is not classical antisemitism. But it misses the point: antizionism is itself a powerful form of Jew Hatred. It is different in form, but identical in function. Antizionism, just like antisemitism, is a hate movement that obsessively repeats popular libels about Jews to justify killing them. This cycle of libel leads to violence against Jews — and also against Palestinians, who are repeatedly sacrificed on the altar of its ideology and its endless wars. To understand antizionism, we must first understand that Jew-hatred is a structural feature of monotheistic cultures. It takes on various forms, but its ancient cycle persists: anti-Jewish libels and conspiracy theories stigmatize Jews and lead to violence, which is then denied. First came anti-Judaism, which hates Jews for their religion. Its cycle of libel cast Jews as Christ-killers and blood-eaters. Its conspiracy theories told of the corruption of princes and well poisoning. Disguised as piety, anti-Jewish violence erupted in mass burnings, expulsions, inquisitions, and pogroms. Then came antisemitism, which hates Jews for their race. Antisemitic libels cast Jews as communists, capitalists, and race-polluters. Conspiracy theories were updated: Jews were turned from well-poisoners to back-stabbers. Antisemitism disguised itself behind myths of racial purity and national strength. Far-right violence soon emerged, from the Black Hundreds, to the killing fields of the Holocaust... what is new: antizionism is an oppression pretending to be anti-oppression. It invokes the language of decolonization and liberation as it murders and persecutes Jews. It is racism for anti-racists, reformatting against an entire nation: Israel. It persecutes Palestinians viciously—consistently choosing libel and war over coexistence. The price is thousands of dead Palestinians, destroyed infrastructure, and generations raised in trauma. Its goal is not a better life for Palestinians but the end of Israel. We need you to see through this trick. Fight the cycle of libel in the media, at work, and at school. Fighting for human rights starts with disrupting the antizionist libels that inevitably lead to horrific violence against Jews and Palestinians alike. - ToI blog 09.11.25

Rafizadeh, Majid / The Anti-American Terror State: Iran's Regime Must Not Be Allowed to Rise Again - We must not allow Iran to regain its footing, to rise again and plot another tragedy like 9/11 or a catastrophic nuclear event targeting Jews, Americans, or any other people. - The world must finish the job — through unrelenting, coordinated pressure on every front: political, economic and military. The European Union must stop all trade that provides Iran with hard currency. China and Russia must face consequences for undermining sanctions and enabling Iran's militarization. The United States and its allies must make clear that any further advances in Iran's nuclear or ballistic missile programs will be met with swift, crippling military responses. Diplomatic isolation must become total; embassies closed, envoys recalled and trade channels severed. At the same time, the free world must openly support the Iranian people, who seek genuine regime change, as well as others in the region — especially Iraqis — who seek freedom from Tehran's interference. Iran's regime survives by convincing the world that it cannot be replaced. That illusion must be shattered. - Please let us not deceive ourselves into thinking that the Iranian regime is finished or has moderated. It is still plotting, still financing anti-American and antisemitic terror operations across the world, and, behind closed doors, still advancing its nuclear ambitions. Before the world wakes up to yet another devastating act of terrorism, nuclear or not, we must increase pressure on Iran — the only language it understands — until its machinery of terror collapses. The free world has a moral and strategic duty not to let Iran's weapons of mass destruction threaten all of us again. - GI 08.11.25

Abramowicz, Jaques / Wieder ein Milliarden-Blankoscheck für Palästina? - Europa will den Wiederaufbau Gazas mit 1,6 Milliarden Euro fördern. Glaubt man in Brüssel wirklich, durch Scheckbuchdiplomatie etwas zum Besseren verändern zu können? - ja 08.11.25 (> so-called Gaza-Aid + Hamas) aud / Nora Bussigny: Wie die linksextreme Szene antisemitische Narrative normalisiert - In bemerkenswertem Interview mit der Westschweizer Zeitung La Liberté schildert die französisch-marokkanische Journalistin Nora Bussigny, wie sich Antisemitismus, linksextremer Aktivismus, islamistische Ideologie und "progressive Milieus" seit dem 7. Oktober 2023 zunehmend miteinander verzahnen - über "legitime Empathie" bes. junger Menschen (vorzugsweise bzw. exklusiv) für palästinensische Zivilpersonen, von islamistischen Agenturen instrumentalisiert, strikt «intersektionale» Deutung aller Diskriminierungsformen seitens ihrer Aktivist:innen, Zunahme gesellschaftlicher Fragmentierung, die bes. destruktive Wirkung von Rima Hassan, eine totalisierte Amoral gegenüber den dokumentierten Massenvergewaltigungen vom 7. Oktober (von Leugnung bis "Kulturalisierung" als "patriarchale" bzw. "adäquate" Taten) und über den "demokratischen Skandal" seitens Staat und Gemeinden, den radikalen Gruppen Räume, Geld und Legitimität zu gewähren, die offen Terrororganisationen verherrlichen, so dass immer noch öffentliche Gelder an Verbände fließen, die die Hamas glorifizieren - aud 07.11.25 > Bussigny, Nora / Les nouveaux antisémites, Éditions Albin Michel, 2025

Al-Eryani, Moammar / Allowing Houthi propaganda on European broadcast networks is moral surrender - By allowing Iran backed Houthi propaganda to air from its satellites, Europe betrays the values it claims to defend and becomes complicit in spreading extremist hate. - jp 06.11.25

Sterk, Sabine / Stop Defending Terror: Hamas Is Not the Victim - Israel's Moral Stand vs. Hamas's Brutality: Why the West Must Wake Up + The Atrocities of Hamas: Documented, Verified, and Ignored + The Media War: Hamas's Mastery of Manipulation + The Tunnel Crisis: 200 Terrorists Trapped, the World Pleads for Mercy + Israel Helps the World And Gets Boycotted for It {Medical innovation + Agricultural technology + Humanitarian aid + Cybersecurity} + Cultural Blindness: Why the West Misjudges the Conflict + Arab States Know Hamas's True Nature (examples for Egypt + Jordan + S.A. + UAE) + Israel's Fight Is Existential + Conclusion: The West Must Choose... must stop its values onto a region that rejects them. It must recognize that Israel is not the aggressor, it is the last line of defense against barbarism. Every time the world doubts Israel, it empowers cruelty. Accountability lies with Hamas. Israel deserves support, not suspicion. The choice is clear: stand with civilization or enable terror. - ToI blog 06.11.25 (z.B. > Gaza Aid from Turkey via UNRWA)

Hamas & so-called Gaza-Aid

@ jp / IDF reveals Hamas ties to Iran, UNRWA, Al Jazeera, stolen aid in collection of documents - Israel's military released declassified intelligence alleging Hamas diverted humanitarian aid in Gaza and maintained links with Iran, UNRWA, and Al Jazeera during the ongoing war. - 06.11.25

@ aud / UNRWA und Hamas: UN Watch enthüllt systemische Verflechtung - Eine neue Rechercheplattform von UN Watch dokumentiert in bislang nie dagewesenem Umfang, wie tief die UNO-Flüchtlingsorganisation UNRWA mit Hamas, PFLP und Islamischem Dschihad verflochten ist. Fast 500 Mitarbeiter werden mit Terrorismus, Hetze und extremistischer Agitation in Verbindung gebracht – keine Glaubwürdigkeit jener Institution, die Milliarden internationaler Hilfsgelder verwaltet. - 05.11.25

@ Kleiman, Shachar / Hundreds of UNRWA employees exposed with Hamas, Islamic Jihad ties - Investigation documents decade of connections between UN refugee agency staff and Hamas, Islamic Jihad, systematic infiltration of the international aid organization. - "For decades, UNRWA operated without any oversight while billions of dollars in aid money flowed to Gaza from the international community. Donor governments must decide – will they continue writing open checks to an agency that builds Hamas or will they demand it take responsibility? - Precisely in these days, international figures are applying pressure so that UNRWA will nevertheless be integrated into the post-war agenda in Gaza. "As we consider how post-war Gaza should look, one thing is clear – it should be a Gaza free from UNRWA," Neuer clarifies. - ILH 04.11.25

@ jp / Israel's Foreign Ministry names two UNRWA employees as Hamas terrorists, citing new evidence (with regard to Ashraf Mahd El Madhoun and Mohammed Ibrahim Abd Ghafour) Madhoun's supposed ID card named him as "Director of UNRWA Operations, Gaza." - 04.11.25

Gaza Aid from Turkey via UNRWA

Diker, Dan + Khaled Abu Toameh / Hamas defies Trump — will the West finally take action? - a rare insider's view of the region's shifting politics, power plays and partnerships - bringing together two voices with unmatched access and experience. From Jerusalem to Amman, and Gaza to Riyadh, and going beyond the headlines to explain what's really driving events in Israel and the wider Middle East—from diplomacy and security to media narratives and regional reform. - jns 05.11.25

Rubin, Michael / Keep the United Nations Out of Gaza - Neither the State Department nor Other Foreign Ministries Should Accept the Fiction That U.N. Mandates Are Necessary or Effective - MEF 05.11.25

Goorwich, Siam / Wikipedia co-founder personally blocks edits to 'egregious' Gaza 'genocide' article - Wikipedia co-founder Jimmy Wales has personally intervened in the website's "Gaza genocide" article, temporarily blocking any new updates to the page until "editing disputes have been resolved". - jc 04.11.25 (> Wikimedi-Pulation)

Millière, Guy / How Political Leaders Are Fast-Tracking the Islamification of Europe - What British Muslims think: In March 2024, a poll conducted by the Henry Jackson Society reported that 32% of British Muslims favor the implementation of Sharia law in the UK; 48% feel more sympathy with Hamas than with Israel; 80% believe that Israel is committing genocide. 49% think Israel has no right to exist, and 46% think Jews in the UK -- only 0.5 % of the population -- have too much power. The situation in the UK is worrying: what affects the UK affects all Western Europe. While the situation in France may seem a bit better, it is probably worse... Millions of people in Western Europe appear anxious about the future they see taking shape in their countries and have been turning to political parties that address their concerns. Since these parties have been growing in strength, current leaders are doing everything they can -- such as preventing their leaders from running for election, or forming a coalition, or branding their policies as "fascism" and "Nazism" -- in an apparent effort to bury these concerns. These are virtually the only parties that support Israel and denounce rising anti-Semitism by actually calling it by its name. - "The great replacement" -- the eventuality of a basically Christian Europe being slowly replaced by a Muslim one -- is not a conspiracy theory. It is rapidly underway. The birth rate of Muslim populations remains higher in Western Europe than that of non-Muslim populations, whose birth rates have been collapsing and are now vastly below the replacement level. Muslim births add to the numbers of those who have immigrated from the Muslim world. The proportion of Muslims in Western European countries continues exponentially to increase. Data further shows that Muslim populations are integrating less and less, and that the influence of radical Islam has also been exponentially increasing. - "The great replacement" -- the eventuality of a basically Christian Europe being slowly replaced by a Muslim one -- is not a conspiracy theory. It is rapidly underway. The birth rate of Muslim populations remains higher in Western Europe than that of non-Muslim populations, whose birth rates have been collapsing and are now vastly below the replacement level. Muslim births add to the numbers of those who have immigrated from the Muslim world. The proportion of Muslims in Western European countries continues exponentially to increase. Data further shows that Muslim populations are integrating less and less, and that the influence of radical Islam has also been exponentially increasing. - "If we do not stop Islamification now," Geert Wilders said in 2007, "Eurabia and Netherabia will just be a matter of time". - GI 04.11.25

Lampert, Nicole / The 'Anti-Zionist' mask is slipping; everyone can see it's just antisemitism - Calling Tice and Gove 'Zionist slaves' reveals protestors' bigotry - jc 04.11.25

Daisley, Stephen / The horseshoe politics of America is coming for the Jews - On either side of the ideological spectrum, Jews are facing threats - jc 04.11.25

@ Aronson, Josh / 'Strange to see intellectuals supporting Hamas': Boris Johnson speaks on Palestinian recognition, and called the West's sympathy with Palestine a "strange paradox" in his recent appearance at a European Jewish Association conference in Krakow urging "a bit of aggressive philosemitism" - Rabbi Margolin closed the discussion with a message to leaders: "We are not asking for charity, we are asking for justice... We ask European leaders to decide whether they truly want Jewish life in their countries. If so, real measures must be implemented." - jp 04.11.25

@ Hacohen, Hagay / Polish president, EJA warn of rising antisemitism as Europe marks Kristallnacht - "Today you can go to any Jew and scream 'genocide'," said Rabbi Menachem Margolin. EJA's symposium united state reps, Rabbis, and activists to push back against the new blood libels. - jp 04.11.25

Kleiman, Shachar / Hundreds of UNRWA employees exposed with Hamas, Islamic Jihad ties - Investigation documents decade of connections between UN refugee agency staff and Hamas, Islamic Jihad, revealing systematic infiltration of the international aid organization. - "For decades, UNRWA operated without any oversight while billions of dollars in aid money flowed to Gaza from the international community. Donor governments must decide – will they continue writing open checks to an agency that builds Hamas or will they demand it take responsibility? - Precisely in these days, international figures are applying pressure so that UNRWA will nevertheless be integrated into the post-war agenda in Gaza. "As we consider how post-war Gaza should look, one thing is clear – it should be a Gaza free from UNRWA," Neuer clarifies. - ILH 04.11.25

Gaza Aid via UNRWA

Phillips, Moshe / The genocide lie: What is really happening in Gaza - Repeating a falsehood again and again doesn't make it true. - There is no genocide in Gaza. What followed the Hamas-led terrorist attacks in southern Israel on Oct. 7, 2023, was a military response by Israel aimed at dismantling the group responsible. It was the logical result of attacking a sovereign state and using civilians as human shields... The accusation that Israel is committing genocide in the Palestinian enclave has become a popular slogan among Israel's critics and far too many hostile governments ever since that Black Shabbat. It's repeated in protests, in the media and even in international courtrooms. But slogans are not evidence, and repeating a falsehood again and again doesn't make it true. Genocide has a specific legal definition. According to the 1948 Genocide Convention, it refers to acts committed with the intent to destroy a national, ethnic, racial or religious group in whole or in part. Not simply killing... The legal and moral absurdity of this claim is compounded by the fact that Gaza's suffering is not a one-sided tragedy; it is a consequence of actions that derive from the Strip. It is a direct result of supporting, harboring and celebrating a group committed to endless war. Responsibility matters. Choices have consequences. - The misuse of the term "genocide" is not harmless. It distorts international law, insults the victims of real genocides, especially Jews murdered in the Holocaust, and fuels further conflict. It gives cover to terrorist groups who understand that hiding behind civilians earns them global sympathy. This is not a genocide. It is a war. And like all wars, it ends when one side is defeated. If Gazans truly want to avoid further suffering, the path is not through protest slogans or legal theatrics; it's through cutting ties with Hamas and rejecting its vision of perpetual violence. - Anything less is just blaming others for a war they helped start by electing Hamas and supporting it. - jns 03.11.25

Windmueller, Steven / Managing the War against the Jews: New Forms of anti-Semitic Expression - Σ: it is essential that we acquire a broad understanding of the diversity of ideas and approaches that today comprise this war against the Jews. The fight against antisemitism therefore cannot be waged by employing "traditional" treatments but rather requires the introduction of new strategies and techniques directed at managing this evolving threat. - ToI blog 02.11.25

News on Nostra Aestate

@ Marans 28.10. @ Tercatin 28.10. @ ToI 29.10. @ Berman 31.10. > Christian Hate Syndicate

Medien-Koop. mit Hamas

- @ Frank, Stefan / Gaza: Wie die westliche Medienkooperation mit einer Terrororganisation funktioniert - Der Fall des ZDF-Mitarbeiters und Hamas-Mitglieds Abu Mutair ist mehr als ein Einzelfall. Er legt die strukturelle Naivität offen, mit der westliche Institutionen im Gazastreifen agieren und die Hamas indirekt unterstützen. - mw 31.10.25
- @ jp / German broadcaster admits killed partner org. employee was Hamas terrorist, suspends cooperation - ZDF has now suspended cooperation with the Palestine Media Production (PMP) after working with the organization for decades. - 29.10.25
- @ IN / Nach Ende der Zusammenarbeit - Union: ZDF muss über Hamas-Mitglied bei Produktionsfirma aufklären - Politiker von CDU und CSU kritisieren das ZDF scharf. Denn bei der von ihm beauftragten Produktionsfirma „Palestine Media Production“ war ein Mitglied der Terrorgruppe Hamas tätig. - 28.10.25
- @ Marcus, Imanuel / ZDF räumt ein: In Gaza getöteter Mitarbeiter war Hamas-Mitglied - Nachdem sich das ZDF zuerst über einen Angriff auf »Medienschaffende« beschwert hatte, räumt der Sender nun ein: Sein palästinensischer Mitarbeiter war Terrorist - ja 27.10.25

Ebbrecht-Hartmann, Tobias / Memefizierter Antisemitismus - Protest und antisemitische Projektion auf TikTok, Instagram & Co im Schatten des 7. Oktobers - haG 30.10.25 = Beitrag aus > Grigat, Stephan + Karin Stögner \(Hg.\) / Projektiver Antizionismus. Antisemitismus gegen Israel vor und nach dem 7. Oktober, Nomos Verlag 2025 \(> pdf\)

Gomes, Jules / Parliamentarian Raises Alarm Over Islamist Funding for Europe's Largest Mosque - French Intelligence Report Confirms That Turkish Islamist Outfit Behind Mosque is Linked to Muslim Brotherhood - In 2012, Millî Görüş claimed to operate over 514 mosques and cultural centers in eleven European countries. Some European countries have taken steps to halt Turkey's Islamist incursion into Europe. Austria amended its Islam Act (Islamgesetz) in 2015, banning Turkish funding for Islamic associations and mosques, FWI reported earlier this year. - German intelligence has also warned that Millî Görüş is promoting a multi-generational expansion of its infrastructure in Germany, aiming "to familiarize children and young people with their own interpretation of Islam and the socio-political goals derived from it." - A report by the Ministry of Justice and Security in the Netherlands titled Islamist Radicalization among the Turkish Dutch blamed Millî Görüş for the rise in Islamism, stating: "The ideology can be characterized as intolerant and seems to be at least partly inspired by Salafist thought." The Eyyûb Sultan mosque did not respond to FWI's request for comment. - MEF 28.10.25

Adlersztejn, Jusek / Warum die UNRWA seit 77 Jahren den Frieden in Nahost blockiert - Das UN-Flüchtlingshilfswerk für die Palästinenser verursacht erhebliche Probleme. Daher gibt es nur einen Weg: Mit diesem Konstrukt von Zukunftslosigkeit und Überbevölkerung ist ein neuer Waffengang immer nur eine Frage der Zeit. Um diesen Teufelskreis zu durchbrechen, muss den palästinensischen Frauen von den Vereinten Nationen die Bestimmung über ihren Körper zurückgegeben werden und ihr das gleiche Recht wie jeder westlichen Frau eingeräumt werden - sich zu emanzipieren. - Wer dem palästinensischen Volk eine Zukunft in einem eigenen Staat in Frieden bieten will, muss die UNRWA in die andere, aber erfolgreiche Flüchtlingsorganisation der Vereinten Nationen, den UNHCR, überführen und zugleich das Kainsmal des Flüchtlingserbes abschaffen. Da aber die Generalversammlung der UN darüber entscheidet - die Organisation, die die UNRWA einst geschaffen hat -, sind die Chancen dafür gleich null. Deshalb ist der andere Weg unumgänglich: die Streichung aller Gelder für die UNRWA, um diese Kriegsmaschine mit angehängtem Sozialamt endlich abzuschaffen. - ja 27.10.25

Haddad, Eliyahu / Subversion of thought as a strategy to delegitimize Israel, undermine the West - Western democracies need to develop and implement countermeasures that preserve democratic values while addressing technological manipulation. - Over the past two decades, several Middle Eastern states—including Iran, Qatar and Turkey—have developed sophisticated digital influence operations aimed at reshaping Western public opinion, especially among younger demographics. These campaigns, once simple propaganda, now utilize advanced artificial intelligence, social media algorithms and behavioral targeting to undermine Israel's legitimacy and promote jihadist ideologies. - The operations weaponize the openness of democratic societies, exploiting freedoms of speech and digital infrastructure to destabilize political systems, manipulate information flows and erode trust in democratic institutions. - On Key elements of the influence ecosystem + Key elements of the influence ecosystem + Targeting of youth and academia + Strategic political impact + Geopolitical realignment + Algorithmic manipulation and AI-powered deception + Targeting the next generation + Digital manipulation driving government policy + Trump's peace arrangement and regional realignment -

Whether Western democracies can develop and implement countermeasures that preserve democratic values while addressing sophisticated technological manipulation has become a vital and urgent question—the resolution of which will determine the future integrity of democratic governance in the digital age. - We are witnessing how the entire world's opinion is being manipulated by advanced social media campaigns to accept patently false and manufactured stories designed to achieve specific partisan political and often military agendas. We are also witnessing how social media has successfully redefined the terms we use to communicate, adapting them to suit particular agendas. "Genocide," "Apartheid," "Starvation" and "Zionism" are examples of insidious efforts to undermine our civilization. The dramatic effects of sophisticated technological manipulation on society as a whole—whether in academia, media, polling booths or in the determination and conduct of foreign policy by governments—require urgent consideration and practical remedial action before it is too late. - jns 25.10.25

Beery, Ariel / Only the Arab world can defeat Hamas - The terror group's jihadist victory presents an opportunity for Israel to ally with the modern Mideast states to defeat Islamic imperialism - It turns out that the people warning us that Gaza was a trap were right all along: like a non-Newtonian fluid, Hamas only gets stronger the more physical pressure applied. Those who believed it could be defeated militarily through direct confrontation should understand that attacking Hamas head-on was what they wanted. When former Hamas PM Ismail Haniyeh said "We love death more than you love life," he revealed their belief and strategic understanding that death (especially of Palestinians) is not a cost but rather an asset to their movement. That is why two years of applying the world's most powerful fighting machine to break Hamas have resulted in their strategic victory: Israel is more internationally isolated than ever, more economically and socially challenged than ever. Hamas rules the Strip. Its allies (Qatar and Turkey) are poised to determine the future of Gaza and keep it as a forward base for their campaign to dominate the Middle East. Add to that the martyrdom of their leaders, and in the eyes of a Jihadist, it adds up to Total Victory: Hamas. - Were I advising Hamas, I'd suggest to keep pushing: Israel is off-balance, without the leadership to reset its strategic position. The weeks since Trump's peace show the anti-Zionist push hasn't lessened. Activists in Western capitals have redefined "ceasefire" to mean Israel ceases to exist. Much of the Left has adopted that language. Much of the Right agrees. Prominent Jews have joined them in calling for increased international pressure. Openly antizionist political figures are expected to win elections, increasing the movement's momentum in Western Politics. Imperialism is on the march... Concl.: Present to the Palestinians the benefits of defeating Hamas and overturning a century of anti-Zionist obsession. + Work with global powers to cut off financial aid to Hamas and its allies + End the world's dependence on fossil fuels to disrupt the business model fueling Islamic imperialism. - By taking these three steps - all of which can be started with or without the current government by Israel civil society leaders and global Jewish organizations - we can begin to mount an offensive against Islamic imperialism without falling into their death trap. By learning from our failure to defeat Hamas over the past two years, and building and pursuing a strategy that adapts to their victory while working to undercut it, we may weaken them before the next war. Perhaps we may avoid it altogether. - ToI blog 24.10.25

Lewitan, Louis / Liebe Juden, bleibt bitte zu Hause! - Immer mehr jüdische Veranstaltungen werden abgesagt - angeblich zum Schutz von Jüdinnen und Juden. So wird aus einer Einladung zur Kultur ein stiller Abgesang auf Teilhabe - Man erklärt das Opfer zur Gefahr und nennt das dann Schutz. Wenn weder Film- festivals noch Konzerte oder Sportveranstaltungen unter jüdischer Beteiligung möglich sind, bleibt nur noch eine Frage: Für wen gilt hier eigentlich die Sicherheit? Die Antwort liegt auf der Zunge. Für Antisemiten und Antizionisten. - ja 23.10.25

Coughlin, Con / Muslim Migrants Fuelling the Rise in Anti-Semitic Attacks - short Review + dubious voices (f.e. Elon Musk) - 22.10.25

Haug, Nils A / We Are Not Fooled by You, Hamas - "Hamas is not just at war with Israel. It is at war with Jews, Christians, and the very foundations of civilization itself.... This is not politics, this is a religious war. Its purpose is to replace Judaism and Christianity with radical Islam. If the world does not understand this, every- one will pay the price." — Mosab Hassan Yousef, eldest son of Hamas founder Sheikh Hassan Yousef, JNS, August 17, 2025. - Notwithstanding peace treaties or a tenuous cessation of hostilities between Israel and its neighbors, much of the Islamic world remains at war with the West, especially with many dedicated activists, such as Qatar, Turkey and the PA in its midst. Their leaders, perhaps not wishing to get into a scrape with Trump, as well as seeing the delicious prospect of being in charge of the future Gaza chicken coop -- refuse to acknowledge this reality. Many leaders in the West also would possibly prefer not to admit the risk, even though their societies are precipitously at risk of being overwhelmed by the mass immigration of Muslims -- who boldly practice a competing faith founded on displacing all other faiths. Western leaders appear to wish to placate the Islamist voters in their midst, despite the harm being inflicted on their citizens -- with more expected in the offing. - The escalating social and political turmoil in nations such as France, Britain, Australia, Spain, Italy and Canada can be directly attributed to domestic Islamist agitation, Muslim demographic explosion, and the spread of religious Islam throughout the infrastructure - which most leaders would rather appease than confront. With mosques being built at a rapid rate, complete with public calls to prayer over loudspeakers, and special Sharia courts, councils and schools, Islam has come to significantly dominate the landscape in the major cities of western Europe. In the UK and France, for instance, certain street scenes are reminiscent of the Muslim cities from where immigrants originated... In Rosenbaum's words, "Hamas is not going away easily, even if some leave. The Muslim Brotherhood's lasting influence over the hearts and minds of Gazan society is ironclad." - The radical Islamic agenda since the 7th century seems to be to eradicate all "infidels", first by killing all the Jews, and so take over the world for Allah. After all, taqiyya (mandated dissimulation in the service of Islam) is part of the jihadist strategy in concealing their aim of global domination under Sharia law. In Rosenbaum's words, "Hamis is not going away easily, even if some leave. The Muslim Brotherhood's lasting influence over the hearts and minds of Gazan society is ironclad." - Or maybe Trump can actually pull it off. The time to worry about is after he is no longer president, supervising his dream of Gaza as a Riviera at peace with Israel. What if the prevailing Middle East ideology of eliminating Israel has not changed? GI 21.10.25 (German vs. > aud 27.11.)

Bulshtein, Ariel / The abduction of Israelis is now normalized - No one in the international community is demanding that the kidnappers be punished for their crime, just as no one sought to prevent them from reaping the benefits of their actions. The terrorists achieved a threefold success through the hostages. - ILH 20.10.25

Gomes, Jules / European Commission Spends Big Money on Islamist Projects - European Parliamentarians Blast Muslim Brotherhood-Linked Qur'an Project (EuQu) - Islamic scholars like Raymond Ibrahim, who have also raised concerns over the EuQu, have warned that the project "has one overarching goal: to convince Europeans that Islam and the Koran were somehow foundational pillars of European civilization." - "This isn't just about history—it's about shaping the present. About social engineering. About convincing Europeans that Islam has always belonged here, and if you think otherwise, well, clearly you haven't read the Koran through our carefully curated exhibitions," Ibrahim wrote. - "This isn't scholarship. It's propaganda — historical reeducation dressed in academic robes, bought and paid for by Brussels bureaucrats working with Muslim subversive - In funding Brotherhood-influenced organizations, the EU "is embracing not a friend, but a political foe" and risks "financing the undermining, and ultimately the destruction of our own values," the report warned. - MEF 14.10.25

Azarmehr, Potkin / The West's blind spot when it comes to the Muslim Brotherhood - In the past half-century, the group has branched out to more than 80 countries and embedded itself deeply within Western societies. - jns 09.10.25 (German vs. > mw 27.10.)

Canlorbe, Grégoire + Bat Ye'or / Europa und der Antizionismus: Ein Gespräch über die Ziele der Netzwerke bei der Verknüpfung der Migrationspolitik (Arab. Liga + OIC) mit der antiisraelischen Politik Europas (schon seit Beginn der zionistischen Bewegung) in Zusammenarbeit mit der MB, die Barcelona-Erklärung (1949), die humanitär verschleierte Finanzströme, den Vorrang der EU-Kooperation mit dem arabischen Raum (Solana 2004), die arabische und christliche Strategie, Israel durch Palästina zu ersetzen (als göttliche Strafe für ein "gottesmörderisches Volk"), den arabischen Palästinismus, um neben dem Judentum auch das Christentum zu überwinden (Beispiel Libanon), die Anfälligkeit Russlands und des Westens für den Jihad, das die Eurabia-Strategie als Hindernis, Frieden sowohl in Europa (Ukraine) als auch in Nahost zu schaffen, u.a. durch den von Europa aufgezwungenen Flüchtlingsstatus der pseudopalästinensischen Gruppen (Umma) als Fortsetzung des von NS-Deutschland mit Al-Husseini angelegten, bis in die 1970er Jahre erweiterten kriegsrischen Potentials zur Vernichtung Israels (Europa hat die militärischen Invasionen von fünf arabischen Staaten, die gemäß der Balfour- und der San-Remo-Erklärung jüdisches Land erobert und kolonisiert haben, nie verteilt, samt Ermordung und Vertreibung der jüdischen Bevölkerung, Plünderung ihrer Häuser und Niederbrennen ihrer Synagogen. Europa weigerte sich, Hilfe zu leisten, obgleich es bis 1945 damit beschäftigt war, Juden in die über sein Territorium verteilten NS-Vernichtungslager zu deportieren.) - abschl. über Maimonides und die Aussicht, auch Teile der Araber zu zivilisieren - unter kaum realisierbaren Voraussetzungen für Frieden mit sunnitischen Staaten: Akzeptanz der Lausanne-Vereinbarung, Beendigung der Gottesmord-Bezichtigung, jüdische Souveränität in Samaria, Judäa + Jerusalem, arabischer Verzicht auf Dhimmitude, Sharia + Jihad und Überwindung der eurabianischen Vergiftung - aud 04.07.25

Orenstein, David / The Ten Big Anti-Israel Lies - Book-Review - cam 11.06.25
> Dershowitz, Alan / The Ten Big Anti-Israel Lies: and How to refute it With the Truth. Skyhorse, NY 2024 (> pdf)

Tress, Luke / 24-country survey: Support for Israel strongest in Kenya and Nigeria, lowest in Turkey - In U.S., 53% of respondents are opposed to Israel and 45% in favor, Pew poll finds; Netanyahu's favorability is low across the board - 05.06.25

Wolffsohn, Michael / Hauptquellen von Antisemitismus in Deutschland und Europa - Rede am 15. November 2023 in Dresden auf Einladung von Sachsens Landtagspräsident Dr. Matthias Röbler: „Bis zum 7. Oktober dieses Jahres galt als Hauptquelle des Antisemitismus in Deutschland und Europa der alte und neue Rechtsextremismus. Ja, es gab ihn, es gibt ihn und es wird ihn, fürchte ich, weiter geben.“ In seiner Rede warnte er davor, die anderen Quellen der Judenfeindlichkeit zu übersehen: „In dem man immer nur auf eine Ausprägung des Antisemitismus konzentriert und fokussiert ist, übersieht man zwei andere: Es gibt erstens den Rechtsextremismus, zweitens den Linksextremismus und drittens den Islamismus“, so Wolffsohn. Es sei jedoch „immer nur auf einen Faktor geachtet“

worden, sagte er. Sein Fazit: „Ich bin sehr skeptisch, dass jenseits dieser Erschütterungen in diesen Tagen über den Anlass hinaus das gesamte Spektrum der Gefahren beachtet wird. Ich hoffe, ich irre mich.“ - Mit Blick auf die demografischen Veränderungen in Europa und die Flüchtling- politik sagte er: „Wer Menschen importiert, importiert Menschen mit ihren Hoffnungen, ihren Lieben, ihrem Hass und ihren Sorgen. Und das bedeutete natürlich erstens, den Import des Islam auch mit seinen antijüdischen Traditionen und zweitens den Nahost-Konflikt.“ (> video 33:06 min) - NZZ 22.11.23 (> Wolffsohn 12/2018)

Moshe Kantor Database for the Study of Contemporary Antisemitism and Racism - Antisemitism Worldwide 2018. General analysis - 2019 (> pdf - 148 p)

Gentinetti, Katja + Eric Gujer + Michael Wolffsohn / Die Hydra hebt ihr Haupt - der neue Judenhass - In den Medien häufen sich Meldungen von antisemitischen Ausfällen und Übergriffen in Europa. Dabei schien der Judenhass weitgehend besiegt zu sein. Echoraum der neuen Aggression ist das Internet: Auf Social Media wird plötzlich sagbar, was lange gesellschaftlich geächtet war. Als enthemmte Akteure in Szene treten Neonazis und Rechtsextremisten, aber auch muslimische Einwanderer, bei denen sich der Hass auf Israel mit einer tradierten Verachtung des Judentums mischt. - Über die demografische Revolution im Westen, den Zusammenschluss von linken und muslimischen Antisemiten, die Unterscheidung zwischen altem diskriminatorischen und neu anwachsendem liquidatorische Antisemitismus u.a.(> video 49:23 min) - 30.12.18

Gracia, Giuseppe / Mal angenommen: 200 Atomsprengköpfe im Iran - Michael Rüegg in der SRF-„Tagesgespräch“: Israel besitze mehr als 200 Atomsprengköpfe, in Reichweite von Europa. Trotzdem habe niemand in Europa Angst vor diesen Bomben, denn niemand fürchte, dass Israel Europa angreife, nicht einmal jene, die kein gutes Haar an Israel lassen und als Apartheidstaat diffamieren. Man stelle sich vor, Ägypten, Syrien, Irak, Iran oder die Hamas verfügten über eine vergleichbare militärische Potenz. Wer in Europa könnte noch schlafen? (> Dennis Prager - video 5:39 min) - AG 05/2014

Holocaust did not happen in non-Christian lands, but where the Gospel was preached.

"Die Christen sind zu feige, die Wahrheit auszusprechen, wenn sie dem Herrschaftsanspruch des Islam entgegensteht." (Schahdi Halul - zit. bei Schneider 2013 > pdf)

NL-Demo

Peter, Orli / How Hamas fooled the media: A neuroscientist's view - Seen from a clinical point of view, they demonstrate exceptional skills in cognitive empathy - When Syrian rebels captured Damascus earlier this month, CNN described their jihadi leader, Mohamed al-Jolani, as a "blazerwearing revolutionary". Other journalists praised his "rebranding" with values of "tolerance" and "pluralism", while the Council on American- Islamic Relations cast his win as a victory for "justice and freedom"... Can't the media see what is in front of their faces? As a neuropsychologist, I was intrigued. The recent Henry Jackson Society report revealed the largescale embrace of anti-Israel bias across the media. It seems to me that this is part of a pattern. Using cognitive empathy, militants have learnt to present their cause as aligned with Western humanitarian values, carefully curating their image as champions of freedom and justice... Ateret Violet Shmuel, founder of the nonprofit Indigenous Bridges, which helps indigenous communities heal from trauma, noted that the constant propaganda is internalised by Jews, who feel "shame" for being "occupiers" instead of the indigenous people that they are in Israel... Young adults are susceptible. In March, a Pew survey revealed that respondents 29 and under are more likely to sympathise with Hamas. One poll concluded that TikTok videos may be part of the problem among college students. Research shows older adults are more resistant... Hamas and its sympathisers skilfully exploit pain-empathy circuits in the brain, flooding the media with real or manipulated images of dead children, even misrepresenting gruesome scenes from other wars – including the Shoah in cases of "Holocaust inversion" – as Palestinian casualties of Israel. Terror leaders have openly stated that higher death tolls benefit their cause... The ability to truly empathise – combining emotional resonance with cognitive understanding – requires a nuanced, fact-based model of others' motivations. Without this balance, our empathy becomes a tool for manipulation. What can we do? We must refine our cognitive frameworks to resist propaganda, anchoring our emotional responses in accurate understanding. While individual stories of suffering evoke deep empathy, they must be rescaled to reflect the true scope of the issue. Similarly, the compelling imagery of "blazer-wearing" revolutionaries for peace must be critically examined within the broader context of extremist violence and manipulation. - jc 16.12.24 (> Psychosoz. Konstrukte)

Gaubatz, David P + Sperry, Paul E / Muslim Mafia: Inside the Secret Underworld That's Conspiring to Islamize America. Midpoint Trade Books, NY 2009 (> pdf)

- | | |
|-------------------------------------|---|
| 1: Muslims Victimized Muslims | 11: Co-Opting Congress |
| 2: Terrorist Turnstile | 12: Blackmailing Corporate America |
| 3: Fronting for Hamas Chapter | 13: The Muslim Brotherhood: Terrorists in Suits |
| 4: Terror Support Group | 14: The 'Ikhwan Mafia' |
| 5: CAIR's Bad Cop | 15: Faking Out the Infidel |
| 6: Cooperation? What Cooperation? | 16: The Plan |
| 7: PC Outreach Run Amok | 17: The Godfather |
| 8: CAIR's Ten Biggest Whoppers | 18: Infiltration |
| 9: Pulling Back the Curtain on CAIR | 19: Nucleus: ISNA |
| 10: CAIR's Arab Paymasters | 20: NAIT and the Economic Jihad |

Die Gründe für die Entstehung des Staates Israel liegen in Europa, er ist ein Produkt europäischer Zurückweisung. Wir Europäer scheinen diese Grundtatsache manchmal zu vergessen, wenn wir den Israelis Vorträge darüber halten, wie sie sich verhalten sollen in dieser feindlichen Region, wo sie vor einem noch feindlicheren Europa Zuflucht gesucht haben. In Europa drohte ihnen der Genozid, und sollte ihre Widerstandskraft jemals nachlassen, so droht er ihnen auch im Nahen Osten. (C. C. O'Brien 1986 zit. v. E. Später + K. Thörner - Konkret 8/2003:26)

Während Hitler lauthals seine eiserne Entschlossenheit herausposaunte, die Juden zu vernichten, bemühten sich die Alliierten, über diesen Völkermord mit Ansage den Mantel des Schweigens zu breiten - und zeigten damit, dass das Schicksal der Juden für sie nachrangig war. Die Juden waren, ... letzten Endes entbehrlich - und das registrierten Hitler und Goebbels sehr schnell. Zur Apathie und zum Schweigen der westlichen Führer im Verlauf des Holocaust gibt es in der heutigen Zeit einige beunruhigende Analogien, insbesondere was den Iran betrifft. (> R. Wistrich 2015)

Kommentar

Die heutigen antisemitischen DEI-Produkte ("Diversity, Equity, Inclusion") werden nicht zufällig von einer restlos korrumpierten internationalen Akademiker-Elite in der Kulturindustrie verbreitet: begierig, top-down und ohne Unterlaß. In unfassbarer Verkennung der historischen Fakten wird suggeriert, der arabische Dauer-Terror gegen Juden bzw. Israel sei legitim. Zugleich wird die absolute islamische Intoleranz gegenüber christlichen Ungläubigen bzw. Säkularen im Westen negiert, als sei auch sie nichts als "eine jüdische Erfindung, eine Verstümmelung des menschlichen Wesens", wie NS-deutsche "Vogelschisser" vom Gewissen raunten.

--

§ - Liability for arrangement, contents and copyrights of foreign websites linked here explicitly is excluded. / Beg your pardon for my bad English.

§ - Für Gestaltung, Inhalte und Rechte sämtlicher hier verlinkter fremder Webseiten wird jegliche

Haftung ausgeschlossen.