Week of February 16th - 20th

News

This week, students enjoyed exploring a familiar shopping tool...money! Students used background knowledge and oral language skills to share what they know about money. The read aloud Bunny Money invited students to take a closer look at money. Coin observations also provided students with the opportunity to learn more about the details they can find on money. In small groups, students used pennies to count with and used their letter knowledge to buy items by their beginning sound.

Next week, students will continue to share what they know about the places they go around town as we identify restaurants. Students will gain new vocabulary as well as a deeper understanding of the different roles/jobs found in a restaurant.

4K students enjoyed playing the game "Buying Gumballs" as a way to practice their counting and one-to-one correspondence. Students also used language to talk about how much money was left after buying "gumballs." Students soon realized that the more gumballs they had, the less money they had!
