

Privacy Policy – Instagram Bulk Unlike Extension

Last updated: June 11th, 2025

This browser extension, Instagram Bulk Unlike, is designed to help users bulk-select and unlike Instagram posts from their account activity page. Your privacy is critically important.

1. Information We Do Not Collect

We do not collect, store, transmit, or share any of the following data:

- Personal information (e.g., name, email, account details)
- Authentication credentials
- Instagram content or metadata
- Browsing history, user activity, or interactions
- Any other identifiable or non-identifiable data

All actions performed by this extension occur locally in your browser, on pages the user explicitly navigates to. No data ever leaves your device.

2. Permissions Justification

To function correctly, this extension uses the following permissions:

- activeTab: To run on the currently visible Instagram activity page
- scripting: To inject and execute DOM interaction logic for checkbox clicking and scrolling
- storage: For local state (e.g., automation progress) – never synced or shared
- host permission (https://www.instagram.com/your_activity/interactions/likes*): Limited to the necessary page to perform the unlike task

These permissions are solely used to execute the stated function of this tool.

3. Data Retention

We do not retain any user data. All interaction is ephemeral and session-based.

4. Third-Party Disclosure

We do not share, sell, or transmit any data to third parties. This extension operates independently and is not affiliated with or endorsed by Instagram™.

5. Contact

For questions, suggestions, or concerns, contact the developer:

- GitHub: <https://github.com/Ghostcar5153>
- Email: ghostcar5153@gmail.com

Disclaimer: Use this tool responsibly and at your own risk. Instagram's platform or UI changes may affect the extension's functionality.

© 2025 Oscar Anton (Developer) – All rights reserved.