CHOCOLATE MILK FLAVORED

A CHAPTER 3 TAKE
BY ROCCO

(Warning: best to view on computer)

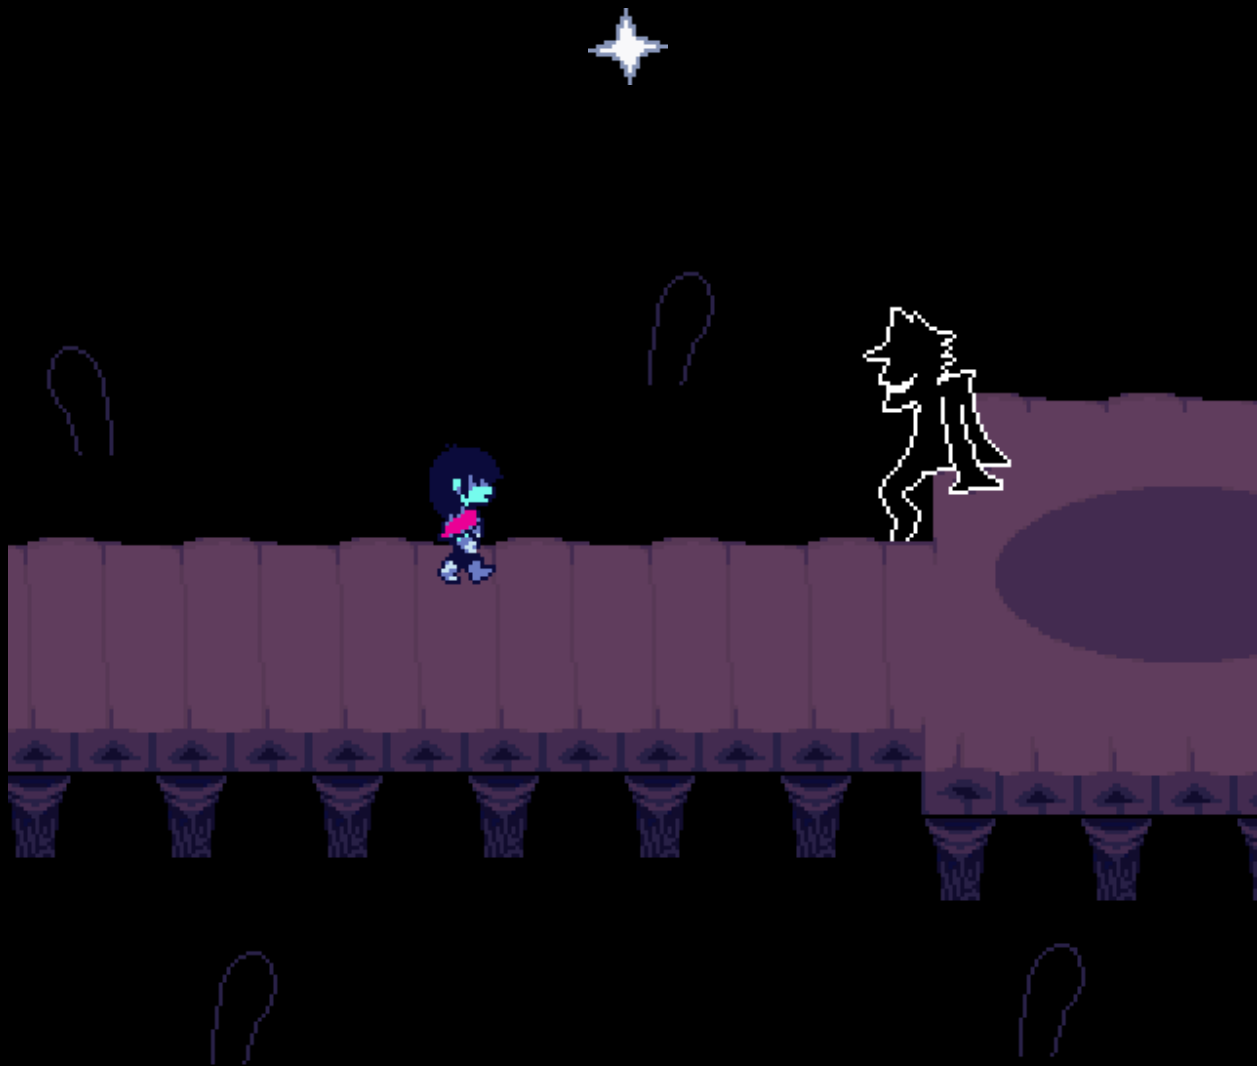

A NEW DARK WORLD?!

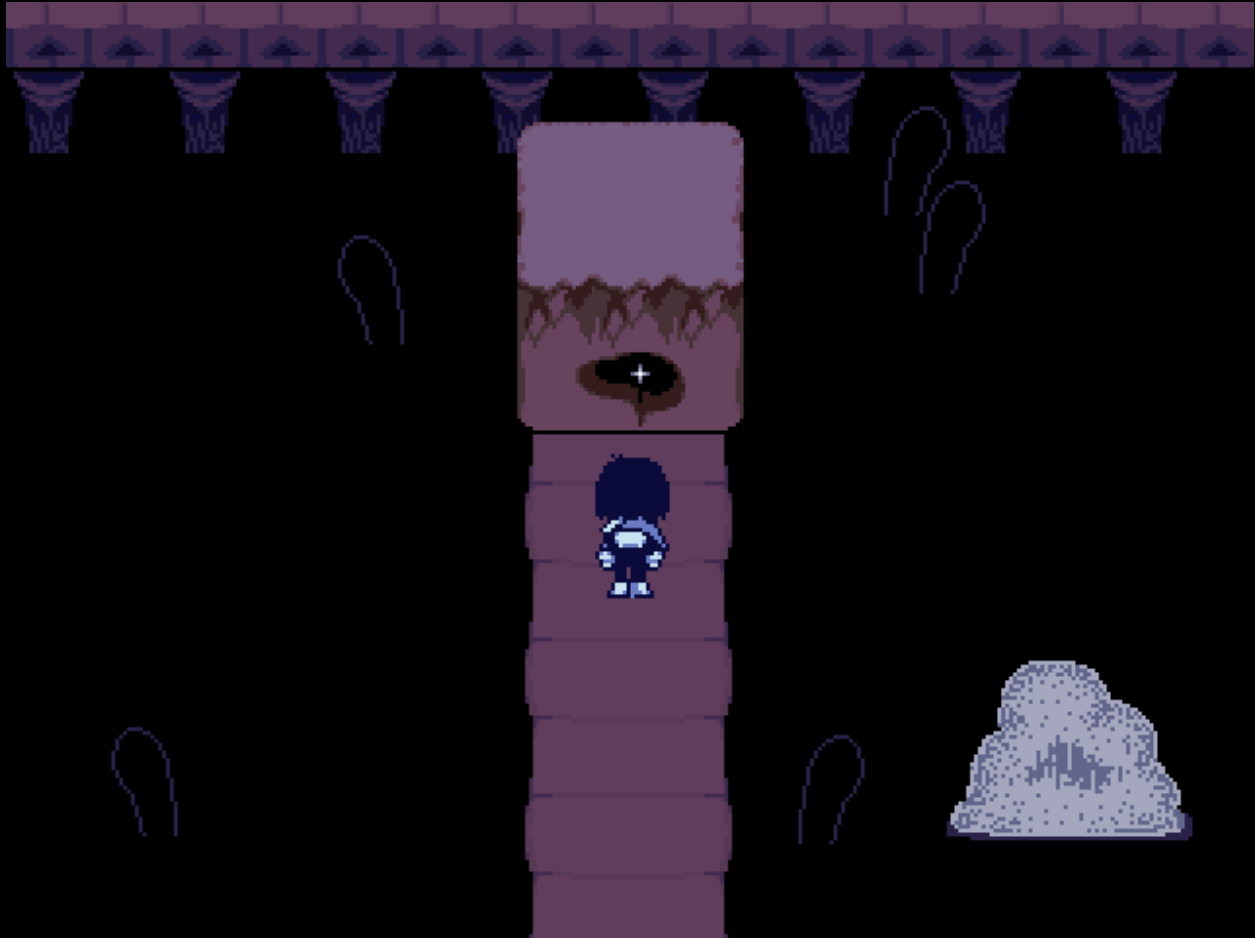

Where could this possibly be?!

This is a new area called The Bay that starts out the chapter in a similar way to Chapter 1 with The Cliffs area. It's a quiet dock with dark murky waters, and seems like a maze with no end in sight

(Sometimes henchmen need breaks too...)

(A sense of Deja Vu takes over as you reach inside the crevasse...)

But even if it is a little eerie there is really nothing to be scared of here-

* A friend told me that sharks roam these waters!

* And they bite off an arm! Then a leg!

* Geez! I need those arms and legs to shoot people!!!

Err.. maybe???

But not to worry! When you've got...

SUSIE!

You and Susie wander around a bit, there are some little bits of dialogue here and there and some little added on stuff.

“Minigames” (???)

These act to a similar purpose to Chapter 1 and 2’s sliding bits and the note part and tea cups specifically in Chapter 2, they are minimal here but are fun little things nonetheless.

Lily Pads!

(I could sprite this out but it's funnier like this)

(A splash sfx and a bounce sfx play every hop, I'd imagine it is kind of timing based on an input every jump, and it's about gaining momentum like with the Chapter 2 tea cups.)

Rock Push Puzzle

(Susie and Kris, like said, push rocks to those puzzle buttons, Susie and kris rotate spots as they both act as horizontal and vertical movement respectively, this is more or less a slightly slower Roux's puzzle lol)

Both of these minigames act as direct parallels to the ones in Undertale within Waterfall.

Some small talk happens with Susie as you traverse The Bay, as Susie wonders if this is just a dream or something.

* This is weird, don't you think?

* One second we're watching movie marathons... -

* -then the next second we're in the dark world again.

* This could just be a dream...

* But.. Nah. This is too real.

* I'm even chatting with you.

* Hey- you think when we find Ralsei he'll be freaking out?

Eventually you and Susie reach a point on The Bay that has a lot of thick fog covering the other side, they both hear distant noises of talking and hustle and bustle, and are prompted to go through...

* Pssh Kris, scared of a little fog!

* What you need your night light?

Yet Further...

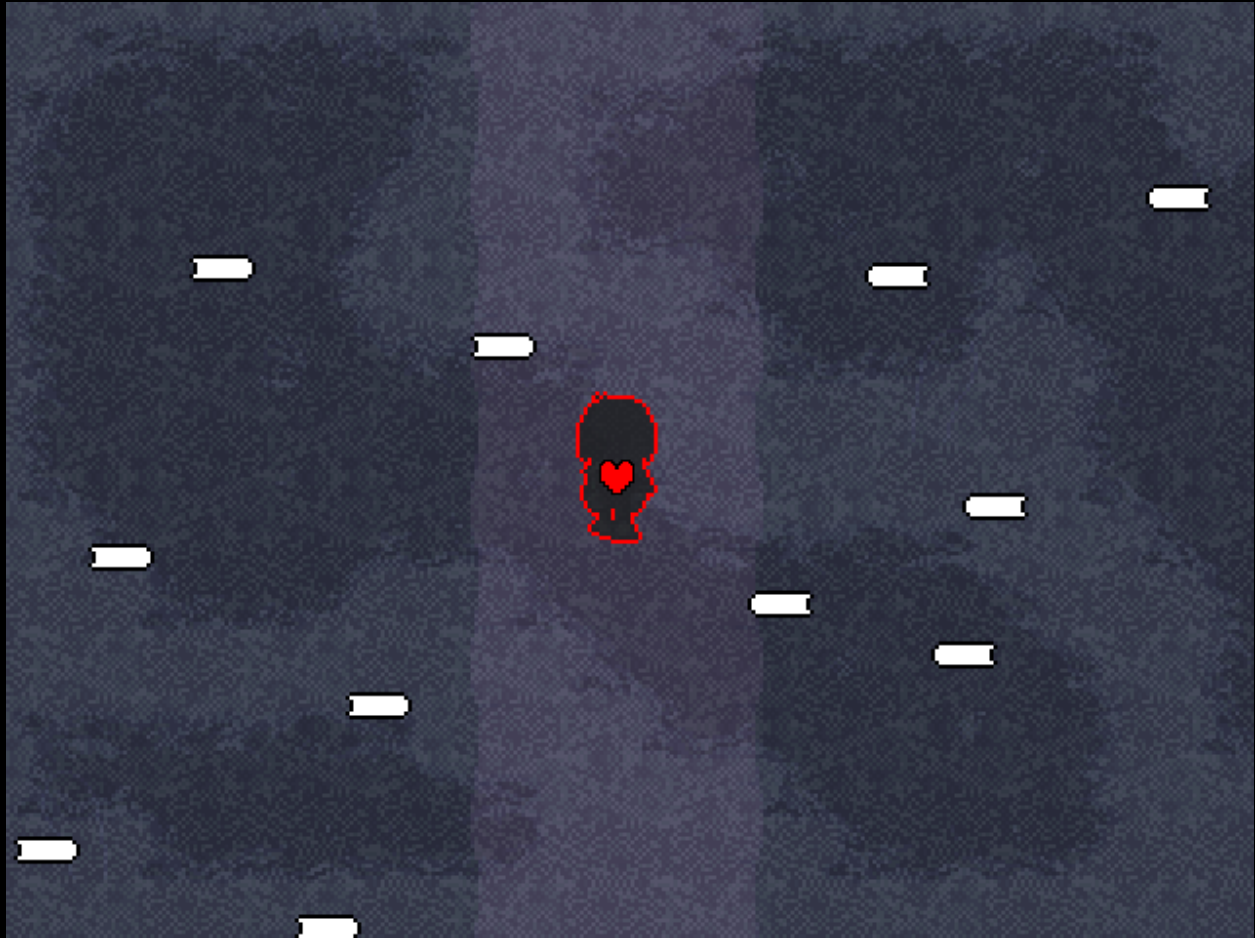

Yet...
Further...

!!!

* Get 'em Boys!

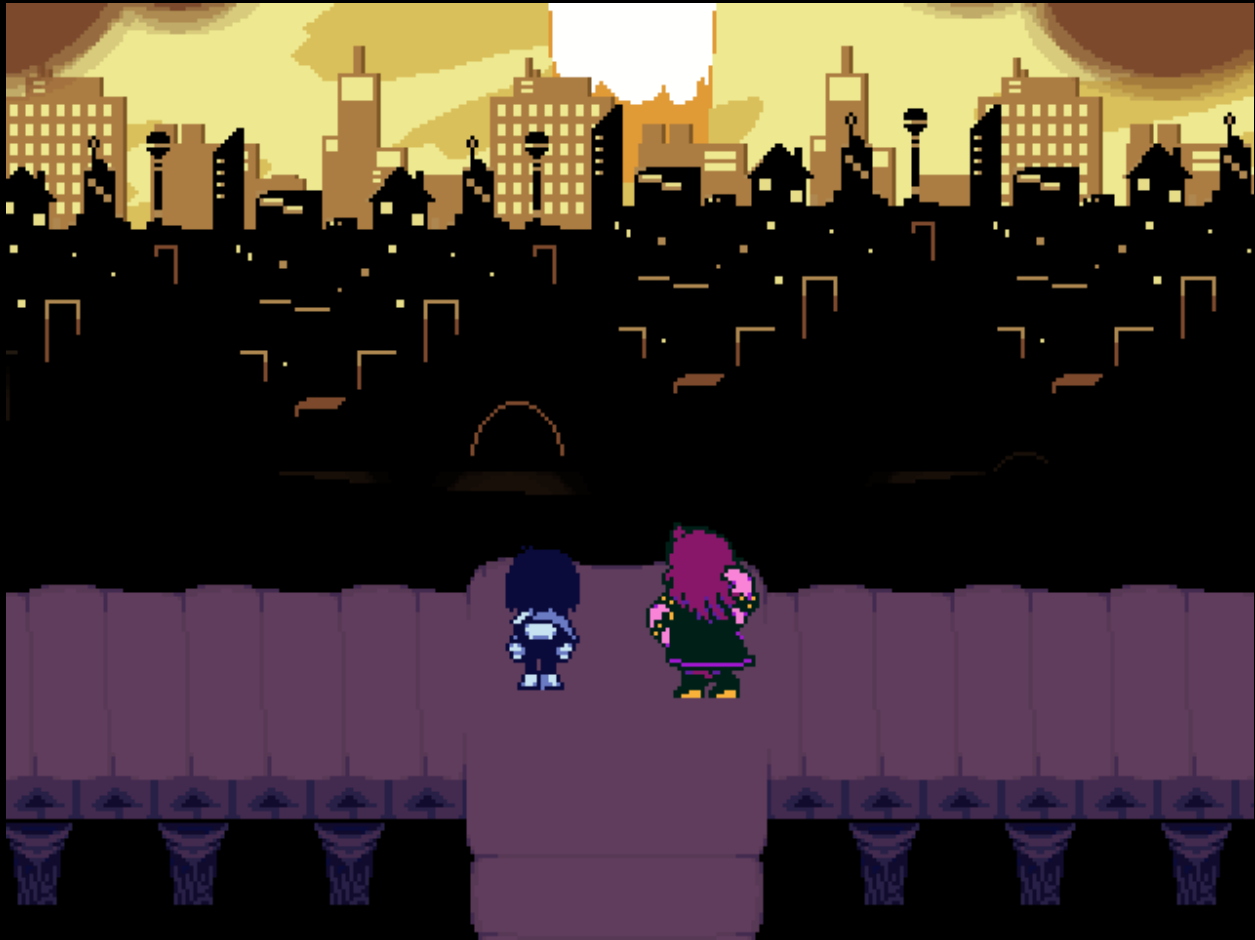

Run for it !!!

Eventually you out run the bullets (Assuming you dodged them) and meet up with Susie, then you both look up to see....
