

Avia it's been a long time since casper found that hidden spa in the mountains and met those little friends, and seen that beautiful village

I really missed seeing them, on this day he got up early and went to his owner, who was in the kitchen cooking breakfast

Casper approached him and tried to communicate with him about what he wanted, he clearly noticed Casper's lively behavior, he calmed him down and he could better explain what he wanted

Casper showed him those drawings, happy drawings that he showed of having gone before to that distant and beautiful place and where he made little friends of this one he had made

he understood perfectly what he wanted, he wanted to return to this place, he thought about it, clearly casper was not harmed by going to that place, he even let caper out, with one condition that you were out with something that kept him protected

He quickly got excited and shook his head agreeing to the deal, even his owner told him that it is better for him to have breakfast before he went outside to do his adventure towards the other members of the household they began to wake up, and towards all gathered they sat at the table, clearly highlighting casper for his difference and size

Today's breakfast was pancakes, cheering up the little ones at home, and we all happily ate these breakfast delicacies

About the time breakfast was over, Casper was getting ready to go out, carrying a small backpack with things he needed to survive, he still thought about the gift his new friends gave him, making him go out to the garden for a moment when he saw the plant is still there, but it has not grown at all, but you can see a small tree about the size of a medium box, which is growing

With this, he also thought to bring a gift for his friends, and he saw in his garden, and there is this one! a pumpkin! who does not like the pumpkin, with difficulty colored the plant of the head and began to take it inside, it was heavy so that it cost him for his cloth hands

i made casper having everything ready, and saying goodbye correctly to his owners he starts going where he met his friends

You are on his way was slower because of the pumpkin that gave him weight, but it did not bother him, but it was the thought of happiness of his friends to see him again and the gift he would give him that excited him more

He continued on his way, the good thing about leaving in the morning was that he was able to reach the spa area in the afternoon, there was still no one in the water so he assumed they would be in the village, but he did not know the way, worried that he would get lost, but he quickly had an idea, use his ofalto

He began to put his head up and smell, the smoke bothered a bit, but he could detect the smell of the trees in the village, he had the smell recorded thanks to the tree that is growing in his garden

Towards the end of having a clear path, one of the tunnels began to go, little by little the smell became closer and clearer to detect until he could reach the village

He was glad that he was able to do it with his account, and if he got closer to the village, clearly many of these did not recognize him, or some a little to see him that said day but very briefly it was a lot, but quickly Casper saw a group of 5 small and wagging his tail happily, he was able to recognize them, it was his friends he made that day they all quickly came to him in a group hug happy to see him again, and casper also hugged them as best he could, and quickly the little ones when they saw the pumpkin were very curious, since they had not seen anything like it

Casper explained that it was a gift, exciting the little ones that one of these tried to carry the pumpkin, but he couldn't because it was too heavy for him, so Casper kept carrying it

These were already one of their houses and he put the pumpkin carefully on the ground near the table, since well, the table would break if he put the pumpkin XD and the little ones talked to Casper about an event that was taking place

It was a food event, where the whole village was going to make a big banquet, but these ones wanted to make it bigger than last year, and the little ones were willing to use the pumpkin to use it in the event and share it for the whole village

Casper has always loved everything about food and he has knowledge since his owners have warned him in case he is left alone, and he told them that if he could participate

Clearly the little ones were happy that Casper participated, and with his size and strength he could perhaps make today's banquet bigger than previous years, so everyone with a plan got down to work

The first thing was to collect food, that was the most important thing, normally the difficulty of making these banquets is that many of the fruits are very far away for them and sometimes climbing is very dangerous, I even did it thanks to Casper and his height could easily take the tireless fruits and quickly collected the fruits that the others, getting a huge amount of fruits

After many harvests, it was the preparation of the fruits, they were of everything, food, desserts or drinks, they also put the pumpkin to be part of the banquet and together they began to make different dishes with the pumpkin and the other fruits.

pumpkin pie, pumpkin juice, pumpkin desserts, all kinds of pumpkin delicacies, and also with the other fruits having a great, great GREAT amount of food and soon it was almost time for the banquet

here everyone was gathering their meals at the big table and that was when casper and his friends arrived, it was impressive they did not seem to have an end that they bring more and more avocado until it was achieved, it was achieved that this banquet is bigger than the previous ones, this it made casper and his little friends happy and clearly the whole village, celebrating with the pumpkin food that was the star dish, so casper said goodbye the next morning, thanks to the seeds they could grow more pumpkins and did with a nice farewell casper was runbo homecoming
