

HELP!

IDEA - 8-9-2020

by

Patrick Ryan

1,492 Words

A washed-up pop-star released a surprise album after five years of not being heard. Sara and Kim are big fans, and they're one of a few that streamed the album. Something was off; it didn't sound right. Sara is a sound engineer and discovers a secret message hidden within each song; the pop star begs someone to help her, she's been kidnapped and taken to a ranch, forced to sing, record, and put out internet material against her will. The album is like a map that describes how to get to where she's being kept. The police thought it was a publicity stunt, the internet said they were nuts, and the ranch cannot be located on google maps, but they know that their favorite pop star needs to be rescued. Sara and Kim set out on their own to find a ranch that doesn't exist; little did they know they were about to uncover one of the largest sex trafficking hubs on the west coast.