

Dear Mark Coles,

I hope this email finds you well. My name is Saber and I've been following your content for a while now. I must say, your advice on shifting my mindset from the video series of making five figures to making multiple more figures and prioritizing fitness for men's well-being has had a significant impact on my life, and I truly appreciate it.

Recently, I visited your website and found it impressive overall, but I noticed some areas for improvement. For instance, there isn't a newsletter box that could persuade more people, including old customers, to purchase your high-value tickets. Which will utterly take your business to another level

As a digital marketing expert, I would be happy to offer my skills to help you fix these mistakes and make your site more fascinating which is gonna take you multiple steps further than any of your competitors

I will be sending you a message on instagram too~.

My website <http://bhjbrothers.com/>
and my LinkedIn profile <https://www.linkedin.com/in/saber-bouhdjeur-66405b274/>.

Best regards,

Saber