

Dear Juniors and Parents/Guardians,

Mid-marking period is today. If you are missing any work or have questions about your grades, please talk to your teachers.

PSAT scores have been released on the College Board website. If you currently have a College Board account you can login and review your scores and test questions. If you have not created an account you will need to create one in order to access your scores. School Counselors do not create accounts for students and do not have access to your login information. If you have trouble logging into your account, please contact the College Board directly.

When we return from winter break, we will begin the scheduling process. If you are interested in changing levels, please speak with your current academic teacher soon. We will be coming into your social studies classes to discuss the process more in January. Please begin to review the course selection guide for possible electives.

If any parents/guardians are interested in scheduling a meeting to talk about the college process, please contact your counselor to schedule a date.

As a reminder, if you are in need of tutoring the following resources are available:

The following reminder was sent to students today about the virtual after school tutoring program that is available. The tutors are North Hunterdon and Voorhees teachers and you can view the list of teachers in the "One Stop Tutoring Doc" linked in the message below. We hope students who need extra help will take advantage of this opportunity. We also offer students tutoring through Tutor.com.

If you have any questions about the after school tutoring program with our teachers, you can reach out to the coordinator, Becky Fortugno for North Hunterdon.

On the following linked document, you will find a list of all our tutors, their subject areas and courses, availability, and Google Form. If your student wants to receive help, then they would fill out the corresponding teacher's Google Form to request help. While we appreciate parental/guardian support, you should not be filling out the form. Please have your student use their school assigned email to sign up for a tutoring session. Here is the link to the One Stop Tutoring Doc.

Once your student signs up for a session, the tutor will get an email notification about the desired meeting time. If a teacher-tutor cannot meet with your student, then the following alternative options are available:

- Email the tutor to create another time to meet with the requested tutor.
- Request a different tutor in the desired content area by filling out their Google Form.
- Use tutor.com by accessing the following link: tutor.nhvweb.net.
- Email your school's Tutoring Coordinator for additional assistance.

The polytech application is currently open. Please use this link to create an account and apply. The early decision deadline is December 22 to be notified by January 13. Applications will be accepted after December 22 without a guaranteed acceptance.

- Virtual Information Session: Wednesday, Dec. 14, beginning at 6pm. Link to register.

- In-Person Open House: Saturday, Jan. 28, between 10am-12pm at the Bartles & Central Campuses

December's learning strategy is Time Management. Students and staff will explore how managing time more efficiently and effectively can help them build a positive school-life balance, increase productivity, and lower stress levels through a regular practice of organizing, prioritizing, and completing tasks on time. The activities set forth for this month's topic will invite students and staff to learn more about how to use goals and planning to best manage their time so they can make constructive choices and have more time for themselves. If you have any questions, please reach out to Maria Radus. Resources that might be helpful are below.
