Please read carefully before you consider in commissioning me:

- ★ By commissioning me you confirm that you are of legal age to commission explicit content in your country.
- ★ I only start a commission after I have received full payment.
- ★ Once a commission has started, you agree that there is no possibility of canceling the order or receiving a refund.
- ★ By commissioning me, you acknowledge that I retain all rights to the images created. These images cannot be used for commercial purposes by you, the client, unless you have obtained prior written permission from me.
- ★ My art style is not negotiable. I do not change my style for commissions and do not replicate other people's art styles.
- ★ By commissioning me, you agree to allow me full creative freedom in the production of the artwork.
- ★ Completion can vary from days to weeks to months. I'm not a full time commission-only-artist but I'll communicate any updates and changes. My art needs time.

A brief explanation of the commission process

First sketch	Clean sketch	Lines	Coloring	Finished work
---------------------	---------------------	--------------	-----------------	----------------------

I'll draw a rough sketch. You can give feedback on the character, pose, and minor details. It's only about figuring out the base at first.	A more clean and detailed sketch. Adjustments are still possible and accessories can be still added during this process.	Lineart is done. If commission is digital: Adjustments only possible to a limited extent, at most small details can still be adjusted here or if important details are missing, but not the pose or character etc. If commission is traditional: No changes possible.	After the coloring phase is started adjustments are only possible to a limited extent. If commission is digital: colors can still be changed, but not the pose or character etc. If commission is traditional: No changes possible.	No more changes possible here.
