How to Collab: Making Group Content That Doesn't Feel Forced (AP)

Hosted by: Maple Chicken & OrcaTsukii

Collabs are one of the fastest ways to grow, but they're also one of the easiest ways to make content that feels awkward, unbalanced, or chaotic. This panel breaks down how creators can plan, pitch, and execute multi-creator collaborations that actually feel fun and natural, even when participants have never worked together before!

Panelists will walk through real strategies for structuring group collabs, setting expectations, managing schedules, and reading creator "vibes" before going live. The session includes an interactive collab-matchmaking segment where audience-submitted creator types are turned into a mock collaboration in real time, showing how to go from idea → format → execution without forcing chemistry.

Whether you're a VTuber, streamer, or community organizer, this panel gives practical tools for creating collabs that feel exciting (instead of exhausting).

Metamorphosis Lost - How Féileacán Cú Weaves a Novel Out of Streaming (14P)

Hosted by: Féileacán Cú

Féileacán Cú is a VTuber that debuted at the end of last year. Every one of his streams include references to the world he has created of "Metamorphosis Lost," a multimedia project based on his lore and characters. Cú is a primary school teacher struggling to teach a lesson that he never learned himself: how do you live when you've already lost your life? Possessed by Féileacán, a cold hearted entity whose duty it is to reap lost souls, Cú has made it his life's work to help them pass on peacefully. This panel is an introduction to Metamorphosis Lost as well as a showcase of the different ways a VTuber can use story telling throughout their streams to enhance their community spirit and make them feel like part of the story. Come join Féileacán Cú as he explains his world, story and the way that he has worked with his community and collaborators to begin bringing his story to life as a web novel, webtoon, motion comics, animations and music as well as cameos in other media. "Burn bright, and find your place among the endless night."
