

"A Super fun Christmas game"

<http://happyhomefairy.com/2011/12/07/a-super-fun-christmas-game/>

My daughter was looking for ideas for our extended family Christmas dinner and she found the above game. Of course my first thought is, hey, I can translate the directions to Spanish and use it with students in my Spanish classes.

My next thought was that I could blog about it to share the idea, but then...I thought, wouldn't it be cool to ask other MFL teachers if they want to complete the activity with 1 (or more) of their classes! If they tweet or email the student sketches to me, I can create a photo collage of the sketches or post photos of the sketches.

I'm going to do the activity this week with all of my Spanish classes. I'll probably buy a small prize for the sketch with the most points and/or the best looking sketch for each class to provide extra motivation for them to concentrate while drawing.

Are you interested in joining in? If so...

- 1) add your name, email, school name & state, and twitter handle below
- 2) complete the activity this week with 1 (or more) of your language classes
- 3) TWEET sketches to me with #platesketch (Great idea by @placido) OR email the best sketch(es) to me by Friday, Dec. 19

If you have a more creative way to share the winners' sketches, please do not hesitate to suggest it! If I knew how to set up a poll for the best overall sketch, I'd be willing to offer a prize for that too.

1. Cynthia Hitz - Palmyra Area High School @sonrisadelcampo
email: my first name underscore last name underscore at yahoo dot com
(no caps)

ALL LANGUAGES WELCOME - even ENGLISH. This is the view only document. If you are interested in participating, send me a direct message on twitter and I will send you the editable version of this document OR....participate and share your best sketch with me on Twitter with hashtag #platesketch.

