SL: You've been LIED to about supplements

PV: The unfortunate truth...

Hey %FIRSTNAME%,

If you're like many other gym goers,

You probably take supplements in order to get the best results in the gym.

And while that does sound like a good idea,

You're being played.

You see, most supplements SUCK.

They're either effective, but taste like sh*t (not that I know what that tastes like),

Or they taste good, but do literally nothing.

And as someone who used to be inconsistent with supplements because of those reasons,

This drove me absolutely crazy!

How is there not a single supplement brand that tastes good BUT is also effective?!

So I started thinking...

"Why not make my own?"

And that's exactly what I did.

By assembling a remarkable team of researchers, olympic athletes, and trainers,

We created something unlike anything else out there.

Supplements that are delicious, but also just as good for you.

It's like having a cheat day without cheating on your body.

Whether you need pre-workout, post-workout, caffeine, or protein...

We've got you covered.

Instead of putting artificial poop down your throat,

Bless your tastebuds and body with the best supplements out there.

Appreciate your time,

Oath Nutrition
