

AspieLand - Parent / Carer Agreement

The moderators and AV admin want AspieLand to be an enjoyable and safe place for everyone and we want to work with you and your player to help them enjoy their time in AspieLand.

All AspieLand players are required to be respectful towards others in the server, including moderators and AV admin. The AspieLand Minecraft team asks all parents and carers to support us by encouraging their players to engage respectfully with the AV team, and to respect moderators and AV admin's responses, answers, and decisions in the server.

If my player disagrees with a decision or an answer from a moderator:

- They can contact the moderator via /helpop to discuss this with them.
- The moderator will do their best to explain the decision to the player, but the moderator's decision is final.
- If the player breaks chat rules (uses inappropriate language, nags the moderator for items or a different answer, or refuses to accept the moderator's decision / answer), they may be muted.

Things to remember

- The moderators are young adults from within the AV community
- The moderators have access to information that may not be accessible to players.
- The moderators can also be invisible in the server - they can see what players are doing without players realising they're there.
- The moderators know Minecraft: they know what is reasonably possible for players within a vanilla Minecraft server and what can only be achieved by using a mod / hack / glitch.
- The moderators have experience with players not sharing their experience with their parents as the game was played and are consistently working to create a culture of trust and respect.
- The moderators make reasonable and responsible decisions based on the information available to them at the time.
- AV trusts the moderators to make fair and reasonable decisions to keep AspieLand a safe place for all players.
- The rules are in place to provide clear guidelines. If players go out of their way to bend, flout, or find workarounds for the rules, the moderators will ask them to stop. If they keep doing this, the moderators will implement other consequences.

By registering your player to join the AspieLand Moderated Minecraft Program, you acknowledge and agree to these terms, and that the decision of the moderators is final.