Characters

So, some of your dinosaurs do not meet the standards I'm trying to reach. Some, such as Ulokaraptor and Spinotahraptor meet this. But what are the standards?

Genus-

Background/Origin - How they were created and why they committed the crimes.

Convictions - the crime they committed.

Ring Placement - Ring

Size - metric height (imperial height) and metric length (imperial length)

Weight - metric weight (imperial weight)

Specimens - Number of specimens in the Rings of Hell (names or the specimens)

Ulokaraptor-

Background/Origin - In 2016, Mantah Corp. traveled to Isla Nublar, almost 4 months after the fall of Jurassic World. They stole a flurry of DNA vials from the Embryonic Administration north of the Main Park. This DNA included Velociraptor, Ankylosaurus, Sinoceratops, Dimorphodon, and Carnotaurus. Later that year a subsidiary of Manta Corp, CT, created a hybrid from an individual raptor, named Blue, and Ankylosaurus DNA. After its creation, it was studied for tests. After testing it is unknown what happened to it. CT created two copies after the original, instead of using Blue's DNA, they used generic raptor DNA, so they both lacked the Blue stripes that the Original had. One was brown and the other was dark gray, soon after their creation the two were released into the Americas after the DPW and authorities raided Mantah Corp Island. The DPW eventually recovered one of them and flew it to the Seven Rings of Hell Prison Complex.

Convictions - Ate Homo sapiens (463 Counts)

Ring Placement - Ring-Seven

Size - 2.1 meters tall (7.1 ft) and 5.1 meters long (17.6 ft)

Weight - 1,500 kg (1.6 tons)

Specimens - Three (Beinthrymmatiz (Bein), Kleftis, Brachos)

Dilophosaurus-

Background/Origin - Coming from the original batch of Dilophosaurus cloned for Jurassic Park, this Dilophosaurus went through generational evolution, which became known as "Genetic Replacement." Over time, the Dilophosaur's DNA began kicking out the replacement DNA, filling it in with the natural DNA. This caused it to grow in size and take on a more biologically accurate form, even losing its skin frill, despite still having venom. This new form of venom came from two glands located under its tongue, which are made from corrosive enzymes that cause major stinging pain and blindness if hit in the eyes. The new Dilophosaurs are much larger than their '93 counterparts, measuring about 23 feet long, and about 10 feet tall.

Metrialong-

Background/Origin - Dr. Henry Wu, an innovative geneticist working for BioSyn, used the method he used to create Jurassic World's Mosasaurus, to now create Metriorhynchus. This new animal was immediately tested to be used as the base for a hybrid project Wu had planned; The Metrialong. Using Guanlong DNA recovered by BioSyn, the Metrialong was a small crocodylomorph theropod that was extremely aggressive toward handlers and staff. At an unknown time, the Metrialong escaped containment and was found in Italy, and was then transported to the Seven Rings of Hell.

Convictions - Murdered a herd of Stegoceratops

Ring Placement -

Size -

Weight -

Specimens - One (Unknown)

Personality - Sneaky

Malusuchops-

Background/Origin - Not much is known about this dinosaur besides the fact that it's made from Malusaurus and Ceratosuchops, and is very old. He tried to kill a Kentrosaurus for food, but this resulted in a scar over his eye and eventual cataracts. His age puts him to be made around 2002. Highly aggressive species, and are not known to have any files or other data explaining it.

Convictions - Murdered several hadrosaurs (count 44), murdered dozens of humans, escaped

Ring - Seven

Size - 23 feet tall (7 meters) and about 58 feet (17 meters) long

Weight - exact size unknown, estimated to be 8164 kilograms

Specimens - One (Aboleth)

Baryonyx-

Background/Origins - One of the original Baryonyx that escaped from the Lockwood Manor, this Baryonyx was captured by the DPW and trafficked to Boulder, CO, where it fought a stud Nasutoceratops. The Baryonyx had a crippled leg and arm, which resulted in its buyer (once it was auctioned by smugglers) making it prosthetics. The Baryonyx noticed when it bent its elbow, steam came out of a pipe. The Baryonyx began playing with chemicals, eventually, he escaped the smugglers and started poisoning the rivers and water supplies of small towns. Soon after poisoning and killing multiple dinosaurs and humans, he was tracked down and captured by the DPW for violating the Geneva Conventions and brought to the Seven Rings of Hell.

Convictions - Putting chemicals into multiple water supplies as a way of revenge against the humans.

Size - 2.7 meters tall (9 ft) 9 meters long (29 feet long)

Weight - 3600 kg (3.6 tons)

Specimens - One (Fin)

Personality - Likes to joke around, but serious

Rajasaurus-

Background/Origin - In 2019, a rogue group of operatives in the DPW used a live Carnotaurus specimen and fossilized Rajasaurus DNA to create a batch of three Rajasaurus. They were trafficked all around the globe, with two ending up set loose in central Africa, and the other starving while being transported across the Atlantic Ocean. The two in Africa became a mating couple and had seven hatchlings. After reports coming in from villages about them popped up in DPW records, the DPW went and took the adults, missing the infants. The seven hatchlings grew up, but one killed and ate the other six. The final Rajasaurus, the one that ate the others, was bought by a British man by the name of David Attenborough, and it was named Redbrick Von Buckminster.

Convictions - Cannibalism (6 counts)

Size - 2.4 meters tall (7.9 ft) and 9.7 meters long (32 ft)

Weight - 3000 kg (2.9 tons)

Spinotahraptor-

Background/Origin - In 2020, a Maltese Dinosaur Trafficking Ring stole a briefcase of DNA vials from a BioSyn transport ship, stealing Spinosaurus, Euoplocephalus, Cearadactylus, Austroraptor, and Utahraptor. The Maltese then began experimenting with random animals and the dino DNA, eventually creating two eggs, made from Spinosaurus and Utahraptor, which became the Spinotahraptors. With the power and semi-aquatic prowess of Spinosaurus, the agility of a Utahraptor, the bright colors of a Lyrebird, the tree-climbing abilities and arm strength of an Emerald Tree Monitor, and the tracking skills of a Pit Viper, the Spinotahraptor is a perfectly balanced killing machine.

Convictions - 156 counts of 1st Degree Murder, + P61 Diciotti Class destroyed.

Traqueur is great at sensing, and has the biggest olfactory bulb of any living creature, being able to exactly pinpoint what you are and how fast you're moving for up to 80 kilometers away. Traqueur also has a constant hunger. The two are almost always on edge, so one hit can set them into a blind rage.

Suchomimus-

Background/Origin - In somepoint 2020 5 suchominus transported in crate from biosyn to Malta only one survived the suchominus by name of Kyle killed his siblings and slashed 4th by neck then buyer given kyle eye patch then he killed buyer and escaped from his cage and went on rampage in malta killed 2 juvenile Carnotaurus and 1 adult Carnotaurus snapping neck and had injured allosaurus by venomous claws and genes because of black mamba dna and colors because parrot gene and thermodetector because of pit viper gene and venomous fangs because of diamond backed rattlesnake dna and it was not long before DPW officers found him by river and arrested him and taken to prison by biosyn

Austroraptor-

After a group of criminals found an abandoned lab used for illegally making dinosaurs, they managed to capture a group of 4 young Austroraptors. Soon, they trained the young Austroraptors and used them for trafficking more dinosaurs and murdering people who got suspicious. Eventually, they did something more risky. Robbing a bank. Soon, the criminals started training the Austroraptors, to not eat valuables and to abandon their goal within a moment's notice. Eventually, the Austroraptors got into the building, and were stacking valuables. Unfortunately, a late bloomer, named Meridian, didn't get the clue to get out, and was captured by the DPW, where he was transported to the Seven Rings Of Hell prison.

Herrerasaurus-

Background/Origin - After five from the original Jurassic Park were trafficked into Malta, a Slovak arms dealer by the name of Vladimir Zochenskoff (Zoe-kens-koff) purchased them. After his right-hand man, Dimitri 'Dutch' Kovak, Vladimir named the alpha of the Herrerasaurs 'Dutch'. After two of Vladimir's men were killed trying to feed Dutch, Vlad was forced to sell Dutch and his posse in an illegal Malta Auction. Dutch and four others were bought by the Brazilian president, for 'guards'. When Dutch finally arrived, he broke free of his cell and ate Luiz Inácio Lula da Silva. Dutch appears orange in color, but after an incident where he escaped, he accidentally set off an explosion that caused his body to be charred ash grey, save for a few patches of orange. His followers are dark green with yellow horizontal stripes running down his back.

Personality - Incredibly hostile and lethal. Dutch has a unique strategy. If you are a similar or slightly larger size than Dutch, he'll use his posse to surround you and fill your sight while he and another will come from the sides, exposing you to the sheer mutilation your body will soon face. For prey larger than Dutch, a swarm-bite-and-slash tactic is the way to go. Pretty much overwhelm the prey and run constantly so you can't have a chance to pick them apart.

Carnotaurus-

Background/Origin - One of the original two specimens on Isla Sorna during Hurricane Clarrisa, the two, mates, were split when they were trafficked by BioSyn in 1999. The female's location and buyer are unknown, but the male was trafficked to Calgary, Canada by a buyer known as Tyler Lesley. He escaped containment from the estate in rural Calgary, and made his way to downtown Calgary. There he ate five people, destroyed the bus they were traveling in, and when Animal Control was called in, the male flipped and destroyed eight police cars. He went on the run for over 18 years before BioSyn finally captured him and transported him to the Seven Rings of Hell Prison Complex in the Mediterranean Sea.

Since then, Iggy has been sold on to the Amber Clave Night Market in Malta, where he has been forced to fight and kill similarly-sized animals, such as large Theropods. During the 2022 incident, Iggy was released, and caused havoc across the city of Valletta, before being captured by the DFW and transported back to the BioSyn Facility, almost two years after he was sent to Malta. But after he couldn't reintegrate back into Iguanodon populations, he was sent to the Seven Rings of Hell Prison Complex in the Mediterranean.

SCRIPT

The prisoners are slowly brought one by one to the Seven Rings of Hell, a prison complex on an isolated island in the Mediterranean. It was made in the early 1510s to hold Greek prisoners and was created using stone and metal bars. They dug a huge pit into the ground and built Ring-One, the smallest ring, and the cages are made of isolated metal bars. A catwalk surrounds the cages, which make up the ring. Ramps on the catwalks connect to the next ring, Ring-Two. Basically the same, except slightly larger. This occurs the same up to Ring-Six, where the metal becomes reinforced with stone. Then, at Ring-Seven, the metal bars are completely gone, replaced by a pure stone wall except for a slit for the guards to watch and give the prisoners food. After the Lockwood Incident, BioSyn took control of the prison and used it for dinosaurs too aggressive to be left in the wild. BioSyn engineered a Therizinosaurus, Tyrannosaurus, and a flurry of Troodons, and used the chips to control them as guards.

Fade In: Ring-Seven, Fin's Cage.

A box truck backs up into the cell. The shutter opens, and two BioSyn transport members shock a massive Baryonyx, gray, with a prosthetic arm and leg, made from recycled metal and wires, attached with traffic cone orange harness straps, into the cell. The Baryonyx, Fin, snaps at the personnel, but they manage to force him in before he can get to them. Fin immediately begins ramming himself into the walls, before using his metal leg to kick the stone bricks out of the way.

Cut To: Ring-Seven, the Spinotahraptors' Cage.

One of the Spinotahraptors, Avant, wakes up, still drowsy from the tranquilizers. He yawns and then tries to get up. He sees his sibling, Traqueur, roaring at the wall.

AVANT: Groans Where are we...?

TRAQUEUR: Sniffs Grunts... Cage...

AVANT: Okay, how do we get out?

TRAQUEUR: We don't. There's no door...

Cut To: Ring-Five, the Dilophosaurus's Cage.

The Dilophosaurus, initially spitting venom at the bars, notices a grate under their water bowl. The Dilophosaurus manages to move it and push it away, before slinking in.

Cut To: Ring-Seven, Fin's Cage.

Fin roars through the slit in the stone wall, calling out for help. He awaits a response, but he just hears Avant and Traqueur discussing in the adjacent cell.

Cut To: Ring-Seven, Aboleth's Cage.

The Malusuchops, Aboleth, begins pacing his cell. He is almost blind, as cataracts and a scarred eye make vision almost impossible. His rough age and numerous scars tell a story of great violence.

Cut To: Ring-Seven, Fin's Cage.

Fin snaps in frustration as he finally breaks the old brick wall down. He snarls in triumph, before running to the adjacent cell and kicking apart the Spinotahraptors' cell. Avant and Traqueur also break it from the other side.

Cut To: Ring-Six, Red's Cage.

In a lowly, dim-lit cell, Redbrick Von Buckminster, or just Red, awakes, seeing trace amounts of light glisten off of his metal bars. His memory begins to recall what happened, but it's disrupted by a Tyrannosaurus guard pacing the Ring-Six catwalks.

RED: Groans What the- Grunts How did I get here?

Red looked around, but he wasn't focused on how he arrived there, he was just focused on escaping. Red slowly got up and rammed the bars using his head, but the metal bars just rattled, jarring Red. He looked back and noticed a dent in the bars.

Cut To: Ring-Seven Catwalks.

Fin begins investigating the area, smelling the guards all around him. Near the Spinotahraptor cell, Avant and Traqueur investigate the hole in the wall made by Fin. They slowly come out of it, and Avant looks around, while Traqueur sniffs the air.

TRAQUEUR: Oh! Laughs I smell them, there are so many, licks his keratin lips, yes...

Cut To: Ring-Six, Red's Cage.

Red, sick of being locked in, circles his cage, before running at the bars full speed. The bars twist and bend, and Red falls to the floor, successfully escaping, now lying on the Ring-Six catwalks. Exhausted, Red passes out.

Cut To: Vents, Undisclosed location in the Seven Rings of Hell.

The Dilophosaurus continues crawling through the vents and sees a prison yard through a grate. It has tiny cracks and holes, along with a basketball hoop on one side, and a small shed on the other.

DILOPHOSAURUS: Thinks There must be a way out somewhere.

Cut To: Ring-Seven Catwalks.

Fin finds the Spinotahraptors investigating their areas.

FIN: Hey! You, you raptor, er- spino things? Wanna team up?

Avant spots Fin, and eyes him up.

AVANT: Chuckles Oh, you're funny... For now, until we get out of this hell...

FIN: Alright, let's go.

Cut To: Ring-Six Catwalks.

Red groans in pain as he slowly gets up, and begins running towards the Six-Seven Catwalk Ramp.

Lower Camera To: Ring-Five, Leo's Cell.

Inside a cell, Leo and Santos flutter around. Santos rests on the floor, while Leo grips the metal bars and begins shaking them violently. Leo sticks his beak through the bars, screeching and snapping at the guards passing.

Cut To: Prison Yard.

Eventually, Fin, Traqueur, and Avant get outside and feel the brisk seaside air hit their skin and feathers. In the shed, shielded from them, is the Dilophosaurus.

Cut To: Ring-Six, Kyle's Cell.

A Suchomimus sleeps. The light emerging from the bars casts a shadow on the Sucho's orange and cyan skin. Kyle, the Suchomimus, finally awakes after hearing the sounds of Leo screaming below him. Kyle gets up and begins pacing his cell, drowsy from the tranquilizers. Kyle wonders how he got here, and suddenly begins smelling a cluster of food somewhere.

Cut To: Prison Yard.

Avant notices Traqueur about to bite Fin's tail, but luckily, Avant leaps over Fin to bite Traqueur's neck. Traqueur manages to get one leg free and kicks Avant off of him. The Dilophosaurus hears a commotion outside and sees Fin, Avant, and Traqueur. Avant swipes at Traqueur, but Traqueur bites Avant's neck and yanks him down. The Dilophosaurus watches the two tussles and looks at Fin.

DILOPHOSAURUS: Uh... Are we going to do something about this?

FIN: Let them just tire each other out.

Fin watches them and notices they are not stopping. Fin bites Avant's tail, yanking him off of Traqueur. The Dilophosaurus sees a guard passing the area, giving him an idea.

Cut To: Ring-Six Catwalks

Kyle, the Suchomimus, has been wandering the Ring for a while, unaware of how to escape. He notices a stressed Rajasaurus in front of him; Redbrick Von Buckminster. Red sees Kyle and begins growling, warning him to stay away.

Cut To: Ring-Seven, Kleftis's Cell

Kleftis slowly opens its eyes, and thundering dinosaurs echo through the rings. The first thought on this animal's mind was rage. It immediately got up and began pushing up against the walls, seeing if they'd fall like all before it. Once he realized it wasn't. The Ulokaraptor began using its tail club to break apart the bricks. A small crack is made. One step closer to freedom.

Cut To: Ring-Seven Hallways

The Dilophosaurus rushed at the Troodon guard. The two tussled for a while, with the Troodon slashing the Dilophosaur's thigh and eye. The Dilophosaurus replied by slashing the Troodon's belly and neck, killing it.

DILOPHOSAURUS: Chuckles Guess I'm a Cyclops now...

The Dilophosaurus, now Cyclops, begins running away, but Fin briefly spots them.

Lower To: Ring-Five, Leo's Cell

Leo continues shaking the bars. Santos sleeps below him.

LEO: Lemme out! Shake bars violently LET ME OUT!!!

Cut To: Ring-Six Catwalks

Kyle ran at Red at high speeds, aiming to slash at the throat. Red manages to weave and bite Kyle's hand, yanking him down. Kyle retaliates by biting Red's thigh. Blood spilled out of Red's mouth as he roared in agony. Kyle attempts to retreat, but Red catches up to him and bites his ankle. Kyle fell to the ground, anchored by Red's bite. As Kyle recovers, Red headbutts them and runs to the Courtyard.

Cut To: Ring-Seven, Bein's Cell

After five minutes, Kleftis finally smashes the rest of the wall away. Kleftis listens to the commotion outside; The others have already escaped. Kleftis approaches the sound of fighting.

Cut To: Prison Yard.

Avant ducks out of the way from a claw strike, and tail whips Traqueur. Fin throws two pieces of flesh, finally stopping Traqueur and Avant from fighting. Red approaches the group, confused.

Cut To: Ring-Six, Jaeger's Cell

A large Smilodon is suddenly awoken by a loud crash. Jaeger, the Smilodon, roars at the cell and claws at the bars, but no good. He sees a lightly injured Rajasaurus run past the cell. Jaeger wonders what it was, but turns to see a Suchomimus staring at him through the bars. Jaeger initially stands, confused, but the Suchomimus suddenly slashes at the bars, taking them down.

KYLE: I haven't seen you here before... Are you new?

JAEGER: Yeah, thanks. Why did you help me?

KYLE: We gotta stick together. My name's Kyle, what's yours?

JAEGER: J- Jaeger...

KYLE: C'mon, a few friends of mine are waiting at the courtyard.

Cut To: Ring-Seven, Aboleth's Cell

Aboleth, the massive Malusuchops is already awake, and pacing around his cell. He hears a snarl on the opposite side of the ring, and he slashes through the rocks, and notices the rocks took heavy force from his claws. Aboleth then began wildly swinging his arms at the wall, slashing back and forth before finally breaking open the cell.

Cut To: Cell, Ring-Five

The scene opens in darkness, a group of voices are heard discussing a new asset.

VOICE ONE: New arrivals... from Nevada, some Segisaurus, six of em'

VOICE TWO: What'd they do to end up in ring five, they're real small for murder

VOICE ONE: Don't let their size fool ya' The largest one is real smart and tricky, she causes real havoc,

VOICE TWO: Havoc is something we don't need around here...

A rattle is heard, along with faint chirps, and then a light shines on a red eyelid, and the eye opens, revealing a purple eye.

SEGISAURUS: Havoc, that has a nice ring to it...

A loud hiss is heard, and Havoc pounces on a Troodon guard, five Segisaurus run out of the cell, and the scene fades to black.

Cut To: Courtyard, Ring-Seven

Fin notices Cyclops and begins to follow them silently.

Cut To: Ring-Seven, Catwalks

Fujy manages to break her cell open and then disguises herself as an herbivore before Aboleth notices her. Remembering a past encounter, he begins to chase her.

Cut to: Prison Yard

Fujy runs into the yard, hyperventilating, and getting the attention of Red.

RED: circles Fujy Mm... The name's Red! Short for Redbrick Von Buckminster!

Fujy stares at him, hoping her herbivore impersonation is working.

FUJY: Okay then...

RED: And you?

FUJY: I'm Fu- a herbivore?

Aboleth runs to where Fujy and Red are

ABOLETH: Roars Don't listen to him! He's a hybrid who I have... unfinished business with

Cut to: Stairwell

Kyle and Jaeger run through the door, attempting to climb up the stairs to get to the surface

KYLE: We just gotta keep going up, we will eventually get to the surface...

JAEGER: What if the guards catch us?

KYLE: Let's not worry about that...

Two Troodons jump onto the stairs, cornering Jaeger and Kyle, the first one is standing by an air vent in front of Kyle and Jaeger, and the second one appears to be high-ranking, and is behind Jaeger and Kyle GUARD: Dang it! It's not even a week and we have escapees!

JAEGER: Now's a good time to worry about that!

KYLE: I agree!

GUARD: I hate my job... anyways, let's get these guys back in their cages,

GUARD: Or we could just... kill them!

JAEGER: Over my dead body!

KYLE: Wait, how would that-

A rattle is heard

GUARD: What was that...

The vent door is knocked off the wall, and a Segisaurus with an orange color scheme, a crimson hue, and yellow stripes comes out of the vent and pounced on the guard, the guard is on the floor, and the Segisaurus put its foot on the guard's neck, and slashed the Troodon on its head, and the Troodon went limp, the second Troodon guard fled and a blue-green Segisaurus came out the vent, the orange Segisaurus began to speak

HAVOC: Well that was quick and boring, Havoc turned to see the Suchomimus standing there, oh great...

The blue Segisaurus took a step forward

BREACH: Please tell me they aren't guards Havoc!

HAVOC: Well of course they aren't guards Breach, I'm just hoping they won't be an inconvenience to our plan

KYLE: Who even are you two? And why are you here

HAVOC: Segisaurus, California's most wanted, we've made a good deal of havoc through the west coast

BREACH: Havoc is our marvelous leader, she's pretty smart too, we've got four other pack mates in a different area as of now,

HAVOC: Don't call me marvelous, Breach, and this is my irritating second-in-command

BREACH: Don't act like I'm not a joy to be around!

HAVOC: Sigh Anyways, we were hoping that we could have a solo operation, but I suppose we may need a few helping claws if you two are willing to help

JAEGER: I suppose we could join you two

KYLE: We don't have many options

HAVOC: Alright, we better get moving, those guards are going to catch up to us soon if we don't start going up the stairwell

KYLE: Alright, once we reach ring six, we'll meet up with some of the other prisoners. Like Grimlock and Tiamat

HAVOC: Great, more people...

Cut to: Prison yard

Red watched as Fujy and Aboleth had a intense fight, Aboleth bit into Fujy's neck, Fujy's slim body slipped out of Aboleth's jaws and slashed Aboleth's skin, Aboleth was about to change into Fujy, but Red rammed into Aboleth, knocking him off target, Aboleth missed Fujy and slammed into some bricks, creating a hole in the wall

RED: Both of you! Cut it out!

ABOLETH: Why should I listen to you!

RED: Because if we kill each other in the cell, none of us will be able to escape this place alive!

FUJY: Yeah, we shouldn't tire each other out, but how are we going to escape

RED: Thankfully, you two may have just made our opportunity

The three look at the whole in the wall

FUJY: Lucky us...

Cut to: Ring Six

MERIDIAN: Roars Will somebody let us out!

DUTCH: Shut it! I'm trying to sleep!
