DISCLAIMER: I am recommending these resources on the basis of being "good enough," not "perfect," as I don't believe any one single resource will make you "fluent."

MULTL-LANGUAGE/GENERAL RESOURCES

Babadum.com - Fun free vocab game/test

Short Stories in ____ by Olly Richards

Duolingo - App (some languages are better on here than others; some are annoying/slow; if it's going too slow then I skip a level via the level test then pick and choose lessons from the level I skipped. "Stories" feature is my favorite but not available for all languages. I also tend to prefer Duolingo for languages with grammatical structures more similar to English [my native language], rather than for example SOV languages like Korean.)

Rosetta Stone - App (I got the one-time payment unlimited option and it's a pretty good investment for an avid language learner, you can come back to it whenever you start a new language. Look out for sales, they often have 50% off)

SWEDISH

Svenska För Alla - Youtube Channel

Duolingo - App

Snacka Svenska by Camilla Sveréus - Textbook

Livet På Lätt Svenska - Podcast in Swedish for beginners

Babadum.com - Fun free vocab game/test

Fun Swedish - Youtube Channel

Hej Svenska - Online games/lessons (4 levels with many lessons)

Simple Swedish with Fred - Youtube Channel

8 Sidor - Short news articles in easy Swedish (with audio as well as native translation/dictionary features on the site)

Dags För Svenska - Youtube Channel with comprehensible input

LL-Förlaget - Publishing company of easy-read (lättläst) Swedish books (There are several other lättläst publishing companies. If you're in Sweden, libraries usually have a lättläst section.)

GERMAN

Babadum.com - Fun free vocab game/test
