Neva is a Sea/Ice Wing. Her early life was spent fishing with family, prowling the sea near her home, observing the wildlife, and enjoying the clear and beautiful night sky over her head. However once her mom passed and her dad was sent to aid the queen she soon found herself alone, her family was gone and with so few dragons to talk to she grew cold and distant. Years passed and while she kept up her fishing and stargazing, she longed for a new home, one with new waters, new hobbies, and most importantly a new family.
