

NCS - Ward 1 - why not participate in community activities? What would make you more likely to participate?

- Hard to find good groups to join
- Haven't lived here long enough before COVID
- I have done more online discussions/groups. I would like to be more active but my work schedule and activities tends to limit what I am able to attend at times
- time & getting over the meeting new people thing
- Unaware of Norwood community activities & uneasy about meeting new people, I would be more likely to attend if I knew someone in the community who was going
- We are not social and very busy people
- never hear of anything that is going on in the community
- Not aware of community organizations or what pros/cons they add to the community.
- I actually started participating after COVID due to a need to connect with other similarly-minded folks nearby.
- I guess I don't know what all is happening
- Usually don't know things are happening -- communication is not great in Norwood, I think.
- life just gets busy with work, kids, etc.
- Do we have any?
- Not aware of them.. busy with work.
- In the past we did... It was somewhat discouraging. Doing improvements on a neighborhood park was such a battle. If it felt exciting and like there was potential for improvement, I'd be more likely to engage.
- We attended activities at the library, the schools and on Mills Ave.
- It was more than once per week.
- I'm introverted and often have projects going. I participate much more when I have good friends who also are participating
- I'm honestly just busy with work.
- My classes keep a close grip on my time.
- I'm probably most likely to attend an event if someone I know is also attending.
- At times it can still feel like you have to be an old timer to participate
- Besides my next door neighbor, I don't know many people. My job has busy hours and I spend a lot of time at the hospital, so meeting people feels difficult. I would want to be more involved, though.
