What this extension does

ChatGPT TTS Downloader lets you export assistant message IDs from ChatGPT Project pages and download synthesized audio (AAC) for those messages. It works only on chatgpt.com using your existing logged-in session.

Data we process (on your device)

- Conversation/message IDs you enter or scrape from the page.
- A local download queue and a small rolling log in chrome.storage.local so downloads can continue if the popup closes.
- Audio files (AAC) and CSVs saved to your Downloads folder.

What we do not do

- We do not collect analytics or send data to any developer-controlled server.
- We do not share or sell data.

Where requests go

Network calls are only to ChatGPT's first-party endpoints you already use:

/api/auth/session, /backend-api/synthesize, and /backend-api/conversation/<id>.

Access tokens from the session API are used in-page for these requests and are not persisted by the extension.

Permissions (purpose-limited)

- activeTab, tabs, scripting to run code only in the active ChatGPT tab with your cookies.
- downloads to save AAC/CSV files.
- storage to keep the local queue/log.
- alarms to continue the queue in the background.

- Host access: https://chatgpt.com/\* (and optional https://chat.openai.com/\*).

Retention & control

- Queue/log live only in your browser's extension storage; remove the extension to delete.
- Files remain in your Downloads folder until you delete them.

Children

Not directed to children under 13.
