

40 reasons why everyone NEEDS a pergola.

- 1) It's the only way you can enjoy having a nice meal with your friends and family in any weather
- 2) it's the only way you can comfortably sit outside your house in the extreme summer heat (specific for my country/a.k.a. the target country) and not pass out
- 3) it's the only aesthetic way you can extend your house's living space and get more room to relax in, without having to rebuild your house
- 4) it's the only way you can enjoy the beauty of your garden without having to worry about what the weather will be
- 5) it's the only way you can comfortably relax in your garden
- 6) it's the only way to invite your friends for a nice grill feast (often done in my country) without having to worry about the weather
- 7) it's the only way you can have a fun time with your friends outside of your house, without having to worry about having to move the whole party inside because it started to rain (or some other form of bad weather)
- 8) it's the only aesthetic and visually pleasing way to protect your car against overheating when being parked in the sun during summer
- 9) it's the only way to enjoy romantic evenings with your second half without having to worry about the weather
- 10) it's the only way to protect your skin from the sun when being outside for too long.
- 11) it's the only way to sit in the pleasant shade near your house
- 12) it's the only place you can enjoy having breakfast in your garden all year long (pergolas with glass doors)
- 13) it's the only way you can celebrate important moments with your loved ones in complete privacy (pergolas with screen blinds)
- 14) it's the only way you can enjoy all of the above-mentioned benefits for years on end (aluminum pergolas basically last you for life)
- 15) it's the only way to fill the empty space in your garden and enjoy the pleasant shade for the rest of your life
- 16) the only way to enjoy summer in a pleasant shade in your garden when the air's dry (they have this mechanism that allows you to improve air circulation and get rid of the extremely hot air that accumulates under the roof of the pergola)

17) the only way to enjoy your morning cigarette in any weather (almost 50% of the people in my country smoke)

18) the only way to keep your car dry + nice and clean in any weather

19) the only way to comfortably adjust the climate when you're sitting in your garden (the whole pergola and the add-ons are controlled by a remote controller or your smartphone (IoT integration))

20) the only way to liven up your house and extend the living space that will look good even after years pass (the pergolas have a timeless design)

21) the only way to extend the living space of your house that looks good with newly built homes

22) the only way to get pleasant shade on your balcony/rooftop apartment/terrace and without having to worry about the weather
