This is barely an original song but I take credit for crafting it into a one minute hype up song. The melody was written by my brother, Nino Ciampa. And the progression was crafted by my teacher, J. Moss. So its technically not my song. That said, it's awesome. The biggest challenge was making it under a minute as well as finding out what key worked best. The key I chose to do it in was D minor because it gave it a quite nice sound. The official name is "Turn Up For The Trees." Enjoy.
