

June, 23, 1853.

A few days ago, we decided to take a trip to colorado to fulfil our dreams of becoming a Mining Company. We were all packing our stuff, on March 4, when Audacious Anatolli, got Collara. We had to stay back and take care of him for about a month. So now it was April 5. After that we were just doing a test of the land nearby we found some uranium and oil shale mineral. About 2/4 of the way there, our wagon wheels broke. We had to stay back another day. We were pretty upset, but we went on. We were approaching the Plateau, a couple days later, when we noticed all the orchards. We passed lots of nearby steep cliffs. We just noticed we were in Colorado. As we passed the plains we saw Lots of Buffalo and Antelope. They were running near lots of Cottonwood and Willow trees. We started riding on lots of flatgrass. We Finally reached our destination on May 21.
