Full name, Institution, Postal Address, Phone, Email

3. Abstract

[Write a structured abstract of 200–300 words. Include the subsections below.]

Background / Objective

[Briefly state the background and the main objective of the study.]

Methods

[Summarize the research design, materials, participants, or data sources used.]

Results

[Present the key findings concisely, including significant quantitative data where applicable.]

Conclusion

[State the main conclusion and its relevance or implication for the field.]

Keywords: [keyword 1]; [keyword 2]; [keyword 3]; [keyword 4]; [keyword 5]

[Provide 4–6 keywords, separated by semicolons. Avoid terms already in the title.]

4. Introduction

[Recommended length: 400–700 words. Cover: background, problem statement, research gap, objectives, and significance.]

[Write your introduction here. Present the context of the study, relevant prior work, the research gap your study addresses, and the specific objectives. End with a clear statement of the study's significance and a brief outline of the paper's structure.]

5. Materials and Methods

[Provide sufficient detail for replication. Organize into logical sub-sections if needed.]

5.1 Study Design

[Describe the overall research design (e.g., experimental, observational, computational, literature-based).]

5.2 Study Area / Setting (if applicable)

[Describe the geographic location, institutional setting, or environment in which the study was conducted.]

5.3 Sampling and Data Collection

[Detail the sampling strategy, sample size, inclusion/exclusion criteria, and data collection procedures.]

5.4 Laboratory / Analytical Procedures (if applicable)

[Describe equipment, reagents, protocols, software, or computational tools used. Cite standard methods by reference.]

5.5 Data Analysis

[Describe statistical or analytical methods used. State software names and version numbers (e.g., SPSS v.26, R 4.3.0). Specify significance level (e.g., $p < 0.05$).]

5.6 Ethical Considerations

[State the ethics committee or IRB that approved the study, approval number, and date. For studies involving human subjects or animals, confirm adherence to relevant ethical guidelines.]

6. Results

[Present findings objectively, without interpretation. Use tables and figures to support the narrative.]

[Present your findings clearly and logically. Refer to all tables and figures in the text (e.g., 'As shown in Table 1...'). Do not discuss or interpret results here — reserve that for the Discussion section.]

Table 1. [Descriptive title of the table]

Note: [Add any explanatory notes for the table here.]

[Insert Figure 1 here — minimum resolution 300 dpi, JPEG or PNG]

7. Discussion

[Recommended length: 600–1,000 words. Interpret your results, compare with existing literature, address limitations.]

[Interpret and discuss your results in the context of existing literature. Explain how your findings advance knowledge in the field. Address any unexpected results. Acknowledge limitations of the study and suggest directions for future research. Do not repeat raw data from the Results section.]

8. Conclusion

[Recommended length: 150–300 words. Summarize the key findings and their broader implications.]

[Provide a concise summary of the main conclusions of the study. Highlight the significance of your findings and their practical or theoretical implications. Avoid introducing new data or citations in this section.]

9. References

[Use APA 7th Edition format. List only sources cited in the text. Minimum 15 references for original research articles.]

Author, A. A., & Author, B. B. (Year). Title of article. Journal Name, Volume(Issue), Pages.
<https://doi.org/xxxxx>

Author, C. C. (Year). Title of book (2nd ed.). Publisher. <https://doi.org/xxxxx>

Author, D. D., Author, E. E., & Author, F. F. (Year). Title of chapter. In G. G. Editor (Ed.), Title of book (pp. xx–xx). Publisher.

Submission Checklist

[Complete this checklist before submitting. The editorial office will return incomplete submissions.]

☐	Manuscript prepared using this official template (fonts, margins, and spacing unchanged)
☐	Title page complete with all author names, affiliations, and corresponding author details
☐	Abstract is 200–300 words and structured (Background, Methods, Results, Conclusion)
☐	4–6 keywords provided, separated by semicolons
☐	All sections present: Introduction, Methods, Results, Discussion, Conclusion, References

☐	All tables and figures are numbered, titled, and referenced in the text
☐	Figures submitted at minimum 300 dpi resolution (JPEG or PNG)
☐	References formatted in APA 7th Edition
☐	Ethical approval statement included (if applicable)
☐	Conflict of interest statement included (write 'None' if not applicable)
☐	All authors have read and approved the final manuscript
☐	Manuscript file saved as a single .docx file named: FirstAuthorSurname_DUJS_Year.docx

Author Declaration

Conflict of Interest Statement

[State any conflicts of interest, or write: 'The authors declare no conflict of interest.']

Funding Statement

[Acknowledge any funding sources, grants, or institutional support. If none, write: 'This research received no external funding.']

Data Availability Statement

[State where the data supporting this study can be found, or describe access restrictions. Example: 'The data that support the findings of this study are available upon reasonable request from the corresponding author.']

By submitting this manuscript, all authors confirm that:

- The work is original and has not been published previously or submitted elsewhere.
- All authors have contributed to and approved the submitted manuscript.
- All data are accurate and ethically collected.
