

This Civic Learning Week, Join Us to Spill a Little Tea! ☕

Civic Learning Week (March 10-14, 2025) is almost here! We've got tons of great resources to enhance civic learning in classrooms and libraries, AND we have a unique opportunity for you to engage in some fun civic learning too!

We're currently looking for educators who work with grades 3-8 and want to explore and share their thoughts on the Wisconsin Biographies story of Roberto Hernández, a civically-engaged activist who fought for better educational opportunities for Latinos in Milwaukee during the 1960s and 70s.

What's involved?

If you participate you will...

- Explore the Roberto Hernández: Working for La Comunidad video, book, image gallery, and educator guide on your own during the first week of March. If you want to take it a step further and share the story with learners in your space, please do!
- At your tea time on March 10 or 11, grab a mug of tea (or another cozy or chilly drink of your choice) and hop on a 20-minute Zoom chat with us to share your thoughts about the media you reviewed.
- Receive some super cool swag in the mail from us!

After our time on Zoom, we'll use your feedback to shape projects we're working on now and in the months to come!

Sound like your cup of tea? We hope so!

Let us know by completing this form and we will be in touch!

Please feel free to contact Mia Forslund at mia.forslund@pbswisconsin.org with any questions.