History.

The Yukoti are indigenous inhabitants of Uveto. When the colonists first came to the planet, a survey group of colonist encountered them, they panicked and preemptively attacked Yukoti. The size of the Yukoti and the Yukoti running to hug the surveyors startled the surveyors.. Any chance of a war ended when the Yukoti just fell to the ground and cowered. The Yukoti are naturally submissive they welcomed colonists but still find it hard to truly adapt. They mainly take on servant roles, working as maids or bed warmers.

Appearance

Both male and female Yukoti are have arms covered in warm soft fur going up to their shoulders and legs up to their hips. Despite their size, they are surprisingly light, and not physically strong. Their torso are hairless with brown ashen skin. Their hands are larger In proportion to their bodies. Yukoti are a breastless race both males and female have pectoral muscles with nipples. If the Yukoti live off world or in warmer climate, their fur becomes brown.

Male

The males large balls radiate heat greater than that of their bodies. The produce large volumes of semen.. that Their semen is warm, sweet and soothing, and has been seen as a cure for frostbite when used as a salve. It is beloved as a drink any many parts of the galaxy. Sadly the male Yukoti produces semen once every 15 years and only for a few month, without gene modding. Semen is the preferred food source, and with the coming of other alien races their population has boomed and death rate has decreased, they are however capable of eating normal foods.

Female

Women tend to be larger than males to accommodate childbirth and to help with foraging efforts . Women have warm, sweet-smelling vaginas, with four labia minora, two on each side. The females lack a clitoris.

Reproduction

Males produce a thick saliva when they orgasm. This is actually sperm produced from the glands in their throat, making oral a very intimate act; some won't even kiss. Insemination is caused by the man orally administering his saliva to the woman's vagina. Children do not belong to either parent, but the community as a whole. Various neurological chemicals are released through the act of hugging alone; Dopamine, prolactin, and of course oxytocin. Forceful and rough actions will only annoy them and make them cry. The gestation period tends to be rather long, lasting 22 Earth months in this time the pregnant female goes into a hibernation. The female will only ask for impregnation if they serve a needed function in society like a doctor and if it is only in the best interest of the commons.

Society

for the most part they are gentle and honest, kinda pacifist by nature. The Yukoti prefer communal living, and are willing to share everything they have, the harsh environment of their world involved in them the common trait to help one another. The gender roles are reversed as women are more likely to work and take care of societal needs. Men are predisposed to take care of the household. They have no sense of private property, everything belongs to everyone. Intensive intergalactic corporate reeducation tried for years to change that with minimal success. The Yukoti have seen how much other races love breasts both male and female take genital mods in order to get them if not born with them. A male's phallus is not seen as sexual organs but a vital source of food. The size of a man's balls are a determining factor in choosing a mate, as large sack-like men are seen as good providers.

a few notes

this is what I got so far

I'm a bad writer.

I'm hoping the breastlessness will bring in kinda a cunt boy option.

I need to know more of the frost world before history can better be established.

Fucking can sometimes get so boring, a little intimacy can go a long way.
Cum caffè latte lol gene moded coffee/caramel/chocolate/vanilla thanks Alexa.
