(By the way I do know that the dream theory might not be true, but I thought it might be interesting to do, to make it more strange to make it a dream)

chapter 1 (FNaF 1) - “the nightmare begins”

“Noooo!” screamed Mike Schmidt as a screaming Foxy ran down the halls. He shut the door so quickly that you could barely see Mike’s hand hit the button. “BANG BANG BANG” The power drained as Foxy slammed on the doors. Now all he had to worry about was Golden Freddy and the power running out, but the time was 5:57. All of a sudden the whole building shut down. Soon he heard the familiar song(the Toreador March)NO NO NO NO!!!” Mike whimpered. Then the grandfather clock went off but the jumpscare happened, I started to feel the pain of being stuffed into a Freddy suit . I sprung up 6:00. Time to wake up. At least my birthday party was in 2 weeks. But these nightmares kept happening. They were always about some Freddy Fazbears Pizzeria place, but they were so weird because I have 4 plushies that look just like the animatronics that I am trying to survive in my dreams. Freddy, Bonnie, Chica, and Foxy. But instead of plushies they were moving, and they were life sized.

Later that day at 12:00 pm “sigh I can’t sleep but might as well try again.” Just then the familiar voice of the phone guy appeared. “Hello...hellohello” He said, I muted the call later regretting it because he talked about the mysterious Golden Freddy again. But I figured out pretty soon that he is not one to be messed with. Because I did know that he only appeared if you look at the camera for too long so I relied on light checking for the little problems. Just as I ran out of power again the night ended. “I can’t take this anymore!! I’m getting outside to meet some kids and hopefully make some friends”.

Then I saw him... he had a balloon in his hand also he had a lot of weight. And a girl I instantly had a crush on with only one problem: She had toys that looked like my plushies except they were a that more shiny and Chica was missing her beak . That night I told my parents about my dreams about the pizzeria and the strange animatronics that look like my plushies.

chapter 2 (FNaF 2) - “toys and withered robots”

That night I slept soundly until midnight when the voice of the phone guy(I swear he died in the original pizzeria) He said that there was the “toy animatronics” and I saw that the original ones were in parts and service As soon as I lowered the camera I saw toy Freddy. He was nearly in my office, so I quickly put on the Freddy head. But Freddy would not leave. So I went back to the “Prize Corner” to rewind the music box as soon as I put down the camera Freddy was right in the door of my room. Now I HAD to put on the Freddy head to stay alive. I put the Freddy head on. After about 20 minutes he went away. Then I saw toy chica in the “left vent” and waited to see her in the “blind spot”, but before she showed up the night ended. That night I went back to Fredbear’s Family Diner for some dinner and to watch Spring Bonnie and Fredbear perform.

Fredbear and Spring Bonnie (Springtrap)

Later at 12:00 am I could finally get some sleep, but soon after I heard phone guy saying: "Hey, you shouldn't be here the place is closed but it would be safer to finish your shift then leave during the night, but be careful the animatronics are malfunctioning so we had to shut the place down! so have fun and make sure to survive the shift!" almost as soon as his phone call ended I had to rewind the music box and check on the stage and put on the mask for Chica and Golden Freddy. Then I rewinded the music box AGAIN. (Which I was almost out of time) Then I saw Golden Freddy in the hallway, all of a sudden the night ended, and when I woke up my whole body was covered in sweat. My mom walked in and said she heard me screaming last night, I told her about the dream last night, she said that I should stop overreacting and just ignore them.

That afternoon I saw an advertisement on T.V. that said that Fredbear's Family Diner was bought by Fazbear entertainment and that the land was being replaced with "Freddy Fazbear's Pizza" "WHAT!!!! I THOUGHT THAT PLACE WOULD NEVER BE REAL!!!!". The building was remodeled in about 3 days, and I went to see the new animatronics perform in the Pizzeria .

Freddy, Bonnie, and Chica on the stage (daytime)

But when I saw the 4th animatronic I instantly made him my favorite, his name was Foxy and he was a pirate fox. I had some pizza and watched the animatronics perform on the stage, then went back to my house. They still had Fredbear on the other stage so I could still see him perform. That night I had a new kind of dream, it was at "Fazbear's Fright". The pizzeria was shut down due to the toys malfunctioning. So I could just sit there and make sure the vents don't stop working. Pretty soon I was back in my bed getting up and going back to Fazbear's Pizza.

chapter 3_(FNaF 3): "The phantoms"

The next night however... was not so easy there was this weird rabbit that looked like Spring Bonnie(Springtrap)

Springtrap

I was told that to keep him away I had to play an audio that sounded like balloon boy without the systems breaking down (To fix them I had to go to a panel and wait a couple of seconds. (In which I could easily lose spring trap) just then I saw a familiar face in the camera. It was balloon boy(actually Phantom Balloon boy) he instantly jumpscared me and shut down my ventilation so now I had to restart the systems, but first I had to check on Springtrap. Then... video error so now I had to reboot all of the systems just to be safe. Luckily the night ended soon After and I was able to not "die" on the second night.

I later went to Freddy's to have some pizza. And the next night I watched as Bonnie met his fate at the hand of the purple guy (or Vincent, depending on what you like to call him) And then I had to survive night 3. Now I only had 4 charges of the audio until I had to reboot them.

Almost immediately I saw balloon boy in the camera. So I put down the camera and took the jumpscare. I lured Springtrap into CAM 9, and rebooted all of the systems so I didn't have to deal with a video error. Next I lured springtrap into CAM 9 again, and then saw Freddy in the hall right outside of the office.

At the end of the night I saw that Springtrap was in the doorway. I started to freak out when I saw him, and then the familiar sound of the clock woke me up. Then I watched as Chika suffered the same fate as Bonnie did. (At the hands of the purple guy)

Then I went to Freddy's to get some cool down after that night. But when I went to see Foxy he was not there instead there was a sign that said "Sorry Out Of Order" which was just like the first dream.

Chapter 4_(fnaf 4): "The Nightmares"

That night my dreams were a little different, like I was in a room that looked like mine. And I found out the hard way about the animatronics, they were nightmarish versions of the originals. When I awoke I was locked in my room AGAIN.

The next nights flew by, I had seen an two animatronics that looked like Fredbear and a black Fredbear(I found out that his name was Nightmare later) but even Foxy was scary(He was still my favorite) except when he was a plushie, which was rare. Also Freddy was very aggressive with his "Freddles".

I died several times a night, also my brother had been being EXTRA mean to me, he had been scaring me with his stupid Foxy mask.

The nights had been super hard lately, like I had been blind in one of them and also I had to fight off the Nightmarione and Nightmare mangle and there was "jack-o- chika" and "jack-o-bonnie".

During the day several simultaneous springlock failures resulting severe injury in about 10 of the employees at Freddy Fazbear's Pizza,

NOW FOR THE EXTRA CHAPTER!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

Chapter 5(the bite of 87) "The Last Show"

That day things changed for the worse...

My brother and his friends all of a sudden just picked me up and said "Look brother wants to give fredbear a BIG kiss" and threw me in Fredbear's mouth... a few seconds later his jaws clamped down on me.

I could feel my life slowly fading away as I was brought to the hospital.

I then saw the box and a Marionette pushing out of it and lunging at me and soon my soul inhabited the marionette

That's when my life ended.
