

Dear PATRON,

The Libraries have been officially notified by the PUBLISHER that they had blocked KU's remote access IP range due to excessive downloading which occurred at the following times:

This publisher determined that more than AMOUNT OF CONTENT had been downloaded in a single user TIMEFRAME, in violation of KU's license agreement, and has asked KU to investigate. Based on the time stamp and other information provided by PUBLISHER, KU IT/ITSO has determined that you were the user who downloaded these articles.

As a reminder, excessive downloading is prohibited by KU's e-journal and database licenses, and has the potential to jeopardize access for the entire KU community. For more information on appropriate use of licensed e-resources, please take a look at: <http://policy.ku.edu/IT/AcceptableUse> .

If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to contact us.
