

January 14, 2021

Dear Midview Staff and Families,

It has been a busy second week back from break as we continue to see some of our Covid numbers increase. The good news is that after my meeting with the health department today, they see some encouraging signs. There are trends moving in the right direction and they are hoping that January 7th was our peak and that we will continue to see numbers decrease. Nothing is set in stone, but I sure hope they are correct.

Please pay special attention to the Covid Reporting section at the end of this letter with updated numbers and details regarding testing and reporting requirements for the county.
