Happy December 10.5 Days Till Break! (but whos counting)

Discipline: I met with downtown leadership last week to discuss inconsistency within the district when it comes to following protocols. Please continue to write up referrals for behavior so that I have a paper trail that I can show

Insurance Claim: As reported last month we are finally being reimbursed from the stolen funds from last year. I am expecting a check in hand by the end of next week. Please reach out to me if you have any specific questions.

Employee Social Media: We continue to have issues and discussion of discipline when it comes to employees being on social media during the work day. Let this serve as a reminder to not use social media while you are at work unless it is for a district approved post!

Social Media: We are continuing to expand our social media. Follow us on Instagram: Readingeducationassociation. We will continue to grow over the next month as we put out information.
