

Rdrg n Planet of Hyang Wan
Island of Mulgogi

We are going toward the Kamasu Complex

The Kamasu Complex: Weapons complex more interested in the making of weapons rather than the morality thereof. More experimental, less concerned with confederation regulations than the weapons plant on the other side of the planet.

Last week

Seeking transportation, we got caught up in the affairs of an odd dude--Rickshaw Dan. He has a Tokkae (reptilian) infestation causing trouble with his miniaturized dogs of varying breeds. We are taking care of these creatures in his yard, but some of our party members keep getting drawn into the house for a reason unknown to me.

Dan tried to steal Hyari! But he got caught. At least some of the Tokkae have blink. Dan captures and delivers such animals to the Kamasu Complex.

Yuan-ti largely inhabit the island. Atchi is Yuan-ti.

Also, we've discussed possible plans once we get to the Kamasu Complex. Do we all go in? Some might draw unwanted attention around the oddity of different types working together. One of us could pose as a potential buyer, or a representative for a buyer. Darnit has weapons knowledge. Others have charisma.

Why are we here?

We know the Codex is, or at least was, on Mulgogi. The Kamasu Complex makes sense as a place Bhodi Auger may have taken it, given his interest in the Solar Cannon.

Further, while we are here on planet, we have the opportunity to seek the location connected to the divine that we believe to exist on each planet, though now that Bruno and his key-eye are no longer here, this becomes of dubious import

How long do we have?

Two days on Mulgogi, if we want to make it to Bruno's concert on Terran.
Otherwise, indefinite?
