INTRODUCTION [Times New Roman 12 bold, Capital]

The introduction is written in Times New Roman 12 with Spacing 1,15. The introductory section describes the background of the research problem, literature facts, research gaps, and the purpose of writing. The problem must be clear and requires research to solve the problem. For Arabic writing or fragments of verses from the Qur'an, the Traditional Arabic font size is 16. Foreign language words or phrases are written in italics, while Arabic-Latin transliteration refers to Arabic-Indonesian transliteration according to the SKB 3 Menteri.

In the introduction, it also contains a literature review that contains a description of the theories, concepts, findings, and other research materials obtained from reference materials to serve as the basis for research activities. The description in the literature review is directed at developing a clear framework for thinking about solving the problems described in the problem formulation. The literature review shows the "knowledge map" related to the research topic, provides theories and concepts that can sharpen the analysis and relies on reputable journal articles published at least in the last 10 years and cites articles about "giants". The final section of the literature review also identifies the logical reasons why the research is important.
