

PHASE I

Yearbook Questions

- a) Answer the questions about yourself for the Period Yearbook or P & others will “answer” them for you*
b) Copy the 14 questions below and respond after each question with a royal blue font.
c) Email your response ASAP to your period contact person. It is likely your DOD.

1. What was your role in P-Ville? Nickname? What does Mr. P call you? What did the class usually call you? If you didn't have a job, then name one other way you contributed to P-Ville.
2. What are a few words (adjectives) that describe you in P-Ville?
3. What is something unique about yourself?
4. What is your favorite book & film?
5. What was your most memorable moment in P-Ville?
6. What unit in World History did you enjoy the most?
7. What was the craziest thing Mr. P has done this year, in your opinion?
8. What student made you want to come to class?
9. What student from your class should future students track down and put in the Hall of Fame? Why?
10. What's your favorite Mr. P story?
11. What was unique about any particular P-Villian or the P-Villians of 2018 & 2019?
12. What is unique about being alive in 2018 and 2019?
13. What should future students make sure they do while in P-Ville?
14. What advice can you offer to future P-Ville members?

Mark Abayan

1. What was your role in P-Ville? Nickname? What does Mr. P call you? What did the class usually call you?

In P-Ville, I was both the Stock Analyst and one of the two Scorekeepers. Mr. P usually called me Mark, Marco, or Marco Polo. The rest of the class just called by my actual name, Mark

2. What are a few words (adjectives) to describe P-Ville.

Enjoyable, tense at certain times, and very competitive

3. What is something unique about yourself?

I don't like to listen to modern music

4. What is your favorite book & film?

My favorite book is Legend by Marie Lu and I don't have a favorite film

5. What was your most memorable moment in P-Ville?

The most memorable moment was when Mr. P lit his finger on fire

6. What unit did you enjoy the most in P-Ville?

My favorite unit in P-Ville was The Holocaust

7. What was the craziest thing Mr. P has done this year, in your opinion?

The craziest thing Mr. P has done this entire year was when he decided to light his finger on fire. I've never had a teacher so dedicated to his job, which they would decide to voluntarily harm themselves.

8. What student made you want to come to class?

No one. I just liked the class

9. What student from your class should future student track down and put in the Hall of Fame? Why?

Reed Manning because he did so much for P-Ville & was the one who organized msny events in P-Ville

10. What was your favorite Mr. P story?

My favorite story was about the nudist park in Munich. It was so bizarre and unheard of that it seemed almost a lie

11. What was unique about any particular P-Villian or the P-Villians?

I realized a lot of the Students in that class should have been in World History AP

12. What is unique about being alive in 2014 and 2015?

I just had my perspective on life completely turned around by the world's World History teacher ever.

13. What should future students make sure they do while in P-Ville?

Keep a close eye on the Stock Market. Shifty things go on when no one pays attention to it.

14. What advice can you offer to future P-Ville member

ELLEN BUTLER

1. What was your role in P-Ville? Nickname? What does Mr. P call you? What did the class usually call you? If you didn't have a job, then name one other way you contributed to P-Ville.

I was DOD of period 4 for all three terms of P-Ville. At the beginning of the year, I was called "Ellen" until Mr. P began calling me "Butler." The nickname just kind of caught on from there. So now some people call me "Ellen" while others call me "Butler."

2. What are a few words (adjectives) that describe you in P-Ville?

Proactive, Helpful, Logical

3. What is something unique about yourself?

I play ukulele, guitar, and piano.

4. What is your favorite book & film?

At the moment, my favorite book would have to be Perks of Being a Wallflower by Stephen Chbosky. My favorite movie would have to be Forrest Gump or Dead Poet's Society.

5. What was your most memorable moment in P-Ville?

I think my most memorable moment in P-Ville was the day that Mr. P decided that I would be DOD. I thought for sure that DOD would have been Diego, but was delighted when Mr. P announced my name and handed me my purple folder.

6. What unit in World History did you enjoy the most?

I enjoyed the unit on Post WWII Independence the most because we got to study Gandhi and were taught that it is possible to handle a problem without using violence.

7. What was the craziest thing Mr. P has done this year, in your opinion?

I think the craziest thing Mr. P did this year was either burn his finger to make a point about the bombing of Hiroshima, Japan or when he went around throwing papers onto the floor to teach the class about visigoths. These were just some memorable instances. Mr. P is crazy pretty much all of the time.

8. What student made you want to come to class?

Diego and Amanda made me want to go to class because they are always there to make me laugh.

9. What student from your class should future students track down and put in the Hall of Fame? Why?

Students of the future should put Diego Gonzalez in the Hall of Fame because he's a little crazy. Dabin and Sophia for being the most productive media system / dynamic duo. And, of course, Dania for being an amazing TA and helping so much throughout the year.

10. What's your favorite Mr. P story?

My favorite Mr. P story is the story about how his wife's grandparents met.

11. What was unique about any particular P-Villain or the P-Villains of 2014 & 2015?

There was a lot of proposed corruption but none of it really ever occurred. Besides for that one time LaRue bought another period and almost started a war.

12. What is unique about being alive in 2014 and 2015?

What isn't? These two years were unlike any other reason being that they were not any other.

What happened this year will never happen again. Ever.

13. What should future students make sure they do while in P-Ville?

Make sure to have fun. Get a good job. Get a lot of $$$$. Enjoy a conversation with Mr. P or Mr. Welch during period 7. Take a risk. Voice your opinion. Present a counter argument. Go bankrupt. Do something memorable. Leave something behind. Make a wacky music video. Be helpful. Win the P-Olympics. Be responsible for something. Plan something. Do something no one else is doing. Make a difference.

14. What advice can you offer to future P-Ville members?

Don't forget that you cannot stop time but remember that you should not be limited by time. This P-Ville thing can be boring or annoying at times, but that shouldn't stop you from being proactive. The fate of P-Ville is now yours, and with it you can do whatever you want. Have fun.