

Week 4 April 30-May 7	5th Grade To Do:
Lesson 1	Directions: Be sure to annotate as you go. Record your answers. These will be turned in by the end of May. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Read or listen to Reflect and Respond on page 16 <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ◦ Log into Benchmark Universe to access the text electronically. For login assistance, click here. ◦ Once logged in, Click “My Assignments”. The video and an electronic copy of the story will be there waiting for you. The video above and an electronic copy of the story will be there waiting for you. • Look at paragraph 1 of “The Banners of Freedom.” What features of a memoir are in this paragraph? (remember, Memoirs are a type of autobiography because the author writes about his or her life. The word 'memoir' comes from the word memoire, which is French for 'memory' or 'reminiscence'. Memoirs are usually written in first person, which means the story is being told as if you were the author experiencing the events in the book.) • Reread the final paragraph of “A Loyalist’s Daughter.” What can you infer about how Anna Rawle felt about the colonists’ victory? Cite two details that helped you come to your answer. • Think about a book you’re reading. Are the events of the text told from a first or third person point of view? Rewrite two or three sentences from the book to change its point of view. How does this change what you learn about the events described?
Lesson 2	Directions: Be sure to annotate as you go. Record your answers. These will be turned in by the end of May. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Read or listen to Word Study and Vocabulary on page 17

	<ul style="list-style-type: none">○ Log into Benchmark Universe to access the text electronically. For login assistance, click here.○ Once logged in, Click “My Assignments”. The video and an electronic copy of the story will be there waiting for you. The video above and an electronic copy of the story will be there waiting for you. <ul style="list-style-type: none">● Make a chart like the one below. Identify multiple-meaning words in your reading from this week. Look for clues in the same or nearby sentences to determine the meaning of the word in its current context.● Use context clues to determine the meaning of “drove” as it is used in the first paragraph on page 15 in “A Loyalist’s Daughter.” Write the definition.
--	--