

Cordelia Hills Elementary, Nelda Mundy Elementary, Oakbrook Academy of the Arts, and Green Valley Middle are excited to go head to head in a attendance competition celebrating Attendance Awareness Month!

What: In celebration of Attendance Awareness month, we are competing for the highest attendance percentage over 10 school days. The school with the highest percentage at the end of the competition will graciously agree to an event that “celebrates” the school administration (funny costume, funky dance, initiation activity). The runner-up school administrators are invited to join in on the fun.

Where: CHE, GVMS, Oakbrook Academy, and Nelda Mundy

When: The attendance competition lasts from September 12th-September 23rd. The “fun winning” activity will be the week of September 26th (exact day TBD).

Who: Calling all students! Make everyday count!
