Eighth Semester Exam Exemptions

Semester exams are required of all students in courses having exams. However, all eighth semester seniors will be considered exempt from the final exam (other than an AP exam) in a class if all of the following criteria apply on Declaration Day (the final day of regular classes):

- The student must have completed all coursework (except for the final exam) and earned a final semester grade of “B” or higher in the class;
- The student has not received more than one detention during his/her 8th semester;
- The student has not served any Saturday Schools or been suspended during the student’s entire senior year;
- The student has not accumulated more than five absences in that class (for any reason) during the second semester of the student’s senior year; and
- The student has not violated the Student Conduct Expectations and Discipline policy (Article IV) or the Extracurricular and Co-Curricular Code of Conduct (Article IV) during the student’s senior year. (Both items are available in the Timothy Christian High School Parent-Student Handbook.

If a student is declared exempt from a final exam, it is the student’s choice whether or not to take the exam. The teacher must be notified on Declaration Day if the student intends to take the exam.
