

Brighton Blood Bowl Bootcamp

*Right, you 'orrible lot of degenerate scumbags! This is the BriBBE Bootcamp! An opportunity for sniveling amateurs like yourselves to prove your worth on the pitch in a series of quick and dirty seven-a-side matches played across the various training grounds, dungeons, caves, graveyards, swamps and cursed wastelands of BriBBE. In all likelihood you will be trampled into the dirt by your opponents, suffer humiliating defeat or worse still... injury... even DEATH! However, if you get through it alive you may just catch the eye of one of our scouts and be elevated to the big leagues! GOOD LUCK AND DON'T F*CK IT UP!*

The Event

Coaches should aim to finish their games in roughly 1 hour and use the additional time for the post game sequence. There will be some leeway to run over into lunch or start a little early back from lunch.

Pitches and dugouts will be provided however... if you have a Sevens pitch please do bring it/get in contact (contact details below) as I may need a little help scaring them up!

We want you for a new recruit! (optional for BriBBe league coaches)

As per the rules above at the end of each match one player on your team will automatically gain a new randomly selected Primary or Secondary skill and after that be in with the chance of being 'drafted'.

Any player that is 'drafted' or finishes the day alive(Including MNG) and in receipt of an additional skill, may be recruited into your league team for the BriBBe league season 15! Using the following rules:

- A maximum of one player may be recruited by any one coach.
- Players cannot be transferred between coaches.
- Only players that have received a single additional skill during the event are eligible for recruitment (more than that and they'll be trying their luck as a star player!).
- The Season 15 team must match the team played at Bootcamp (e.g. A player from a bootcamp Skaven team can only be recruited into a league Skaven team, not into an Underworld Denizens team).
- The player will be drafted at the increased value of the skills they have accrued. There will be no additional charge for playing in a previous season.
